JOHN BEDDEN SAYS HE WAS SURPRISED

AFTER SUFFERING THREE YEARS WITH STOMACH TROUBLE HE TAKES TANLAC AND FEELS LIKE A NEW MAN.

"Tanlac has done me so much good and I feel so thankful, it would simply be impossible to say too much for it," said John Bedden, an employee of the sugar refinery in Vancouver, B.C., who resides at 3091 Forty-seventh Ave., Vancouver, recently. Continuing, he said:

"I have suffered from a severe stomach trouble for the past three years, and I hardly ate enough in one day to keep a small child alive, let alone a man, and even this small amount would sour, gas would form, and I would bloat so my clothes would become uncomfortable, and my heart would palpitate so badly I had great difficulty in breathing. I had such pains in my stomach after every meal they would nearly draw me double. I also had intense pains in the small of my back which made it almost impossible for me to stoop over. I was also troubled a great deal from constipation, and my head ached nearly all the time, and at times throbbed so bad it felt as if it would simply burst open. I was troubled a lot with dizzy spells, and at times I would have to grab hold of something to keep from falling. I could not sleep well, and was so restless I would just roll and toss from one side of the bed to the other all night long, and get up completely tired out; and I always felt nauseated in the morning.

"Seeing where so many people were being benefited by Tanlac, I decided to try it, too, and I must say that I was surprised at the improvement. I have just finished my sixth bottle, and I feel like a different man. I am hungry all the time and can eat anything I want now without suffering any bad after effects. I am never troubled with gas, bloating, palpitation of the heart, or trouble of any kind with my stomach, and have not been troubled with headaches or dizziness since right after I started on my first bottle of Tanlac, and I'm never bothered with constipation. The awful pains in my back have all gone, and I sleep like a log every night, and am entirely free of that nausea in the morning. I get up every morning feeling greatly refreshed and ready for my day's work. Tanlac has surely put me on my feet."

Tanlac is sold in Peterborough by W. H. Ware Drug Co., Limited; in Havelock by A. C. Deaths; in Lakefield by Tanner Drug Co., Ltd.; in Fowlers Corners by W. A. Hunter; in Galery by A. J. Scott; in Westwood by G. Pringle & Son.

1,000 AMERICAN DESERTERS TO BE ROUNDED UP IN PARIS.

PARIS, Jan. 23.—One thousand deserters from the American Army still remain in and around Paris, according to official announcement.

Many of them, now without domiciles, and are experiencing such financial embarrassment that, according to the French police, they have resorted to misdemeanours such as petty thieving and larcenies in order to procure means of subsistence.

The situation is such that the French authorities are planning a general raid. A dragnet will be thrown out for the arrest of all persons wearing American uniforms who are not supplied with proper credentials and leaves of absence.

Lieut.-Colonel T. Bentley Mott, Military Attache of the American Embassy, has been authorised by the War Department to hold a court-martial on any American soldier arrested.

WHAT'S WHAT IN NEW YORK

By HERBERT COREY

NEW YORK—Persons provided capacious bootlegs should have no difficulty in getting steady work from now on. This is not a mere personal hypothesis of my own, but rests on an official foundation. Lieutenant-Colonel Porter, chief supervising agent of the Internal Revenue Department in New York city, intimates that the bootlegging industry is in for a long market.

"The decision of the Supreme Court," said he, "means there is no legitimate method of getting the real old stuff out of the bonded warehouses. Now the saloons will have to deal with bootleggers or not deal at all."

Colonel Porter said that he has three hundred cases of violation of the law now pending, and that others will be instituted just as rapidly as the law can nip more bootleggers. I'm not desirous of casting any aspersions at the ability of Colonel Porter's devoted band of bootlegger nippers, but it occurs to me that three hundred must be about the irreducible minimum of cases of violation the law can possibly have been able to observe. Two nights ago I was in a downtown restaurant for the purpose of nourishing an enfeebled frame. Seven large men from points south and west stalked in.

Has Thanks of Seven Men.

"Listen," said the leader to the head waiter in what he believed to be a whisper, and which reduced the noise of the jazz band at the far end to a patient murmur. "Listen. We come here twice a year and we always patronise youah place. Do you all think we can get a little somep'n"

The waiter nodded abstractedly. The seven men thanked him with tears in their eyes. Then they intoned a guarded statement that their leader was a jolly good fellow. They looked at him with veneration, as one who knew where to go. Two other men came up the steps and crooked a finger at the head waiter.

"Gimme a couple cocktails," said the leader, "and then set out a bottle Scotch. And jazz it up a bit, old dear. See? Jiaz it up a bit."

The cocktails came, and the Scotch, all open and unashamed and fluvidly labelled. And at that moment a young man angled out between two friends, and a lady who was quite old enough to know better rambled down the aisle with a pronounced list to port—or perhaps sherry—and a well known financial man in theatrical circles fell heavily down stairs with a profane yowl. And back in the corner an old gentleman whose profile was that of a venomous goat, whiskers and all, gave vent to song in an astonishingly good tenor voice.

Good Time Had by All.

"My Bonnie," he carolled, "lies over the ocean."

And all our bonnies laid over the ocean in a little while. Because the spirit of the occasion, or something, got into the blood of the entire room. And we hurried back to "The Pavements of New York" and "Annie Laurie," and a very sad man from Indiana referred to the Banks of the Wabash until washed from his moorings by a surge of "Yip I Addie I Aye"—with apologies for the uncertain spelling. And a very good time was had by all. And when the revellers finally stumbled into the dawn they were met by a policman who looked upon them with friendly humor, and even aided in thrusting some of the more tangled into taxicab havens. The noise of the proceeding could not have been heard a bit farther than Jersey City.

It isn't always that easy in a New York restaurant. In most of them it is only the old and valued patron who is permitted to pay four bits for a reddish mixture that tastes faintly of furniture polish and has no more authority than a bandie. But there are mighty few restaurants in which a taste of what ails you cannot be had. In these few the supply run out long ago, and the pessimistic proprietors have not replenished and are now making a virtue of their paucity.

It is very rarely that any officer of the law has interfered. It is true that Thomas Healy has made formal allegation to the effect that certain police inspectors have entered his place for the purpose of inspecting, thereby causing cold chills to run up the backs of profitable patrons. But even Healy, who is either with the police or against them at all times, does not charge that any policeman found a waiter in the felonious act of serving booze. There were bottles and glasses on the tables and there were guests who persisted in regarding the inspections as a joke on "goo' ol' Tom." But that does not prove that the liquor came from the Healy cellars.

New York Not a Sahara Yet.

Nor do I believe that there has been any considerable graft connected with the modified enforcement of the law in New York. There has been a pretense at obeying the law in most places, but the New York sentiment seems to be that the bone dry enactment was not only an invasion of personal liberty, but fell short of perfect equity in the dealings of the Government with its whiskey owning patrons of yesterday. The average New Yorker will say as savage things about the average saloonkeeper as you would like to hear, even when he is taking his drink over the bar. But he thinks the saloonkeeper was a toad under the marrow in this bone dry matter and favors laxity in enforcement at least until he gets his money back. Which theory, if persisted in, means that New York will hardly be a Saharra for some years to come. Already Colonel Porter and his merry men have been finding stills in some of the picturesque canyons of older New York. And you can buy what passes for whiskey from almost anyone.

A man went blind recently from drinking what had been labelled as hair oil, but which was really wood alcohol of the early 1920 vintage. In the effort to trace that hair oil it reappeared as coach varnish in the hands of a garage man and liniment in the possession of a masseur. A coats-and-pants presser had sold it as a gargle and a delicatessen operator had passed it on labelled as pure maple syrup. It passed through eight sets of hands, as I remember the story, before a man was found with courage enough to drink it. Each temporary owner made a profit. That sort of thing is going on everywhere. Whiskey bought at reputable establishments is apt to have but a faint shimmer of the original fever. The buyer can either drink it all right long without a quiver or else it is loaded with ether and he hurries out and tries to bull a Fifth avenue bus.

Old Whiskey Trail Revived.

It is the same way up state. From the neighborhood of Watertown entrancing stories come of the recrudescence of the old Whiskey Trail. The original whiskey trail ran through Glacier Park, and was used by whiskey runners engaged in conveying high velocity Canadian liquors to the redskinned wards of Uncle Sam. The marks of the travois poles may still be seen in Glacier Park, for they ground deeply in the rich soil. One is justified in the supposition that this original Whiskey Trail must have flourished for years. The automobile has taken the place of the pinto pony and the travois pole on the Canadian border hereabouts and white instead of red skins are being internally tickled.

"It would take a line of men stationed twenty-five feet apart to keep whiskey from crossing the border," one man has stated.

The whiskey runners bring it over in cars and caravans and wagons and hip-bottles. They hide it in loads of hay and cover it with wheat. A funeral used to march mournfully down one road until the watchers suspected that the horses and the mourners and the buggies looked strangely alike each day. The coffin was found filled with booze and each mourner's buggy had a case under the seat. Fast motor boats dash in and out among the thousands of uncharted islands in the St. Lawrence and each motor boat is almost awash with a cargo of what a once-famous agnostic called liquid joy and which Mr. William Anderson has called so many things that a glossary of terms of condemnation could be made up from his statements. The Canadian border line is a good many miles long, and every inch of it offers possibilities to a whiskey runner.

Find Relief in the Bahamas.

The best yarn of all comes from the Floridian tip. It appears that the nearest islands of the Bahamas are but forty-five miles away from our legally arid land, and that Great Britain has not yet pussy-footed. Drinks of unquestioned authenticity and undoubted potency can be procured in these islands at prices approximately those now ruling in London. Hence a ferry line has been established. Those whose whistles are so dry they have practically warped can step on a fine, commodious little yacht with places to lie down in and hold on to and everything, and in two hours they find themselves in Bahama the Blessed—as wet in those forms of wetness which appeal to the human palate as Piccadilly Circus itself.

The Bradley boys, who have been operating a club down in Florida which admitted no members not possessed of a dinner jacket and at least $40, are about to open another of their islets of exclusiveness on the Bahamas. One million dollars is the sum which the Bradleys are popularly supposed to be ready to spent, this representing a portion of the sums conferred on them by persons anxious to get away from those cross persons who holler when seven comes.

Havana Also Offers Solace

And, pending the erection and plating of the Bradley temple, Havana offers solace to unreconciled souls. Money in Havana, they say, is fairly littering the streets. Porters will not pick up anything short of dollar bills when they sweep out in the morning. Room rent has mounted almost to Miss York levels, and food has depraved to the New York taste. John Kentucky known as Muggsy McGraw, is bitterling in millions with his race track, and other well known sporting men are heading toward this latest oil field.

"It is even currently reported that a smashing player or two is on his way Cubaward, but this is probably untrue. MAKE SOMETHING MUSIC

PROFESSOR CLEARS EVE OF ADAM'S DOWNFALL.

Asserts Babylonian Tablets in Pennsylvania University Say It Was Noah Who Ate the Apple.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 23.—Evidence purporting to show that a woman did not cause the downfall of the human race was produced to-day by the Museum of the University of Pennsylvania in the form of a new set of translations by Dr. Stephen Herbert Langdon of Babylonian tablets.

Dr. Langdon is now Professor of Assyriology at Oxford, and was for three years curator of the Babylonian section at the University Museum, here, where he studied and translated many ancient clay tablets from the ruins of Nippur. The new book is the fourth in a series on the religious life of the Sumerians, who inhabited lower Babylon.

According to one of the stories of the flood in the collection, Noah ate the forbidden fruit after he landed from the Ark. His salvation from the deluge was accomplished, according to this version, by a feminine deity. There is no mention of Eve, according to Dr. Langdon.

THE ARMENIAN FUND.

The local response to the call from Armenia through the medium of the Examiner has been splendid. From all sections of the city's population and from Examiner readers located outside of Peterboro subscriptions have been pouring in and the total is already a creditable one. However, the campaign will be continued indefinitely as there is need for every dollar collected. The situation of the Armenian refugees seems worse with every report the cables bring and it is evident that there is no danger of any of the money that is being raised in Canada not being needed. Thousands are starving and only the efforts of the Relief Committee stand between many of the helpless women and children and death. Those efforts can only be maintained if the workers on the spot are backed by a constant stream of money from the home bases. Peterboro can do her share in this work and the subscriptions so far received by the Examiner are evidence that the city intends to do so.

A SIGN OF PROGRESS.

The directorate and members of the Peterboro Industrial Exhibition are to be congratulated upon their decision to extend the fair next autumn over four days. The step is a progressive one, that will advertise the exhibition throughout the province as an annual event that each year grows greater. There is no question that manufacturers and special exhibitors will be more eager to make displays at a four day show than they have been hitherto and the same statement can be made in regard to the concessionaires. The decision reached at the annual meeting brings much closer that vision of a week's fair for Peterboro—a vision that has been before the directors of the Exhibition for the past few years and that promises soon to be a reality. This year's Exhibition promises to surpass its predecessors in every department and a splendid start has been made in the decision to hold a four days' show.

DESCHANEL AND CLEMENCEAU

Mr. Paul Deschanel, elected on Saturday President of France, is one of those accomplished, industrious politicians, orators, writers, academicians in whom France is always rich. Not of the first brilliancy, he possesses those respectable talents that make more friends than genius. The post of President of the French Republic is of limited scope. To a considerable extent he is a ceremonial and a symbol. "Marianne" has committed no enormous trust to his hands. His is a place of eminent distinction, but mostly otiose so far as orginal power and action are concerned. Doubtless, Mr. Deschanel will be equal to all demands of the office, wherein all the friends of France will hope for him seven years of safe and dignified life.

Mr. Clemenceau has been collecting enemies with reckless gayety for half a century. The Chamber of Deputies and the Senate swarm with the victims of his wit, his energy, his trained skill with pen and sword; Mr. Deschanel has tasted both. Upsetter of Cabinets, deracinator of Premiers, how many retaliations and revenges he has invited! Tit for tat is played. Is it the active and ardent Mr. Briand whom we catch a glimpse of behind the scenery of the new performance, so rich in surprise to most of us?

Well, Georges Clemenceau was taken by France when great and desperate work was to be done. It would have pleased the world to see another honor given him, rounding out his splendid and stormy career. But the politicians have ruled otherwise. It was their right.

Health and good fortune to President Deschanel! To Georges Clemenceau leisure to write his memoirs, sure to be enjoyed so well by our happier descendants! Meanwhile, may be remind him that the United States would love to see him over here, would find no other man's company more welcome?—New York Times.

JUSTICE FOR TOWNSMEN.

Electoral justice for the people who live in towns and cities is the plea of Toronto Saturday Night in a reference to the Drury Government in Ontario. Says the well-known weekly: In the negotiations to secure for Premier Drury a seat in the Ontario Legislature as representative for the riding of North Norfolk, it was admitted that sentiment in the towns of that constituency was strongly opposed to the U.F.O. In the election for the federal house in North Ontario a few weeks ago the same condition was apparent. It is clear that the vast majority of electors in cities, towns and villages have taken alarm at the pretentions of the U.F.O. leaders, even before they have had a chance to do anything. The bark of Premier Drury and some of his associates may be worse than their bite, but they have talked in tones that gave good grounds for alarm. Though claiming to be a peoples' party, their utterances make the inference inevitable that they are in very truth bent on class dominations and animated by sentiments more bitterly and selfishly partisan than have previously appeared in Canada.

Despite the fact that Premier Drury and two of his Ministers are still without seats in the Ontario Legislature, and the rank and file of his following numbers but forty-four in a house of one hundred and eleven members, they daily proclaim their expectation of obtaining control of the Federal Government. Premier Drury himself has announced the most sweeping and bitter slogan ever sounded in the history of Canadian politics as the key note of the federal campaign. It runs:

"NO MAN TO PARLIAMENT WHO HAS EVER BEEN THERE BEFORE."

Thus the campaign is to be not merely against lawyers, professional men and manufacturers, but even against farmers who have had the honor of representing either of the historic parties at Ottawa. A clean sweep is to be made of every public man in the Dominion of Canada, possessed of parliamentary experience. Every man who has in the past been accorded the honor of election is to be regarded as eternally disgraced and unfit for public service. It follows, of course, that they are to be succeeded only by candidates who are willing to enroll themselves under the banner of the U.F.O. An Opposition or anything else savoring of political tradition will not be tolerated. This is sheer madness. No wonder the public of the cities, towns and villages takes alarm at this local adaptation of Russia's message to mankind.

The utterances of U.F.O. leaders during the past two months have done more to awaken the Canadian public to the inequalities of our present system of representation than the events of the previous fifty years. The people in towns and cities have become suddenly aware that much of the talk of coming U.F.O. domination is based on the anomalous fact that at the present time, whether for legislative or federal purposes, the farmer to all intents and purposes has two votes for the townsman's one, due to grave inequalities in the population of urban as compared with rural ridings. How far these inequalities extend it will be impossible to estimate accurately until the approaching census is complete; but at the redistribution following the census announced in 1911 the disparities were glaring.

Taking the sixty-five members from the Province of Quebec as the unit, seats were allotted to the other provinces on the basis approximately of one member for every 30,000 of population. Nevertheless Toronto, with her population of one-sixth or one-seventh of the total for the province of Ontario, was allotted only five seats of Ontario's total of 82, instead of the twelve or more to which she was logically entitled. The same injustice prevailed with regard to all the large Ontario towns. The disparity was even greater in Manitoba where the city of Winnipeg normally represents at least two-fifths of the total population, but was accorded only one-fifth of the representation in the House of Commons—3 out of 15, to be exact. In the province of Quebec above one-third of the entire population is located on Montreal Island, yet that urban and suburban territory returns only ten members, though legally entitled to at least twenty. The reason that urban communities were willing to allow this heavy legislative advantage to the farmers was that under the old party system of government where policies of general application rather than class interest prevailed, they feared no injustice. There was no proclamation of an exclusive right to govern by one section of the community. Now that a battle cry for the elimination of the entire personnel of Canada's public life and complete urban domination even in provinces where the farmer is in an actual minority has been raised, urban communities must demand representation by population from a sheer instinct of self-protection.

MONTHLY REPORT ON FARM CONDITIONS—FEED SCARCE.

Ontario Department of Agriculture
Report of Farm Conditions
January 19th, 1920.

The following is a summary of the reports made by Agricultural Representatives to the Ontario Department of Agriculture:—

Fall Wheat at present is well protected by snow, and so far has suffered but little from the winter.

Cattle are generally in good condition, notwithstanding the comparatively cold weather, and the rather limited quantity of grain on hand. The good supply of ensilage on hand is credited with helping out the situation more than anything else. While marketing in most quarters is rather slow. Grey reports weekly shipments of well finished cattle.

The milk supply is about normal for the season. A condensary in Elgin is paying $3.40 a cwt., for milk with a 4 per cent. of fat standard.

Many horses are being carried over a little leaner than usual. Essex reports an extra supply of work horses. Kent states that hogs are now rather scarce. Prices for bacon animals range from $16 to $17.25.

Very little grain is being marketed. Hay is being disposed of at from $20 to $26 a ton in the more settled parts of the province, and from $30 to $35 in Port Arthur district. In Western Ontario straw is bringing $10 a ton.

Considerable corn and tobacco yet remain to be marketed in Essex.

Peterboro states that a carload of potatoes was shipped from Norwood by the U.F.O. during the week at $2.75 a bag. Grenville reports sales at $2.25 a bag, and other representatives state that the weather of late has been too cold for handling potatoes satisfactorily.

Grey reports that with most of the sweet clover out of the hands of farmers, wholesalers are now offering $17 a bushel for seed, while holders ask as high as $21.

The ice harvest is now on, and old cutters in Peterboro say that this year's ice is the best for storing that they have ever seen.

A number of farmers in Kent are already applying for men for work in the spring.

Our ruling passions are apt to remain with us till the end. The last movement a mule attempts is a kick. Though a woman's seldom able

Teach the Children to Save

Habits are acquired early in life. Children, who are taught the value of money and the habit of saving, grow up into good business men and capable women.

The easiest way to teach children to save, is to start a Savings Account for each child ($1.00 each is sufficient). After a child has saved another dollar to make an additional deposit, he or she will have a better appreciation of just what a dollar stands for, and how much work and self-denial it represents.

SANDRA THE JEALOUS

BY JANE PHELPS

EVERETT BUYS SANDRA JEWELS

CHAPTER XXVII

Everett looked at me in a blank surprised way.

"Tell her what?" He has already forgotten all about it evidently.

"To make my things girlish and simple! I don't want them made that way! everybody treats me like a child, and you make me look more like one by telling the dressmakers such things."

"You are acting and talking like one now—a very young one."

As usual his tone and manner prevented me from saying more, but it did not prevent me pouting.

"Better round up your face a little Sandra," he said when we stopped in front of a jeweler's. I had been so cross that I had paid no attention to what he had said to the chauffeur. "The salesmen will think I have been spanking you," he smiled so queerly when he said it that I laughed, and so made up with him Everett seldom joked, but when he did he was so comical I couldn't help laughing even if I felt cross.

I had wondered all the morning if I was to have Leola's sapphires." I soon found out that he had no such intention. He bought me a darling sapphire and diamond bracelet, and a wonderful sapphire pendant. They cost so much as father spent in year for the entire family. But I had become accustomed to Everett's liberality by this time. At first I had thought of it as extravagance Now I knew that brokers, even rich ones like Everett, often made quick turns in the stock market which brought them in a great deal of money, and which they spent as easily as it came.

I was delighted with my lovely sapphires. What girl wouldn't be? I really had always lived that shade of blue, it was simply my feeling that Leola had worn it that made me object to wearing it. So I thanked Everett and learned over to kiss him. I thought it all right.

He drew back.

"Remember you are in the street, Sandra. Someone might see you did not recognize me, and would talk of your indiscretion. Save your caresses for the privacy of home."

I felt chilled, hurt. I had not heard that word "indiscretions" since he had told me of Leola being indiscreet. How I wondered if wanting to kiss him had been what he meant. If he did no wonder she did things he didn't like—no wonder she drowned herself if he would not let her show her love for him. For the first time a stir of pity for her ran thru me. Then I recalled that Everett had said he loved her so dearly, and my jealousy was again in the ascendant.

How I wished he had not made me promise not to speak of her. There were so many questions I wanted to ask; so much I longed to know. If Everett would only tell me things, talk them over with me, I knew I would be happier. There were so many things that troubled me.

But never would I dare mention Leola to him. Never so long as I lived. But some day—after a long while when it would not seem quite as much as if I were breaking my promise never to speak of her to anyone, never ask any questions, I would get Hetty or Mrs. Gray to tell me what they knew. Perhaps they knew what Everett had meant by "indiscretions."

Everett had me set him down at his office, then I went, home. I showed my lovely sapphires to Mrs. Gray and Hetty, and in their enthusiasm and admiration for them I almost forgot that Everett had repulsed me.

"Mr. Graham loves this color," I said after a while in hopes that I might draw them out to say something about those other sapphires, "he always wants me to wear it."

Neither said anything, and I caught a fleeting glance of a look Mrs. Gray bent on Hetty. Did it mean that she, Hetty, was to say nothing to her about Leola's things? Had Everett told Mrs. Gray that I was not to be enlightened How I wished I knew.

I put the sapphires away without again looking at them. Someway I always resented the fact that I was never to know about this other woman; the wife whom Everett had loved. I was persuaded that he never would love me. That he had married me simply because he wanted a wife whom he could mould, and who would be a mother.

One day I took my courage in my hands and asked Mrs. Gray:

"Did Mr. Graham and—ever have any children" I couldn't speak her name.

"Hasn't he told you?" she asked bending a keen look on me.

"No—I didn't ask him when we had our confidential chat, and I dislike to bring it up again." I replied thinking I was wonderfully tactful.

"Then I can say nothing." She turned away, then added: "But there is nothing for you to worry about, absolutely nothing."

To-morrow—Sandra Decides to be Indiscreet.

BEAUTY SECRETS!

Where she gets her good looks, her healthy skin, her pink cheeks, is known to every one, because it is apparent that it is not due to cosmetics, paint and powder. But the true womanly beauty comes from good health, and this good health is a woman's secret.

Health comes with good physical machinery and good spirits, as active digestion. A body free from pains and aches comes with a tonic known for over fifty years as the best "temperance" tonic and nervine for women—namely, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It can be obtained in any drug store in liquid or tablet form, or send 10c to Dr. Pierce Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y.

Cleaning of the intestinal tract is important. Take castor oil or select a vegetable pill. Such a one is composed of May-apple, leaves of aloe, root of jalap, and made into tiny sugar-coated pellets, to be had at every drug store as Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.

Successful Men Always Saved

They were thrifty. They were shrewd enough to see that the habit of saving meant the strengthening of character. With the money saved they were able to take advantage of opportunities as they arose.

Grip, Influenza

Hamlin's Wizard Oil a Reliable, Antiseptic Preventive

During influenza epidemics spray the nose and throat several times a day with one part Wizard Oil and two parts water, using an atomizer. If you haven't an atomizer, gargle the throat and snuff the mixture up the nose. This treatment sets up an antiseptic wall of defense against "Flu" germs.

Chest colds and sore throat lead to grip. Stop them at once with Wizard Oil before they can develop into dangerous influenza.

PETERBORO LADY GAVE AN ADDRESS

INTERESTING MEETING ON THE FORWARD MOVEMENT IN LAKEFIELD.

LAKEFIELD, Jan. 22.—Mrs. C. C. Abbot, of Peterboro, addressed a woman's meeting in St. John's School room in the interests of the Forward Movement of the Anglican church. There were a number of ladies present who motored from the Methodist and Presbyterian churches and all were pleased to hear Mrs. Abbott's straightforward appeal to the women to lead the way in the Forward Movement as they have done in the past along so many lines in the church.

Rev. (Dr.) Archbold introduced Mrs. Abbott in a very brief address after formally opening the meeting with prayer. He referred to the broadening influence of the Forward Movement in which all churches were co-operating. We are learning to recognize the good points in each other and our little jealousies and prejudices and disappearing in our common interest.

Mrs. Abbott, who is president of the W.A. of St. John's church, Peterboro, spoke of the honor done to the W.A. in allowing them to distribute the literature of the Forward Movement. One reason is because the W. A. is the only Woman's Society in the Anglican churches which stretches unbroken from coast to coast.

The distribution of literature has brought people into a closer touch with one another in St. John's, there are evidances of a more friendly spirit. This present movement is only a preparation as the church must go on and our stewardship continue always. We set aside one tenth of our income as belonging to God but we do not always realize that we owe him an account of the other nine tenths. We do not take as much interest in our Sunday School as we should. We do not, as a rule, interest ourselves in the teachers of our children or their teachings. Parents should send their children to Sunday School with their lessons prepared and should learn of them what they have been taught.

In this time there is the call sounding very loudly to us and if every man, every woman and every child did something for the church there would not be as many nervous wrecks. As a rule, it is the same few faithful women who do all the church work. As W.A. workers we should allow our interest to widen till it includes all our diocese and let us have an interest, a practical interest in those portions of our diocese which do not enjoy as extensive religious priviledges as we do. Our interest can widen more and take in the Dominion with the great North West and its Indians and the settlers who are coming so faste Let us have the church ready for these settlers.

Let our vision widen and take in our three great foreign fields:—Japan, China and India.

Let the women talk and interest the men in Missions. Men have money and influence and they like hard facts. let the women be prepared to give them to them. We must become fairly saturated with enthusiasm and we must above all things pray. The call today is to the church and we are the church.

During the war in many of our services many similes have been taken from the war and why not now?

The church is one vast army fighting the forces of evil. If in that thin British line (alas how terribly thin it was at times) that kept the Germans from Calais had broken or even if just one outpost had failed then the German hordes would have broken through. It is just the same in the church and every outpost must do its part or the campaign is in vain. A chain is only as strong as its weakest link and more of us want to be the weak link. We must be true to our vision, we must have boundless enthusiasm, we had wonderful enthusiasm in our war work, we cheerfully made many sacrifices in men, money and service, nothing was too hard to do for our country. Shall we be less energetic, less enthusiastic, less sacrificing in God's cause. Surely not.

Mrs. Abbott closed by saying that she hoped that in five years time that every Anglican woman in Canada would be a member of the W.A. and interested in some of its branches—Dorcas literary, social service or intercessory. If we all do that not only will our church prosper but our Dominion will increase by leaps and bounds and that dark cloud of Bolshevism, which already hangs over us, will be dispersed.

Dr. Archbold proposed a vote of thanks to Mrs. Abbott and Miss Atwood seconded it. In closing Dr. Archbold made a few remarks which were a warning to all. He quoted the late Charles Kingsley who was asked by a student "whose fault were the terrible Bristol riots?" Kingsley answered—"your fault and mine" hang through all England. Personal responsibility is the keynote of the Forward Movement, if we neglect the spiritual side and think and live for the material side the Bolsheviki peril will overwhelm us and the fault will be our own.

God allowed the late terrible war because the church was asleep, was wrapped in indifferntce. He used Germany as the weapon in His hand to make us stop and think and win. We are confronted with Bolshevism, we must fight it individually and collectively. We must have the inspiration of the spirit of God and we must fight the spirit of selfishness and indifference.

Lots of women do foolish things so they can snub those who don't.

WASHINGTON SAYS INFLUENZA NOT OF ALARMING TYPE.

WASHINGTON, D.C., Jan. 21. — Although there were slight increases in the number of influenza cases, especially in the Chicago district, reported to the public health service, officials said there was nothing alarming in the present situation.

The disease is of a mild type and with a low death rate, they said, and the number of pneumonia cases resulting is small.

The outbreak of influenza at Camp Grant and the Great Lakes Training Station is subsiding.

RICHARD HALL & SON LIMITED

DR. M'PHERSON, M.H.O., OUTLINES PROGRAMME FOR HEALTH BOARD

SUGGESTS APPOINTMENT OF ASSISTANT INSPECTOR AND EXPANSION OF THE DEPARTMENT'S INVESTIGATIONS—MIGHT EXAMINE EVERY HOUSE IN THE CITY.

ACCOUNTS PASSED

The new Board of Health held its initial meeting last night, with Mr. G. H. Duncan presiding, and Mayor McIntyre, James Lynch and Dr. McPherson present.

On Dr. McPherson's motion, seconded by Mr. Lynch, the secretary was instructed to write the Utilities Commission inquiring into what steps were being taken to safeguard the city's water from contamination.

Dr. McPherson remarked that the Board should insist upon the enforcement of the law requiring the steam boats on the lakes above the city to use septic tanks in their closets, and also demanding sanitary conditions in connection with the logging gangs. The banks of the river above the pumping station should also be kept free from campers, or properly supervised in the interests of the city's health.

It was intimated that the Board would probably request the Utilities Commission to instal a filtration plant or endorse their action if they are planning this improvement.

Ice Is Pure.

Replying to Mr. Lynch's question as to the purity of the ice cut from the Little Lake, Dr. McPherson said that it was all right for the purpose of cooling drinking water, unless it was taken from a place where there had been cutting and where the water had frozen over the surrounding ice as a result of flooding. Otherwise it was free from contamination. In freezing the purest water rose to the top, and there was no danger from using it in drinking water ice taken from the Little Lake.

A resolution was passed permitting scavengers to work during the day time, under certain restrictions, until the end of February.

The chairman and the Mayor were authorized to have the ice house at the Queen Mary hospital filled with ice.

Will Prepare Budget.

From a passing discussion on the question of the appropriation needed for this year's work it is likely that the Board will prepare its own budget for the Council's consideration.

Dr. McPherson pointed out that such items as the Plumbing Inspector's salary and his street car allowance, the rent of refuse grounds and similar public expenses should not be charged to the Health Department.

"They should be debited to the Property committee," said ex-Mayor Duncan.

Would Extend the Work.

By way of suggesting departmental expansion for the consideration of the members during the next month, Dr. McPherson summarized some of the undertakings that should be assumed. He spoke of the need of an additional or assistant sanitary inspector. Under the present arrangement, Mr. Stapleton and Mr. F. W. Miller, the Relief Officer, had each to spend part of his time in the office while the other was outside attending to his duties. This meant that it was impossible for the Sanitary Inspector properly to attend to all the work that should be looked after if the public health was to be fully protected.

Every house and every place in the city should be inspected and a record kept on file. This was not for the purpose of impertinent prying into the affairs of the people but to teach those who needed advice how to safeguard their water supply, to see that houses are kept dry and habitable, that animals are not detrimental to the health of any persons, and generally to ensure sanitary conditions and cleanliness that will tend to make the city better and healthier.

"There are any amount of places that are not as they should be," Dr. McPherson continued. "In the summer we should see to the ice cream parlors, the fruit stores, the meat stores and every other place where food is offered for sale. A child fell into a cistern and was drowned last summer. If we could have a thorough inspection of the dwellings in the city, such an accident could be avoided, for the Sanitary Inspector in his rounds would examine the wells, and finding a dangerous one would peremptorily order it repaired at once. We want to see that outhouses are kept properly. If the Sanitary Inspector is to do all this, and if we are to have knowledge of the sanitary conditions of the city he must do it, then we need another man. Mr. Stapleton has enough to do in looking after the milk supplies, slaughter houses and other branches of the work. Besides, we should have complete records of everything pertaining to the public health."

It was intimated that the Board would digest this programme of development before taking any action in the form of submitting the necessary recommendation to the City Council.

NO PROFITEERING WITH ZAM-BUK

Before the war, Zam-Buk was 60c. a box. All during the war, when the cost of production was rapidly advancing, the price of Zam-Buk to the consumer remained the same. Now, with the war over, while some prices continue to soar, Zam-Buk is still 60c. a box! Not only so, but the same high standard of quality has been maintained throughout.

There has been no profiteering in regard to Zam-Buk. For every box you have bought, you have been asked to pay fair value only.

Is this method of doing business not worthy of recognition? Answer this question by continuing to recommend, to appreciate, and to use Zam-Buk—the greatest household healer of modern times.

Use it for all skin troubles, eczema, ringworm, abscesses, ulcers, boils, pimples, piles, blood-poisoning, chapped hands, cold sores, cuts, bruises, burns, scalds, etc.

All Dealers, 60c. Box.

Faint and Dizzy Spells Weakness and Shortness of Breath

You can generally tell when the heart is affected by the faint and dizzy spells, the shortness of breath, palpitation, throbbing, irregular beating, smothering sensations, weak, sinking, all-gone feeling, choking sensation, etc.

Many men and women become run-down and worn out when otherwise they could be strong and healthy, if they would only pay some attention to the first sign of heart weakness.

No remedy will do so much to make the heart regain strength and vigor, regulate its beat and restore it to a healthy and normal condition as Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills.

Mrs. C. A. S. Drake, Paris, Ont., writes:—"I have used six boxes of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and find they have done me good. I had chord fainting, dizzy spells, once in a while, and also weakness and shortness of breath, and would become so choked up at times I could hardly sleep without sitting up in bed. When walking too fast I would have to stop and try to catch my breath. I feel a lot better since I have used your pills and know that they have helped me wonderfully as I have improved very much."

Price 60c a box at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

HEALTH DEPARTMENT ATTENDS TO FAMILIES UNDER QUARANTINE

DR. M'PHERSON STATED THAT CITIZENS HAVE NO CAUSE FOR UNEASINESS—REPLIES TO COMPLAINT.

Families under quarantine are given every attention, and adequate arrangements are made for supplying them with food and other everyday necessaries, Dr. A. W. McPherson assured the Board of Health last night, in replying to Mayor McIntyre, who conveyed from a special committee of the Trades Council the complaint of a Labour delegate that while his house was placarded he had found it difficult to obtain groceries and other provisions. The Trades Council desired protection for citizens against possible neglect during any period of quarantine.

Referring to this particular case Dr. McPherson said he was at the house when the family was first quarantined. He had been notified by the attending physician and had asked the family whether there was anything he could do for them. He also said that Sanitary Inspector Stapleton had visited them to make certain that they were not being overlooked. This was the practice in every case. Dr. McPherson continued, and observed that citizens whose houses were placarded should not feel uneasy about their protection. The health department was anxious to take care of them in order that there should be no occasion for any members of a quarantined family leaving their home until the contagious disease had spent itself.

Pleasing Presentation to Miss Mulligan.—The Address.

On Dec. 29th., 1919 the home of W. J. Mulligan, Lifford, Ont., was a scene of a very pleasant surprise, when about sixty freinds of their daughter, Miss Edith Mulligan, gathered from the surrounding community to bid farewell on departure for London on the eve of her marriage. After a few social hours were spent in music and games, a purse of money and an address was read to her.

WOMAN SO ILL COULD NOT WALK

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Her to Health.

Perth Amboy, N.J. — "For three years I suffered with a severe female trouble, was nervous, had headache and a pain in my side most of the time. I had dizzy spells sometimes often so faint I could not walk across the floor. The doctor said I would have to have an operation. I read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in the newspaper, and tried it. Now I am better, feel strong, have no pains, headache or dizzy spells. Every one tells me how well I look, and I tell them to use Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound — that is what makes me feel well and look well. I recommended it to my sister and she is using it now. You can use this letter if you wish, for it is certainly a grand remedy for a woman's ills." — Mrs. MARTHA SZAREJAWSKI, 324 Penn St., Perth Amboy, N.J.

For forty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been overcoming such serious conditions as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, dizziness, and nervous prostration or "nervousness," and is now considered the standard remedy for such ailments.

"The Semi-Annual Lonely Sale of Men's Clothing"

"I Purchased This Suit a Year Ago and It Is Worth a Great Deal More To-day"

That was the remark a man made the other day when he came to purchase more clothing at this half-yearly sale of ours. The same will be true next year, for we see no promise of reduction in the cost of manufacturing clothing.

There are many suits and overcoats here right now that are marked down and should be marked up, for their value is greater, but we prefer to clear our stock of broken lines after a season of busy selling. It will be well to remind you that they are fashionable garments from this season's stock.

1417 SCHOOL CHILDREN WERE VACCINATED, ONE HAD SMALLPOX

1|5 CASES IN THE CITY AT PRESENT AND PRACTICALLY ALL ARE ADULTS—ANTICIPATING RECURRENCE OF INFLUENSA—95 PATIENTS AT ISOLATION HOSPITAL LAST YEAR—18 HAD SMALLPOX.

EXPENSES $5,973.61

Discussing the epidemic of small pox at the Board of Health meeting last night Dr. McPherson, M.O.H., emphasized the protective and preventive values of vaccination. Altogether there are at present sixteen small-pox patients in the city. Ten of these are quarantined in their homes and the rest are housed in the shacks at the Queen Mary hospital. Four of these six patients are residents of the city and the two others are from outside.

"There have been a number coming from outside the city" Dr. McPherson said, "and I spoke to Dr. Clinton, the district officer of health about it. Most of these were from Douro where they were calling it chicken-pox. However, they are beginning to recognize it as small-pox. Warsaw is beginning to recognize it as small-pox and admit having five cases.

1417 Children Vaccinated.

We vaccinated 1417 school children some time ago and thirty or forty others, and it is worthy noting that nearly all the recent cases that have developed have been adults. One man who was at the isolation hospital for a month said he had been vaccinated a long time ago but rather than leave himself open to a possible recurrence of the disease he said he would be vaccinated again in seven years. It is of interest to note that we have had only one child. Most of the patients are adults, both married and single men and women."

Cost Has Been Light.

The cost of caring for the small-pox patients at the Queen Mary hospital had not exceeded $75 so far, Dr. McPherson continued. "And we've had a lot of them. We were fortunate in securing a girl who had it and we took her on for special duty. We need a man there, and we had to buy more beds and blankets, sheets and a cheap matting for the floors of the two shacks."

Dr. McPherson paid a tribute to Miss Price, the matron, and her assistants who while one nurse was sick and difficulties seemed to multiply had worked without thought of themselves under trying conditions.

He recommended that the caretaker who with his wife are doing the general work at the hospital, should receive an increase in salary, and related some of the duties the caretaker has performed in caring for the small-pox patients.

"We have four scarlet fever patients at the hospital and there are none at home, and we have one case of diptheria, the only one in the city. I engaged another nurse temporarily, which action I would ask the Board to approve. If we don't have two regular nures besides Miss Price then we need a special one in such times as these. It would be otherwise neither economical nor safe.

Preparing for Flu.

I thought it well for us to get an organization ready as a nucleus in order that we would not be helpless if the "flu" comes again. If we find it necessary we could enlarge the organization."

The Board approved the engagement of the temporary nurse who will be retained on that basis.

The Matron's Report.

Miss Price presented a report for December and for the entire year of 1919. On December 1st there were five patients in the hospital, one scarlet fever, two diptheria and two small-pox. Fourteen were admitted during the month as follows—three scarlet fever, three diptheria and eight small-pox. All of the fourteen were from the city. This made a total of nineteen cases handled during the month.

Nine patients were discharged and one died, leaving nine in the hospital on January 1st.

Report for the Year.

During the year 95 patients were received and there were four in the hospital on January 1st 1919. Of those admitted during the year nineteen were scarlet fever cases, fifty-eight were diptheria and eighteen small-pox. The report showed that eighty-seven patients were discharged, three died and nine remained on January 1st last.

The scarlet fever ward was open 250 days, the diptheria ward 242 days and the small-pox shacks 125 days. The hospital was closed from July 9th to 12th, August 16th to Sept. 1st and 17th to 29th.

The expenses of the hospital totalled $5973.61 for the year and $500.90 was received from patients.

LABOUR NOT ADJUNCT OF U.F.O. MACBRIDE CHALLENGES ROLLO

DECLARES THAT LABOR MEN ARE DISGUSTED AT MINISTER'S SEAT-HUNTING ACTIVITIES—HAS NEGLECTED LABOR, SAYS BRANTFORD MAYOR.

Toronto, Jan. 23.—"Any time the Hon. Mr. Rollo wants a showdown with me as to our respective positions as labor men he can have it. I want to say that in my opinion he merely used labor to acquire a fat job for himself, and that his blind following of Druryism is not the leadership labor has a right to expect."

Above is the challenge that Mayor M. M. McBride, of Brantford, Labor member-elect for the Ontario Legislature, gave in answer to the attack made on him in a statement by Hon. Walter Rollo, Minister of Labor in the Drury Cabinet, Wednesday afternoon.

He Called the Meeting.

Mayor McBride was asked over the telephone if he had seen the statements of Mr. Rollo, Minister of Labor in the Drury Cabinet, in which the latter criticized the recent action of Mayor McBride in calling a meeting of Labor members-elect here on Tuesday, to which the Minister was not invited, and other actions characterized by the Minister as tending to dissension in the Labor party.

"I called the meeting, and did not invite Mr. Rollo to attend it," said Mayor McBride; "but it was called at the request of other Labor members, who are tired of the seat-hunting activities of Mr. Rollo on behalf of the Drury Government.

Done Nothing for Labor.

"The Minister since his appointment seems satisfied to draw his salary and has never done anything for the party that elected him, but has devoted his efforts to trying to find seats for the other members of the Cabinet who were witout them.

Seat-Hunting for U.F.O.

"We know that he is a member of the committee that was trying to find seats. He does not seem to realize that he was elected as a representative of labor and not to follow the leadership of the central executive of the U.F.O. His whole attitude and conduct are repellent to a large number of the labor members, such as his waiting about till the return of the secretary of the U.F.O.

"If Mr. Rollo spent more time on the matters of labor legislation and less on seat-hunting for Drury there would be less general dissatisfaction with him.

"But his whole attitude seems to indicate that he thinks the Labor party is merely an adjunct to the Drury Government. He was elected on a Labor platform and to forward the claims of labor men in legislation."

Men at Meeting.

Asked as to the men who attended the meeting held on Tuesday, Mr. McBride said they were the same five men who had met following the choice of Mr. Rollo to the Cabinet and represented local labor.

Referring to the meeting that chose Mr. Rollo, he said: "We called a meeting of some twenty-six individuals, of whom only six or seven were Labor members-elect, and then with his friends' assistance became Labor Minister. Since then the Labor members have heard nothing from him and are disgusted.

Drury a Reactionary.

"As to the Government, my impression is that Mr. Drury's leadership, instead of being progressive, has been decidedly reactionary."

A Simple Way To Remove Dandruff

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, common liquid arvon from any drug store (this is all you will need), apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

By some perverse instinct, cats are said to be very fond of persons with a marked aversion to them.

HOMELESS RESIDENTS IN PETERBORO INTERESTED IN THE HOUSING SCHEME

PETERBORO IS PREPARING TO CLIMB ON THE TAILBOARD OF THE BAND WAGON UNLESS GOVERNMENT WITHDRAWS FUNDS—SEEKING INFORMATION.

(By F. H. Dobbin.)

As might be expected, many inquiries are coming forward from those interested in the Housing proposition for Peterborough. Enquiries from several, in addition to the number who during November last signified that if the proposition were open, each would be ready to avail of the opportunity. But at present things are at a standstill.

The Directors of the Ontario Bureau of Municipal Affairs, and who is the operating head of the Housing activity has been written to asking if so far as he is informed, will the new Provincial Government go forward and finish up appropriations to municipalities, for work in hand, and further extend the facility to borrow money to municipalities proposing to embark in the enterprise. So far a reply has not been received.

There are newspaper statements that the new Government looks with a not cheerful eye on the whole scheme. And that it realizes that immediate and prospective demands would entail the procuring of a very large sum of money. Looking, in turn to the Dominion Government, to see if it would be willing to advance so much as $8,000,000 at the stated rate of interest, five per cent. Until something definite is learned little can be done, except in the way of securing information.

With regard to what has been accomplished in the past year, of the municipalities which have gone into the venture, none have so far given publicity to results. It would be most helpful if they would. And, not doing so it is left to pick out three or four places that have been building and go and see.

Houses Well Built.

Council has instructed the local commission to visit Hamilton, Brantford, Guelph, and calling at Oshawa as well. Hamilton is reported to have been very successful. Brantford to have had satisfactory success. Guelph to have built twenty-seven houses and is fairly well satisfied with results. That city is going on again this summer and hopes to accomplish considerable. A note from the secretary says that a six-room house, comprising downstairs, hallway, living room, dining room, kitchen, and upstairs three bedrooms and the bath-room, furnace, electric wiring, water service, sewer, etc., has averaged in cost $2,970.00, exclusive of the lot. Built of brick and well fitted and supplied with heating and sanitary service. These houses are nicely planned, having a broad verandah across the front, end, and are in every way just what a working man would need.

The deputation has in mind to see and be seen. To get at each place photos of the houses completed. Plans and specifications if possible. So far as procurable statements in detail of cost. Both in materials and labor. To consult with the occupant and owner of the house and ask if he is satisfied with the whole arrangement. How payments are being met, and how devised. Consult with the workingman himself and get his opinion and viewpoint. Then one has both sides of the story.

Much that is valuable can be ascertained. One place can profit by the experience of another, and those which ventured first will be able to give of warning, if such be pertinent. Bringing back all information procurable a report will be made to Council from which the facts can be used to form conclusions. Council may then decide to go ahead. It might view the whole venture with caution. Especially when the building costs are figured out, as such as would be entailed in building in Peterborough. One important factor will be the wage scales as set by the several branches of the building trades in this city. These scales will be available for reference about the middle of April. It is the intention to place the stated cost of erecting in Peterborough on the prices for materials and labor as they will stand at the time indicated. Then the prospective owner of the house can form his conclusions.

In the end the decision as to more money rests with the Legislature. No doubt the Dominion government would oblige with further loan if the Province be willing to take the responsibility. In no other way can the money be had at an interest rate of five per cent. And that is the foundation of the whole movement. Already there is in sight a call for as many as forty dwellings. And this municipality, if it is to grow and progress must provide, either by the housing scheme, by civic enterprise or by private effort additional houses. The plea that we have already plenty of houses offered for sale is not well taken. Many houses are to large. Others not well fitted and indeed not desirable. Almost any one owning a house will sell it if the inducements be sufficiently attractive. But the situation to the working man is that he wishes to own his house and equally wishes to avoid paying these attractive prices. With labor and materals as they stand, it will take planning and economy to secure a home. Even one of moderate dimensions.

In other parts of the province it has become the settled conviction that for the future people must be content to live in houses of modest dimensions, and not immoderate cost. Such mean lessened taxes, lessened fuel for heating, etc. It is indeed surprising how well a family can accommodate themselves to the dimensions of a small house, providing the same be well planned, well laid out, unnecessary spaces deleted, and equipped with modern conveniences. A well planned pantry, for instance, is a revelation to the housewife, accustomed to stow the food and dishes in an office tucked under the stairs. Cupboards, closets, etc., are worked in to serve without taking up floor space. All these things are considered in planning the workman's dwelling, when of standard type and construction.

GET PEP AND COLOR BACK!

Take "Cascarets" Tonight for Your Liver and Bowels and Wake Up Clear, Rosy, Fit—No Gripe!

Feel bully! Be efficient! Don't stay sick, bilious, headachy, constipated. Remove the liver and bowel poison which is keeping your skin sallow, your head dizzy, your tongue coated, your breath bad and stomach sour. Why not spend a few cents for a box of Cascarets and enjoy the nicest, gentlest, laxative-cathartic you ever experienced? Cascarets never gripe, sicken or inconvenience one like Salts, Oil, Calomel or harsh Pills. They work while you sleep.

THEN, NERVOUS PEOPLE NEED BITRO-PHOSPHATE

Weak, thin people—men or women—are nearly always nervous wrecks; thus conclusively proving that thinness, weakness, debility and neurasthenia are almost invariably due to nerve starvation. Feed your nerves and all these symptoms due to nerve starvation will disappear.

Eminent specialists state that one of the best things for the nerves is an organic phosphate known among druggists as Bitro-Phosphate, a five-grain tablet of which should be taken with each meal. Being a genuine nerve builder and not a stimulant or habit-forming drug, Bitro-Phosphate can be safely taken by the weakest and most delicate sufferer, and the results following its use are often simply astonishing.

By strengthening the nerves, weak, tired people regain energy and vigor; thinness and angularity give way to plumpness and curves; sleep returns to the sleepless; confidence and cheerfulness replace debility and gloom; dull eyes become bright, and pale, sunken cheeks regain the pink glow of health.

CAUTION.— Bitro-Phosphate, the use of which is inexpensive, also wonderfully promotes the assimilation of food, so much so, that many people report marked gains of weight in a few weeks. Those taking it who do not desire to put on flesh, should use extra care in avoiding fat-producing foods.

A few external applications of GROVE'S O-PEN-TRATE SALVE will be found very helpful. It opens the pores and penetrates the skin. Its stimulating and healing effect is very comforting. Price 35c per box. If your druggist hasn't any, send 35c in postage stamps to the Peris Medicine Co., 193 Spadina Ave., Toronto, and a full sized box will be mailed to you promptly.

RATS AS WOMAN'S PETS.

LONDON, Eng.—The case of an Aylesbury woman, who has tamed rats which infest her house has been reported to the Bucks County Council.

"The rats became as tame as fowls," said the Rat Officer, "and she called them out to feed them. They can be seen daily climbing up the ivy."

A LIFE FOR SALE.

LONDON, Eng.—An ex-aviator has this appeal in the "personal" columns of one of the London papers:

"I offer my life to the most interested bidder. I can and will do anything, anywhere. No risks too great. Merchant for literature, flying and danger."

TELLS DYSPEPTICS WHAT TO EAT

Indigestion and practically all forms of stomach trouble, say medical authorities, are due nine times out of ten to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach. Chronic "acid stomach" is exceedingly dangerous and sufferers should do either one of two things.

Either they can go on a limited and often disagreeable diet, avoiding foods that disagree with them, that irritate the stomach and lead to excess acid secretion or they can eat as they please in reason and make it a practice to counteract the effect of the harmful acid and prevent the formation of gas, sourness or premature fermentation by the use of a little Bisurated Magnesia at their meals.

There is probably no better, safer or more reliable stomach antacid than Bisurated Magnesia and it is widely used for this purpose. It has no direct action on the stomach and is not a digestant. But a teaspoonful of the powder or a couple of five grain tablets taken in a little water with the food will neutralise the excess acidity which may be present and prevent its further formation. This removes the whole cause of the trouble and the meal digests naturally and healthfully without need of pepsin pills or artificial digestents.

Get a few ounces of Bisurated Magnesia from any reliable druggist. Ask for either powder or tablets. It never comes as a liquid, milk or citrate and in the bisurated form is not a laxative. Try this plan and eat what you want at your next meal and see if this isn't the best advice you ever had on "what to eat."

Romans taught the British to make cheese and the pupils outstripped the teachers in the art.

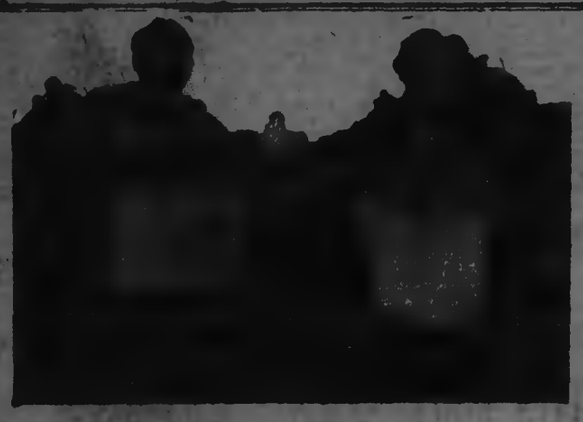
JUNIORS PLAYING IN LINDSAY TO-NIGHT

Peterboro juniors journey to Lindsay to-night for the final game in this section of the O.H.A. group. The Petes have a lead of one goal on the round, a narrow margin it is true but they are confident of their ability to come through on the bit. The line-up will be practically the same as on Friday night. A number of fans will accompany the team.

TWO GAMES TO-NIGHT IN CITY LEAGUE

There are two games in the City League series to-night and an interesting night's sport is promised. The Belmont Club and Auburn's meet in the first game and the second C.G.E. and Business College in the second game. The games start at 8 o'clock.



Henry Kooper and Will H. Sloan, in "Friendly Enemies," Grand, Matinee and Nights, Saturday, Jan. 24th.

The finals in the local group of the District Cup games will be played here next Monday afternoon with Lindsay and Peterboro competing.

The Vice-skips bonspiel for the E. G. Patterson cup opens next Tuesday night and will be concluded on Friday evening. All the games will be played at night. The regular schedule rinks will be eligible with the skips and vice exchanging positions.

It is expected that several rinks from Peterboro will attend the bonspiel at Bobcaygeon on February 3rd, 4th and 5th.

Brampton's bonspiel opens next Monday. Miles Hamilton is considering this trip and may take a rink composed of himself, G. A. Campbell, Jas. Skinner, Geo. Boucher was also mentioned but decided yesterday that he would be unable to go.

Skips Redpath and Strickland of Lakefield displayed a good brand of curling against McDermid and Best yesterday afternoon. On the 12th frame of the eighteen end game they were only five points down, and Redpath had a three point lead on McDermid. Strickland's rink came through with a three end, but on the very next went back four. That break set the Lakefield players back and both local rinks finished in front.

The Keene curlers had expected their rink to be ready for this winter They got it under construction but were held up roofless. As a result they have no games, but will be real contenders next winter.

"CANNON BALL" LOST TO LINDSAY

As far as the Ontario Amateur Baseball Association is concerned, one Edward Scott, pitcher extraordinary, is a citizen of Toronto. That is where they will tell him he must play if he desires to participate in the summer pastime during 1920. Just now Scott is up in the north country cutting down trees in order to reduce the H. C. of L., the latter meaning lumber, not living. Scott is doing it for his health. He was in Toronto some time before Christmas, and remained over till a week or so ago. Last season Edward showed his speed to the fans of Lindsay, but Lindsay won't have him again. He has lost his citizenship in the eastern town. If Scott does decide to play ball next Summer it will be interesting to see if he again rejoins his old love, the Hillcrests. There is sure to be a rush for his services.—Toronto Telegram.

SPLENDID VAUDEVILLE ON GRAND PROGRAMME

FOUR "KEITH" ACTS PLEASE BIG AUDIENCE—"A MAN'S DESIRE" A GREAT PICTURE.

The Keith vaudeville offering at the Grand Opera House last night proved one of the best bills that has yet been seen at the popular amusement house and a large audience was delighted with the programme. There will be performances this afternoon and to-night, but no vaudeville to-morrow, "Friendly Enemies" being the attraction for Saturday.

All four acts on this week's bill are high class. Celina's Circus, a pony, dog and monkey show, with some very clever canine performers, and a collection of monkeys that are decidedly amusing, was the source of much entertainment. Al Lester and Co. scored heavily in a skit, "I'll Make a Note of It," that analized at ten laughs to the minute. Mr. Lester is a smooth-working comedian, who gets his lines and songs over nicely, and he is ably assisted by the lady member of the cast. Manual Romain, Powers and Delemere in "The Midnight Marauders," present a meritorious singing act in a novel setting. Mr. Romain's solo is splendidly done and trio win commendation in "Carolina Sunshine" and in the medley with which they close their act.

Ladd and Betty Shannon, who open the bill, have an amusing line of clever nonsense, and do some fine dancing as well.

In addition to the vaudeville, there is a Gaumont Pictorial, a Mack Sennett comedy and an exciting feature picture. "A Man's Desire," in which Jane Novak and Lew Stone are seen to great advantage. It is a splendidly balanced bill which no one should miss to-night.

PETERBORO WON PRIMARY EVENT

WILL MEET LINDSAY IN THE DISTRICT CUP FINALS.

Peterboro won the primary event in the District Cup competition eliminating the Lakefield curlers by a margin of eighteen shots. The games were played yesterday afternoon on a good sheet of ice. This leaves Peterboro and Lindsay to battle for the finals. The Lindsay curlers won their end of the competition by default. The finals will likely be played off next week. The results are as follows

CONSTANCE TALMADGE DELIGHTS IN "UP THE ROAD WITH SALLIE"

Constance Talmadge, Select comedienne, who is appearing at the Allen Theatre to-day in a film version of Frances Sterrett's popular novel, "Up the Road With Sallie," reveals to full extent her marvelous talents in the admixture of a humorous portrayal with moments of real dramatic suspense. Sallie Waters played by Constance Talmadge has inherited five thousand dollars as her share of her uncle's estate; she kidnaps her staid old aunt, "steps on" the accelerator of her automobile, and off they go, on adventure bound. It is a master comedy.

WATCH YOUR STEP

Be sure and trot all your grouches, grumps and gloomers into the Grand Opera House, where Irving Berlin's international syncopated musical success entitled "Watch Your Step," will play an engagement of one night only, Wednesday, Jan. 28th, on its fourth annual tour.

Put them under the X-rays of this attraction's magical mirth, melody and dancing. Before the final curtain smiles will have supplanted the gloom and there will be a ripple of music smuggling somewhere in each one's breast.

"Watch Your Step" tingles with tunefulness and into and around its melody has been woven tangos, one-steps, fox-trots and waltzes. The merrymaking is heightened by a score of principals and the smartest singing and dancing chorus that has come to this city in many months.

Some of the twenty odd song hits include "Settle Down in a One-Horse Town," "When I Discovered You," "Lead Me To Love," "The Dancing Teacher," "The Minstrel Parade," "They Follow Me Around," "Show Us How To Do The Fox-Trot," "I Love to Have the Boys Around" and "Old Oneras In A New Way," besides which Mr. Berlin has written several new songs especially for this season's tour of "Watch Your Step."

This is the attraction originally produced by Charles Dillingham, which played an entire season at the New Amsterdam Theatre, New York, at the Illinois Theatre, Chicago, for three months, at the Colonial Theatre, Boston, for three months and at the Forrest Theatre, Philadelphia for three months.

FRIENDLY ENEMIES

"Friendly Enemies," the famous international comedy success which A. H. Woods will present at the Grand on Saturday for an engagement of Matinee and Evening not only received a glowing endorsement from President Wilson, which was published throughout the English-speaking world and from the press and public of three continents, but from other notable men who have gone out of their way to lend their approval to this magnificent American comedy.

Supplementing the endorsement bestowed upon "Friendly Enemies" by President Wilson in Washington, Admiral William C. Braisted, surgeon-general of the United States navy, said: "This is, indeed, a great play. Take the lesson it teaches home to yourself and you will feel better for having seen it. Every man, woman and child in America should see it."

William Churchill, director of the Division of Foreign Language Publications in the Creel Bureau said of "Friendly Enemies:"

"I shall not comment upon the dramatic quality of the play appealing as it is. To me it transcends the qualities which come within the province of the ordinary dramatic critic. It is the picture of the deep loyalty of those German-Americans to the land of their own or their fathers' adoption and it will energize the expression of that loyalty; to the rest of us it will prove of the utmost value in teaching that the German-Americans are ready to tear the hyphen from the name; that no longer will they remain apart in race consciousness; that citizens of German source are with us all as Americans zealous to save the rights of humanity in freedom of life thought."

INDUSTRIAL DEVELOPMENT OF PETERBORO

der their original names, or having become amalgamated with other companies, have become greater industries.

Looking over the Hundred Years of progress we note, in the first place, that the men who located the site of Peterborough must have had clear foresight. The different manufacturing establishments in the first 25 years, such as the Peter Hamilton Company were responsible for the development of the Agricultural interests, the Saw Mills for the development of the Lumber Industry and the Flour Mills for the development we MQjlarLiabh m ..en |mlip nte of Agriculture and the city of Peterborough. During the next 25 years we note that the Wm. Hamilton Mfg Co., were responsible, with their saw mill and mining machinery, for this industry, all over Canada.

In the year 1920, after reviewing briefly the industrial development of Peterborough for the past 100 years, I have come to the conclusion that industry and business, to be successful must be brought about by clear thinking and proper planning, with an honest definite purpose in view and with a will to carry it out.

Now the war is over, we enter on a new era of conditions, called a new Democracy, which means that the fundamental principles of civilization in a free people, must be controlled in the individual, in the corporation and in the nation.

Pre-War Conditions.

While the war is over it does not mean that we can go back to pre-war condition. The business and industrial situation to-day, in this country, and in fact, all over the world, bristles with uncertainties. Take the Labour situation, interesting and baffling, sometimes full of danger, sometimes full of hope, it is always with us. To play our part wisely and well, we must all work, and if fewer hours more intensely.

Capital, in places, had the large end of the profits, and the unrest to-day with Labour is a natural condition, brought about by past conditions and the part labour played in the great war. They are not content to be simply a cog in the wheel of industry. What could be better for the nation than a high percentage of ambitious workmen. If they were not different to-day I would be sorry for nation, and if progress is to be made we must be willing to divide a fair share of the profits, and give a chance to the brains of labour to co-operate and solve the many problems of the reconstruction of our nation. I am confident that the advent of the workman on a board of directors, when he learns his vocations as a director, and not before, would be the means of achieving the greatest progress for the greatest industrial concern that could be imagined.

When the time comes, when the workingman can share the responsibility with the Directors, and when he has learned the lesson that by increased production and by a less cost he can beat competition, and increase the wages and profits of our industries, then, and then only will our industrial plants of Peterborough be second to none. Permanent prosperity can only come when the world's workers, which include employers and employees, jointly and harmoniously stand together for the best and highest production of those things which the world needs.

The Farmer.

In agriculture the same conditions aply as that in Labour. Before the war the farmer did not receive his share of the profits for his industry and capital invested, and to-day we find they too, are not satisfied to be simply a cog in the wheel of production, and they are asserting themselves, as never before and in fact, in our Province to-day, have control of the "Ship of State". The farmer taking his share of the responsibility in governing our Province, will bring to the front more than anything else, the great industry of agriculture.

Take their proposed policy of Good Roads and Demonstration Farms, I have been convinced for the past ten years, in fact the first move I ever made in the Legislature was to advocate Demonstration Farms, and I have in each succeeding year, done all in my power to convince the Government the necessity of having these farms. The Agricultural College and the Experimental Farm are doing good work as educational institutions but these Demonstration Farms must be operated on a profit and loss basis, on such a scale that all farmers may be able to imitate, so that eventually they will be recognized as manufacturing plant second to none in our cities.

I hope to see the day when the farmer of this Province will be able to go before any board and give the exact cost of producing the various products which he has to sell, then and then only will the consumer be educated to the real value of farm products and the farmer to business methods of farming.

Now to come to the exporting of our manufactured goods. Some one has said we should cease exporting to keep prices down; we cannot do this, we must export and export more, if we hope to bring about an even balance of trade and bring down the high rate of exchange, which I am free to admitt, is serious, and to this I have given a lot of thought. There is a bright side to this, like everything else, and we should take advantage of it, at the present time, and that is to quote our goods in Canadian Dollars value, for this reason demand sterling in Toronto is worth $4.11 and in New York, $3.79, a difference of 32 cents, in our favour, and this applies to all the foreign countries, on large exports from Canadian Exporter, over our neighbors to the South.

Two Great Factors.

Summing up the situation, Political Industrial Agricultural and Labour, we see how their interests are all mutual and dove-tailed together, so that any advance made, effects the whole. I am one who can see, difficult though it may seem, with the responsibility placed on the new shoulders, a real advance. We will find that out of all the chaos the men of sober thought will prevail and the two great factors, so long held dormant, Agriculture and Labour, will come into their own. We see it every day in the press, one company putting on group insurance, another giving a bonus to its employees.

A better feeling prevailing between Employer and Employees, and until we realize that our civilization is based on co-operation for the good of all centred in the individual in the Corporation and in the Nation, then and then only can we hope to build up Peterborough as it should be, a great industrial centre, with a great agricultural backing, and this must be done by clear thinking and proper planning.

Mr. W. H. Pretty.

Mr. W. H. Pretty, in his address, began by alluding to the great need for husbanding our natural resources in view of the pressing need for reconstruction, and said that to-night he would only deal with one of our great natural resources, 'power.' He spoke on the need for the proper harnessing of this power for the service and convenience of the human race.

Mr. Pretty referred to the passing of the horse and spoke of the memorial and appreciation that mankind had given to the horse by adopting the horse power as the basic unit for measurement. After a brief history of the use of horses throughout the past centuries, Mr. Pretty outlined the application of the great coal deposits of England for various industries throughout the steam engine invented by James Watt. He spoke on the successful application of the steam engine in transportation, and the growth of steam railways and steam ships "for then as now," said Mr. Pretty, "production and transportation were inter-dependent and a necessary combination for the success of either enterprise."

The speaker briefly referred to the power in use before Watt's invention —animal, wind and water power, and how it fell to Watt to obtain a means for measuring the power of his engine and how the horse power was established by Watt, and how the electrical unit, "the Watt," has been named after him as an appreciation of his services.

The Steam Engine.

Mr. Pretty dwelt on the development of the steam engine and later the electrical generator sets. Continuing the speaker went into many mechanical details in connection with converting of the mechanical energy into electrical energy and showed that our hydro-electric supply is most economically used when absorbed for industrial power. Mr. Pretty spoke on the advantages of electricity for heating and lighting and said, "this is one of the cheapest public commodities we possess." He spoke of utilizing fuels for power purposes and referred to the internal combustion engine as very economical and is able to compete with any steam engines.

In conclusion the speaker referred to the need of earnestly considering the best uses to which to put our natural resources in order that we might have continued prosperity.

Each community must solve its problems in accordance with local conditions for present and future economic requirements, and decide the relative importance of each of the items, light, heat, power and rule themselves accordingly.

Very complimentary comments were made upon the addresses by Mr. J. J. Hartley, and he moved, seconded by Mr. George Stevens, a hearty vote of thanks to Mr. Gillespie and Mr. Pretty.

The session closed with the singing of the National Anthem.

ANNUAL MEETING LAKEFIELD CHURCH

REV. P. L. JULL PRESIDED---YEAR'S WORK REVIEWED.

The annual meeting of the Lakefield Presbyterian church was held on Jan. 20. Rev. P. L. Jull, pastor, presided, and after the reports had been presented gave a brief review of the work of the past year.

The Treasurer's report presented by Mr. J. H. Chant, showed a great improvement in the financial standing of the congregation. All bills are paid to date. Last year the congregation raised for all local work $2540, compared with $2115 for 1918 and $1647 for 1917. For the budget $501.-25, compared with $356 for 1918 and $189 for 1917. The W.M.S. and Mission Band raised $175 for Missions.

The S.S. gave a $90 Victory Bond and reported also a gift for S.S. purposes of $120 from friends in the congregation. The ministers stipend was raised to $1500 dating from April 1st last.

In reviewing the work of the year, the pastor expressed his appreciation of the loyalty and sympathetic help of those associated with him in the work. He referred to the good results from the Every Person Canvas in Feb., the junior congregation organized on May 1st, and the Adult Bible Class organized in Oct. He also spoke of the beautiful Honour Roll Tablet unveiled on June 29th, the successful Anniversary Services in November, and the inspiring Thankoffering Service held by the W.M.S. in the same month.

The congregation stood with bowed heads during prayer by the pastor and pledged themselves "with God's help to him and realize the highest objects of the Forward Movement, viz.—to foster our own Spiritual life by Bible study, prayer, public worship and consistent Christian living; to have our young people at home, in S.S. and church for true Christian life, citizenship and service; to advance by every means of our power the evangelization of the world and the growth of the Christian spirit in our own land."

The Session and Managers were instructed to conduct a canvas for the Peace Thanksgiving simultaneously with the Every Person Canvas during the second week in February.

A committee was appointed consisting of Messrs. A. E. Kennedy, W. Blewett, J. A. Porter, W. H. Casement, Dr. Smith, Miss Hunter and Rev. P. L. Jull to consider the purchase of a new organ and report to the congregation before the end of February.

After a very delightful social hour in the School room the meeting adjourned.

Stomach Disorder

ONLY 6 MONTHS TO LIVE

READ WHAT B.B.B. DID FOR HIM

Mr. Hanz Kehki, Magnolia, Alta., writes:— "Some time ago I became very sick from stomach disorder, which the doctor told me had started from drinking bad water. I tried local doctors, but finding I got worse from day to day I went to a doctor in Edmonton. He told me that I must have an operation, and that if I didn't I couldn't live any longer than six months. I told him I had better die after six months than be cut to pieces. I did not have the operation, but returned hom. No one was there to meet me at the station, because they did not know I was coming. I felt so bad I couldn't walk further than 10 yards without resting. It took me 6 hours to walk 2 miles; the distance from the station to my home.

Some weeks later I read an advertisement about your Burdock Blood Bitters. After I had used one bottle I felt much better, and after I had used three bottles I was completely cured; therefore you see your B.B.B. has saved my life, and I cannot praise it too highly."

WOULD MAKE WAY FOR W. E. RANEY

J. J. MORRISON VISITS DUFFERIN COUNTY IN INTERESTS OF U.F.O.

(Special to The Examiner.)

ORANGEVILLE, Jan. 23.—"It is currently reported that Mr. Morrison's visit to Dufferin is for the purpose of securing a seat for the Hon. W. E. Raney. That is not the mission of Mr. Morrison. His visit here is solely for the purpose of furthering the interest of the U. F. O. But while I say this, I do not say that I would stand in the way of such an arrangement, if it was thought best."

These were the words used by T. K. Slack, U.F.O. member of the Legislature for Dufferin in the course of his speech at a public meeting which he, Secretary J. J. Morrison, of Toronto, and ex-Warden Howard Hilborn, who is regarded as the probable U.F.O. candidate for the Commons in this county, addressed in the Opera House here last night.

The only reference Mr. Morrison made to the matter of finding a seat for the Attorney-General was expressed in the somewhat criptic words, "I hope you will soon hear further about the Hon. Mr. Raney."

The U.F.O. Secretary maintained that the finding of seats for Cabinet ministers was a matter which the people must decide. In this, as in other matters, the U.F.O. was democratic, and for that reason moved more slowly than the old party organizations, where questions of this kind were decided by the party exclusive, without regard to the opinions of the people of the constituency.

TRIPLE HANGING IN MONTREAL

(Canadian Press.)

MONTREAL, Jan. 23.—Batiste Lemay alias Delorme, Murdoch Allan, and Romeo Lacoste were hanged in Bordeaux Jail this morning.

When travelling in a stolen motor to Quebec on 16th August last, the three men, accompanied by others, broke into the home of Alcide Payette, at St. Suspice, killing him when he resisted their attempt at robbery.

The three men were notified last night that the last effort to secure a reprieve for them had failed.

This was the second triple hanging in the history of Canada.

The hanging took place at daybreak, one at a time, on account of the accommodation at the Bordeaux Jail for cases of this kind being limited. When the jail was built a permanent scaffold was erected, but it was only built for single hangings.

The three convicted murderers were sentenced to death by Judge Deay on 4th October, 1919, after a trial lasting over a week.

JUDGE HUYCKE'S COURSE OF LECTURES AT Y.M.C.A.

His Honour Judge Huycke will give the first of a series of lectures on subjects dealing with law and legal procedure at the Y. W. C. A. to-night. This course promises to be an interesting one and should be largely attended. The addresses will be given on Friday nights with the following subjects:—

"Law and its origin and nature"; "Courts and Their Constitution"; "Legal Procedure"; "Domestic Relationships"; "Municipal Institutions."

FILM INDUSTRIES FOR EXHIBITION IN OLD COUNTRY

(Special to The Examiner.)

TORONTO, Jan. 23.—For the purpose of the Canadian Industries Exhibition to be held in the Royal Agricultural Hall, London, England, in June, Canadian industrial plants in actual operation are to be exported to England. They will be carried on moving picture films.

This is the information which was obtained yesterday from O. C. Peas, the Canadian representative of the exhibition, who is co-operating with Mr. Lloyd Harris and Mr. H. G. Montgomery.

Arrangements have been completed through the Department of Trade and Commerce headed by Sir George Foster, to film all the representative industries in Canada, in addition to pictures showing Canada's water-power resources by means of special projectors and shadow boxes.

BISHOP LUCAS AND CANON GOULD GAVE ADDRESSES LAST EVENING

MEETING OF ANGLICANS IN ST. JOHN'S AND ALL SAINTS' CHURCHES.

In St. John's Church last night, a meeting in connection with the Anglican Forward Movement was held and a large congregation assembled. The meeting was under the direction of Dr. G. S. Cameron, who introduced the Special speakers. They being The Right Reverend the Bishop of Mackenzie River and Canon Gould, the organizing Secretary.

A Hymn being sung and prayers offered, the chairman in a few words spoke of the objects and claims of the Forward Movement, showing how at this present juncture the church needed the funds asked for the many objects that lay in its immediate duty and the present opportunities an urged the necessity of each one recognizing their obligations to maintain the work and position of the church.

The Bishop of Mackenzie River then spoke on the work of the church in his own Diocese describing it as the largest in the world.

As a motto he gave the words of the Prophet Isiah, "The Wilderness and the Solitary place Shall be glad for them? The Women's Auxiliary unknown five years ago had organizations now in every Mission Station.

His Diocese covered 600,000 square miles or ten times the size of England and over that vast area there were scattered only 6000 people or 100 square miles per person.

Visible Results.

Passing on to tell of the country, and the nature of the missionary work His Lordship, mentioned one never to be forgotten man Archdeacon Mcdonald who for years worked with no visible results, but all those lonely years he was doing the greatest work of all translating with the tongue of the people the Bible, Prayer Book and many hymns, and other works, and now here are hundreds who read and pray and sing the same truths we do in St. John's Church. There is family prayer in every igloo or house, mostly built of snow.

He spoke of the reality of the religion of the Eskimo. The Sabbath is strictly observed even where no one is present to oversee them and instanced where travellers offered twice the wages if the man would porterage on Sundays but not one would work and not a person was moved a yard.

The Bishop then mentioned very feelingly the work of Bishop Bumpas who laboured amongst them for so many years. For seventeen years no results were seen, then nine were baptized and immediately began to teach others and now a register of Baptisms showed 2,300 members of the Church.

The Bishop closed with a stirring and eloquent appeal to make the great Forward Movement a success.

Archdeacon Davidson

After singing another hymn the chairman was pleased to inform the meeting that Archdeacon Davidson would speak until Canon Gould from All Saints' Church arrived, and in the name of the Congregation congratulated the Venerable Archdeacon on his now and important dignity, so well deserved. Very vigourously and with intense earnestness. Archdeacon Davidson spoke, relating his experiences as he went from parish to parish on behalf of the A.F.M. Particulars were mentioned of instances where a glowing enthusiasm had been created and in two places in particular where the objective had been more than doubled. With great earnestness the Archdeacon waged on the Church, the wonderful opportunity now before them of doing a glorious work for Christ and the Church. No one could listen unmoved to his most thrilling address.

Then another Hymn was sung and the chairman introduced Canon Gould. Those who have had the opportunity of listening to his impassioned address cannot fail to realize how thoroughly, the Canon is conversant with the facts before him. He spoke of the Open Doors of the world with intense fervour of the increase of the wealth of Canada, showing that the savings of the people in the banks would more than pay the National debt of the Dominion. Then he mentioned that while the war had cost Canada $200 per head. Australia had paid $300 and Great Britain $100 per head.

The church had three debts to pay first to the Indian races and those whose lands we now inhabit and the best return we can possibly make is to give the Gospel of God's love to them.

Secondly, to strengthen the existing workers in their wide and numerous fields of labour and provide for those who have fulfilled their ministry and want rest at the end of life's work.

Thirdly, to those who went forth in the name of Humanity to keep us free and in peace both men and women and who return no more.

A feeling of hushed solemnity was over the whole congregation as the Canon closed his powerful address by calling and upon the members of the church to awake and arise and go forward prospering in the great work before them and enter in through the open doors of the world.

The followed a hymn and prayers, and a last hymn and benediction. Those present cannot readily forget the meeting on Thursday night.

ANNUAL MEETING OF ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH WAS HELD LAST EVENING

CHURCH HAS HAD A VERY PROSPEROUS YEAR—SALARY INCREASE FOR THE REV. JAMES ROLLINS—DEPARTMENTAL REPORTS.

At the annual meeting of St. Andrew's church, held last evening in the Sunday school room after the completion of the devotional exercises by the minister, Rev. James Rollins, and the appointment of Mr. E. B. Fowler as chairman, and Mr. W. A. Richardson as secretary, the reports of the various organizations were read, each indicating that the church is well organized and that much activity and successful work is being carried out. The treasure's report showed the largest contributions to current account in the history of the congregation.

Salary Raised.

Upon the recommendation of the Managing Board, and by an unanimous vote, the minister's stipend was increased $400 per year.

Committees Appointed.

A committee was appointed to attend to the renovation and carpeting of the church and another committee appointed to have plans prepared for a new Sunday school, which the congregation hopes to erect in the not distant future.

Representatives Appointed.

Mr. E. B. Fowler was appointed to represent the congregation on the Nicholls Hospital Board, Mr. John Reid on the Charity Board and Mr. W. A. Richardson on the Hall Trust.

Board of Managers.

Members elected to the Board of Managers were Messrs. Andrew MacFarlane, G. Walter Green, George A. Gillespie, W. A. Richardson, R. M. Waddell, T. Raines and George MacDonald.

Session Report.

The Session report, after referring to the conclusion of peace and the return of the soldiers, referred to the Forward Movement as follows:

"The church has been trying to stir the hearts of the people to greater consecration, devotion and service to others. One has only to see in some of the lands across the sea what a decadent church means to the life of a nation to have the hearts stirred to do its utmost to avert such a catastrophe in this young country. The churches of Canada are giving us united leadership in the right direction. They are asking for the dedication of what we have and are. They are calling us to reflection. They are asking us for thought, time and substance. An age which is tempted to be materialistic can never show its devotion to God so long as it withholds its substance. By so much as we like money and things it can give so much does the giving of it to God become a test of our love to Him."

Referred to Donation.

The report also referred to a legacy left by the late Mrs. Hewson as follows: One who moved about among us very quietly and very gently, loved the church with an affection which some have little suspected, arranged for her estate to pay to this congregation the sum of $10,000. Steps should be taken to see that this considerable sum of money shall not become a crutch on which our indolence shall lean, but an inspiration to each of us to do our share to make the equipment of our congregation what the age in which we are living demands.

Spirit of Unity.

A spirit of unity and hopefulness characterizes the meeting throughout.

Total Contributions.

The total contributions from all sources for the year 1919 amounted to $9,814.94, of which $2,668.76 was for missions.

ANNUAL BUSINESS MEETING OF MURRAY STREET BAPTIST CHURCH

EVERY SOCIETY REPORTED AN INCREASE IN MEMBERSHIP—RESOLUTION OF APPRECIATION FOR THE REV. J. R. WEBB.

The anual business meeting of the Murray street Baptist Church was held on Wednesday evening. The reports of the various officers were most encouraging and the spirit of the meeting augurs well for the success of the Forward Movement. Every society reported an increase in membership and interest.

By a gift of $150 the Ladies Aid Society enabled the Finance Committee to report no deficit. The total amount raised for all purposes was approximately $11,500, and the meeting was unanimous in voting an increase of $400 in the pastor's salary. Indeed the whole session was punctuated by words of appreciation of the work of Rev. J. R. and Mrs. Webb and during the evening the following resolution was moved by Mr. R. Merrill, seconded by Mr. V. Eastwood and carried unanimously.

"While the services of our beloved pastor are being recognized and appreciated in other parts of the convention, we, the members of Murray street Baptist church cannot be silent, lest that silence be interpreted as a lack of appreciation of his ministry and work amongst us.

"At the beginning of this, his fourteenth year of service with us it is well to recall some of the many incidents which make his pastorate one of the most blessed and fruitful in the history of this church. His tender ministries at the bedside of our beloved ones, his ready sympathy in all our trials, great and small, his word of encouragement to the burdened, his prompt assistance to the needy, his willingness to sacrifice himself at all times for those who are dependent upon him for spiritual and mental comfort, and, not least, the sincerity with which he rejoices in our successes, has endeared him to the hearts of our people here.

"Not only his pastoral work but his ministry from th pulpit is most inspiring and helpful. His fearless and forceful presentation of the truth is at all times an incentive to a higher and broader spiritual life to those who are privileged to hear his messages. And this ministry is increasing in power and inspiration with the passing years.

"Therefore, be it resolved that on this, his thirteenth anniversary, we once again express our loyalty to him personally, our interest in the work in which he is leading us and our determination to go forward to greater things under his capable leadership; that we individually remember him daily in our prayers at the throne of grace, thanking God for his devoted and self sacrificing ministry and presence among us, and invoking continued blessing upon his work here."

DUTCH REPLY TO THE ALLIED NOTE

REFUSES TO SURRENDER THE FORMER KAISER.

(United Press.)

THE HAGUE, Jan. 23.—The Dutch Government's reply to the Allied note demanding the surrender of the former Kaiser is a flat refusal, it was reported here to-day.

The reply, it was understood, has been transmitted to Paris.

The public and press unanimously took it for granted the Government would not comply with the extradition demand, basing its contentions on legal obstacles.

The newspapers pointed out that Holland would render a service to civilisation by refusing to allow an action which, in the future, "would be regretted by everybody," the Nieuw Courant pointing out its belief that the Allies did not expect compliance with their demand when it was made. The newspaper added that it was most significant. "How queer Premier Lloyd-George and Clemenceau would appear if the former Kaiser were delivered to them!"

Foreign diplomats here also expressed, unofficially, their desire that the demand for extradition be not granted, declaring that if it were, the Allies would "become the laughing stock of the world."

(United Press.)

LONDON, Jan. 23. — A despatch from The Hague to-day reported the Dutch Government's reply to the Allied note demanding the extradition of the former Emperor William of Germany, declaring the former Kaiser cannot be surrendered to a third party except by request of the German Government.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKETS

(United Press.)

NEW YORK, Jan. Jan. 23.—Prices eased off fractionally at the opening of the stock exchange to-day. U. S. Steel was 101 3-4, off 1-8; American International 107, off 1-2; Texas, 198 1-4, off 2 1-2; Mexican Pet., 194, off 5-8. Colorado Fuel 38 1-8, off 7-8; Southern Pac., 100 1-4, unchanged; Studebaker 102 1-4, off 3-8; Pan-American 92 1-2, off 1-2; Baldwin 111, off 1-2; U.S. Rubber 122 3-4, off 7-8; U.R. Stores 85 1-2, off 1-2.

The prices in the majority of issues went above yesterday's close. Crucible was the real feature of the Steels, making an early high of 209, up 3 1-2. U. S. Steel went above 105. Royal Dutch at its best was higher than Thursday's top figure.

The entire motor group was under pressure in the second hour. Studebaker was driven down to 101, off 1 5-8. General Motors to 297 1-8, off 5 1-4, and Pierce Arrow 66 1-4, off 1 1-4.

The New York Federal Reserve Bank announced to-day it had raised its open market purchase rate on prime bank acceptance to 5 1-4 per cent. It is said that the new rate applies to all maturities. The old rate was 4 3-4 per cent.

Tire shares went down with the motor issues. Goodrich at 76 1-4 was off 5 points from last week's high.

MACHINE GUN CORPS FORMED

MEETING WAS HELD LAST EVENING —OFFICERS APPOINTED.

Good progress was made with the Peterborough Company of the 4th Can. Machine Gun Brigade at the meeting held in the Empress Hotel last night.

Capt. L. Fraser, M.C., will be in command, with Captain J. H. Cobb, M. C., Lieuts. R. Perry and G. Perks, as Battery Commanders. The applications of these gentlemen were handed in to Capt. J. Edwards, M.C., last night. They will be forwarded to headquarters immediately for confirmation.

The names of three officers as section commanders were also secured. It is hoped to complete the establishment of the officers by Friday night. The adjutant is particularly keen on this being done not only in the interest of the brigade but in the interest of the officers whose seniority is concerned.

The organization of the Signalling Section is complete. It will be in charge of Sergt. Hardwick.

Sergt.-Major R. Bethune will be Sergt.-Major of the company, and Sergt. R. Muir, Quarter-master Sergeant.

All the officers and non-commissioned officers will be returned men. It is expected that a goodly portion of the men will also have had overseas experience. In no case has machine gun experience been insisted upon. The company has however been particularly fortunate in securing many of good machine gun training and experience.

The officers are particularly anxious to secure the keen and interested young man who was at the time too young to volunteer during the war.

Regular parades will be on Monday and Friday nights unless notification is given to the contrary.

SUCCESSFUL TEA.

The home of Mrs. L. O. Dobbin, Stewart Street, was prettily decorated Wednesday afternoon and evening on the occasion of her holding a talent tea. The auspices of the event was for the purpose of defraying the cost of a gas stove and connections for All Saints' Church. The callers were numerous during the afternoon and evening, and with her many assistants and artistes, with Mrs. William Buller pouring tea, Mrs. Dobbin was enabled to raise the tidy sum of close on $50.00 for the appliances. Music was supplied from a Brunswick, and dainty refreshments were served in Mrs. Dobbin's usual tasty manner.

Peterboro Postmen Enumerate Causes of Dissatisfaction

IT IS CLAIMED THAT THE PRESENT SALARIES ARE INADEQUATE—STREET CAR PASSES.

"TRUE STATEMENT"

Peterboro, Jan. 23rd, 1920.
To Editor Examiner.
Dear Sir:

Kindly allow me space in your valuable paper to say a few words re the restlessness among the Letter Carriers throughout the Dominion.

In Thursday evening's issue of the Examiner appeared an article under above heading in the most conspicuous place possible, no doubt at all but it was printed in good faith by you, but let me say that the party who made the statement is entirely ignorant of the facts or is one of the employees in Ottawa who has a plush contentment and does not like to leave it to enquire as to the truth of his statements before putting them public.

I regret very much that such statements should be made as they are utterly untrue and very misleading to the public, who no doubt the Government, of which the Post Office Department is a factor wants to instill into their minds as being to have the public lose whatever sympathy they had for the Letter Carrier.

Let me illustrate [illegible] two cases to show why the Letter Carriers are dissatisfied and [illegible] will ask you to judge for yourself, whether the Letter Carrier has such condition and dissatisfaction is to be placed on the shoulders of the Letter Carriers or on the Post Office Department. The illustration where an employee in Letter Carrier was taken on the staff as a temporary man, the several months of service he is placed on the permanent staff with his appointment dated back in the establishment of three months and his salary increased from $4.50 per day to $4.60 per day, the difference of which he was entitled to pay back to the Department or—work for almost six weeks for absolutely nothing and support a family at the same time.

Another Case.

We have another case exactly the same only somewhat shorter period. On the other hand as in the past the Department will promise things they know to be absolutely necessary to the good of the service as they have done on several occasions when they grant a small pittance of an increase in salary but it invariably becomes months and almost a year before same can be paid to the Carriers or other employees because the Department does not see far enough ahead to have money on hand for such increase and then have to apply to Parliament at next session for the same.

Salaries Inadequate.

In regard to salary paid to Letter Carriers it is entirely inadequate to meet the increased cost of living as you will see as follows:

Temporary men $4.50 per day and bonus of $420.00 per year if married or single $452.00. Permanent minimum $666.00, maximum $839.00 with bonuses as above which is liable to be cut off at anytime.

The new classification places the maximum salary of a Letter Carrier at $1260.00 not the minimum as stated in your paper at $1427.00.

May I ask in closing if the public believe that if a temporary man is worth $4.50 per day when he becomes permanent is he not worth the same or more and not $4.60 as stated above.

These are only a very small amount of complaints which the Executive of the Carriers' Association have to contend with and while we are making slow progress to better conditions, some person or persons who do not know the facts give out untrue statements to the press in an endeavor to keep, or set the public sympathy against the workers or employees who are striving to make ends meet.

Then again let me say that right in our own city of Peterboro we are obliged to pay street car fare for about two thirds of service actually required while on duty. Is this right or fair when other places received the use of cars free while in uniform.

Thanking you for use of your valuable space and hoping the public will believe the truth and not be camouflaged or deceived by untrue statements.

Sincerely yours,
ROBT. REID.
Vice-Pres. Federal Association of Letter Carriers of Canada.

POLITICAL SACRIFICE

SELECTION OF GENERAL SIR ARTHUR CURRIE FOR LEADER OF UNIONIST PARTY IS URGED.

SOLDIERS CLAIMS

(Special to Examiner.)

OTTAWA, January 24. — The selection of General Sir Arthur Currie, as the leader of the Unionist party, was advocated by General Victor Odlum, C.B., D.S.O., C.M.G., of Vancouver, who was in Ottawa yesterday to see members of the government in regard to improved plans for the settlement of British Columbia soldiers.

"It is obvious to me," said General Odlum last night, "that at the present time the Unionist party cannot make headway until it gets a leader to succeed Sir Robert Borden, whose health is such that he will apparently have to retire. From all that I am able to discover in the East there is no man in sight acceptable to all elements. If an outsider is brought in it must be an outstanding figure. In my opinion the most outstanding figure in the country to-day is Sir Arthur Currie."

PREMIER NITTI IS IN COMPLETE ACCORD WITH SETTLEMENT

(United Press.)

ROME, Jan. 24.—Premier Nitti is in complete accord with Clemenceau and Lloyd George in his efforts to settle the territorial dispute in the Adriatic between Italy and Jugo-Slavia, according to an official communique issued yesterday.

FARMERS MAY BUY LOCAL CREAMERY

A BIG MEETING IS BEING HELD TO DISCUSS THE MATTER.

Mr. H. B. Cowan, on behalf of the Peterboro County U. F. O., has sent letters to all officers of cheese factories in this district in reference to the holding of the meeting of the patrons and shareholders of the local cheese factories and creameries to see if they are in favor of the one big dairy company. This company will be known as the United Dairymen's Co-operative Limited, and purposes buying the farmers supplies and the sale of their products. A proposal has been advanced to purchase the Peterboro Creamery together with its milk condensory and cold storage plant and milk distributing system and this matter will be taken up.

"We have thought well," the letter goes on, "to call a conference of the farmers of the county to meet on the afternoon of Monday, February 2nd, and discuss the matter thoroughly. In the evening a banquet will be held in Victoria Hall by the county association and the members of the Peterboro U.F.O. Club.

I am sending you a programme and your factory is invited to send as many delegates as possible to the meeting.

Mr. Cowan urged the officers to get their tickets as soon as possible, as the number was very limited, and said that they could not guarantee more than five tickets for the delegates from each factory and U. F. O. Club and urged them to send the names and addresses of the delegates at once.

The letter concludes: "As the time is short we would ask the officers of your factory or club to deal with this matter with the least possible delay. We hope that you will be well represented at both the afternoon meeting and the banquet and that we can count on your assistance in placing the County of Peterboro in the forefront of the Organized Farmers of Ontario.

Sincerely yours,
Secretary of Peterboro
County U. F. O.
Wallace Anderson, Warsaw,
President.

AUSTRALIA PLANS AIR FORCE OF 2,000 PLANES AND 8,000 MEN

MELBOURNE.— Australia needs for war purposes a minimum air force of sixteen squadrons of twenty-five airplanes each and two flying boat squadrons, according to Major General J. G. Legge, Chief of the General Staff.

To maintain such an equipment, equal on a population basis to Great Britain, the Commonwealth should have, in the opinion of Major Gen. Legge, a permanent force of 600 officers and 8,000 men in the air force and more than 2,000 planes of all sorts.

THE CALL FROM ARMENIA

A MESSAGE FROM THE "ONLY ONE COBBLER"—LETTERS TO THE EXAMINER—EMPLOYMENT FOR 15,000.

The total subscriptions received by the Examiner for the Armenian Fund has now reached a total of $2,317.20. The amount previously remitted to the Toronto headquarters of the Fund was $1,609.50. Yesterday an additional amount of $[illegible] was received. A noteworthy addition to the Peterboro fund was made by the local curlers. A list which was posted up in the Charlotte clubhouse a few days ago netted the fund $254.50. The complete list of subscribers to the curling club fund will be found in another column.

At a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Board of Foreign Missions of the Presbyterial Church in Canada, held in Toronto, it was agreed most [illegible] ity to endorse the appeal being made in connection with the relief fund for Armenians. Rev. A. E. Armstrong, Assistant Secretary of the Board [illegible] "Information received through the Conferences of the Foreign Missionaries of North America gave overwhelming evidence of the terrible and [illegible] ngly conditions of the people in Armenia. Our Executive believes that it is impossible to exaggerate the situation, and hope and trust that Presbyterians as well as others will give to the point of sacrifice in order to exemplify the [illegible] Christian spirit and provide bread for the starving and help the sick and [illegible] suffering of that stricken land."

THE PEOPLE WANT TO GIVE.

A man [illegible] signs himself as "The Omemee Cobbler," writes as follows of work done in Omemee to help the campaign: "A few of us got together and arranged for some man to go around the village and this community to ask the people to help. I started out next morning. It was below zero, I guess, and was frozen a little. I went into the houses and found the people full of good-nature. Some of them told me they were glad I came. I had a good day. They said it was a worthy cause. I am writing this to tell the people all over Canada to do what we are doing in Omemee, and you won't have to beg, for the people have the goods, and they want to give."

It will be most encouraging to all those who have so heartily supported the appeals for stricken Armenia to know just what the relief agencies are doing. Latest reports from the field tell of great and heroic undertakings on behalf of the starving refugees, undertakings that give promise of a restored Armenia in the future.

Nearly a hundred ruined villages have been restored, and in one fortnight 5,000 refugees in the vicinity of Aleppo were brought back to their homes. Soup kitchens have been established at the points of greatest need that feed more than 30,000 each day. These soup-kitchens are not places for the lazy who [illegible] on charity, for in most cases the recipients must work for their meal.

15,000 GIVEN EMPLOYMENT.

About [illegible] the destitute people have been given employment through the Near East Relief, and have become self-supporting. They are working as rug [illegible], weavers, street cleaners, gardeners, clothing makers, silk weavers, [illegible] and shoemakers. The product of the toil of these workers is being sent to all parts of the world in exchange for food and money to alleviate the distress which is so overwhelming.

The orphan work of this organization is in the highest state of development. Nearly a hundred homes of parentless children have been established. Approximately 50,000 orphans are being cared for in these homes.

Not [illegible] side of relief been neglected, for more than thirty [illegible] established in various sections of the country.

[illegible] ing these girls and caring for them is one of the many phases of work being done by the Near East Relief. In several of the cities of Asia Minor this organization has established homes where girls who have escaped or who have been freed from slavery can find refuge, and additional homes will be opened as soon as possible.

Just as soon as the additional places of refuge are available, thousands more in the harem homes will be released, as any of them may now have their liberty through an application made by their relatives to the British Government Office in Aleppo.

Preparation of additional homes of refuge is part of the program that is now being worked out by the Near East Relief for the coming year.

BRITISH LEADER LOOKING FOR HIS TURN OF ILL-FORTUNE

(Canadian Press.)

PARIS, Jan. 24.—Ill-fortune has attended the statemen intimately associated with the framing of the Treaty of Versailles, in the opinion of Premier Lloyd-George, according to a newspaper article published here.

Lloyd-George was so convinced that Clemenceau would be the next President of the French Republic that he considered the race over. Therefore, when he heard of the election of Deschanel as President, he could not refrain from expressing his astonishment.

In conversation with a member of the Chamber of Deputies, the British Premier is said to have expressed the opinion that the Peace Treaty was "hard luck for any one having a hand in it."

"Yes," the Deputy is quoted as replying. "Premier Orlando is out of office, Clemenceau is again in private life, and President Wilson has met with reverses in Washington. Only you have been spared."

"Yes, and in less than six months it will be my turn," is the reply attributed to the British Leader.

Yes, Alfred, matrimony has its advantages. A bachelor has to pay to attend lectures, but a married man gets his at home.

Interpretation of Charge to the Jury In the Russell Case

COUNSEL CONTENDS THAT LABOUR'S RIGHT TO STRIKE HAS NOT BEEN AFFECTED BY CONVICTION OF RUSSELL.

LEGAL RIGHTS

(Special to The Examiner.)

WINNIPEG, Man., Jan. 24.— Labors' right to strike, particularly its legal right to call a sympathetic strike, has not been affected by the conviction of R. B. Russell nor by Justice Metcalfe's charge to the jury. Such is the opinion of W. H. Trueman, legal expert employed by Winnipeg labor to interpret the Russell case and to define labors present status. The opinion given at a secret conference of all labor factions held Saturday was available for publication to-day for the first time. Trueman's view in brief is that the conviction and charge to the jury have not curtailed in any degree labor's legal right to strike for the advancement of interests of the workingmen, even though loss and widespread inconvenience result from the strike.

In addressing the convention he declared that the Metcalfe charge to the jury was based upon complete conviction of Russell's guilt. Whether His Lordship's conviction was well founded, Trueman said it was not his duty to say. He further expressed the opinion that the jury's conviction of Russell could not be taken as a jurors judgment regarding the legality of the Winnipeg strike, because Metcalfe in his charge, had not pointed out that the defence contended [illegible]

Labor not only failed to vitiate the defence's contention; he laid emphasis on evidence of the Crown to the effect that the strike's object was revolutionary. Trueman said, with respect to the principle of collective bargaining.

Trueman asserted the belief that if Metcalfe had drawn to the attention of the jury evidence of the defence in justification of the strike charge that a strike was a common nuisance it would not have proved an embarrasment to Russell. Referring to Metcalfe's mention in his charge, that the cutting off of supplies of water and milk during the strike constituted a common nuisance, Trueman raised the question of whether bringing about of this condition makes a sympathetic strike unlowful. He declared and cited legal reference to support his statement that a sympathetic strike is lawful if its origin is for a lawful purpose and means employed in carrying it on are lawful, even though inconvenience, hardship and loss are inflicted upon the public. The question of whether a strike was for the purpose of harm to others, or as in the Russell case for seditious conspiracy, was not submitted by Metcalfe to the jury, Trueman contended.

THE GERMANS WILL DECLINE REQUEST FOR FORMER KAISER

(Special to Examiner.)

BERLIN, January 24. — Germany will decline any request that she urge Holland to grant extradition of the former Kaiser, the "Borsen Gazette," said to-day. "Germany, the newspaper pointed out, did not promise under the peace treaty to follow any such course. No note has been received from the allies demanding that Germany ask Holland to grant extradition, the "Allgemeine Zeitung" said.

15,628 WAS THE CORRECT NUMBER

PRIZEWINNERS ARE ASKED TO CALL AT THE OFFICE AND GET THEIR MONEY.

In the report of the results of the Dollar Day estimating Contest, the fact was not mentioned that the correct number of blanks in the box was 15628. As Mrs. Allen estimated the exact figure and was the only to do so, she became winner of the first prize of $25.00

Also an error got in the next item where five tickets contained a figure within one of the correct number and were awarded the next five prizes, each. By a mistake in the typesetting, the amount of prize money opposite Mrs. Bacon's name, the second on the list, was made $13.75 instead of $12.50 which it should have been as her estimate was a tie with the next four, and only one away from the correct mark.

The merchants fund has been deposited at the Examiner office and those entitled to the 56 prizes will receive it by calling at this office any time after Tuesday.

DR. J. S. STEWART HAS RESIGNED

(Special to The Examiner.)

OTTAWA, Jan. 24.—Dr. James S. Stewart, who has been in charge of the Edmonton office of the Geological Survey, has tendered his resignation. Dr. Stewart has been specialising in the gas and oil possibilities of the great plains of Alberta and the North-West, and while not on special field work was engaged in bureau information work.

After ten years' experience with the Geological Survey, and with the highest attainable university degrees, Dr. Stewart is leaving a salary of $3,100.00.

"BLIND HUSBANDS"

FORMER NORWOOD TEACHER BURNED TO DEATH.

Norwood Register: Monday's dailies contained a despatch from Port Dover, Ont., stating that Mr. L. G. Morgan of that town had been burned to death. Deceased was a teacher on the staff of the Norwood High school some forty years ago. Dr. S. P. Ford is the only school trustee of the local board at that time who is now living.

The report states that Mr. Morgan was conceded to be one of the best masters of English in Canada. For the past 38 years he has been editor and proprietor of the Port Dover Maple Leaf.

The fatal fire started from an oil stove in Mr. Morgan's bedroom. Two of his sisters, who were also occupants of the house, were rescued with difficulty.

DROPS OF MAGIC!
LIFT OUT CORNS

Just ask at any drug store for a small bottle of freezone. Apply a few drops upon a tender, aching corn or callus and instantly all soreness disappears and shortly you will find the corn or callus so loose that you lift it off with the fingers.

Just think! Not one bit of pain before applying freezone or afterward. It doesn't even irritate the surrounding skin.

Hard corns, soft corns, or corns between the toes, also hardened calluses on bottom of feet, shrivel up and fall off without hurting a particle. It is almost magical.

Ladies! Keep a tiny bottle on the dresser and never let a corn or callus ache twice.

LOCAL NEWS BULLETIN

Some collecting agents once said, "Get up early in the morning or you will be late all day." But even at that, it's good advice, so give your alarm clock a surprise in the morning and don't turn over for that extra half hour's snooze.

"To whom, speaketh his money the people shall come to poverty," and to many others come out of a hundred, it's the poverty stricken class who do it.

Printer's ink marks the way to fortune and fame. Try it. This advice is meant not for the young man who is contemplating the newspaper field but for advertisers. There's a vast difference.

"Keep it out of the paper," is the cry which the local newspaper publisher daily hears. To oblige often costs considerable, though the party who makes the request thinks the grunting hardly worth saying "thank you" for. A newspaper is a peculiar thing in the eye of the public. The newspaper is stormed at because he gets hold of one item and is shunned because he does not get another. Young men, and often young women, as well as older persons, perform acts which become legitimate items for publication and then rush to the newspaper office and beg the editor not to mention their escapades. The next day they continue the same paper for not having published an item about another party doing the same thing they were guilty of, forgetting apparently their late visit to the printing office.

The fellow who stops his paper because he becomes offended at something that does not suit his fancy, always imagines he is getting even with the publisher, but he is never missed. This only happens occasionally for there are only a few people in any community who imagine a paper should contain nothing but what they approve of.

A contemporary says that newspaper subscriptions are infallible tests of a man's honesty. They will murder no liars, discover the man. If he is dishonest he will cheat the printer some way; say he has a receipt somewhere, or sent the money and it was lost in the mail, or he will take the paper and not pay for it on the ground that he did not subscribe for it, or move away, leaving it to come to the office he left. Thousands of professed christians are dishonest to this particular at least, and the printer's book will tell fearful tales in the final judgment.

Make up your mind that whatever you may have done in the past you will in the future wear your clothes "inside out, and show the lining." We all have blunder, but that is no reason why we should draw the attention of the world to them. It is the brave, cheerful soldiers who inspires the others.

Let no young man of industry and perfect honesty despair because his profession or calling is crowded. Let him always remember that there is room enough at the top and that the question whether he is ever to reach the top, or rise above the crowd at the base of the pyramid, will be decided by the way in which he improves the first few years in securing for himself a thorough knowledge of his profession and a sound moral and intellectual culture.

There is a strange temptation every time we come across a lot of old clothes in the house, to search the pockets hoping to find something valuable. This is what we generally find — some pulverized tobacco and some soiled and worn paper happening to be a bill which we forget to pay.

The man who wants to succeed and to do the greater things of life will be most unmercifully criticized. No matter what you may be doing, there are always some foolish people to condemn you. Never mind them, but go ahead.

The happiest man in our town and for miles around is our humble and hard-working editor. No, it is not an increase in our family, nor a visit from our mother-in-law, but a man who was two years in arrears came into our office yesterday and paid that and one year in advance. We could cheer for joy.

PUT CREAM IN NOSE AND STOP CATARRH

Tells How To Open Clogged Nostrils and End Head-Colds.

You feel fine in a few minutes. Your cold in head or catarrh will be gone. Your clogged nostrils will open. The air passages of your head will clear and you can breathe freely. No more dullness, headache; no hawking, snuffling, mucous discharges or dryness; no struggling for breath at night.

Tell your druggist you want a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm. Apply a little of this fragrant, antiseptic cream to your nostrils, let it penetrate through every air passage of the head; soothe and heal the swollen, inflamed mucous membrane, and relief comes instantly.

It is just what every cold and catarrh sufferer needs. Don't stay stuffed-up and miserable.

A NEW ARMY NEEDED.

During the war no man wanted to be considered a slacker. Most of them marched off to war in behalf of their country. Most of them made great sacrifices to do it. They fought nobly and well and many had to offer on the altar of their country their greatest gift—life.

Now that the war is over many of our men seem to think their duty to their country is over as well. And at a time when over-production is needed, they strike for higher wages, for shorter hours, for almost impossible conditions of work. And this country upon which the whole world is depending for production is falling back on the job miserably.

Of course low production brings up the prices on those things which are produced and we get this high cost of living which we hear so much about. And thus we go on in a circle—food is high, men strike for higher wages, their striking hinders production and prices climb still higher.

It seems a shame that we cannot call out the same loyal army to fight this external foe of autocracy. They both kill our mankind, but in different ways.

CANADIAN NASHUA CO. WILL BE SEPARATE

LEGISLATION TO SEVER IT FROM AMERICAN PARENT COMPANY IS OBTAINED.

The Nashua Gum and Coated Paper Company will be assigned to a new company to be known as the Canadian Nashua Company, Limited, in a private act in the Legislature, the application for which was recommended to the Council by the Manufacturers' committee last night. This means that the original local company will be incorporated as a Canadian company with a capitalization of $1,000,000, and will be virtually separated from the parent company which, however, will probably take a considerable portion of the stock. This step has been advised for business reasons. The American company will not be released from the terms of the original agreement entered into with the city. Ald. Gordon explained the proposed transfer arrangements for which were approved in Ald. Phelan's motion, seconded by Ald. Whitehead.

COMMENDS WORK OF FIRE CHIEF

The following letter was received from Mr. E. P. Heaton, Fire Marshal for Ontario. It is self-explanatory:

Toronto, 20th January, 1920.

George Grange, Esq.,
Chief of the Fire Department,
Peterborough, Ont.

Dear Chief Grange,

I have received a copy of your annual report to the Mayor and Council of your city, with the various statements attached, which I have read with great interest. The report is very satisfactory and complete in all its aspects, and I would not only congratulate you upon being able to present such a report, but to thank you for placing a copy of it in my possession.

I think the paragraph No. 4 relating to your work in inspection and fire prevention should be emphasized, and should be commendable to the Mayor and Council as evidencing a high type of duty to the citizens. Your actions are on a line with very modern practice, and must inevitably lead to the saving of many thousands of dollars to your people.

Examples such as you show by your action and in your report are entitled to publicity, and propose quoting from it in the next issue of the Public Service Bulletin, which will be out about 15th February, and of which you will, of course, get a copy.

I congratulate you most heartily upon your showing, and wish you success throughout the year.

With kind regards,—I am,

Yours very truly,

E. P. Heaton, Fire Marshal.

PROGRESS OF DAIRY COMPANY

CHEESE FACTORIES JOIN THE BIG GROUP

At a meeting held in Marmora on Thursday, January 22nd, by representatives from the four cheese factories in the Township of Marmora to discuss the advisability of these factories becoming identified with the large co-operative dairy company, which it is proposed to organize in the Central Ontario District, considerable enthusiasm over the proposal was manifested. Mr. Hugh Maloney of Marmora, the president of Cook's Factory and a provisional director of the United Dairymen Co-operative, Limited, which is to be the name of the new company, acted as chairman. After a long discussion resolutions were passed approving of the appointment of local arbitrators to act in conjunction with arbitrators to be appointed by the Department of Agriculture and the central company in valuing the local factories. By resolution the presidents of the four local factories were selected as the local valuators.

The presidents of all local factories, as well as numerous shareholders and directors were present at the meeting, which was largely attended. The principle speakers were Mr. H. S. Cowan, Editor-in-Chief of Farm and Dairy, Peterboro, which has been active in promoting the central company and Mr. J. Scott of Toronto, representing the Ontario Department of Agriculture. Mr. Scott is a past president of the Western Ontario Dairymen's Association. Mr. Jesse Williams, president of the Riverside Factory, Mr. R. Laycock, president of the Silver Leaf Factory and Mr. Maloney, president of Cook's Factory all spoke favorably of the proposed amalgamation, as did patrons of all the factories, who were called upon to express their opinions for or against the project. The meeting was overwhelmingly in favor of the proposal and pleasure was expressed that these four factories were likely to be among the first to become identified with the new company.

"Peterborough Presents Possibilities Unsurpassed."

SATURDAY, JAN. 24TH, 1920.

A SPLENDID YEAR.

A splendid year's business is indicated by the reports presented at the annual meeting of the Toronto Savings and Loan Company held yesterday. The net earnings for the year it was shown amounted to $148,389.26 and added to the balance brought forward from 1918 made a total of $182,993.38. Four quarterly dividends at the rate of 10 per cent. for the year have been paid as well as a bonus of 4 per cent. on $1,000,000 paid up capital. This leaves a balance to be carried forward in profit and loss account of $42,993.38, as compared with $34,604.12 brought forward from the preceeding year. The strength of the Company is shown in the fact that the reserve fund stands at $1,100,000 which with the Profit and Lose account give the shareholders $114.00 assets for each $100.00 share of stock. The directors and shareholders are alike congratulated upon the excellent showing made during 1919.

THE VETERANS CONVENTION.

One of the biggest problems that the Peterboro branch of the Great War Veterans' Association have to deal with in connection with the Provincial Convention to be held here in March is the question of accommodation for the delegates. It is expected that there will be 500 or 600 delegates in attendance so that finding room for them will require the co-operation of many of the citizens. The hotels will only be able to take care of a small proportion of the visitors and the balance will have to be taken care of in private houses as paying guests of course. Many citizens have already notified the G.W.V.A. of their willingness to have delegates billeted in their homes but there is still need of more accommodation. Those who are able to help should communicate with the local officials of the Veterans as soon as possible.

RELIEF NEEDED.

That conditions in the Soldiers' Settlement colony in Kapuskasing about which there have been frequent complaints in the newspapers and otherwise are even worse than has been stated is evident from the report brought back from there by Hon. D. Carmichael, of the Drury Government after a visit of inspection and from interviews with returned men. One ex-member of the 19th Battalion declares that men, women and children in the colony are heartbroken and only waiting for the Government to take them out. Nearly every settler, he says, is in debt anywhere from $100 to $300 for groceries.

The Drury Government inherited the soldiers colony from its predecessors the Hearst Administration. The new Government of course is in no wise to blame for the setting up of the conditions complained of but must nevertheless shoulder the responsibility of relieving those conditions now that the control of affairs is in its hands. All reports indicate the necessity of some immediate relief for the soldier farmers of the north.

WHO WAS THE MAN?

In the memorial addressed to Secretary Daniels which Admiral Sims read to the Senate Naval Affairs subcommittee on Saturday he stated that before leaving for his post in London in the end of March, 1917, he received the following "explicit" admonition: "Don't let the British pull the wool over your eyes. It is none of your business pulling their chestnuts out of the fire. We would as soon fight the British as the Germans." When Admiral Sims declares that this instruction was "explicit," he plainly means that it was intended to be serious and that he was expected to take it seriously. It was no occasion for jocularity, and it was a dangerous time to be flippant about our association with a nation with which the United States would inevitably and in a very short time make common cause in warring upon the Central Powers.

There was no doubt in the minds of loyal men that war with Germany was inescapable, and on account of the atrocities committed by her upon Americans at sea must be declared. Ruthless submarine warfare upon all shipping "in a zone around Great Britain, France, Italy, and in the eastern Mediterranean" had been ordered on Feb. 1. Neutral vessels were not to be excepted. On Feb. 27 the liner Laconia had been torpedoed without warning and two American women had died from exposure in a boat upon the open sea. By March 19 seventy-two neutral ships had been sunk, according to an official announcement made at Berlin. Among them were the American ships Illinois, City of Memphis, and Vigilancia. The Vigilancia had the American flag painted upon her sides, and her hailing port, New York, was marked in letters five feet high upon her port and starboard bows. Fifteen of her crew were lost. The American ship Adgonquin was also torpedoed without warning and was sunk with shellfire and bombs. Provoked beyond the limit of endurance by wanton destruction of their ships, by cold-blooded atrocities, and insults to their flag, the American people desired war with the Central Powers.

Such was the condition when Admiral Sims was sent to London to consult with the British Admiralty in the end of March, 1917, with a view to naval co-operation in the event of a declaration of war by Congress, which seemed to be only a question of days. That any official connected with the Navy Department and in a position to give him instructions was so base as to admonish him of the need of weariness and suspicion in his communications with the British who up to that time had been fighting our fight as well as their own, and to tell the Admiral that "we would as soon fight the British as the Germans," would be incredible if he had not declared it to be a fact upon his personal responsibility in the report to Secretary Daniels which the Admiral himself read to a Senate Committee. Such an official deserves exposure, and there should be no false debeacy about disclosing his name. If he is still connected with the navy, actively or on the retired list, an example should be made of him. Nothing less would fit the case of sinister impropriety charged by Admiral Sims.—New York Times.

THE WORLD WANTS THE TRIALS.

The world awaits with some curiosity Holland's reply on the subject of the Kaiser. There has been a lively suspicion rather widely entertained, ever since the ex-kaiser's flight into Holland, that the whole thing was "framed up" by the Milnerite elements among the Allies, with perhaps same support in American quarters, where they would as lief fight the British as the Huns. No one seriously doubts that if the Big Four really want Wilhelm they will get him and without clumsy delay. Probably half of the Dutch people would be glad to give him up without any pressure. If Holland stiffens her back, gives a point blank refusal and is let go with a tap on the knuckles or less, no one in his senses will doubt that the thing was cut and dried throughout.

But is it conceivable that the powers of the world can permit or be guilty of such a shuffle? If the ex-kaiser cannot be got, it is open to any of the 400 Germans on the wanted-list to slip over into Holland and live happily ever after. There would be no trials at all except of such as might be too obstinate or proud to resort to Dutch internment, or too confident of acquittal. It would be interesting to compare the attitude of Switzerland with that of Holland when called upon in her turn to deliver the refugees required. Switzerland was not, we may remember, a sort of funnel pouring goods into Germany between 1914 and 1918, as Holland was.

Imagine for a moment what might happen to a recalcitrant Holland, if the Allies are thoroughly in earnest. The League of Nations would place her under commercial disabilities, in which Holland, contra mundum would come off badly. The Dutch, a trading nation, would not face such a prospect. They might be refused admission to the League of Nations and be left outside with Germany and Mexico. Such action at least would be taken if the Allies were acting on public opinion, though the new German ambassador at Paris, von Lersner, has the Teutonic impudence to proclaim that public opinion everywhere is against the surrender of the Hun criminals!

The publication of Kautsky's documentary revelations of Hohenzollern's guilt in making the war has increased if possible, the worldwide indignation against the Beast of Berlin and his ring of associates in murder. The documents are not all published yet, but already they resound about he globe. It is proved from his own handwriting that the ex-kaiser urged the Vienna Government to bully Serbia into war, to occupy her territory, and to disregard Sir Edward Grey's peace proposals. If Russia should interfere, Wilhelm assured Vienna that Germany would back Austria without limit. In fact his idea of backing Austria was to ride its government as his warhorse to universal power. At every sign of hesitance on Austria's part to take the irrevocable plunge into a gulf of blood, the ex-kaiser expressed in writing his impatience and disgust, "Just tread this rabble firmly under foot," he wrote of the Serbs. His most violent displeasure is expressed over the English, whose peace-making activity makes him froth like a mad-dog or mad wild boar rather. "With such scoundrels I shall never conclude a naval agreement. This pack of base hucksters! Our consuls in Turkey and India our agents, etc., must influence the whole of the Mohammedan world into a savage uprising against this hated, lying, mercenulous nation of hucksters." So he puts himself on record in the last days before the war. And yet he had engended friendliness to England. The German navy was not being built against Britain, no, fie! And later he went prancing from the Meuse to the Dwina and back again, "the hero of a hundred fields unfought," as Sir William Watson calls him, trusting that he "had not desired this war, God knew." This blasphemer and wholesale murderer is not wanted for trial, save von Lersner! If Holland under any sinister instructions should fail to render him up and if hundreds more like him in the German nation should escape justice, the world would know the reason why.—London Advertiser.

INFLUENZA STILL ON THE INCREASE

(Canadian Press.)

NEW YORK, Jan. 23—Influenza and pneumonia cases in New York City to-day showed the greatest increase since the outbreak began, the number of new patients being practically double those who became ill yesterday.

There were 1,332 new cases of influenza and 403 new cases of pneumonia reported to-day.

Influenza and pneumonia continued to spread in Chicago to-day—2,551 cases of the two diseases being reported during the past twenty-four hours, as compared with 2,463 in the preceding period.

The death-list showed a slight increase, however, with 76 fatalities, as compared to 79 yesterday.

Pneumonia showed the heaviest increase, with 321 new cases and 48 deaths to-day, against 237 cases and 43 deaths yesterday.

PARIS, Jan. 23.—The recent announcement of the imminent despatch of an extensive military expedition to the Caucasus was an erroneous deduction caused by the fact that the British had given notice of their inability to furnish a quota of troops for plebiscite areas, according to a statement from the Foreign Office to-day.

The fact is, it is pointed out, the Supreme Council has specially rejected the propositions to send even small contingents of troops to help the Georgians and Azerbaijans, and has decided to confine aid to material and supplies.

SANDRA THE JEALOUS

BY JANE PHELPS

SANDRA DECIDES TO BE INDISCREET.

CHAPTER XXIX

I was delighted that this dinner party broke up rather early. I had been even more bored than usual. The man who took me in, a Mr. Cantwell, was so silly. He did nothing but tell how lovely I was and what a lucky dog Graham was to have won me. I was so embarrassed I did not know what to do. I told Everett about him and the silly things he had said while we were driving home.

"He's noted as a flatterer, Sandra When you are older you will know how to take such speeches. They mean absolutely nothing."

"Oh Everett!" I exclaimed, recalling my determination made at the table, "do tell me all about that lovely Mrs. Barton you always are paired off with. You seem to have such good times together."

"Haven't you met Mrs. Barton?"

"Of course! I met her at Mrs. Garry's dinner."

"I thought so. Well, she is a very old friend of mine."

"Is she a widow?"

"Yes."

"She dresses beautifully. She must be very rich."

"She is."

"Do tell me something about her, you seem to know her so intimately," the one-sided conversation was getting on my nerves.

"I told you she was a very old friend of mine."

"How old is she?"

"I should judge about thirty-eight."

"I wish I were thirty-eight! Every one treats me as if I were a child. If you would let me do my hair high and wear other clothes I would look older and then people would be nicer to me."

"What do you mean by being 'nicer' to you?"

"Oh being like you are with that Mrs. Barton. Talking to me and acting so interested in what I said. It must be lovely to have a man act that way toward one, instead of either sort of laughing at what one says, or treating them like a child." I had no thought of any man in my mind except Everett when I spoke, and was astonished when he turned to me and said sternly:

"So you are already wanting men to act interested in you, are you?" then he mumbled something about "women being all alike." And I thought at once he was comparing me to Leola.

"Not men—but I would like you to be interested in me, and when I have to go into dinner with some man to have them act like you do with Mrs. Barton.

Everett flushed, but made no reply. I knew I had annoyed him, yet I didn't much care. It wasn't fair to me to keep me so young looking. I felt exactly as I did when I used to beg mother to let me stop wearing my hair in pig-tails, and to let down my dresses. I wanted to be grown up then so I could go out more with the boys and girls, and so I could sit up a little later instead of going to bed almost as soon as we finished our dinner. Now I wanted to appear older so that Everett would act to me as he had toward Mrs. Barton. He seemed to enjoy talking with her so much; and he listened with so much attention to what she said. Then too I also wanted others to show interest in what I said. That Mr. Cantwell treated me exactly as if I were still playing with dolls instead of as a married woman.

"You see Everett," I continued, paying no attention to his scowl, I shall be eighteen years old next month. Don't you think I could put my hair on top of my head then?"

"So men would act interested in you?" his tone was sneering.

"No—so that men and women both won't act as if I were unworthy of notice—what I say,—I mean," again he had scowled.

"You wear your hair as I like it. And do not bring up the subject again. That is one childish trait of which you can cure yourself to both your own and my advantage. When we have settled a question once; please bear in mind that it is not again to be referred to in any way. If I change my mind concerning any matter we have discussed I will so inform you."

The tears started at his cold, uncompromising speech. I was not to speak of anything even, when he had once decided what he wanted done. Leola had not been meek, and obeyed him in such things, or in anything, according to the impression he had given me in our talk of her; yet he had loved her dearly. He loved her now better than he did me and she had been dead nine years.

I brushed the tears away so that he would not see them. "I must learn not to cry" I said to myself. He hated tears so dreadfully. It always seemed to make him hard toward me when I cried. I wondered if Leola ever cried. Some day I would find out all about that "first Mrs. Graham." I didn't know just how, when I had given my word not to ask questions. But in some way I must know more about her.

"Go right to bed dear," Everett said when we reached home. And he gave a tender kiss. I threw my arms around his neck as I whispered:

"Always be nice like this to me Everett!" then without waiting for an answer I ran quickly up the stairs.

CLOCK COMPANY IS GETTING UNDER WAY

NO DIFFICULTY IN SECURING HELP FOR THE PLANT.

Mr. Vernon, who recently arrived in the city to take over the managership of the Western Clock Company, which during the last month moved into its George street factory, stated yesterday that the company has experienced absolutely no difficulty in securing a full staff. At present 24 girls are employed and several men in the office. The facility in securing a full staff is probably accounted for in the fact that skilled labour is not a necessary qualification, the company teaching each of the employees the work.

Machinery Delayed.

On account of the fact that the machinery required in the factory is is absolutely different to any employed in any other branch of industry it is more or less difficult to obtain and the company has experienced no little difficulty in securing such machinery as is necessary. Due to this the factory will probably be delayed some six months in commencing the actual manufacture of clocks and watches.

A SKATING PARTY FOR STORE EMPLOYES

A very successful skating party was held by Barrie's Ltd., Welfare Club on Tuesday evening, Jan. 20th at Brock street Rink. The Great War Veterans Band was in attendance playing special selections until 10:30 p.m.

The attendance was a record for the rink this season.

A feature was a refreshment booth the proceeds of which as announced, went to the Armenian Fund—This was supplemented by special contributions from the staff and amounted to $69.00.

WAR VETERANS PERMISSION TO PETITION PUBLIC

(Canadian Press)

OTTAWA, Jan. 23—At the concluding session of the Dominion executive of the Great War Veterans Conference here, permission was granted to local, provincial and district commands to circulate petitions among the public asking for further financial aid from the government as a means of solving the re-establishment problem.

Reaffirming its belief in inadequacy of reestablishment methods of Government now in operation, the executive has forwarded letter to Sir Robert Borden declining the invitation of the Premier to submit any other aspects of the question or further suggestions or recommendations A resolution was also adopted favoring the principle of proportional representation.

ANNUAL COMMEMORATION OF DEATH OF GENERAL WOLFE

WILLIAMS

NEW SCALE PIANO

YOU would be very much interested if you could see the wood being scientifically prepared for the Williams New Scale Piano. Every inch of it goes through a special process which removes all sap and sugar. When this wood is being cut up, there is a great deal of waste, because only absolutely flawless pieces can measure up to the standard that we have maintained during many years for Williams Pianos. The woodwork on this famous Canadian piano—not only the case, but on all the unseen parts also—will never shrink, warp or decay. The Williams is built to last a lifetime.

Have you ever been in a home that was run on a hit and miss plan? In such a home, one member of the family is always asking another where some lost article is—it may be anything from a pie tin to a tooth brush. Consequently, when a meal is served, there are always some of the implements missing, or the sugar spoon is used for the gravy ladle. Here the articles of furniture look as if they did not know which room they belonged in; it takes an hour to get the particular magazine and chair assembled. The members of the family always seem to be patiently wading from one cluttered spot to another. It is very amusing to go into such a home—but remember this—it is only amusing when you go in and come right out again.

Americans Do Not Stay Married

OUT of every ten marriages that occur in the United States one ends in divorce. Such are the startling figures that are to be gleaned from a recently-issued bulletin by the United States Census Bureau, a reading of which may throw some light upon the old question, "Is Marriage a Failure?" Of course, statistics will not show the number of unhappy marriages, the number of mismated people who continue to drag their chains through life for fear of scandal, for the sake of children, or because, though home is broken in every real sense, there is not evidence upon which a judge would dissolve the tie. But when all these reservations are made, and still one out of every ten marriages is so much a failure that one of the contracting parties insists upon its annulment, one must come to the conclusion either that there is something very much the matter with the institution of matrimony or very much wrong with the people who practice it.

Quite as ominous as the fact that in 1916 not less than 10.66 per cent. of the marriages were dissolved is the fact that the ratio of divorce is increasing steadily. For more than forty years it has been advancing out of proportion to the population or the number of marriages. In 1890 divorces were slightly less than six per cent. of the marriages; in 1900 they were slightly less than eight per cent.; in 1906 they were about eight and a quarter per cent. The same thing has been noted in Canada, and the war has no doubt resulted in a tremendous increase of violated homes. But in Canada the Government keeps a tight hold on divorce. Nobody can be divorced in Canada except by a special act of Parliament unless he happens to live in New Brunswick, Nova Scotia or British Columbia. In these provinces there were divorce courts before the Dominion of Canada was federated, and they were retained. Moreover, divorce in Canada is expensive as compared with American divorce. Because of these different conditions there can be no fair comparison between marriage and divorce here and in the United States.

In the United States each state is a law unto itself with regard to divorce. We find police magistrates issuing separation decrees as freely as though they were dog licenses. In one state there is no divorce, and that is South Carolina, but whether the fact has anything to do with the rice industry there is doubtful. Elsewhere the divorce statistics are very unequal, but whether this is entirely to the varying strictness of the law is not explained, though one naturally draws this inference. In the District of Columbia, there were only 15 divorces in 1916, for every 100,000 of the population; in New York, there were 32 to every 100,000; while in Nevada there are 607 to the same unit of population. The states that have [illegible] naturally attract citizens of other states, who desire to have their marriages dissolved, and in this connection of course, Nevada is famous. In the case of Nevada it was not that the divorce laws were especially lax but that as a new state in haste to make citizens it established a very short time in which citizenship could legally be secured. At one time it was six months. So, unhappy New Yorkers, could establish residence in Reno for six months, and then were entitled to the benefit of all the state laws, including divorce. Of late this citizenship period has been increased.

With the exception of Colorado, Maine, South Dakota, West Virginia and of course South Carolina there were more divorces in the United States in 1916 than in 1906. Only in these states and in Mississippi, Alabama, North Dakota, and the District of Columbia was the ratio not increased. The 1916 statistics, of course, do not cover the war period in the United States, and it may be that the United States, which was less affected by the war than any of the other great belligerent powers, will not find its divorces so greatly influenced by the war as they have done, but undoubtedly there will be some effect, and undoubtedly it will be in the direction of more divorce petitions. It is to be noted that alimony is being more frequently sought than in the past. Thirty years ago, it was asked in only about 10 per cent. of the cases. Now it is demanded in 20 per cent. of the cases, and granted in perhaps 15 per cent. of them.

The wife applies for the divorce in two-thirds of the cases, but here against statistics may mislead. When a couple agree to separate it is customary for the man to permit his wife to bring the suit to end a condition of which they are equally tired. Moreover the wife has more legal grounds for divorce than the husband. A husband can be divorced for cruelty, for instance, and the statistics show that she advances this cause four times as often as the husband. Then she can divorce her husband if he fails to provide for her, but a husband especially in rare instances bring such a charge against his wife. Of the 103,702 divorces granted in 1916, only 12,426 were based on infidelity. But here again it ought to be observed that if a divorce can be had on less serious grounds it is not usual to advance the most disgraceful. It is also to be noted that more suits brought by the husband are contested than those brought by wives, because it is supposed that ordinarily a woman who has been divorced is in a worse position than a man in similar plight.

Nervous Dumbness Cured.

As a result of a nervous shock or of sudden emotion a person will wake up the following morning unable to speak. Joy or grief sometimes has this effect. This is called hysterical mutism. Often the person cannot even whisper.

Dr. Paul V. Winslow, attending laryngologist of the Brooklyn State Hospital, describes in the New York Medical Journal his method of curing such cases in a few minutes. It is very simple.

After taking a careful history and examining the organs of speech to make sure there is no defect in them he asks the patient to take ten or twelve deep breaths, then to raise his arms over his head ten or twelve times. Looking him squarely in the eye the doctor informs him "there is a little piece of cartilage in his throat which is slightly out of position, and as soon as I put my finger down his throat and fix it he will be able to use his voice." Then, pushing in the patient's cheek so that he cannot bite, the doctor pushes the index finger of his right hand down beyond the epiglottis and holds it there, till the patient begins to grunt. He withdraws his finger, begins to count from one to five, urging the patient to count with him. If this does not work he begins to count again, this time much louder than before.

It may be necessary to yell before the patient begins to use his voice. When the voice is once restored Dr. Winslow keeps it working so that the patient will become accustomed to it and acquire confidence.

China's Beggars.

In China, begging is regarded as a very ancient institution, and hence arises the toleration of the people and the Government, says Tit-Bits.

All the tricks of the trade are carefully treasured and handed down reverently from one generation to another. The beggars whom one sees in the streets are more often than not the offspring of a generation of beggars. "Once a beggar always a beggar," seems to apply with peculiar force to the Chinese.

The native system of employment seems to abet rather than diminish begging. For instance, no shop or household would think of employing anyone without a recommendation or guarantee from some reliable person or shop. As the beggar, if he is at all minded to an honest job, is at a loss to know a reason that he will not be able to furnish either the recommendation or guarantee necessary to obtain a position, and the result is that he continues to remain [illegible]

OLD BATTERSEA HAS LEGENDS

AMID the rush of modern life, with its innumerable calls and interests, it comes as a relief at times to glean something of the history of the places that we pass, and of the memories that still linger round many a spot where no fragment of aught more tangible remains.

In the purlieus of Battersea in London, England, where the trams rush through long, drear streets, en route for the more open spaces of Wandsworth, there stands what might be described as a landmark of modern civilization. This is Price's Candle Factory, a huge gray building stretching from York Road to the river, issuing from whose gates, toward even-time, may be seen a teeming crowd of humanity, as the hundreds of hands employed there pour out in a never-ending stream.

Few as they pass by are aware that here is the site of two renowned old English manor houses, and also, if tradition be correct, the scene of one of the most famous royal romances of history. Here, in the year 1475 (or 1480, to quote another historian) was erected by one, Lawrence Booth, Bishop of Durham, and afterward Archbishop of York, York House, a residence designed for himself and for those who were to come after him, should affairs of state require their presence near the court. We again find this house mentioned in the year 1553, when Archbishop Holgate was committed to the Tower by Queen Mary, when we are told, that, "the officers who were employed to apprehend him rifled York House, and took away from thence, £300 of gold coin, 1,600 ounces of plate, a mitre of plain gold with two pendants set around with very fine pointed diamonds, sapphires and balaste," besides a lengthy list of other valuables.

Again in the year 1580, a letter among the state papers, from Archbishop Sandys to John Wickliffe, "Keeper of the York House" at Battersea, is of interest, wherein the archbishop commands Wickliffe to deliver up the house to the Lords of the Council, "so that it might be turned into a prison for obstinate Papists." Under the Protectorate, York House was leased to Sir Allan Apsley, and his brother-in-law, Col. Hutchinson. It was restored to the see on the return of Charles II. but did not again become an episcopal residence.

Its most interesting legend, however, and one which, though much discredited, is not altogether unsupported by evidence, is that the great Cardinal Wolsey was once in residence at York House, and that there at a reception given by him, did the world-famed first meeting take place between Henry VIII and Anne Boleyn which went far to revolutionize history. York House, Whitehall, fiercely contests this point, as does Greenwich Palace, and even the gardens at Hever Castle, in Kent, lay claim to being the scene of that first act in perhaps the greatest historical drama that was ever played; nor do theirs at the old Battersea Manor up to the end of the eighteenth century the room was proudly shown where that meeting was supposed to have taken place.

Lysons, who wrote "Environs of London," in 1792, speaks of York House, then only used as a private residence, and mentions this room; and some extracts, from "A Walk from London to Kew," written about 1816 by Sir Richard Phillips, are interesting, though of no great historical value. In this book he says:—

"This walk brought me to a large distillery which still bears the name York House. Here resided Wolsey as Archbishop of York, here Henry VIII first saw Anne Boleyn, and here that scene took place which Shakespeare records in his play of Henry VIII, and which he describes truly, because he wrote it for Elizabeth, the daughter of Anne Boleyn, within 50 years of the event, and must himself have known living witnesses of its verity."

Further on in his book, Sir Richard again tells us that, "The owner (of York House) informed me, that, a few years since, he had pulled down a superb room called the Ball-room, the panels of which were curiously painted, and the divisions silvered. He also stated that the room had a dome and a richly-ornamented ceiling, and that once he saw an ancient print representing the first interview of Henry VIII with Anne Boleyn, in which the room was portrayed exactly like the one that, in modernising the house, he found it necessary to destroy." Sherwood Ramsay, in his "Historic Battersea," is also inclined to favor the Tudor legend, but brings forward no very tangible evidence in support of it.

A royal romance truly, but what of the political game? None such has been played surely, before or since, when for the sake of Anne Boleyn, fresh from the French Court, a King overthrew the power of Rome; when queens, bishops, knights alike fell as the game proceeded, the King himself but a pawn, had he but known it: as statesmen after statesmen took the board, and striving through him to sway the destinies of Church and state to serve their own ends, were in their own turn swept away.

On the site of Price's Candle Factory also stood another famous house, Sherwood Lodge, which was purchased by Mrs. Fitzherbert, the wife of George IV, in 1812, and we are told that the Duke of York and the Duke of Kent were frequent visitors at this lodge during her residency there, until she sold the house to Lord Darnley for £12,000.

Such is the little-known story of a spot that many pass by frequently with scarce a glance, and though no fragment of architecture remains to bring the picture back to us, yet, after reading of it in the old records and books, it lives vividly.

Conscience Money.

A West Virginia man sent a farmer $3 in payment for a watermelon he stole fifteen years ago. If every boy that ever lived in the country were to develop a conscience like that the farmers would own most of the money in the world.

The first Willys-Knight 20 to be exhibited in Canada was shown during the recent Motor Show at Montreal. This new model has been expected for some time, so that its appearance in Montreal enhanced the value of the Show. The 20's were also a feature of the New York Show earlier in the month.

The accompanying illustration will give an idea of the general body-lines of the new cars. Hood design has been changed to one of pentagonal character, while the various units, the lamps, radiator, and low-swung body, are all in harmony. The chassis is one of remarkable balance. Long flexible, semi-elliptic springs give the car an increased degree of comfort. The engine is the well-known Knight sleeve-valve motor, so that it is a case of Willys-Overland engineers having had to build a car to match a wonderful motor. How well they have succeeded is revealed by the beauty of the body-lines, as well as the interior refinements that make the new "20" a noteworthy addition to the motor car products of this continent.

Indigestion!

Pape's Diapepsin helps regulate your stomach so you can eat favorite foods without fear.

WEAK, WATERY BLOOD IS THE CAUSE OF MANY SERIOUS TROUBLES

Pale, Weak Women and Girls, Easily Tired Men and Boys Are Victims of Anaemia---Sound, Robust Health Can Only be Had by Enriching the Blood and Keeping It Red and Pure.

CONDITIONS OF THIN, WATERY BLOOD CAN BE EASILY CORRECTED THROUGH THE USE OE DR. WILLIAMS PINK PILLS

Anaemia is so prevalent, particularly among young girls an growing boys, that every mother should know how to recognize its symptoms, for this trouble makes its approach so gradually and so stealthily that it is often far advanced before it is noticed. Anaemia literally means bloodlessness, and it is thought to be due to a lack of sunlight, improper nourishment, and insufficient out-of-door air. It is most common among those who are confined indoors by their occupations and among those who do not eat regularly or do not select a proper diet.

LOOK FOR THESE SYMPTOMS

The one general symptom of anaemia is pallor. The cheeks gradually lose their color, the lips become white With this loss of color there comes a tendency to fatigue, palpitation of the heart and breathlessness after slight exertion, with occasional headaches. In ordinary anaemic conditions, including the anaemic that afflicts young girls in their teens, Dr. Williams Pink Pills are all the medicine required. These, with fresh air, sunlight, proper food and a little rest after meals will make recovery complete.

NERVOUS TROUBLES

Many severe nervous troubles have their origin in anaemia. It is literally true that when the blood is weak and watery, the nerves are starved, and there follows neuralgia, sciatica and nervous headaches. When the blood is made rich and red, these troubles speedily disappear, as is shown by the case of Miss Annie L. Johnston, R. R. No. 1, Listowel, Ont., who says:—"For a long time I was a severe sufferer from nervous troubles with the result that I grew very pale and weak. Medical treatment did not help me, and various medicines had no beneficial effect, until finally a friend advised me to try Dr. Williams Pink Pills. I began their use and took the pills regularly for several months, with the result that I not only gained in weight, but have recovered my full health and strength I cannot praise Dr. Williams Pink Pills too highly for what they have done for me."

BLOOD WEAK AND WATERY

Another case in which Dr. Williams Pink Pills have restored a weak, despondent girl to good health is that of Miss J. McLean, Trenton, N.S., who says: "I was as weak as it was possible for any one to be, and yet be able to go about. My blood seemed to have turned almost to water. I was pale, the least exertion would leave me breathless, and when I went upstairs I would have to stop and rest on the way. I often had severe headaches, and at times my heart would palpitate alarmingly. A good friend urged me to try Dr. Williams Pink Pills and I have reason to be grateful that I took the advice. Soon after beginning the use of the pills I began to get stronger, and by the time I had taken seven boxes I felt that I was again enjoying good health. I think Dr. Williams Pink Pills are a blessing to weak girls, and I shall always warmly recommend them."

WEAK AND RUN DOWN

There is no eight-hour day for the woman in the home. Her every waking hour is filled with household duties and cares, and often, under the strain, her blood becomes weak and watery, and there is a complete break-down in health. Mrs. Milan Bailey, Utterson, Ont., tells what Dr. Williams Pink Pills did for her in a health crisis. She says:—"Some two years ago I got weak and badly run down, and could scarcely do my housework. I grew so thin that my friends used to comment upon it. At that time my baby was six months old and the care of it and my housework was almost too much for me. It was at this stage that my husand got me a supply of Dr. Williams Pink Pills, and before I had been taking them long we could see an improvement in my condition. For months I had not been sleeping well and my natural sleep returned and I wasn't so nervous. Then my friends began to comment on my improved condition and tell me how much better I was looking. By the time I had taken six boxes I felt completely cured, and have since enjoyed the best of health. Now I never fail to recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills when any of my friends are ailing."

A TEACHER'S EXPERIENCE

Nervous exhaustion, nearly always brought on by anaemia, is one of the most serious troubles affecting men and women of to-day. The only way to bring back sound, vigorous health is to feed the starved nerves, which are clamoring for new, rich blood. This new blood can be had through the use of Dr. Williams Pink Pills, which fact accounts for the thousands of cures of nervous diseases brought about by this powerful blood builder and nerve restorer. Through a fair use of this medicine thousands of despondent people have been made bright, active and strong, among these is Miss Bibiane Chiasson, South Beach, Que. who says:—"I am a teacher by profession, and probably due to the close confinement and ardous nature of my duties I became much run down and suffered from extreme nervousness. The least noise would startle me, and my heart would beat violently. Indeed my condition was an unhappy one. I had often heard of Dr. Williams Pink Pills as a cure for nervous troubles and decided to give them a fair trial. I am happy to say that this medicine completely restored my health, and I can confidently recommend it to all suffering from nervous troubles."

KEEP YOUR SYSTEM TONED UP

Keep your system toned up with Dr. Williams Pink Pills and foods that once distressed you will be harmless, exposure will bring no fears of rheumatism or neuralgia and even germ diseases need hardly be dreaded

Dr. Williams Pink Pills assist digestion, correct the lassitude, the palpitation of the heart, shaky nerves, and the pallor of theface and lips that are the result of thin, impure blood.

Try Dr. Williams Pink Pills for anaemia, rheumatism, neuralgia, nervousness. Take them as a tonic if you are not in the best physical condition and cultivate a resistance that will keep you well and strong. Get a box from the nearest drug store and begin this treatment now.

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills through any dealer in medicine or by mail at 50c. a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville Ont.

COMMITTEE WOULD ALLOW PARK OPTIONS TO EXPIRE

PRICES ARE TOO HIGH THE PARK COMMITTEE AGREED LAST NIGHT AFTER RECEIVING INDEPENDENT VALUATION—$19,760 AS COMPARED WITH OPTION TOTALS OF $32,750.

Negotiations for lower prices on the properties comprising the proposed Riverside Park reached a stalemate at the meeting of the Parks committee last night, at which two of the owners, Mr. J. H. Bettes and Mr. James Ellis refused to consider any reduction in the terms of the options they had given the city.

The committee received the report of the independent valuators, Mr. James Finnie and Mr. J. T. O'Connel, whose aggregate estimate of the entire block was $19,760, as compared with $32,750 asked by the four owners of the properties.

At the New Year's elections the ratepayers gave a sweeping majority for the by-law that provided $33,000 for the purchase of the land and buildings included in this project, and when Ald. Gainey asked last night whether the Council should carry out the wishes of the people in regard to the establishment of the park, Ald. Gordon replied that the vote of the people was not an authorization to buy the properties at the optional prices.

"As far as I am concerned," Ald. Gordon said, "I'd call the whole thing off. When this was proposed we didn't have our own valuation, and we are not compelled to accept the prices that have been submitted to us. If they want to claim damages on account of the bridge let them do so and decide by arbitration. They'll do more sweating than we will before this thing is over."

Ald. Gordon's motion that the committee adjourn without action was seconded by Ald. Crowe.

The attitude of the commitee after discussing the report of the valuators, presented by Mr. Finnie, was that of unanimous opposition to the purchase of the properties at the option prices for the reason that they were too high.

	Valuators'	Options
Rapid Tool Co.	$4780	$6250
Bettes estate	$5340	$7500
Ellis property	$3640	$8000
Riverside park	$6000	$11000
	$19760	$32750

How Land Was Valued.

The valuators, Mr. Finnie explained, had allowed $20 a foot for the properties fronting on Hunter street. This was the same price the city paid for the more desirable corner property on Burnham street. The rest of the land was bulked at six dollars a foot. The valuation of the buildings was estimated at $6,200.

Mr. Finnie said that $1,200 had been allowed for the sands in Riverside park. He had measured the lumber in it, and replying to Mayor McIntyre's query, stated that he considered $1,200 a fair valuation. In fixing the value of the land a fifty per cent. depreciation in the buying power of money had been allowed.

"We valued the properties as if the new bridge was not there," Mr. Finnie added.

Ald. Gainey, presiding, announced that the property owners affected had been invited to meet the committee. Only Mr. J. H. Bettes and Mr. James Ellis responded, and they were both in full accord with the aldermen on one point at least.

"I'd rather it go to arbitration," Mr. Bettes said, arriving first, and Mr. Ellis was even more emphatic in his declaration that the option he had given was too low and that he preferred the values in dispute to be arbitrated.

Mr. Bettes said he hadn't fixed his option on a foot frontage basis. He was confident that with bricks now at $36 a thousand and other building materials correspondingly higher his offer was not unreasonable.

Mr. Gordon observed that he would support $6,200 for the Bettes property.

"It has a value as a fatcory site," Mr. Bettes replied, mentioning $15,000 as a value once quoted. "Look what the Quaker Oats bought."

"It will never be a factory site," Mr. Gordon declared.

Mr. Bettes asked whether he could prevent the city from trespassing on his property. Stakes had been driven into the lawn and the place was otherwise upset.

Mr. Gordon told him he couldn't take that action, but simply claim damages.

Bought For $4,500.

City Solicitor Widdifield stated that the Ellis and Bettes properties had been bought by Mr. Bettes in 1917 for $4,500.

Mr. Ellis said he had paid $1,500 for his holding and had spent $1,300 on it.

"I would support $4,500 for it," Mr. Gordon suggested.

"Why you can't build the factory for that," replied Mr. Ellis, with a nothing-doing gesture. "I think it's a steal at $8,000. You can't get me another place in town like it."

It was shown that the assessment of these properties was much less than the option prices or the valuators' estimates.

Mayor McIntyre spoke in favor of giving Mr. Ellis $6,000, but Mr. Ellis wouldn't listen."

"I guess we can't do any business," Ald. Gainey remarked.

Ald. Whitehouse said that Mr. Ellis would certainly be put to some difficulty in securing new and equally suitable premises for his matress factory.

Further discussion proved fruitless and the committee adjourned with the understanding that their decision would be brought before a committee of the Whole Council before the first options expire in order that the opinion of every alderman should be consulted.

Have Earned a Place In Canadian Homes

DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS GREAT WORK FOR WOMEN.

Is Once More Shown in the Case of Mrs. Robert Bell, Who Says She Can Never Thank Dodd's Kidney Pills Enough.

Golden Valley, Ont., Jan. 23rd (Special.)—"I had kidney trouble. My nerves were bad. I felt tired all the time. I was all run down.

"My troubles are all gone since using Dodd's Kidney Pills. My appetite is good and I am increasing in weight."

These are the statements of Mrs. Robert Bell, a well-known and highly respected resident of this place. They must be of interest to thousands of tired, suffering women in Canada. Thousands of other Canadian women who have used Dodd's Kidney Pills know them to be true.

For Dodd's Kidney Pills are no experiment. They are a household remedy in thousands of Canadian homes. They have earned their place by the pains they have relieved and the health they have brought. Ask your neighbors about them. You can hardly fail to find women who exclaim with Mrs. Bell, "I can never thank Dodd's Kidney Pills enough."

DESPERATE LEAP FROM EXPRESS TRAIN.

(Canadian Press.)

HAMILTON, Jan. 23.—By a desperate leap from an express train travelling forty miles an hour, Alfred Palmer alias Fessman, escaped from an immigration officer yesterday.

While being escorted to the border for deportation, and as the Buffalo express was half-way between Grimsby and Beamsville, Palmer got permission to go to the lavatory.

An open window told the story of Palmer's sensational escape.

SPECIAL SPEAKER AT GEORGE STREET

George street Methodist Church will be highly favoured on Sunday. At the morning service the speaker will be the Rev. Dr. J. W. Graham of Toronto. Rev. Paul Kananiori, the famous Japanese preacher will occupy the pulpit in the evening. About forty years ago he was converted to Christianity, along with a group of other students who afterwards climbed to the top of the sacred mountain and dedicated themselves to the propagation of the Christian faith. For some years he was teacher of theology at Doshisha College, but during the past four years he has toured his native country preaching everywhere to large crowds, sometimes numbering eight and nine thousand. He is known as the "Moody of Japan" and has succeeded in winning over forty-eight thousand to the Christian religion. He possesses a quaint eloquence and a wonderful command of the English language which always holds his audience. He is spending one year away from Japan in order to tour the United States and Canada to enlist sympathy and interest in his great work.

Three visiting ministers, who are outstanding leaders in the work of the church will assist the local Methodist pastors on Sunday in connection with the Methodist National Campaign. They will speak as follows Rev. J. W. Graham, D.D. of Toronto at George street in the morning and Trinity in the evening. Rev. S. W. Fallis of Toronto at Trinity in the morning and Mark street in the evening and Rev. Paul Kanamori, "The Moody of Japan" at St. James in the morning and George street in the evening. Let there be an enthusiastic rally of all the congregations to hear these great speakers.

TO THE MEN OF AMERICA.

(By Rose Trumbull, Scottsdale, Arizona.)

You talk of your breed of cattle,
And plan for a higher strain,
You double the food of the pasture,
You heap up the measure of grain;
You draw on the wits of the nation,
To better the barn and pen;
But what are you doing, my brothers
To better the breed of men?

You boast of your Morgans and Herefords,
Of the worth of a calf or a colt,
And scoff at the scrub and the mongrel,
As worthy a fool or a dolt;
You mention the points of your roadster,
With many a "wherefore and "when,"
But, ah, are you coming, my brothers?
The worth of the children of men?

And what of your boy? Have you measured
His needs for a growing year?
Does your mark as his sire, in his features,
Mean less than your brand on a steer?
Thoroughbred—that is your watch-word,
For stable and pasture and pen;
But what is your word for the homestead?
Answer, you breeders of men!

WILL ATTEMPT TO SALVAGE TREASURE FROM LUSITANIA

LONDON, Jan. 21. — Efforts to raise some of the treasure from the ill-fated Lusitania will be made early this year. Engineers and divers who have been prospecting about the sunken vessel believe that they can at least get some thousands of pounds' worth of valuables from the big Cunader, but it will be impossible, according to experts, to raise the steamer or any of her cargo, owing to the great depth of the water in which she is lying.

The Powhatan's passengers, who were removed when the transport was about two hundred miles off Halifax, and after she had wallowed in the high seas for six days and six nights, included eleven women and two children, in addition to Army officers.

ALL READY FOR THE BIG BANQUET

The stage is all set for the Caledonian Club banquet to be held in the Empress hotel on Monday evening. A member of the club has promised to bring along the top of Burns' walking stick. If necessary this will be used to subdue any refractory member. Everything has been arranged for, including the piper and the haggis bearers. A few tickets are still available and can be had on application to Police Sergeant Reid at the police station.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKETS

(Canadian Press.)

NEW YORK, Jan. 24. — The extreme weakness of foreign exchange and another advance of interest and discount to the highest points ever ordered by the Federal Reserve Bank were of themselves enough to effect the irregular reaction of quoted values in this week's dull stock market.

The break in exchange which caused leading remittances to fall below all previous levels of depreciation was again mainly precipitated by the trade balances unfavourable to European countries.

The efforts of the Central Bank to release "frozen" credits evidently apply to foreign bills, no less than to better known and more negotiable forms of financial accommodation which have been subjected to speculative influences.

Shorts had the best of the week's operations, in so far as losses exceeded gains, but hurried covering was occasionally noted in some of the high-grade industrials and specialties controlled by professional interests.

Statements of United States Steel and Bethlehem Steel Companies covering final quarter of 1919 are to be issued next week. They are expected to throw an interesting light upon the labour conditions during that period.

RUB LUMBAGO PAIN, OR BACKACHE AWAY

Instant relief from pain, backache, soreness, stiffness, sciatica with "St. Jacobs Liniment."

Back hurt you? Can't straighten up without feeling sudden pains, sharp aches and twinges? Now listen! That's lumbago, sciatica, or maybe from a strain, and you'll get blessed relief the moment you rub your back with soothing, penetrating "St. Jacobs Liniment!" Nothing else takes out soreness, lameness and stiffness so quickly. You simply rub it on and out comes the pain. It is perfectly harmless and doesn't burn or discolor the skin.

Limber up! Don't suffer! Get a small trial bottle from any drug store and after using it just once, you'll forget that you ever had backache, lumbago or sciatica, because your back will never hurt or cause any more misery. It never disappoints and has been recommended for 60 years. Stop dragging kidneys! They don't cause backache, because they have no nerves, therefore can not cause pain.

A LECTURE BY JUDGE HUYCKE

ONE OF A SERIES OF FIVE THAT WILL BE GIVEN AT THE Y.W.C.A.

The first of the course of lectures on Law which His Honour Judge Huycke is giving in the Y. W. C. A., was well attended last evening. The speaker was introduced by Mrs. (Dr.) Scott, who referred to the Judge's wide knowledge of the laws of Canada. His Honor commenced his address by referring to the fact that now that the women have the vote a knowledge of law is essential. In introducing his subject he spoke of the fundamental law, the laws of Natu re,and of the fact that no matter what sphere we live in we are subject to laws of some kind. This applies even to the savage who is under the law of a King or Chief.

Continuing he spoke of the change from French to British Law in Canada, with the taking of Quebec in 1759, when all laws were changed to British, except the French Civil Law. His Honor gave an interesting account of the laws that have governed the civilized world since the old Roman Code Laws on which all European laws were based except the British and a few of those of the German Colonies. The British law has been called a Common Law, as distinct from the Civil Law, and is composed of two parts, the Written Law and the Unwritten Law, the Lex Scripture and the Lex Non-Scripture. He referred to the hrst Written Law, the Magna Charta. Up to the time of the signing of the Magna Charta the law was governed by the customs of the people. He continued by tracing the alterations that have been made in the law from the time of the Magna Charta, to the present day when even in this advanced age there are many things which will be corrected in years to come. In speaking of these he mentioned that for a great many things that are said and done in Canada the people of other countries would be imprisoned. The laws of to-day have the advantage over the Roman code laws on account of their elasticity — that is the individual receives more consideration through our Common Law.

International Law.

In referring to the International Law he spoke of the bounden duty of one country to respect contracts made in another country.

In conclusion His Honor referred to the reason of all international conferences being held in the Hague. This he pointed out was due to the fact that Hugo De Gracios, the author of the most authoritative works bearing on the governing of the nations in war and peace, was a native of The Hague.

His Honor announced that the next of the series of lectures will be held on Friday evening next, at 8 p.m., when his subject will be on the Law Courts.

TERMS OF THE NEW ALLIANCE

(Canadian Press.)

BUDAPEST, Jan. 24.—The terms of the alliance between Czecho-Slovakia and the Austrian Republic, according to a New Agency report, provide that Austria will undertake no measures looking to the increase in her military establishment without submitting them to Czecho-Slovakia for approval, and that in the event of war between Czechos and Hungary, Austria will supply munitions and material only to the former.

In addition, it is said that Czecho-Slovakia has agreed to furnish troops to aid Austria in securing German sections of Western Hungary.

HAD TO GO TO BED HEADACHES SO BAD

MILBURN'S LAXA-LIVER PILLS MADE HER WELL

When your liver gets sluggish and inactive, your whole health suffers. Your bowels become constipated, your head aches, your tongue is coated, breath bad, specks float before the eyes, you are bilious, have heartburn, water-brash, pain under the right shoulder, muddy and brown spotted complexion, etc.

Help the liver to resume its proper function by removing the bile that is circulating in the blood and poisoning the system.

Mrs. E. Bainbridge, 80 Maple Ave., Amherst, N.S., writes: "I take pleasure in writing you of the good I received by using Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills for headaches. I was so bad I had to go to bed, and could not sit up. A friend told me about your wonderful medicine, and two vials have made me as well as I can be."

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills are small and easy to take, do not gripe, weaken or sicken, do not leave any bad after-effects. Price 25c. a vial at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Voice Of The People

Sir,—For some time this thought has been running through my mind—What has the War done for our country spiritually? When we think of the grand, noble young men who, in the prime of life, gave up their lives so willingly that our country might be saved, that you and I might go on living in comfort, and now our other noble young men come home, and what do they find? The people who have been home enjoying all those comforts, completely carried off their feet—yes, I might say gone mad over dancing, card parties, etc. Many are the young men who have said to me, had there been more praying and less card playing, many a noble young man who has been ushered into eternity would have been enjoying their own home to-day. Then, sad to relate, the mothers, fathers, and sisters are among those who have so soon forgotten. The so-called Christians of to-day say there is no harm in dancing, card playing, etc. They tell me, where lies the difference to-day in the Christian and the non-Christian? Christian, what thinkest the Lord of thee? I think I hear some say, "Some narrow-minded person wrote that." But we can well afford to be called narrow-minded by such. What thinkest the Lord of thee? How far we seem to be getting away from imitating the life of Him Who gave His life that you and I might be saved. Have we forgotten that? He sees—He knows all. S. A. J. E.

To the Editor of The Examiner.

Sir,—It has been my humble wish to do what I could to aid the churches in their mighty effort to throw off materialism, so prominently set forth at present in many ways.

As a contribution to this determined effort to rescue us from the new temptation, I ask you to publish the following as an advertisement for one week:

"These five separate communions are of one mind as to their belief in God the Father Almighty, maker of Heaven and Earth, and in Jesus Christ His Son, our Lord. They now declare to their respective constituencies, and also unitedly to the Canadian people that the only effective Method of Making Good Citizens is by urging men to a more faithful practice of Christianity by inculcating personal faith in Jesus Christ. They insist that there is no other dependable way of correcting evil tendencies in individual and national life. Signed by the United National Campaign, representing the simultaneous but independent Forward Movements of the Anglican, Baptist, Congregational, Methodist, and Presbyterian Communions of Canada."

BATTLING PETERBORO KIDS TIE ROUND WITH LINDSAY

HELD COCKY MIDGETS TO A 4 TO 3 SCORE LAST NIGHT IN SPITE OF FACT THAT LINDSAY BROUGHT KELLY, THE STAR FORWARD OF LAST YEAR'S TEAM DOWN FROM VARSITY FOR THE GAME—SCORE ON ROUND IS 23-23.

(Special to The Examiner.)

LINDSAY, Jan. 24. — 500 enthusiasts saw a fast and scintillating game here last night between the Peterborough juniors and the Midgets, when the visitors succeeded in doing the unexpected by holding the Midgets down to a tie on the round. Even the visitors were dubious about the result, but took advantage of the over-confidence of Garnett and Co. to play a steady, hard-checking game with enough rushing to keep them in the running.

Lindsay lost the game in the first period when Peterborough succeeded in keeping the score two to two. In the second period Lindsay had the edge on the play, but only scored once, leaving the score three to two. The last period was a tiny battle all by itself. The Midgets tore in to bring down district honors, but it was minutes before they succeeded in slipping one past Bergoine. This put them one in the lead on the round. The balance of the game was hard fought and there were a few casualties, Lindsay suffering the worst when Gross was laid out and retired for a spell. Then Kelly was hard-checked and went off. Three minutes before time Foley handled himself well in a long rush and bulged the nets for Peterborough's third goal, which tied the round.

Lindsay brought reinforcements from Toronto to win the game, Ross Kelly, the star centre of last year's team, who is a student at Varsity, subbing. He was good, a Trojan to work and scored two goals. Garnett was too closely watched to be really effective, and seldom got through the visiting defence. Bell was on the fence too much to be of signal use to his team. For the Petes Foley was good, although he received two stiff checks early in the game. Bergoine was right on, the first two counters slipping past him on flukes. Sheehan was, as usual, fast and effective.

The line-ups:

THE AUBURN SIX WON AN EASY VICTORY IN CITY LEAGUE

THE BELMONTS AND C.G.E. TOOL-ROOM CAME ALONG AND PROVIDED A BETTER EXHIBITION.

In the first game of the City League fixtures last night the Auburn six won an easy victory over the Business College, defeating them 16 to 5.

The game was as one-sided as the score shows and the main attraction for the fans was to watch the northerners shove the rubber into the Business College goal, and the downtown six attempt to break through the enemy's lines, each player taking turns with the puck.

The game had hardly started before Williams had slipped the puck past Daynard, followed a minute later by another from Tudhope. Auburn broke away again, but were chased off by the Business College who were working for all they were worth. Finally "Gamey" Graham got his stick on the rubber in a general mix-up at Daynard's nets and shoved it in. Anderson got away in a neat rush and went clean through the Auburn lads and scored, followed a minute later by Field, who repeated the dose. 'Mickey' Williams got the puck just before the bell rang and raised the score to 4-2.

The second period was just one goal after another for the Auburn and one wild nightmare for their opponents. The pace was fast all the way through and the Business College worked hard, but were out-skated, out-stick-handled and out-matched every way, but they never stopped working. Finally, when the Northerners had run up some six or seven counters, Field got the puck on a pass at Legros' nets, and when everybody was looking for the puck he stood there apparently deliberating whether to shoot or not. "Shoot" shouted Walter Jackson, lost in the game, and forgetting his important and dignified post. He shot and scored. Before the end of the period the Auburns had slammed in four or five more and missed as many more. Both teams were travelling fast and furious when the period ended.

The third period was a battle from the first face-off, with both teams doing their best. The Business College came on stronger than ever and the period was the liveliest one in the game. Laplante finally got the rubber, and in a brilliant shot lifted it past Legros. The Auburns countered, but their rush was broken and Carson got the rubber and scored again for the College six.

McMartin got the puck after the face-off and in a clever rush carried it right through and scored, and a few minutes later repeated the process.

The game was now just one mad rush up and down the ice, one man carrying the puck and all the rest after him. Both teams secured another counter before the bell rang. The final wind-up was 16 to 5.

The line-ups were:

Canadian Woollens.—Goal, Legros; centre, Williams; right wing, H. Graham; left wing, F. Graham; defence, McMartin and Tudhope; subs, Jackson and Rutherford.

Second Game.

The second game between the Belmont Club and the C.G.E. Tool-room was a real battle all the way. Both teams were well watched and the game was fast hockey from the start and although the final score gave the C.G.E. three goals to the good, the Belmont boys gave them a lively run. The final score was 8 to 5.

On the Belmont side, Holyman, the clever goal-minder, was perhaps the most useful player, and time and again stopped the rubber by his clever stick-handling or by nabbing it in mid-air. Gillespie on right wing was a strong forward, and Wright at centre was a hard worker and checker. Head and Murray on the defence were the mainstay of the line-up and saved the Club boys from a worse defeat.

On the opposite line-up Barrie was the strongest player, but Barclay on defence was a good goal getter and worked hard. The Butcher brothers are a gerat combination, and Helson and Duggan on defence had a lot of work to do.

Within the first two minutes of the game Head scored for the Belmonts, followed by Barrie for the C.G.E. The score now was tied and both teams did their best to break it and travelled at top speed. Finally Barclay got away and scored from a pass. The score was now 2 to 1 in favor of C. G.E. and it remained unchanged the rest of the period.

The Belmonts entered the second period, resolved to change the score and this they did, shoving one past Butcher the first few minutes, tieing the score again. The teams were working with all their might now, and both succeeded in getting another counter apiece. Holyman was given plenty of work to do and saved the day lots of times for the Belmonts. At last Duggan slipped one past him, but Gillespie got away and in a clever rush scored, making the score 4 to 4 at the end of the second period.

The third period found both teams travelling in high gear and working hard to break the tie. Duggan and Barclay in a rush broke through, Duggan passed and Barclay scored. C.G.E. followed by another counter in a minute, but Butcher dropped another past Holyman. The score was now 7-4 and the Belmonts were working for all they were worth to level the score, but Butcher scored again. The Belmonts got one more counter, but Head, their captain, suffered a severe cut on the wrist and was disabled just as the bell rang. The teams were:

Memorial Hall.

A public meeting is called for Monday evening in the Queen street theatre to discuss the cost of the Memorial Hall and also to decide whether or not the work will be suspended until spring. With the present high cost of fuel the expense of heating the hall for the workmen would amount to several hundred dollars and public opinion seems strongly in favor of the building being closed for the winter months.

The New Dam.

Work on the new dam will be commenced in the spring and it is hoped that there will be no unnecessary delay as the present dam is in a very unsafe condition. A new concrete dam will be built and it is expected, will be built on the site of the present dam.

WATCH YOUR STEP

Moving with a swing and an enthusiasm that leaves nothing to be desired, Irving Berlin's international syncopated musical success entitled "Watch Your Step," will come to the Grand Wednesday Evening Only.

"Watch Your Step" is well turned for from the rise of the first curtain until the finish it is "step lively" all the time. It is a melange of tuneful music, tangoes, one-steps, fox-trots and waltzes, and there is a zest on the part of each members of the company from principals to the most humble member of the chorus.

In addition to being full to completeness with music of the most catchy and haunting variety, "Watch Your Step" possesses the most captivating of humor, interpreted by real performers. It has been staged with elaborate attention to scenic effect and the costumes are new, stunning and were designed by the celebrated Helen Dryden, who designs all the covers for "Vogue" magazines.

"Watch Your Step" is in every sense of the word a metropolitan organization, with a distinguished cast and chorus, including twenty-four of the most beautiful young women that have ever left New York with a traveling musical organization, and is positively one of the very best attractions on tour this season.

SENSATIONAL RACE WON BY A GIRL JOCKEY IN "CHECKERS"

The scene is the Belmont race track. Crowds are surging to and fro. Odds are posted, jockeys are waiting to be weighed. The rider of Remorse, a rank outsider, is blinded by rivals. A young girl suddenly steps forward, dons his attire and mounts the entry.

The judge gives the signal. The bell sounds for the horses to enter the track. They go to the post. They are off.

Excitement is intense. They are neck and neck at the half-way post. Finally Silver Dollar and Remorse pull away from the rest and ride close to the rail. Both horses fight for the rail. Silver Dollars' jockey strikes Remorse with a riding crop. The animal falls, and throws the rider.

She springs up makes a flying leap and gains the mount as he is ready to dash away. She quiets him, rides for dear life and gets under the wire, winner of the rich stake.

The grand stand rise and cheer wildly. They do not know the jockey is a girl. This is the big sensational scene in the Fox version of "Checkers," the Fox special production to be shown at the Allen Theatre Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. It is a film version of the play which enjoyed such phenomenal success for years.

STIRRING ROMANCE OF NORTHWEST MOUNTED POLICE IS SCREENED

James Oliver Curwood, writer of rugged, stirring romances of the Northwest wilderness, big game hunter and authority on matters pertaining to the Arctic, has another of his best known works screened by Vitagraph in "Beauty Proof," the Harry T. Morey picture which will be shown in the Empire theater on Monday. It is an adaption of "Philip Steele of the Northwest Mounted", declared one of the most faithful and fascinating stories ever written about this world famous body of man hunters.

Mr. Morey, as Steele, has a role that tests his dramatic as well as his physical strength, and every scene rings true of the Northwest. Splendid snow scenes, dog sleds and voyageds on snowshoes add charm to the picture, which was directed by Paul Scardon last winter in the wildest sections of northern New York state.

In the supporting cast are Betty Blythe, George Majeroni, Denton Vane and Robert Gaillard.

FRIENDLY ENEMIES

A. H. Woods, the greatest of theatrical managers, whose world-famous success "Friendly Enemies" will be presented at the Grand tonight, has the following to say regarding the unknown playwright—

"The phrase 'unknown playwright' is a paradox. If he is really a playwright he will not be long unknown. Every manager will welcome him with open arms. Let him establish his right to the term and fame and money will pour in upon him.

"But every man who essays to write a play is not a playwright. There are a million versifiers, but poets are rare. All men are ambitious, but they usually seek ways of escape for which they are not fitted. The most popular way is the writing of plays. It is, of course, true that many good plays by obscure writers encounter difficulty in getting before the public. That is inevitable. But anybody who has ever stood directly in the way of the torrent of trash that pours into a manager's office will realize the labor involved in finding the occasional good play among the thousands of bad ones.

"The best plays, moreover, are by known playwrights. Year after year we find a half dozen authors turning out success after success. They know their craft: they know the stage and the public. Of course, they were unknown once, but they were playwrights and they had 'the goods.'"

OTTAWA, Jan. 23. — Concluding that the maintenance throughout Canada of a flat price of 16 cents per pound for granulated sugar is impossible, by reason of the freight conditions, the Board of Commerce to-day amended the order of 8th January so that the sales of sugar by retailers at a price higher than 16 cents a pound plus freight, if any paid, will be deemed by the Board to have been made at a price which includes an unfair profit.

ONLY TABLETS MARKED "BAYER" ARE ASPIRIN

The name "Bayer" identifies the only genuine Aspirin,—the Aspirin prescribed by physicians for over nineteen years and now made in Canada.

Always buy an unbroken package of "Bayer Tablets of Aspirin", which contains proper directions for Colds, Headache, Toothache, Earache, Neuralgia, Lumbago, Rheumatism, Neuritis, Joint Pains, and Pain generally.

Tin boxes of 12 tablets cost but a few cents. Larger "Bayer" packages.

There is only one Aspirin—"Bayer"—You must say "Bayer"

Aspirin is the trade mark (registered in Canada) of Bayer Manufacture of Monoaceticacidester of Salicylicacid. While it is well known that Aspirin means Bayer manufacture, to assist the public against imitations, the Tablets of Bayer Company will be stamped with their general trade mark, the "Bayer Cross."

Photographs on Living Leaves.

A process of taking a photograph on the leaf of a plant is described in an article by Dr. Hans Molisch in Die Umschau, a translation of which appears in the Scientific American. Briefly, the process is as follows:

Fasten a negative with strong contrasts to a very smooth, thin, hairless growing leaf, such as the Indian cress, scarlet runner or nasturtium, and leave it exposed to strong sunlight for several hours. Then cut the leaf from the plant, steep it in boiling water for half a minute, then immerse it in warm 80 per cent alcohol. After a little time the leaf, now white, is immersed in a dilute tincture of iodine. The result is a positive photograph, often of surprising sharpness.

Try Making Your Own Cough Remedy

You can save about $2, and have a better remedy than the ready-made kind. Easily done.

If you combined the curative properties of every known "ready-made" cough remedy, you probably could not get as much real curative power as there is in this simple home-made cough syrup, which is easily prepared in a few minutes.

Get from any druggist 2½ ounces of Pinex (50 cents worth), pour it into a 16-oz. bottle and fill the bottle with syrup, using either plain granulated sugar syrup, clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, as desired. The result is 16 ounces of really better cough syrup than you could buy ready-made and saves easily $2. Tastes pleasant and never spoils.

This Pinex and Syrup preparation gets right at the cause of a cough and gives almost immediate relief. It loosens the phlegm, stops the nasty throat tickle and heals the sore, irritated membranes so gently and easily that it is really astonishing.

A day's use will usually overcome the ordinary cough and for bronchitis, croup, hoarseness and bronchial asthma, there is nothing better.

Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and has been used for generations to break up severe coughs.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.

FOR AUTUMN WEAR

Parisian Design That Is Smart and Original.

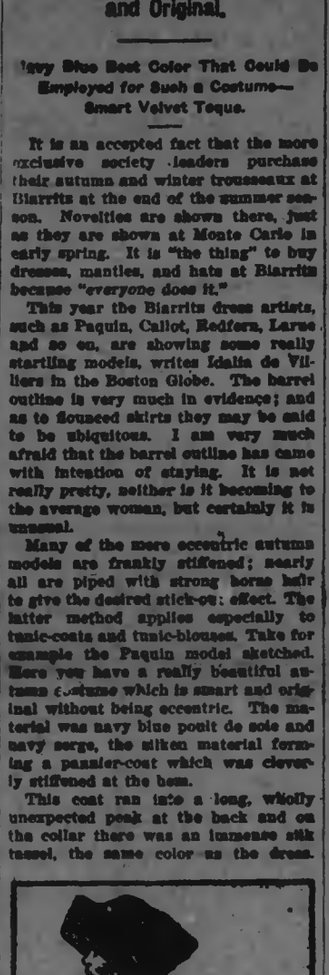
Navy Blue Best Color That Could Be Employed for Such a Costume—Smart Velvet Toque.

It is an accepted fact that the more exclusive society leaders purchase their autumn and winter trousseaux at Biarritz at the end of the summer season. Novelties are shown there, just as they are shown at Monte Carlo in early spring. It is "the thing" to buy dresses, mantles, and hats at Biarritz because "everyone does it."

This year the Biarritz dress artists, such as Paquin, Callot, Redfern, Larue and so on, are showing some really startling models, writes Idalia de Villiers in the Boston Globe. The barrel outline is very much in evidence; and as to flounced skirts they may be said to be ubiquitous. I am very much afraid that the barrel outline has come with intention of staying. It is not really pretty, neither is it becoming to the average woman, but certainly it is unusual.

Many of the more eccentric autumn models are frankly stiffened; nearly all are piped with strong horse hair to give the desired stick-out effect. The latter method applies especially to tunic-coats and tunic-blouses. Take for example the Paquin model sketched. Here you have a really beautiful autumn costume which is smart and original without being eccentric. The material was navy blue poult de soie and navy serge, the silken material forming a pannier-coat which was cleverly stiffened at the hem.

This coat ran into a long, wholly unexpected peak at the back and on the collar there was an immense silk tassel, the same color as the dress.



Pannier Coat in Thick Navy Blue Poult de Soie, Over Pleated Serge Skirt.

The serge skirt was finely plaited and moderately short and the coat opened over a beautiful waistcoat made of white glove kid and delicately embroidered in tiny jet beads.

The sleeves of the coat were short, and the idea was that very long black kid gloves, mousquetaire in style, were to be worn. This costume would look well if copied in serge throughout, the coat lined with silk or brocade, and the turn-over collar in dull black satin. Or the whole dress might be made of black satin, to be worn under a loose cape-wrap of duvetyn or velvet.

Please take special notice of the big velvet toque shown in this sketch. This is one of the latest models from the Maison Lewis of Biarritz, and it represents the toque of tomorrow. All the best Paris milliners are making large and very full toques, either in velvet or in tulle, with an effective touch of object-haired fur on the crown.

LAMENT OF LOCAL SMALLPOX PATIENT

The following lines were written by a Peterborough smallpox patient and presented to Dr. A. W. McPherson, Medical Officer of Health, who in turn presented it to the local Board of Health, and subsequently the press. It is a good argument in favor of vaccination:

Pencil in hand I will scribble this rhyme,
Just for the sake of passing the time.
I'm in a place where time goes slow

There's big ones, little ones— black and white,
Take it from me I am a sight,
My hands and my feet are covered, too,
For a real disease this beats the Flu.

I never had lumps on my head before
But now I have about twenty-four,
If they stopped right there it would not be so bad
But when you sit down you must use a pad.

So you're sore in the head and sore in the seat
And you can't move at all when they
If it weren't for lots of hot water and grease go to your feet,
A man wouldn't have a minute's peace.

I started this rhyme just to pass a minute,
But perhaps there may be some good in it.
For if you are well, when this you have seen,
Go to a doctor and get some vaccine.

I'd sooner take a shot in the arm
With little, if any, chance for harm,
Than spend three weeks in a place like jail
With no chance whatever of getting bail.

—F. McMahon.

FOR LINEN CUSHION COVER

A linen cushion cover may be quickly embroidered in white wash silk or flax thread with insertion of cluny lace.

Should a touch of color be desired, the cover might be drawn over a colored cushion which would show through the lace. Allow a frill at each end and line this with the same color as the cushion. Tie with a colored cord.

Another finish for an edge is a band of its own material put on the bias. Place a thick sheet of cotton wadding under the cover which you have embroidered. Both the appearance and the feeling of the cushion are improved by this addition.

AVERAGE WEEK AT THE LABOUR BUREAU

NINETY-NINE POSITIONS OPEN—SHORTAGE FEMALE HELP.

It has just been an average week, said Mr. H. Robinson, of the Labor Bureau to the Examiner this morning. During the week 43 men were placed out of 58 applicants. There is still a great demand for domestics and factory workers in the women's department, Mr. Robinson said, but as far as office positions go there are more girls than jobs. Four applications were received in the women's department, one from a stenographer, one cook, one domestic and one textile worker. All the applicants were placed except the stenographer. We have one position open for a housekeeper. In all there are 99 positions open.

PRICES UNCHANGED ON LOCAL MARKET

The cold weather coupled with the bad roads resulted in a very small market to-day, only about a dozen sleighs being lined up on the outside market.

Butter sold at 68 cents and eggs commanded 80 cents but some were sold at 75 cents.

Chickens are up a little this week selling for 32, 33 an some at 35 cents a pound. Only one or two geese were obtainable these selling for 35 cents a pound.

Beef sold at 16 to 19 cents a lb., and pork sold for 26 to 28 cents a pound, but some asked 30 cents.

No potatoes were brought in and one farmer only had anything except meat. His turnips and carrots brought 40 cents a peck.

Home Wrinkle Recipe— Astonishing Results

Such startling, sensational results come from a very simple, harmless home-made wrinkle-remover, there's no excuse now for anyone wearing those hateful marks of age, illness or worry. No need fooling with worthless pastes, creams, nor "skin foods" which don't feed the skin. No need rubbing, massaging, steaming—senseless methods which expand and loosen skin and underlying tissue, aggravating a wrinkled, flabby condition. Better, saner, surer, is the scientific saxolite formula. Thousands have successfully tried it—thousands freed of wrinkles, enlarged pores, saggy cheeks, double chin—thousands younger looking, happier!

All you need do is to dissolve one ounce of powdered saxolite in one-half pint witch hazel, and bathe your face in this. The effect is almost magical. Even deepest crow's feet completely, quickly vanish. Skin becomes firm, smooth, fresh looking—bears no trace of treatment except that of enhanced beauty. Get these inexpensive ingredients at your druggist's and try this marvelous saxolite lotion today.

A NOTED JAPANESE EVANGELIST TO SPEAK IN PETERBORO

A great Inter-Church meeting in connection with the Forward Movement will be held in Murray street Baptist Church on Monday evening at eight o'clock. It will be preceded by denominational conferences in the afternoon when representatives from the City congregations and surrounding districts will meet for final consideration and plans for the canvass which will be made in the week beginning February 9th. Monday night's meeting will be an open rally of all the working forces of the city. It will be addressed by the Rev. John Neil D. D., past Moderator of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church, and by the Rev. Paul Kanamori, the celebrated Japanese evangelist. He is spoken of as the Moody of Japan and it is estimated that over 40,000 of his countrymen have been won to Christ through his instrumentality. An invitation is extended to all interested to attend.

SAYS ACID STOMACH CAUSES INDIGESTION

Excess of hydrochloric acid sours the food and forms gases.

Undigested food delayed in the stomach decays, or rather, ferments the same as food left in the open air says a noted authority. He also tells us that Indigestion is caused by Hyper-acidity, meaning, there is an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach which prevents complete digestion and starts food fermentation. Thus everything eaten sours in the stomach much like garbage sours in a can, forming acrid fluids and gases which inflate the stomach like a toy balloon. Then we feel a heavy, lumpy misery in the chest, we belch up gas, we eructate sour food or have heartburn, flatulence, water-brash or, nausea.

He tells us to lay aside all digestive aids and instead, get from any pharmacy four ounces of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and drink while it is effervescing and furthermore, to continue this for a week. While relief follows the first dose, it is important to neutralize the acidity, remove the gas-making mass, start the liver, stimulate the kidneys and thus promote a free flow of pure digestive juices.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and sodium phosphate. This harmless salts is used by thousands of people for stomach trouble with excellent re-

LIQUOR SHIPMENT FROM THE STATES

LARGE CONSIGNMENT REACHES VANCOUVER FOR DISTRIBUTION.

(Special to The Examiner.)

VANCOUVER, B.C., Jan. 24.—The first large shipment of liquor to reach Vancouver from the United States this year came to-day aboard the steam schooner Mukilteo. Literally a liquor ship she carried more than four hundred and fifty tons of wet goods. The duty being paid this afternoon will run over half a million dollars. The wet goods and California wines in the shipment are consigned to scores of firms in Vancouver, but the crowning feature of the importation is contained in two hundred kegs of one hundred gallons each. That this whiskey is fairly aged is shown in the marking for inspection by the U. S. Revenue Department with the date of May 30, 1912. The names of many leading citizens already suspected of being proprietors of generous cellars, are to be seen on the keg heads. Some of the liquor was 150 over proof, which ran up the duty bad on a minimum of $2.40 per gallon.

BURNS ANNIVERSARY

"COMING EVENTS CAST THEIR SHADOWS BEFORE THEM" IN HEINTZMAN HALL.

The Peterborough Caledonian Club has undertaken to celebrate Burns' Birthady on Monday next, Jan. 26th, in the Empress Hotel. Interesting light is thrown upon the coming event by an appropriate exhibit in the cosy corner of the vestibule of Heintzman Hall The centre-piece of this interesting exhibit is a sepia reproduction of the beloved poet, with this data—Born 25th January, 1759, died 21st January, 1796. At either sides is a unique stucco representation of Burns' cottage, Alloway, Ayr, and the interior of the Burns' cottage, showing the poet's bedroom. This exhibit is surrounded with five selected musical records of the following favorite selections from Burns' poems:

"F'low Gently Sweet Afton."
"Auld Lang Syne."
"Ye Banks and Brae O' Bonnie Doon."
"John Anderson My Joe."
"Scots Wha Hae Wi' Wallace Bled."

SLAIN BOSTON POLICEMAN CARRIED U.S. FLAG AT VIMY

Patrodman Clancy Was Formerly a Member of Princess Pats.

(Canadian Press.)

BOSTON, Jan. 24.—Search for the dancing gunman who killed Patrolman Wm. G. Clancy, in the midst of a ballroom throng early yesterday morning was still without success to-day.

Clancy claimed to have been the first man to carry the United States' flag "over the top" in the world war. In the first year of the war he went to Montreal from his home in Massachusetts and joined the Princess Pats. At Vimy Ridge, on the morning of April 9, 1917, hearing that the United States had entered the war he took a small American flag which he carried in his kit, and attached it to his bayonet.

AN EXCELLENT MEDICINE FOR LITTLE ONES

Baby's Own Tablets are an excellent medicine for little ones. They are a mild but thorough laxative, which sweeten the stomach and regulate the bowels thus bringing relief in cases of constipation, indigestion, colic, colds and simple fevers. Concerning them Mrs. L. J. Chiasson, Paquetville, N. B., writes: "I have found Baby's Own Tablets excellent for my young baby in the case of constipation and colic and it gives me great pleasure to recommend them to other mothers." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25c a box from The Dr. Wiliams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

WHERE LADIES COUNT.

LONDON, Eng.—The Westminster Profiteering Committee dismissed a complaint of overcharge for corsets, for which W. A. Kimpton, of Norbury was charged $3.97. He put their value at $1.50. Lady members of the committee, however, thought they were excellent value for the price charged.

Stop That Pain!

Why suffer—and, in suffering, neglect an ailment which may cost you your life?

Such things should not be. Pain has one purpose only—to show you where the trouble is. It is up to you to make it right.

Many aches and pains are due to Kidney trouble. Backache, pains in the side, headaches day after day, rheumatism, lumbago, neuralgia, sciatica — may be traced in almost every instance to uric acid and poisons which the kidneys have failed to take out of the blood. Weak kidneys also account for stone in the bladder, dizziness, sleeplessness and that tired-out, dragged-out feeling which is so fatal to your work.

Gin Pills will Stop the Pain

They have a wonderful action on the kidneys, soothing congestion, healing inflammation, rebuilding tissue, and enabling the delicate organs to resume their work of filtering the waste and poison from the blood.

Gin Pills FOR THE KIDNEYS

They contain no alcohol, but all the beneficial properties of the Juniper Berry, and seven other helpful diuretics and antiseptics.

"I suffered with pains in the back, and also had Kidney Trouble," writes Preston Nurse, 437 W. 35th St., New York City. "Five doctors failed to relieve me. Then I tried Gin Pills, and in two weeks I found great relief. They are an excellent remedy."

What's Bone Dry —What's Not?

Not every storage battery that is called "bone dry" is really shipped and stored in bone-dry condition.

These batteries are not bone dry.

Come in and get straight from us the story of Willard Threaded Rubber Insulation, the only form of insulation that permits of bone-dry shipment and storage of automobile starting, lighting and ignition batteries.

Annual General Meeting

The Annual General Meeting of the Shareholders of the Toronto Savings and Loan Company was held at the Head Office of the Company, 437 George Street, Peterborough, on Friday, the 23rd Day of January, 1920, at 2 o'clock p.m.

Directors Report

The Directors have pleasure in submitting to the Shareholders their Thirty-fifth Annual Report, showing the result of the Business for the past year, accompanied by the Balance Sheet to the 31st December, 1919.

After payment of Interest on Deposits and Debentures, and all expenses of Management, there remain Net Earnings amounting to $148,389.26. This amount, together with the balance brought forward in Profit and Loss Account from the year 1918 of $34,604.12, makes a total of $182,993.38, which amount has been disposed of in the following manner:

1. By payment of Four Quarterly Dividends at the rate of 10% for the year, amounting to	$100,000.00
2. By Bonus of 4% for the year on $1,000,000.00 Paid-Up Capital	40,000.00
3. By Balance left in Profit and Loss Account	42,993.38
Total	$182,993.38

The Reserve Fund stands at $1,100,000.00.

The balance carried forward in Profit and Loss Account is $42,993.38, as against $34,604.12 brought forward from last year.

All payments maturing during the year on the Company's investments have been satisfactorily met, and the rentals from the property owned by the Company have also been promptly paid. The Books, Accounts, and Securities of the Company have been carefully examined by the Auditors, and their Report is attached to the Financial Statement.

Severe Earthquake Shock Reported in British Columbia

VANCOUVER WAS AFFECTED—TELEPHONE SERVICE OUT OF COMMISSION

DAMAGE SLIGHT

(Canadian Press.)

VANCOUVER, Jan. 24.— One of the most severe earthquakes that ever visited this vicinity shook the city shortly after eleven o'clock last night. People rushed from buildings, but up to the present no damage has been reported beyond some telephones being put out of commission. Victoria reported feeling the same shock almost at the moment it occurred here, and similar reports came from Nanaimoa a little later. Some people thought there had been an explosion in the Nanaimo coal mines.

The quake lasted about five seconds. The motion was lateral. Several distinct side to side vibrations occurred, apparently in east and west direction. The shock was felt most severely in high buildings, a few bricks falling from tops of chimneys.

(Canadian Press.)

SEATTLE, Jan. 24.—Three distinct earthquake shocks were felt here at 11.08 last night. Tremors exteuded through Washington and British Columbia at Bellingham, Wash., windows were broken and brick walls were cracked. No damage was reported in Seattle.

A pronouced earthquake shock, described by F. N. Denyson, superintendent of the Dominion Observatory, was of local origin. It was felt here last night at 11.10, the duration being of five seconds. The centre of the disturbance was either the Straits of Juan De Fuca or the Strait of Georgia. It was felt at all island points communicated with, but no damage was reported. Considerable alarm was occasioned here as some thought there had been an explosion on James' Island.

CONSTRUCTING THE NEW RAILWAY SIDING

Work has been commenced on the new G. T. R. siding into the Aladdin Co's Plant south of the Henry Hope Co. and is progressing favourably in spite of its cold weather and hard ground. Some blasting has been done and a gang of men are busy excavating. This siding will be about 400 yards long and switches off the Port Hope line of the G.T.R. right behind the De Laval and cuts through the market gardens behind the Henry Hope.

Mr. A. MacNab of the G.T.R. when interviewed by the Examiner stated that thework seemed to be progressing very satisfactorily. "How long will it take to complete it?" he was asked. "A month if the weather is suitable but if the weather is not there is no telling how long it will take," he replied.

CHIEF CAUSE OF DIVORCE

NEW PHOTOPLAY SHOWS IT TO BE A NEGLECTED, LONGING SPOUSE.

A noted cynic once said of marriage: "The first forty years are the hardest!"

That the married life of millions of people is unhappy is proved by the divorce records.

What are the reasons?

The film story, which is to be shown next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday at the Grand Theatre, was produced under the director of Eric Stroheim, who also plays the leading role.

In brief, the story shows how a so-called dutiful husband ground the embers of his wife's love in the dust of indifference an made her heart vulnerable to the advances of a love-buzzard.

The story of "Blind Husbands" was written by Stroheim from an incident that occurred under his observation while he was on a vacation tour in the Alps.

several screen celebrities, among whom are Francelia Billington, Sam DeGrasse, H. Gibson-Gowland, Valerie Germonprez and Jack Perrin.

MAYOR MACBRIDE ISSUES A DEFI

CHALLENGES MESSRS. ROLLO AND TOOMS TO JOINT DEBATE IN TORONTO.

BRANTFORD, Jan. 24—The attention of Mayor MacBride, Labour M.P.P. of Brantford, having been called to the statement of Mr. Thomas Tooms, Labour M.P.P. for West Peterborough, the Brantford member issued the following statement:

"In order that there may be no misunderstanding as to our respective positions as true Labour men, I hereby challenge you to meet me in joint debate in the City of Toronto, in any hall which may be designated by the Mayor of Toronto, to full and free discussion of the infamous compact entered into by yourself and others whereby Labour has been delivered over heart and soul to the U.F.O. You may bring your friend, Mr. Rollo, as I am prepared to meet both of you on the same platform on the same night. The only condition I attach is that the chairman shall be impartial, and for that reason I have named the present Mayor of Toronto. I am prepared to trust the people. Are you, Mr. Tooms?"

Among the most unique stamps in the history of the world are the emergency postage stamps printed by the new Republic of Esthonia. The only stocks of paper on hand in Esthonia were those left behind by the general staff of the German army. So the new republic cut up the maps used them as postage stamps.

PREMIERS WILL MEET AND DECIDE UPON NEXT MOVE

(Canadian Press.)

PARIS, Jan. 24.— Conferences between British, French and Italian Premiers will be held before the next move in the proceedings to extradite the former Emperor William from Holland is decided upon. According to information given the Associated Press by the Foreign Office. Whether the next demand for the surrender of the erstwhile Kaiser will be directed to the Hague or Berlin will be the main subject to be determined by the three governments.

The next meeting of the Premiers will be held in London, but the Foreign Office expressed the opinion that the question would be settled through diplomatic channels between Rome, Paris and London. It is understood that at least one Premier is not averse to asking Berlin to call for a return of Count Hohenzollern to Germany and then demanding that Germany deliver him over to the Allies in accordance with article 228 of the Versailles Treaty.

Sentiment in official circles here is against such procedure, as there is no desire that the former Emperor return to Germany.

RECONSTRUCTION.

SUCCESSFUL EUCHRE AT SACRED HEART

About two hundred attended the euchre party given under the auspices of the Holy Name Society last evening in the basement of the Sacred Heart Church and the affair proved as usual a most successful event. At the conclusion of the game and the presentation of suitable prizes, dainty refreshments were served.

BAD COLD

However slight a cold you have you should never neglect it; if you do it can have but one result. It leaves the throat or lungs, or both, affected.

Bronchitis is one of the most common affections of a neglected cold, and neglected bronchitis the most general cause of consumption.

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup is just the remedy you require to cure the bronchitis. It does this by loosening the phlegm and mucous, and stimulates the weakened bronchial organs, allays irritation and subdues inflammation, soothes and heals the irritated parts and thus prevents it becoming chronic.

Mr. R. P. Sandblad, Francis, Sask., writes:—"I had a very bad cold which left me with bronchitis. I tried several cough remedies and oils of all kinds, but they all failed. At last I got Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup and after using two bottles I have never had a sign of bronchitis since. I therefore can honestly recommend it for coughs and colds."

Don't accept a substitute for Dr. Wood's. The genuine is put up in a yellow wrapper; 3 pine trees the trade mark, price 35c and 50c. Manufactured by The T. Milburn Co. Limited, Toronto, Ont.

What Is a Cough Cure Worth?

The value of such a cure can hardly be reckoned in dollars and cents. And yet for the small sum of 60c a bottle there is now obtainable a preparation that rids the system of Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Asthma, Hoarseness and Influenza.

Buckley's White Bronchitis Mixture is the name by which this remedy is known. It is not a syrup but a scientific preparation guaranteed to bring speedy relief and certain cure even in cases of long standing.

Behind every bottle sold is the maker's money-back guarantee. The name Buckley on the carton is the purchaser's assurance of the genuine White Bronchitis Mixture. Sold by all good druggists. Price 60c a bottle; mailed for 75c, or three bottles for $1.75.

BRITISH TRANSPORT BRINGS A SHIPLOAD OF STRICKEN PASSENGERS—SEVERAL DIED EN ROUTE.

A TRAGIC STORY

(Canadian Press.)

MONTREAL, Jan. 26. — A London cable to the Montreal Gazette says a tragic story of the outbreak of disease was told on the arrival at Plymouth of the transport Melita bringing from India, officers and 800 men of various regiments, besides women and children.

The epidemic broke out when the ship was between Bombay and the Red Sea, and altogether 100 to 150 men were stricken. In the Red Sea Major-General Healey succumbed.

Four soldiers and one woman passenger also died and after the vessel came to anchor in Plymouth Sound, Colonel Douglas Clark, in command of the West Kent Regiment, died after a few days' illness.

"NOT MAN ENOUGH TO OWN UP AND SAVE INNOCENT MAN," SAID CONDEMNED IN LETTER TO MOTHER

(Special to Examiner.)

MONTREAL, Que. Jan. 26.—Though three have paid the death penalty, for the murder of farmer Payette, the guilty man may be still unhung. This dreadful thought is indicated by the reading of a letter written by young Allan, the 17 year old boy, the day before his execution. Allan in his letter to his mother bewails the fact that the man who did the killing was not man enough to own up and save innocent men, and says: "well, if he does not pay in this world, he will pay it in the next". Two men Laporte and Porier, who were in the gang of five turned King's evidence and were allowed off. It is thought Allan hints that one of them may be guilty.

THE CALL FROM ARMENIA

ARMENIANS LIVED FOR WEEKS ON ROOTS, LEAVES AND DANDELIONS—GHASTLY SUFFERINGS—FUND IS INCREASING.

The Lord Mayor of London issues a printed appeal to the people of England for money to save the Armenian refugees. The Committee administering the Lord Mayor's Fund says its agents report that thousands of adults and children have existed for weeks on roots, leaves, and dandelions. "The olive-green colour of their skin and their deep-sunken eyes testify to their ghastly sufferings. That these poor people—mad with hunger—have in many cases eaten the flesh from the bodies of their dead comrades needs no further proof than the reports which have reached us from our own representatives in Armenia." This dreadful statement is embodied in the literature issued by the Lord Mayor's Committee pleading for subscriptions "for the honour of England."

There is a message of hope in the despatches announcing that the British Government has agreed to throw an army across the Caucasus from the Black Sea to the Caspian Sea. While the primary object is to prevent an irruption of Bolshevist forces into Asia Minor, the British barrier will safeguard the Armenians by preventing a junction of the Russians with the army, or rabble, of Young Turks still following the leadership of Enver Pasha. Lenin has no interest in Armenia, but has been in touch with Enver Pasha, with the aim of using the Young Turks in carrying his warfare against the Allies, especially Great Britain, into Mesopotamia and Persia (Britain's ally), and to the gates of India.

Despatches the other day asserting that Enver Pasha had fomented a Bolshevist uprising in Baluchistan and Turkestan show that the plot is developing. If the Russians and Turks clasped hands it would be over the graves of the remnant of Armenians who escaped the Turkish massacres. The great natural rampart of the Caucasus may be held by a comparatively small defensive force. Behind this British line the Armenians will have a chance of survival, as the Turks, unaided, cannot carry on another war of extermination. The duty of humanity is to succour the remaining Armenians until they can rebuild their national life on secure foundations.

THE WEATHER

Saturday night's lowest temperature was 24 degrees below zero, and the thermometer was considerably below zero most of Sunday. The lowest on Sunday night was also 24 below. Towards morning the weather moderated somewhat and at daybreak it was 10 below. Every day since the 14th inst., has shown below zero. To those interested it may be said that the barometer yesterday stood at a higher point than it has done for 12 years, and went up to over 30 inches. This means that a pronounced high pressure area was passing over this section and that the air was particularly heavy.—W. P.

WHAT DO YOU THINK OF THIS?

The boys was tickled the other day when that Havelock man I told you of came back with two of his friends to have them also get some of our good remedies. They took back with them two bottles of Blood Purifier, two 50 cent bottles of Cough Syrup, and a bottle of Kidney Remedy. He remarked as he went out with his friends, "Herbal Remedies for me". That's the right kind of testimonial isn't it? Tell your dealer to stock these remedies or you will deal somewhere else.—Your friend Jack Spell. 2d 27-30-1w-5

Political Opinion

ONE METHOD OF OBTAINING WHAT IS SAID TO BE A CORRECT EXPRESSION.

SINGLE VOTE

Special to Examiner.

OTTAWA, Jan. 26. — That there was no better method of obtaining an absolutely correct reflection of the political opinion of the people in the choice of representatives to the House of Commons, the Provincial Legislatures, municipal bodies and school boards, than the method of proportionate representation, otherwise known as the single transferable vote, was the opinion expressed by Mr. Hammett Hill, M.P.P., for West Ottawa, in the course of an address delivered at the Russell Theatre, last night during the G. W. V. A. Sunday concert.

In the recent provincial elections in Ontario the voting showed that the number of candidates elected by each party was proportionate to the total vote given to the candidates of each party. Mr. Hill remarked that the day was not far distant when the system of proportionate representation would be adopted for the provincial elections in Ontario as the United Farmers, Labor and the Liberals had pledged themselves to support its adoption.

MACBRIDE AGAIN CHALLENGES ROLLO

NAMES ST. CATHARINES AS PLACE WHERE BOTH COULD GET FAIR HEARING.

BRANTFORD, Jan. 26.—"I want to say that the report of Walter Rollo's Friday night meeting in Hamilton at last contains no new that he is one of the most consistent cowards I ever met," was the caustic comment of Mayor MacBride, M.P.P., this morning. "The difficulty with Mr. Rollo is that he has already ascribed three different reasons for my bolt from the joint conference. In November last he said it was because I wanted to be Minister of Labour. Previous to that he said it was because I was going over to the Opposition. Now he has evidently had another brainstorm and brought forth that cock and bull story about the Attorney-Generalship.

"Such an improbable yarn could only be believed temporarily by people with short memories. Any person who will but refer back to that first meeting of the Labour group in Hamilton will find at once that the question of Cabinet representation was not even discussed. The only reference to the question at all was contained in my opening remarks to the meeting, and I then and there proposed that Labour should not accept any Cabinet positions at all, but that we should remain an independent Labour unit, holding the balance of power. That, I submit, was the logical course for Labour to pursue, and subsequent events have shown that my contention was right.

"Even at this late date Mr. Rollo has to admit that he has been so busy listening to deputations of one kind or another, mostly farmer, and that the seat-hunting campaign has taken so much of his time that the much-needed Labour legislation is wholly unprepared for the coming session. Mr. Drury has said Labour does not want much, and Mr. Rollo told the committee from the Trades Congress not to expect too much. Fine combination. Rollo has attacked me so often and so maliciously, always behind my back, that the time has now come for a straight, clean show down. I therefore again challenge him to meet me, man to man, for a fair, free, and honest debate on the Labour issue. He has not accepted my Toronto chalenge, and I would, therefore, now name the City of St. Catharines as a place where both would be given a fair and impartial hearing. Will Mr. Rollo acept, or is my diagnosis of his calibre a correct one."

ROUTINE WORK

(Canadian Press)

PARIS, Jan. 26.—Reply to the refusal of Dutch Government to comply with the demand of the Allies for the surrender of former Emperor Wilhelm, was the first subject taken up with the initial meeting this morning of the Council of Ambassadors created to carry on unfinished routine work of Supreme Council which disbanded last week. It was decided that French legal experts should go into all aspects of the case and prepare a reply which will probably be submitted for the approval of council at the beginning of next week.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKETS

(United Press.)

NEW YORK, Jan. 26.—The Stock Market was irregular at the opening to-day.

U. S. Steels at 105 1-2 unchanged, Crucible at 225 1-2 up 1 1-4, American Smelting at 67 1-2 unchanged, American Locomotive 98 1-2 off 1-4, Baldwin 114 1-4 up 3-8, Republic 112 3-4 up 1-4, Chandler 127 up 12, Bethlehem B. 95 7-8 off 1-8, Central Leather 91 1-2 off 3-8, Studebaker 101 off 1-2, U. R. Stores 87 3-4 unchanged.

NEW YORK, Jan. 26.—New lows were made among important foreign exchange quotations on the market here to-day. In the early trading, demand sterling made a new low at $3.59 1-4, subsequently recovering to $3.60 1-4.

France Cheques dropped to a new low of 12.38, while lire cheques went down to a new low of 14.47, but later recovered to 14.44.

Marks were offered freely, and sold at a new low of $.0102.

As the Market entered the second hour, leaders reached prices in a majority of instances above Saturday's highs. Stocks that stood out were steels, equipments, high-priced oils, and paper issues. Mexican Petroleum sold above 200. Free Port Texas sold at 27 off 2. Last week's high was 32 1-2.

PAPER STOCKS.

Paper Stocks featured early trading and industrial paper at the end of the first half hour was selling at 85 up 2 3-4 net. American writing pref. advanced 2 to 57 1-2. International paper, despite large capacity, is turning down business because of inability to take care of contracts already on hand. Preliminary report on earnings for 1919 is expected shortly and the best opinion is it will show not far from $25 a share for common stock after taxes are deducted.

Important interests in International paper are sanguine that it is not too much to expect earnings for 1920 to approximate $40 a share for junior issue with some estimates running as high as 50 a share. Advances in American writing follows a 20 per cent advance in prices for its products.

Baldwin was in limited supply around 114.

FOREIGN EXCHANGE

(United Press)

NEW YORK, Jan 26.—The foreign exchange market opened weak. Demand sterling opened at $3.60 off 2 1-2; Francs and Lire made new lows at 12; 27 off 23 centimes and 14; 42 off 23 centimes respectively. Marks made a new low at 9 cents.

1,600 HELLO GIRLS IN CHICAGO HAVE THE "FLU."

Over 2,000 New Cases and 48 Deaths.

CHICAGO, Jan. 26.—With one out of every hundred persons in Chicago ill with influenza, according to health department estimates, Health Commissioner Robertson prepared to continue his offensive against the epidemic.

There were 2,193 new cases reported on Friday and 48 deaths. Cases of pneumonia total 341 with 53 deaths.

Three persons out of every four in New York City were born under alien flags.

EIGHT KILLED IN WRECK ON THE CANADIAN PACIFIC

ONE OF THE WORST ACCIDENTS THAT HAS EVER OCCURRED ON THE NORTH BAY DIVISION.

CAUSE UNKNOWN

(Special to The Examiner.)

NORTH BAY, Jan. 26.— One of the worst accidents that has ever occurred on the C.P.R., and the worst that has ever been on the North Bay division, occurred on Sunday morning at Cordeil, about eleven miles east of here. Number one, for Vancouver, was running in two sections owing to a large number of overseas passengers on their way to the west to meet relatives who had come out before. The first section had rounded a curve near Cordeil when the train stalled. Engineer Davidson, in charge of the first section, says he sent back a flagman and also had torpedoes placed on the track. The engineer in charge of the second section says he neither saw the flagman nor heard the torpedoes, and on rounding the curve saw the train, and his engine plunged into the van, telescoping it, and then into the Pulman, killing some eight outright, and injuring a number of others. A wire was at once sent to North Bay for assistanec and doctors and nurses were at once hurried to the scene in Supt. Scully's private car, about 4 p.m. One young Scotch girl going west to her mother, says she was sitting on the edge of her berth and the first thing she knew she was thrown through the window. She was badly cut in the face by glass. She was taken in charge by some of the townspeople. Supt. Scully and Assistant Supt. Boucher were on the scene of the wreck till a late hour last night.

Eight Killed.

(Canadian Press.)

The eight that number killed in the wreck yesterday on the Canadian Pacific railway near Cordeil at eight, but no list of names will be available until this afternoon. The injured number thirteen. Three men, two women and two children were killed when the collision took place and one other man died before the relief train reached here. Coroner D. A. Campbell opened an inquest at two o'clock this afternoon. The victims were all travelling in the last two standard sleepers of the first section. Passengers in the second section escaped with shakings and bruises. It is understood that the crew of the first section placed the customary torpedoes on the track behind their stalled train, but the crew of the second section claim they did not hear the signals and did not see the stalled train until their engine had rounded the curve a short distance away. Most of the victims, it is said, are westerners who were returning to their homes after visiting in eastern Ontario.

REPRIEVE FOR KITCHENER MAN

(Special to Examiner.)

KITCHENER, Jan. 26th. — A last minute reprieve for thirty days save Stockyo Boyeff from being hanged this morning. Word was received late last night from Ottawa by Sheriff Lacker to stay proceedings for thirty days. H. A. Secord, of Galt, who acted as counsel for Boyeff, at his trial, believed to have found a new clue which may have considerable bearing on the murder.

CAVE IN AND WATER IMPEDE DRILLING

PROGRESS SLOW IN EXCAVATION FOR PIER OF BRIDGE.

Like Dan Whetan's open winter is Mr. Frank Barber's January thaw—conspicuous by its inversion. Mr. Barber had informed the council that certain finishing touches to the eastern approach to the Hunter street bridge could be applied during the January thaw, which by inference was accepted as both a promise and a prophesy. The two-faced Janus has, however, been the undoing of minor local prognosticators, and in the meantime the seemingly endless stretch of zero weather has not only shut down practically all the work on the bridge but has also interfered with the soundings for a rock bottom that were begun last week in the excavation for the eastern pier of the long concrete arch. On Friday there was a cave-in that tied up progress for the time being and this morning it was reported that the river had flooded it, requiring the use of a pump to mop up the water.

It has been suggested that the borings for a rock or hard bottom would be accelerated by a steam drill and it is likely that this method will be used.

Ald. Hamilton, chairman of the Bridge Committee, said this afternoon that the work had been impeded by the severe conditions of the weather and by other obstacles. The drilling operator had hones of striking hard pan within a short distance of the present level of the excavation.

TOOK JOB FROM VETERAN.

Ontario Govt. Gave Kingston Motor License Perquisite to Agent.

KINGSTON, Jan. 26.— The Great War Veterans and the Army and Navy Veterans of this city are protesting against the action of the Provincial Motor Permit Department in cancelling the appointment of Wm. Bordeau, a veteran, who lost his leg at Vimy Ridge, and giving the position to a local real estate agent. The salary was $900 a year which with Mr. Bordeau's pension of $360 a year would have maintained him. The Toronto headquarters give as a reason for the change that the salary was small and the position would be better filled by one who has already an office and help.

SALTS IF BACKACHY AND KIDNEYS HURT

Stop eating meat for a while if your Bladder is troubling you.

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it generally means you have been eating too much meat, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and loggy. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels; removing all the body's urinous waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells; your stomach sours, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water scalds and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is a life saver for regular meat eaters. It is inexpensive, cannot injure and makes a delightful, effervescent lithia-water drink.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

FRIENDLY ENEMIES.

Those who attended the presentation of "Friendly Enemies" at the Grand on Saturday — unfortunately their numbers did not correspond with the excellence of the offering—not only enjoyed one of the most meritorious productions seen here in along period, but also came away with a much deeper appreciation of the German-American problem that Uncle Sam had to contend with during the great war. "Friendly Enemies" is based on this problem, for it deals with Americans of German birth, one of whom, Henry Block, is 100 per cent. American, the other, Karl Pfeiffer, who refuses to believe that the German people could be guilty of the atrocities for which the world knows them to have been responsible, and who clings to his faith in the Fatherland until the report that his only son has been lost in the sinking of a transport by German spies, opens his eyes to the truth. The frequent arguments between the two are as funny as the Potash and Perlmutter dialogues of the Montague Glass stories, and yet in the midst of the fun the figure of the loveable old Pfeiffer, blindly true in his allegiance to the Germany he left, is a pathetic one.

The part of Pfeiffer was most successfully taken by Henry J. Kooper, whose command of the German accent and whose quick response to every change in mood called for by the play made his work a constant delight. Equally finished was the characterization of Henry Block by Will H. Sloan. The two roles are long and exacting and in less capable hands the portrayal might have been broadened into a burlesque of the types the author pictured. Augusta Burmester contributed a life-like picture of Mrs. Pfeiffer. Ray Wilson was manly and convincing as the son— who incidentally was not dorwned after all—and as June Block Natalie Manning was most pleasing. Lewis Hartman gave a capital impersonation of the role of Walter Stewart, head of the German spy system.

'Friendly Enemies' was, in the accuracy in which its theme was developed and the smoothness and vividness with which it was acted, one of the most notable attractions the Grand has housed. Its popularity across the line is not hard to understand.

WAR CENSORSHIP NOW OFF BOOKS

But Post-Office Authority Continues Under Criminal Code.

OTTAWA, Ont., Jan. 26.—The censorship on books and literature generally, which was in operation during the war period and until a short time ago, has been removed. The question having arisen as to whether the removal of restrictions with regard to newspapers also applied to books, Col. Ernest Chambers, formerly chief press censor for Canada, was consulted. His reply was that there was no longer any censorship on books and which classes of literature. He explained that the post-office and customs departments had the authority to prohibit entry of literature which in any way contravened the criminal code just as before the war, but all other censorship regulations are off.

"Peterborough Presents Possibilities Unsurpassed."

MONDAY, JANUARY 26TH, 1920.

USING THE SUBS.

The Union cabinet, to use a sporting simile, is endeavouring to stay in the game by a liberal use of its substitutes. The regulars are shattered and exhausted, the captain of the team is away and may never come back to the contest, and in desperation the management announces daily changes in the line-up. The shifting about of the players makes team-work impossible, and the organization does not get results, but so long as it keeps going, the team members are satisfied. What the public thinks is another matter.

The latest change in the Cabinet is the selection of Hon. Hugh Guthrie as Minister of Militia succeeding General Mewburn. Mr. Guthrie has not been chosen because he knows anything about the militia department, but doubtless because being already a member of the Cabinet as Solicitor-General, it will not be necessary for him to contest a by-election to become Minister of Militia. Safety first is one of the Government's favorite slogans, and in the newest shuffle in the Cabinet the motto has been kept in mind. By-elections in the opinion of the Unionist ministers are very dangerous things with the country in its present mood and so they have taken no chances in the present case. Hon. Mr. Guthrie will continue as Solicitor-General until a successor can be safely selected.

THE ARMENIAN FUND.

A resident of Warsaw in sending a donation of $10.00 to the Armenian Fund asks some questions in regard to the Fund, particularly as to how the money is sent to those who are in need and as to the expenses involved in connection with the campaign. These are natural and proper questions and are gladly answered by the Examiner. The Canadian Armenian Relief Fund is very simple in its operations. There are absolutely no expenses in collecting the money; every cent subscribed goes to the relief work. Mr. D. A. Cameron, of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, Toronto, is the treasurer of the Fund. The subscriptions are placed in the Bank of Commerce to the credit of the Armenian Relief, and the Canadian Medical Missionaries in Constantinople and other points where they are in touch with the work are notified to draw upon the fund. The Canadian campaign was commenced only two weeks ago and already well over $100,000 has been subscribed. Last week a cable was sent to the Canadian relief workers placing $65,000 at their disposal, so that it will be seen that no time is being lost in making use of the generous contributions of the Canadian people. The effect of the campaign is immediate; there is absolutely no delay, nor is there any expense. The money will to the last dollar be used to aid the starving Armenians.

The local campaign has been splendid in its response to the call. Although no local committee was formed to carry on the effort, the people have quickly answered the appeal of the Examiner, and individuals and organizations have poured in their subscriptions until the Examiner Fund to-day is nearing the $3,000 mark.

THE 4TH BATTERY.

The announcement from Ottawa in regard to the re-organization of the Canadian artillery, particularly the statement that Peterborough is to be the headquarters of the 4th Brigade and of the 4th Battery, C.F.A., is of interest to citizens generally, but will be particularly pleasing to the many soldiers from this city who served with the guns overseas. The 4th Brigade, C.F.A. as announced, which will have its headquarters here, will include, in addition to the 4th Battery, which is to be a truly Peterborough unit, the 14th Midland Battery, Cobourg, and the 34th Battery of Belleville. In addition the 2nd Heavy Battery of Cobourg will be attached to the 4th Brigade.

It is announced that in the scheme of re-organization followed, the numbers of the Canadian Corps artillery are to be used instead of the old militia numbers except in a few isolated cases. The choosing of Peterborough as the home of the [illegible] therefore, peculiarly appropriate in the 4th Battery [illegible]

ly all of Peterborough's first contingent artillery men served at the front, and this city furnished the greater part of the strength of the original unit. The 4th early established a name for itself in the Canadian artillery, and it retained its reputation throughout the war. The 4th it was that in the fighting in the salient in 1915 brought two of its guns into the front line trenches and hammered the German positions at point blank range and this feat performed soon after the battery's first appearance in action, was a fitting beginning to a long and glorious fighting record.

Peterborough, proud of the unit and what it has accomplished at the front, should feel a glow of satisfaction that its name is to be perpetuated and that this city is to have the honor of being the home of the 4th Battery.

Incidentally, the choosing of Peterborough as the headquarters of an artillery brigade is a tribute to the city's recruiting record and to the hundreds of artillery men contributed from here during the war.

THE LETTER CARRIERS' GRIEVANCES.

Mr. Robert Reid, of the local post office staff, and vice-president of the Federal Association of Letter Carriers of Canada, in a letter to the press, has set forth clearly the grievances of the carriers and has made out a strong case for the men on whose behalf he speaks. His letter was made necessary by what appears to have been an attempt to prejudice the case of the letter carriers in the eyes of the public. We refer to the preps despatch sent out from Ottawa last week and published in many Canadian papers, including the Examiner, which declared that the minimum salary of the letter carriers was $1,400 a year. That statement is absolutely false, and many people besides the carriers themselves are curious to know who was responsible for sending out broadcast a report of this kind, which has all the indications of a desire to place the letter carriers in a false light. As a matter of fact the maximum salary received by any of the letter carriers, Mr. Reid shows, does not equal the $1,400 mentioned in the false statement as the minimum. The permanent minimum at present stands at $526.00, with a bonus of $420 for a married man and $252 for a single man, while the maximum is $939 with the same bonuses. These figures are quite different to the Ottawa story of a $1400 minimum, and there is the added grievance that the bonus system is not satisfactory because the carriers have no guarantee of its duration. A permanent addition to their salaries, bringing their remuneration up to a scale on which it is possible to live is what the carriers throughout the Dominion want.

Mr. Reid's letter also calls attention to some strange methods on the part of the post office department that would seem to stand in need of speedy correction. The system of "promoting" a temporary man to the permanent staff, reducing his pay from $2.50 a day to $2.00 and dating the appointment back three or four months so that the carrier is in debt to the government at the rate of 50c. a day for that period is one that should be superseded by a more business-like and a fairer method.

HELPING THE "REDS."

The United States has had more industrial and labour trouble in recent months than ever before in an equal period of time. It is generally thought that it is due to the post-war unrest that is fairly common to the world, and, to a limited extent, to the effect of revolutionary or "red" propaganda. But why, it may be asked, should there be more unrest in the United States than elsewhere? And why should "red" doctrines find more converts there? Western Europe has not succumbed to the revolutionary wave, as unmistakably demonstrated by the recent elections in France and Italy.

Perhaps one of the reasons for the state of mind of such a large part of the American working classes which makes for industrial disorders and produces results, for the communists and Bolshevist missionaries is disclosed in the volumes being written in American newspapers and periodicals by observers and investigators touching the glaring extravagance, the wild spending spree, of those to whom the war has brought wealth, coupled with their ignorant and selfish indifference to the lot of the less fortunate. Millions of people who are endeavouring as best they can to cope with the increasing price of the necessities of life, who are going without not only what they desire, but what they need, are watching other people throw away money like water for useless baubles. They see millions of dollars being spent in senseless extravagances. They respect constitutional government and the institutions of their country but they feel that there is something seriously wrong with a state of affairs in which the few—a comparative few, but at the same time an amazingly large number—have so much that they do not know what to do with it, while the many cannot afford their accustomed eggs for breakfast.

Not so much harm would be done if the war-wealthy would spend their money with becoming modesty, but they must do spending it ostentatiously. They flaunt their extravagances before their fellow-citizens. They spend not so much for enjoyment in the things they spend for, but in order to show off their riches. They deliberately invite attention to the comparison between themselves and those who are poor. The offenders are not confined to the war profiteers; artisans who have been earning extraordinary wages in skilled occupations are participating in the mad spending whirl.

A writer in a weekly magazine tells of his observations in New York shops which are doing their best to get as much of the spenders' money as they can. Women are competing with each other to see how much they can pa for dresses and hats and furs. Any price that is asked is readily paid. Dresses are sold for many hundreds of dollars that formerly sold for a fraction of the present prices; in "smart" shops nothing under hundreds of dollars is asked for hats. Thousands and even tens of thousands are being obtained for fur wraps—the higher the price, the greater the rush for them by those with the easy money.

In the Atlantic Monthly, a writer pictures a suburb in which everybody is wealthy from the war and in which nobody has the slightest concern for the problems of the less fortunate. Another writer tells of artisans boasting in public of the price of their silk under shirts and the silk dresses of their wives, and vowing that they will never be without such luxuries again. These foolish spenders are not only wasting their own money, but they are putting prices up for everybody else.

The United States is said by some people to be more in danger of a social revolution than England or the countries of Western Europe. Perhaps it is observation of these things that inspires that opinion. Nobody but the Soviet propagandists and the communists suggests a remedy. And so it may be feared that even patriotic, law-respecting people will at least listen to the impossible proposals of the "red" doctrinaires in the absence of any other plan for correcting the glaring injustices from which they are suffering.—Ottawa Journal.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

There is one thing to be said about the current brand of weather—it's a great topic for conversation.

What has become of the annual visitor, commonly called the January thaw?

As the Toronto Star will say, "It may be cold in the rest of the province, but in Middlesex it looks like if it will be Raney."

OUR NATIONAL ECONOMIC PROBLEM.

"So much for the manner in which the transportation machinery of the country is carrying out its obligations to the Canadian producer. Other aspects of the transportation problem are less satisfactory. There are many people who look upon Canadian railways as custodians of single fortunes which cannot be augmented. That bookkeeping should be as simple and memorable in the case of losses and vanished profits to a railway as it may be to a certain grocer, is to those people indistinguishable. It apparently does not occur to them that to no public is it more important than to the Canadian public. Is that the chief reputation of the railway administration in the world of thrift and investment should be unfavorably asserted. To them, however, who understand these things clearly and who view the matter from the standpoint of broad public interest, it is at once apparent that the Canadian public gets a very low rate for the quality of service rendered, and that a time is rapidly approaching when, if Canadian railway securities are not to be made less desirable as investment than almost any other kind of industrial security, railway rates will have to go up, or railway operating costs go down. Such persons recognize that it is not because the operation of the railways in an easy one that certain companies have been able to show net earnings large—very large—net earnings equivalent to the widest cash investment in the industry—but because in the past the shareholders of such companies have been and they are to-day content to invest their money in railway securities for a moderate return. Railway rates, taking all classes of revenue together, have advanced scarcely 35 per cent. I venture to say no other industry in the Dominion can show such moderation."

ADDRESS TO THE BOARD OF TRADE

Address by W. H. Protty, A.M., Inst. C.E., on the Political Economy of Power Before the Peterborough Board of Trade, Thursday, January 22nd, 1920.

Owing to pressure on our space, we were unable to include the following summary in our report of the address in our issue of the 22nd inst.

The chief points dealt with were as follows:

1. The importance of the study of the science of political economy generally, and in reference to our proper use of our fuel and power resources, which can be drawn upon for purposes of Light, Heat and Power, in particular.

2. The necessity of drawing upon facts and incidents in history bearing upon these commodities for information when considering their practical subservience to the service and convenience of man.

3. The "Horse" and "Man" as a means of obtaining power in past times for various purposes. Power is now the servant of man.

4. The association of the political economy of Power with Adam Smith and James Watt, and its bearing upon the vast advance in industrial production and transportation by the latter's inventions, whereby the natural resources of fuel in Great Britain were utilized for increasing the national wealth and individual comforts of life of the people.

5. The great waste of fuel that still maintains even in our most modern steam turbines, and comparison with internal combustion engines and Hydro-Electric supply for Light, Heat and Power purposes.

6. The importance of consideration of the relations between Production and Transportation.

7. Comparison of various natural resources of energy for producing the public commodities of Light, Heat and Power, such as peat, straw, sawdust, wood, charcoal, produced gas, coal, alcohol, liquid fuels, gasoline, etc.

8. The steam boiler as a reasonably efficient means of utilizing fuels for heating purposes, and the production of steam under pressure for power purposes. The steam engine still excessively wastes the heat value of the coal and fuel for generating the steam it consumes.

9. The use and abuse of electric supply for heating purposes.

10. The value of electric supply for lighting purposes and comparison of various types of some well known lamps now in regular use.

11. The domestic use of electric supply for reducing household labors and setting this labor free for industrial production.

12. Natural resources of fuel are capital—held in trust for the people of this and future generations.

13. Manufactured fuels, such as alcohol, are the revenue of production of labor.

14. The value of alcohol for industrial purposes and for replacing gasoline and other fuels in internal combustion engines—is economical manufacture, thereby retaining immense sums of money sent out of Canada for commodities used for Light, Heat and Power and Transportation purposes.

15. The value to Peterborough of the coupling up now established—of Hydro-Electric generating stations with which we are more or less surrounded.

16. The importance of keeping statistical records of the use of electric power supply in our midst as based upon the number of people each horse power consumed does and will maintain.

17. The consumption of horse power per capita for (1) Industrial, (2) Local Transportation, (3) Radial Transportation, (4) Domestic Service, (5) Public Service, with a view to its economic use from the standpoint of the number of people it will serve.

18. The importance of more small industries for retaining ambitious young men in our midst and also for providing a greater variety of employment for the young people of the coming generations.

NEW PRESIDENT FOR THE CHAIN STORES

Special to the Examiner:

FREDERICTON, N.B., Jan. 20.—Chas. L. Smith, of Woodstock, who has been president of the parent company of the chain of co-operative stores, has resigned from that position, and Harry Rogers, of Northampton, has been appointed in his place.

The change took place at a meeting of the Board of Directors, which was held at Woodstock, and S. H. Hagerman is quoted as denying that political considerations entered into the transaction.

COPENHAGEN, Jan. 24.—The first of the troops of occupation arrived at Handerlev, Sleswig. They are 300 Alpines. They were received by immense crowds and the City Council who welcomed them with "Viva La France." The town was all decorated with the Dannerbrog and tricolor. The population was enthusiastic from early morning, displaying the old flag for the first time after fifty-five years.

The orchestra, playing the Marseillaise, and Boy Scouts and girls, carrying flags, brought the festivity over the town to where a statue of Kaiser Wilhelm I. was covered and will be removed soon.

MRS. MAY COULD NOT WORK

Made Well and Strong by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Columbia, Pa.—"I was very weak and run down and had dragging-down pains and pains in my back. I could not get around to do my work and had to sit down and rest often during the day. I saw Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised in the papers and read the testimonials, so I thought I would try it. Now I am healthier than I ever was in my life, and can recommend it to any woman who suffers as I did." —MRS. ELIZABETH MAY, R.F.D. No. 1, Columbia, Pa.

The reason Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is so successful in overcoming woman's ills is because it contains the tonic, strengthening properties of good old fashioned roots and herbs, which act on the female organism. Women from all parts of the country are continually testifying to its strengthening, curative influence, and the letters which we are constantly publishing from women in every section of this country prove beyond question the merit of this famous root and herb medicine.

PETERBORO SCOTSMEN WILL CELEBRATE THIS EVENING

YESTERDAY WAS THE NATAL DAY OF ROBERT BURNS—YOUNGER SCOTS ARE NOT AS WELL ACQUAINTED WITH HIS WORKS.

To-day will be celebrated by Peterboro Scottsmen as the natal day of Robert Burns, the 25th, falling this year on Sunday.

This evening a banquet will be held by the Caledonian Club in the Empress.

The sentiment of the immortal memory will be responded to with almost as much affection as the members of the pioneer clubs displayed within a few years of the death of Scotland's national poet. Until Burns sang so expressively and sweetly about the life, customs and struggles of Scottish people, the frailty of humanity, the wrongs of the oppressed, and the virtue of honest endeavor and happy domestic life, there had been no songster to equal him in clarity and fullness of rich final quality, and there has been none since. The worshippers of Burns are numberless. They trek from all parts of the world to the auld clay biggin' near Ayr, and pay homage at the shrine of the Ploughman Bard. They assemble together on the anniversary of his birthday, and exchange greetings with other clubs. So long as nationality counts for anything, this devotion to the lad that was born in Kyle will be lasting, and his rich legacy of song will be cherished as an heirloom in homes of Scots, whether in Canada, in England, or in Scotland.

But it may fairly be questioned whether the present generation of people of Scottish descent are just as well acquainted with the poems of Burns as were their forefathers. In the old days, the Bible and Burns' poems were to be found side by side on the shelf in the humblest dwelling in Scotland. Even the most perfervid Scot would have to admit to-day that this literary alliance has not been maintained. Indeed, many of the Burnsians who will be delivering ovations to-day in Scotland, have only superficial knowledge of the poet's writings. If the truth were told, the local schoolmaster or journalist was the real inspirer of that eloquent address which is delivered at the Burns Club, reported in extenso in the country weekly newspaper, and is read with relish by the older section of its readers. In a word, the adoption of the English language in Scottish schools has, in a sense, blinded generations of young people to an intelligent understanding of many words and phrases in the treasury of Burns' songs.

In a School

Perhaps an incident which occurred in a school may illustrate the point. There are one or two poems of Burns in a publication by MacMillan, which is in use by the English literature class. There is a glossary to the words, which are strange to Canadian, and even Scottish eyes; but there is no guide to the pronunciation of the words. A Burns poem was under consideration one class hour, and the teacher followed the course of enlisting the help of a pupil who had lately joined the class from Scotland, to read the lines. Now there is absolutely no reflection upon any Canadian who is unable to read a language which was spoken in Ayrshire in the eighteenth century when thousands of Scotsmen to-day are unable to read the poems of Burns with intelligence and understanding. There are words in his writings which are peculiar to the locality and time in which Burns lived, just as there are words in use in Canada to-day, which baffle the visitor to the Dominion for a time.

All honor to the Burns' Clubs which have fostered and encouraged a love and knowledge of the poet's songs by offering prizes for competition among young people who are thus induced to become students of his works. But even this praiseworthy effort will never be able, satisfactorily, to bridge the gulf between the language spoken in Burns' day and that spoken by the Scottish farmer to-day. That is, in many respects unfortunate. For one thing, it prevents a full appreciation of some of the finest gems in the phraseology of his ministrelsy. For example, how many Burnsians, leaving out entirely those who do not profess to be Burnsians, could give one an intelligent interpretation of the line (she lights her frunzie wi' a hushion)? and tell you without referring to a Burns concordance, that it occurs in the song "Willie Wastle."

Make Special Study

Such pitfalls as this have compeled first rank singers of Burns' songs, like Madame Kirkby Lunn, and others, to make a special study, not only of the language, but of the atmosphere of the descriptive song, before venturing to sing it as an encore to their operatic selections. They want to take no chances of anyone in their audiences having the slightest cause for criticism. It takes a long time before perfection of pronunciation, and of understanding of the dialect is attained; but ——and this is the remarkable thing— there's nothing thrills the blood of a Scot like the auld sangs which his mother sang to him while he was a child. They take him back to the auld folks and the auld hame, to the piper playing in the glen in the evening, and to the lasses and lads merrily dancing a reel in the farm barn to the strains of the fiddle. There was wisdom in the saying of Fletcher of Salttoun; "I know a very wise man that believed that if a man were permitted to make all the ballads, he need not care who should make the laws of a nation."

To Hold False Teeth In Place Use CORFOAM

COMPENSATION ACT SAID TO BE VOID

(Special to Examiner.)

WINNIPEG, MAN., Jan. 26. —With all due deference to Chief Justice Mathers, I am convinced that the decision will have to be appealed.

This was the statement made last night by Hon. H. T. Johnston, Attorney-General, with reference to the judgmet handed down by His Lordship that no Provincial Workmen's Compensation Act, under which more than four thousand claims have been passed and awards totalling more than one million dollars have been made is ultra vires.

This amendment would have to make it optional on the part of the injured workman whether he would put in a case before the Board of Commissioners under the act or claim damages by an action in court.

The other provinces are affected by the decision, including Ontario, Quebec and British Columbia, which based their acts on Manitoba's, the Attorney-General declared.

SHE WENT FOR DAYS WITHOUT EATING

SYDNEY WOMAN HAS HANDLY MORE THAN FRAME BUT TANLAC SOON MADE HER FEEL FINE.

"For the past seven years I have suffered from indigestion and stomach trouble, and never found anything to help me until I began taking Tanlac," said Mrs. William W. McDonald, who resides on Prince Street, Sydney, Nova Scotia, recently:

"I had scarcely any appetite at all," she continued, "and when I did manage to force down a little something it would sour and ferment, and I would bloat something dreadful. At times I would also become terribly nauseated when it would be utterly impossible for me to retain a thing, not even a glass of water. I finally was in such bad condition I would go for days without being able to eat a mouthful. I could get but little sleep, and felt tired and worn-out all the time. I had no energy, and my housework was simply a burden to me, and most of the time I would just have to leave a great part of it undone. I would have the worst sort of headaches, that would nearly drive me wild. I lost weight until I was scarcely more than a frame, and became so weak I thought I would just have to give up entirely.

"One day I saw a statement in the newspaper from a friend of mine in which she told of the remarkable benefit Tanlac had been to her, and this decided me to give it a trial. Well, when I started taking Tanlac I was so weak I could scarcely get about, but now, after taking only three bottles, my recovery is simply remarkable. I feel stronger than I have in years, and am able to do all my own housework with the greatest ease. My stomach never gives me the least trouble, my appetite is just fine, and everything I eat agrees with me perfectly. Those headaches have all gone, and I can sleep all night long as peaceful as a child. I have gained in weight considerably, and all my friends tell me they never saw me looking so well. Tanlac is certainly a great medicine, and I am glad to say a good word for it."

Tanlac is sold in Peterborough by W. B. Warne Drug Co., Limited; in Havelock by A. C. Denike; in Lakefield by Tanner Drug Co., Ltd.; in Fowlers Corners by W. A. Hunter; in Gelert by A. J. Scott; in Westwood by G. Pringle & Son.

VARSITY "FRAT" IN RESTAURANT

VICTIM WENT THROUGH PERFORMANCE WITHOUT A BREAK.

(Special to The Examiner.)

TORONTO, Jan. 26.—One of those rare occasions when the public is "in on" a Varsity "frat" initiation, was witnessed in one of the largest downtown tea and ice-cream shops on Saturday afternoon, played to a crowded room and an appreciative audience, too.

Entering the shop as an ordinary customer, the prospective fraternity member sat down to a table directly in the centre of the large room, the previous occupants having departed on warning, and the official witnesses occupied seats nearby to confirm the programme.

Seated, a fair-sized bath towel was produced from the pocket of the victim, unfolded, tucked under the chin, and spread forward to the table. An atomiser followed fro mthe pocket, with which he sprayed his face, nostrils, and mouth.

Tea takers were mildly tittering, but the victim's countenance was firm.

A cup of tea was brought by the waitress. Two crusts of bread came from the pocket, and were devoured. The face was sprayed with the atomiser and rubbed with the towel. A package wrapped in a newspaper was withdrawn, and all necks were eagerly craned to have the first glimpse of the contents—four soda biscuits!

These were duly munched and the atomiser again applied to the face.

Bursts of laughter were heard from all parts of the room.

Crusts and soda biscuits finished, the towel was removed, the victim stood up, and as a finish to the recital, he applied the towel to face and neck profusely, then returning the towel and atomiser to his pocket.

A COMING BIG SALE

A. SWARTZ HAS DECIDED TO SELL OUT AND RETIRE FROM BUSINESS.

After twelve years of steady attention to business, Mr. A. Swartz, 432 George Street, has decided to sell out his present stock and retire from business, to take a prolonged rest. The business is in a prosperous condition, and the stock is well bought.

Mr. Swartz, as well as his active partner, Mrs. Swartz, have both been industrious and hard working in building up a profitable trade in Peterborough. Both are well known as shrewd buyers of goods, as well as good sellers; and they have many customers who say that they have always received the very best values for their money to be had in Peterborough at this store.

The complete announcement of this sale will be made in a day or two, so that wise buyers will be out the lookout for this event. It is understood that Mr. Swartz has already disposed of his store fixtures and other store accessories, and that preparations are going on for a quick disposal of the entire stock.

VIENNA, Jan. 26. — Baron Franckenstein will be appointed Austrian minister to Great Britain, it was reported to-day.

ANGLICANS ARE NOT IN ACCORD

SOME PROTEST AGAINST THE FORWARD MOVEMENT.

(Hamilton Spectater.)

Rev. C. B. Kenrick, rector of St. Philip's Church, is among the Anglican clergymen who are sending a petition to the Archbishop of Algoma, Metropolitan of Ontario, protesting against the Church of England being classed as one of the five Protestant churches in connection with the interdenominational Forward Movement. To date, forty-one clergymen have signed the petition.

At a meeting held in Toronto in the interests of the latest "Oxford movement," Rev. Kasor Sharp, one of the leading figures in the controversy, said that while the Protestant and dissenting bodies are to be regarded with love and charity, and with admiration for their good works, yet it must be remembered that whenever opportunity offered these bodies dissented from the teaching of the Church of Christ. None of them accepted the Nicene Creed, and if all of them got together all that they would agree on in the way of a creed would be: "We believe in God."

Presbyterians and Methodists were losing the sense of worship, and within twenty-five years these churches would be probably "spent and dead." He quoted a Presbyterian as saying that in the Presbyterian Church there was now no worship, but lots of music, singing by a quartette that had no particular love of God, but who sang for money.

Copies of the resolution are to be distributed broadcast throughout the Dominion.

Rev. C. B. Kenrick was formerly a curate in St. John's Church.

A $10.00 MEAL FOR THIS SOCIALIST DESERTER.

IF THIN AND NERVOUS TRY BITRO-PHOSPHATE

While excessive thinness might be attributed to various and subtle causes in different individuals, it is a well-known fact that the lack of phosphorous in the human system is very largely responsible for this condition.

It seems to be well established that this deficiency in phosphorous may now be met by the use of Bitro-Phosphate, which can be obtained from any good druggist in convenient tablet form.

In many instances the assimilation of this phosphate by the nerve tissue soon produces a welcome change—nerve tension disappears, vigor and strength replace weakness and lack of energy and the whole body loses its ugly hollows and abrupt angles, becoming enveloped in a glow of perfect health and beauty and the will and strength to be up and doing.

CAUTION:— White Bitro-Phosphate is unsurpassed for the relief of nervousness, general debility, etc., those taking it who do not desire to put on flesh should use extra care in avoiding fat-producing foods.

SPECIAL SERVICES GEORGE STREET METHODIST CHURCH

The services at George street church yesterday were of a special nature, in the interests of the Inter-Church Forward Movement Campaign. In the morning Dr. J. W. Graham, D.D., Educational Secretary of the Methodist church, was the speaker. In his opening remarks he spoke of the splendid spirit of unity which exists between the Protestant denominations in connection with the Forward Movement Campaign. As an example of this unity he drew the attention of the congregation to the fact that in our own city Rev. Paul Kanamore of the Congregational church, and Rev. John Neil, D.D., of the Presbyterian church, would speak in Murray street Baptist church this evening. Dr. Graham emphasized the necessity of such unity. "Our business," he said, "is to put this campaign through for Christ and the world."

The financial side was dealt with, and Dr. Graham pointed out that the consecration of our money is just as good a test of our spirituality as going to prayer meeting. "If you give as God has prospered you," said Dr. Graham, "He will open the windows of heaven and you will not lose by the deal." In the Toronto conference $850,000 was allotted as the amount to be raised for the Forwar dmovement. In their zeal to help along this work, however, the Toronto Conference added another $300,000 to this amount, their aim now being $1,150,000. Out of Jesus there is no hope for the world, but in Him there is all fulness dwelling.

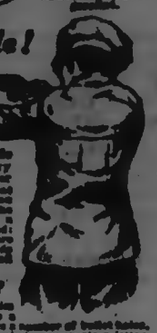
Solve this Puzzle!



FOR Johnny's birthday his mother presented him with a dandy air rifle and Johnny took the first target that came into the line of fire to try his skill. Shortly after, his mother came out to see how he was getting along and found that the target was a neighbor's cow. "Why, Johnny, what a shame you are a naughty boy to shoot that poor cow!" she said. "Don't you know that you have nearly every target spoil a target? Can you tell me what each target spoils?"

Can YOU Puzzle It Out?

Johnny couldn't, so his mother told him how to do it. Each target spoils a word. Each circle of words shows a target. A target of feather heads, the first letter of which is "A," represents "A." If you read the letter of the alphabet. This is not as easy puzzle, but you will be well repaid for the time you spend in it and a prize will be awarded for the best answer received. Copy your answer upon a plain sheet of pad of paper on which you print your name, address, age, nearest post office and number of years there you have lived in Canada. Address your letter to the top right-hand corner of the paper. If you have to write a letter, or make anything else, put it upon a separate paper and send it in separately. Send your solution to contest, and also send your complete illustrated list of the grand prizes that you can win.

In order to help you, we will tell you that the letter represented by the middle circle of first target is "A," because "A" is the first letter of the alphabet. Spring Has Not Arrived. But Its Approach Is Heralded by the Arrival of Silks, Suitings and Skirtings

STOCKS replenished and refreshened by the arrival of Spring merchandise is good news to us, for we are just as interested in new arrivals as she who is destined to wear them. The lines mentioned below are part shipments of our Spring orders and have kindled such enthusiasm that we are eager to bring them to your attention.

Wool Jerseys Are Again to the Fore

A man who knows because of his intimacy with the shops and factories on this continent and abroad was in our establishment the other day and spoke so emphatically about the popularity of all-wool jerseys for skirts, sports suits and one-piece dresses that we immediately endeavoured to hurry our spring shipment. Unfortunately only two pieces arrived, but they are the finest of those we had on order.

Both are Heather Mixtures and 54 inches wide. One is Green and Brown, with Green predominating, if anything. The other is Blue and Taupe, with Blue predominating. We can imagine how effective they will be when made up on the jaunty lines that Fashion has decreed for Spring. The price is $8.00 yard.

Over Plaids for Skirtings—What Is Your Opinion?

We think they are exceptionally smart, and that is the reason they are here now, and they are of serge, that is another argument in their favor.

There are Three Patterns in all—a Dark Grey ground, with a Darker Grey and Taupe over pattern; a Navy ground, with a Light Copen and Tan over pattern; a Midnight Blue ground, with a Taupe and Burgundy over pattern. The width is 48 inches, and the price is $6.50 yard. The usual length required is 2¼ yards.

Novelty Patterns in Georgette for the Smock Blouse Etc.

There were two pieces in particular that attracted our attention. It was because of their unique patterns maybe or the charming colour contrasts. We will leave it to you to decide, and likely you will say it is both.

One boasts of a Taupe ground and is patterned with Scrolls of King Fisher Blue, Light Green, and Dull Tan, in circles and semi-circles that resemble the graceful sweeps and curves of an expert penman. The other is a Black ground, with a conventional pattern of unusual merit, in Blue, Tan, and Rose. The width is 40 inches, and the price—$6.00 yard.

Some Desirable Shades in Duchess Satin

They are a well woven, staunch quality, and have a shimmery sheen that is characteristic of satins of the better quality. Obtainable in jade green, sapphire blue, taupe, midnight blue and nigger brown. Priced at $4 and $4.50 yard.

Elbow Proof Georgette Crepe at $3 Yard

There is almost every conceivable shade, so we do not think it worth while to enumerate each. You will find many novelty tints and all the staple colours. There is not sufficient strength in your fingers to draw a single thread out of place. Genuine elbow proof.

A NOTED JAPANESE PREACHER AT GEORGE STREET CHURCH

WONDERFUL STORY OF THE CONVERSION OF FORTY SCHOOL PUPILS—A NEW LIGHT.

"To-night I stand before you as a representative of a heathen people and implore your help to save the millions of heathen souls," was the concluding appeal in a wonderful, inspiring and touching address given last night in George Street Methodist Church by the Rev. Paul Kanamori, who is known as "the Billy Sunday of Japan," or "the Japanese Moody."

Rev. Kanamori is a remarkable speaker and his address visibly impressed the large congregation which heard his message from far away Japan.

Rev. A. J. Thomas, in introducing Rev. Kanamori, said: "He is a great speaker, and has an inspiring message for us. He is spending one year in America, and has been allowed only ten days in Canada. Rev. Kanamori is a product of Christianity in Japan and I am sure your interests in his work will be deepened after hearing him."

Rev. Kanamori speaks very good English, with but a slight accent, and his words were eagerly listened for. For the past four years I have been preaching just one sermon. It is on the 'Cross of Christ,'" he said. I have preached this sermon 800 times in many places before 313,000 people, and I have converted 148,338 of them to Christianity, he continued. So you see the Gospel of Jesus Christ is a power unto salvation.

Story of Conversion.

Why I preached that sermon and why I converted those people I wish to tell you, and I will give you the story of my conversion.

I was converted more than forty-six years ago, not by missionaries, for there were none in Japan then, but by an American soldier, who was formerly captain in the Civil War. The speaker told how this man started a high school to train army officers and how he himself enrolled in the school in a class of one hundred. The soldier taught them Christianity and preached on Sundays. In a touching way the speaker described how the boys stayed during the vacation to read the Bible. We had no Japanese translation; all we had was a plain English Bible, and we read it from morning till night. He described how a powerful revival broke out in the school and how soon all the pupils were engaged in Bible study. He told of their ignorance of Church and Church institutions. Persecution soon took place, said Rev. Kanamori. Christianity was looked down on, and about half of the boys fell, but forty remained true, and on January 31, 1876, these boys, in spite of any persecution, pledged themselves to preach the Gospel.

Became Ministers.

These boys had been dreaming of becoming great men, but now they forsook everything to serve God. In spite of all persecution, thirty of these boys went to university, studied and went out as ministers, and the leading minister in Japan to-day came from that band. Rev. Kanamori said that he was one of the thirty, and was ordained as a minister in the Congregational Church. He told how he preached, and later taught, theology in Doshisha College, Japan, and how in his studies in theology, he was led away from his beliefs and separated from the Church.

Political Life.

For twenty years Rev. Kanamori was in political life. "All the time I was drifting away," said the speaker, "and those are the darkest days of my life. But God interfered. He visited me in the pursuit of my worldly ambition. He took away my wife and left me with nine children, the youngest being only four years of age. My home became perfect darkness."

Rev. Kanamori told in a thrilling manner that could not fail to impress how his new beliefs were torn away and the old returned. The partition between Heaven and earth was torn away. I could still see God and Jesus Christ standing there.

The speaker told of his return to the ministry. I could now see why Christ died for me, he said. I travelled all over Japan, always preaching the same sermon on "the Cross of Christ," and to-day the spirit of God is spreading from one end of Japan to the other.

Forward Movement.

Rev. Kanamori said he was very pleased to hear of the Inter-Church Forward Movement, and said that the movement was spreading all over the world. But the need is pressing, and the speaker said that out of 60,000,000 in his own country, only 350,000 were Christians. In China there are 400,000,000, and only 300,000 Christians.

"They are crying for help from the Anglo-Saxon nations. You saved the world from autocracy, and can't you save it from Satan?" he said, appealingly. "God is calling you to send your men and women throughout the world to save the heathen. When the Anglo-Saxon race is determined it can do anything," said the speaker. "If you can't do it, who can? Your Inter-Church Forward Movement is going to do it, and to-night I stand before you as a representative of a heathen people, and implore your help to save the millions of heathen souls," concluded the speaker.

LORD FRENCH WILL HAVE A FREE HAND

GOVERNMENT IS PREPARED TO ESTABLISH MARTIAL LAW IN IRELAND.

(United Press)

LONDON, Jan. 26—The Government has decided to grant Lord French a free hand to suppress disorders in Ireland, it was learned today. As a last resort it was said, The Government was prepared to declare martial law throughout the Island, if necessary to break the reign of terror characterized by almost daily outbreaks. The Government's course, it was said was hastened by the recent murder of assistant police commissioner Redmond in Dublin.

ONE GREAT ESSENTIAL TO A WOMAN'S HEALTH IS HER NERVES

Nature intended women to be strong, healthy and happy as the day is long, instead of being sick and wretched. But how can any woman be healthy and happy when the whole nervous system is unstrung. The trouble is they pay more attention to their social and household duties than they do to their health. Is it any wonder then that they become irritable and nervous, have hot flushes, faint and dizzy spells, smothering and sinking spells, become weak and nervous, and everything in life becomes dark and gloomy.

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are the very remedy that nervous, tired-out, weary women need to restore them to the blessings of good health.

Mrs. P. H. Ryan, Sand Point, N.S., writes:—"I have been a great sufferer from nerve troubles. I was so weak and nervous I could not sleep at night and my appetite was very poor. I could not walk across the floor without trembling. I had hot flushes and fainting spells. When I was on second box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills I began to feel better and kept on until I had used six boxes when I felt like a different person. I am never without them in the house and recommend them to all who suffer with their nerves."

SIR SAM HUGHES MADE NO MISTAKES

CONFESSION OF A GOVERNMENT OFFICIAL.

"Did you see the complimentary article regarding yourself which we copied from the Border City Star?" The Lindsay Warder asked Sir Sam Hughes in Lindsay.

"Mistakes at the beginning of the war," smiled Sir Sam. "Let me say there were no mistakes made by me at the beginning of the war in so far as the organisation, training, and development of the force was concerned. Show me where there was a mistake; show me where I was criticised at any period of the war, and I will show you the influence or propaganda of German gold, of-inspiration of the sanctified host of Toronto through the well-known financial group who have blighted Canada's credit, or of Lord Shaughnessy, of Montreal, or some few of my colleagues ambitious to be Prime Minister of Canada."

"Do you think that is the general viewpoint generally accepted throughout Canada to-day?"

"Yes. As an example: A few weeks ago when in Winnipeg, while addressing a large public gathering in Grace Church, the chairman, who was formerly secretary to Lord Beresford, later the editor of a Moose Jaw paper, and now a trusted official of the Provincial Government of Manitoba, stated that in the days preceding and during the war he had been active in criticising me in his newspaper, misled, doubtless, by superior influences. He said publicly that he wished to apologise for these criticsms, each of which he had found to be absolutely wrong. I find the public from one end of Canada to the other similarly situated and the so-called mistakes are located at the proper doors."

Y.W.C.A. NOTES

The new week promises to be a good one at the Young Women's Christian Association. In addition to the regular club meetings on Tuesday night, the members of the Athena Club are having a skating party and will return to the Association for refreshments. The conversational French class will be held Tuesday evening at 7.30 and on Thursday at same hour a class in French for beginners will be started. On Friday night the Story-Telling Circle will meet at 7.15 as usual, and at 8 o'clock Judge Huycke will give the second of his series of lectures entitled "Courts and their constitution". Those who attended Judge Huycke's lecture last wek will agree that the course promises to be an interesting one. Saturday night there is to be a snowshoe tramp starting from the Association at 7.30. All girls are invited to come and join in the laughter and fun.

REV. J. H. BOYD SPOKE ON THE "NATIONAL LONGING FOR GOD"

TWO INSPIRING SERMONS AT MURRAY STREET BAPTIST CHURCH.

"We may not know but what there is some young man sitting in the church this evening who is catching a vision of the world's needs and preparing to place himself on the altar of service and sacrifice, that the whole nation may be lifted to a high plane," Dr. J. H. Boyd observed last evening in his sermon in Murray Street Church, when he spoke on the "National Longing for God," basing his subject upon Samuel vii., 1.

Mr. Boyd referred to the address made some years ago by Rev. J. H. Shakespeare, secretary of the Baptist Union, in London, when he spoke of arresting the progress of the Church of God. This, Dr. Boyd contended, is impossible, a direct contradiction of the possibility being found in the words of Jesus, when He said, "Upon this rock I build My Church." There is, however, he continued, a possibility of arresting the progress of a local church through the gradual creeping in of a spirit of worldliness, carelessness and indifference. There is no question that it is possible for a local church to decline and to cease to carry out the commission for which it exists, he said.

Referring to the text, the speaker said that it is impossible to trace all reasons for the declension of the Church at the time of Samuel, but in brief, the children of Israel, having grown strong numerically and economically, commenced to think that it was unnecessary to longer depend upon God. Their declension was, as all declensions are, gradual. The declension of man from an honest to a fraudulent life, from a sober to a drunkard's life, is gradual, as is his declension from a spiritual life, the latter usually dating from a neglect of prayer and an indifference to the absolute need of spiritual food as well as food for the body.

Spirit of Pride.

What took place in Israel is true to-day. A nation grown strong in wealth and in numbers becomes filled with a spirit of pride. This world witnesses in the case of Germany, who bred the spirit of pride until God became a national God. In their pride the Israelites received the idea of an onslaught upon the Philistines. Here the speaker gave a graphic account of the defeat of the Israelites, their despairing questioning as to why the Lord had deserted them, their reorganization and second attack on the Philistines and the final defeat, when thirty thousand, the leader and the priest who carried the Ark, lay dead upon the field, and their subsequent subjection to the ruling of the Philistines.

The Redemption.

For twenty years the nation languished, and missed the house of God until a national longing overcame them to get back to Him. Another force, however, was working. During all the twenty years Samuel had not sat with arms folded but grasped the situation and began at once to build up from the bottom, going amongst the people until, after twenty years' labour, he had awakened in the nation the conviction that the one thing to bring about their restoration was an honest confession of sin.

Preparing a Leader.

In every spiritual movement in the world God has chosen one man to lead. In no matter what condition the Church may have fallen, one man is being prepared to lead the members back to God. As God prepared Samuel, so He has always prepared some leader and messenger for His special mission. Here the speaker referred to God's preparation of Moses to deliver his people to Martin Luther, to John Knox, Wesley and Moody. In these men we see that in every crisis a man has been specially chosen to bring the nation, church or people back to Him. In the present time, while the war is a thing of the past, the aftermath is not. We must return to God if the nation is to be saved, and at the present time some man is being prepared by the Maker in His wisdom for the task of leading the world back to Him. He always has a plan in every spiritual movement. In conclusion, the speaker made a plea for the individual return of all to God, for an honest confession of sin, and for all to place themselves upon the altar of service and sacrifice.

Morning Subject.

In the morning, when, as in the evening, the church was filled practically to capacity, the subject of Mr. Boyd's sermon was "Spiritual Conscription."

93RD DANCE WAS A BIG SUCCESS

The re-union and dance of the 93rd Batt. Association, in the Victoria Hall on Friday evening, was a great success. The 250 people present thoroughly enjoyed themselves and hopes were expressed for another dance in the near future. The card tables well filled and dancing to the music of the orchestra under the able direction of Mr. Tucker, was indulged in till the wee sma' hours.

The association wish to thank Mr. T. Ryan for his fine work as M. C., and auctioneer, and Mr. G. A. Gillespie for his gift of milk. The presence of Mr. J. H. Burnham, M. P., was greatly appreciated and also the kindness and help of Colonel Johnston.

The thanks of the Association are also due to the ladies who so kindly donated cake and sandwiches and worked so hard to feed the inner man. The date of the next dance will be shortly announced.

BE SUSPICIOUS OF TENDER GUMS

Be suspicious of any tenderness or bleeding of the gums. This is usually the first stage of Pyorrhea—an insidious disease of the gums that destroys the teeth and undermines bodily health.

Gradually the gums become spongy. They inflame, then shrink, thus exposing the unenameled tooth-base to the ravages of decay. Tiny openings in the gums form gateways for disease germs to enter the system. Medical science has traced many ills to these infecting germs in the gums weakened by Pyorrhea.

They are now known to be a frequent cause of indigestion, anaemia, rheumatism and other serious conditions.

So watch carefully for that first tenderness or bleeding of the gums. Try Forhan's immediately. It positively prevents Pyorrhea (Riggs' Disease) if used in time and used consistently.

And in preventing Pyorrhea—it guards against other ills.

Forhan's (For the Gums) cleans teeth scientifically as well. Brush your teeth with it. It keeps the teeth white and clean.

If gum-shrinkage has already set in, start using Forhan's and consult a dentist immediately for special treatment.

SANDRA THE JEALOUS

BY JANE PHELPS

SANDRA MEETS BARRETT EDMONDS.

CHAPTER 30.

We were quite gay after the holidays were over. We had tickets for the opera and went once or twice a week. Then we had many invitations to dinners and receptions; usually followed by a supper dance. Had it not been for the dancing I should have hated them all. But I loved to dance and because I danced well, and he also was a good dancer, I had some really good times dancing with Everett.

He never allowed me to go on the floor when we dined in a public restaurant but at private dinners and receptions he allowed me to dance all I wanted to. That is if I only had as partners men of whom he approved. But as it was the dancing I cared for and not the men I was happy if they were good dancers. That was all that interested me. In fact I preferred Everett as a partner to anyone that I know. That is I did until I met Barrett Edmonds.

It was at a supper dance following a formal dinner. I had as usual been bored to death at the dinner and was delighted when I saw quite a few young people came in for the dance—not quite as young as I was, perhaps but around twenty five or thirty.

I had noticed Barrett Edmonds because of his height. He was six feet two inches tall and well proportioned. The hostess presented him to me and he asked me to dance. I felt as if I had wings. He danced so wonderfully that we scarcely seemed to touch the floor so light was he on his feet. It was heavenly and I told him so. I expect that I "gushed" a little but if I did it was pardonable. Everett knew him and came up to us when we had finished. He shook hands and spoke so nicely to him. I could have hugged him. Some way I wanted this strapping young fellow to think well of my husband and—of me.

I had asked him how tall he was, and when he replied he said:

Six feet two, twenty-five years old, free, white, and at your service, fair lady, whenever you will deign to favor me."

I thought that the loveliest speech I had ever heard. He did not say it in a patronizing way, but just as if he liked me and enjoyed being with me.

On the way home I started to tell Everett how nice I thought him but something held me back. So all I said was in reply to Everett's question as to how I had enjoyed myself.

"I had a very nice time. I had several nice partners. Mr. Edmonds is a fine dancer."

"I noticed that. But don't dance with the same man more than twice hereafter. It is not good form."

"I had to dance with him or else dance with that awful Mr. Leveredge. I danced with him once and he stepped all over me. He hurt me so I thought that I should have to go home. He came down so hard on my toes. He's too fat and old to dance anyway."

"Neither age nor fat make any difference if a man is light on his feet. Unfortunately Leveredge is not. I am sorry that he hurt you yet as we are connected often in big business deals I should not like you to offend him by refusing to dance if he asks you."

"He's such a bore. He calls me 'little girl,' and laughs at me." I returned to my old grievance. But received no sympathy from Everett. He simply refused to consider it a grievance.

We had given one dinner, a stiff, formal affair just like those we attended. And we were to give another. I asked Everett if I might ask one or two young people I had met at the supper dance. A Miss Dagmar Stewart and Barrett Edmonds, and a young married couple. Mr. and Mrs. Dunnce Sloane, her name was Alice.

"Why should we ask them?"

"They were so nice. I liked them so much. It would make our dinner a little more lively perhaps than the last one. That was awfully stupid."

"To you perhaps because you are not yet capable of joining intelligently in the conversation. It was not stupid to me."

This was one of the idiosyncrasies of Everett's treatment of me. He would insist in keeping me young in all outward ways, then almost find fault because I was not able to understand and appreciate men and women twice and three times my age.

"May I invite them?" I persisted.

"You may ask Mr. and Mrs. Sloane—that will be sufficient. This dinner is to repay our obligations to those who have shown you attention; not to have a gay time."

I did not dare to say anything more but I could not help wishing he had allowed me to ask Barrett Edmonds and Miss Stewart instead of Mr. and Mrs. Sloane, although I had liked them both immensely.

Had I known that Barrett Edmonds also would have liked to come it might have made Everett's refusal harder to bear.

Thanks to Mrs. Gray and the help Everett sent from the Club, my dinners were both a success. Really all I had had to do with them was to agree with the menu Everett decided upon, and to help the florist with the table decorations. Everett even selected the place cards and decided all the details without consulting me.

SPREAD RAILS DID NOT CAUSE ACCIDENT.

BELLEVILLE, Jan. 26.—Superintendent McMillan, of the G. T. R., visited the scene of the recent accident near Campbellford, and made a thorough investigation into the cause of the derailment of a passenger and baggage car on the express from Peterborough to Belleville.

The statement that a spread rail caused the accident is not correct, as the track was found in perfect condition. The supposition is that a casting dropped from one of the cars and caused the derailment.

Voice Of The People

January, 29th., 1920.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir,—In view of the fact that many have suffered without any public complaint thus far of the Arctic temperance of the Hunter street cars, we beg a few lines in your valuable paper this evening to express our views.

We are not objecting to the overcrowding between five and six o'clock nor of the twenty minutes wait this weather, but we do speak on behalf of the residents of the West End who have to take considerable time going from George to Monaghan, and freeze in so doing.

We would like to hear other opinions on this matter until the situation is improved.

Yours,
THE WEST END.

To the Editor of The Examiner.

Sir,—It has been my humble wish to do what I could to aid the churches in their mighty effort to throw off materialism, so prommently set forth as present in many ways.

As a contribution to this determined effort to rescue us from the new temptation, I ask you to publish the following as an advertisement for one week:

"These five separate communions are of one mind as to their belief in God the Father Almighty, maker of Heaven and Earth, and in Jesus Christ His Son, our Lord. They now declare to their respective constituencies, and also unitedly to the Canadian people that the only effective Method of Making Good Citizens is by urging men to a more faithful practice of Christianity by inculcating personal faith in Jesus Christ. They insist that there is no other dependable way of correcting evil tendencies in individual and national life. Signed by the United National Campaign, representing the simultaneous but independent Forward Movements of the Anglican, Baptist, Congregational, Methodist, and Presbyterian Communions of Canada."

The Plague of Pimples

Body Covered With Them

The primary cause of pimples arises from the blood not being in good condition. When the blood becomes impure you will find that pimples will break out all over the body, but more particularly on the forehead, nose and chin, and although they are not dangerous trouble they are very unsightly. What you need when pimples or boils break out is a real good blood purifying medicine such as Burdock Blood Bitters.

This preparation has been on the market for over 40 years and is the most reliable remedy for all troubles arising from a bad condition of the blood. It removes all the impurities from the system and will leave a clear, healthy skin.

Mr. Emerson G. Goodwin, Cambridge, N.B., writes: "For nearly two years I suffered from boils and pimples on my face and neck, and nearly all of my body was covered with the pimples. I tried most everything, but got no relief. One day a friend advised me to try Burdock Blood Bitters, and after using three bottles the pimples and boils had all left me and there is no sign of them returning. I can strongly recommend B.B.B. to anyone who is troubled with skin disease.

THE REV. W. S. FALLIS PREACHED AT TRINITY METHODIST CHURCH

SPEAKER IS HEAD OF THE METHODIST BOOK ROOM, TORONTO—SUBJECT IN MORNING.

Yesterday morning Rev. S. W. Fallis, of Toronto, successor to Rev. William Briggs, D. D., as head of the Methodist Book Room, spoke at Trinity Methodist church in the interests of the Forward Movement of the churches, taking as his text, Deutronomy 4:33:

"Did ever people hear the voice of God speaking out of the midst of the fire as thou has heard and live?"

Rev. Mr. Fallis first considered the history connected with his text. This was a part of the valedictory advice of Moses immediately before giving up the leadership of Israel to Joshua. Moses had traced the history of Israel through the bondage in Ekypt, and the wanderings since then, pointing out guiding influence throughout and culminating in the question of the text.

Instruments of God.

Continuing Mr. Fallis stated that it was a common thing in history for God to pick out some nation or denomination and make them moral and spiritual leaders of the time as He had done with Israel in Biblical days and Methodism in the eighteenth century. These instruments were chosen because they had certain qualifications which particularly suited His purposes and the needs of the time, not because they were favorites.

Mr. Fallis believed that God had spoken to us through the great catastrophe so recently ended. The call was for re-establishment and reconstruction, not on the lines of pre-war years but on entirely new lines. This was the aim of the Forward Movement of the churches. The churches were the only institutions through which a great and beneficial reconstruction could be brought about.

International Brotherhood.

Mr. Falis then proceeded to emphasize the value of international brotherhood. The Forward Movement was an international movement. We should regard other nations with the same brotherly feelings which we had for our own neighbors. He feared that with the growing militaristic spirit of Japan a catastrophe greater than that through which we had passed might fall upon us if Japanese control over China should extend further. International Brotherhood was needed. The war through which we had just passed was the outgrowth of "narrow nationalism."

Mr. Fallis stated that if we were to make the war a noble sacrifice rather than a waste we must put forth every effort in the work of reconstruction. We must not forget the sacrifices of the war, as some were already doing. We must work and sacrifice and the Forward Movement was the great means of attaining that end.

COUGH DROPS MUST BEAR THE WAR TAX.

STRATFORD, Jan. 26.—A number of storekeepers in Stratford have been notified by the Department of Inland Revenue at Ottawa that one of the officers had purchased cough drops from them a short time ago, to which no war tax stamp had been affixed.

They were also notified that cough drops, whether sold in packages or in bulk, are subject to the war tax under the provisions of the Special War Revenue Act of 1915.

ROME, Jan. 26. — "Politically", President Wilson, doesn't exist", the "Peoplo Romano" said to-day, commenting on the Jugo Slav request to the Allies for an extension of time to consider the Allied proposition for a settlement of the Adriatic dispute.

The Allies granted the Jugo Slav petition for an extension, the newspaper said, but it warned the Belgrade Government its hopes that President Wilson will intervene for Jugo Slavia were vain.

"Wilson is only a name now, as even the cobblestones in Washington know, owing to illness" the newspaper said.

CASTORIA

Fletcher's Castoria is strictly a remedy for Infants and Children. Foods are specially prepared for babies. A baby's medicine is even more essential for Baby. Remedies primarily prepared for grown-ups are not interchangeable. It was the need of a remedy for the common ailments of Infants and Children that brought Castoria before the public after years of research, and no claim has been made for it that its use for over 30 years has not proven.

What is CASTORIA?

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic and Diarrhoea; allaying Feverishness arising therefrom, and by regulating the Stomach and Bowels, aids the assimilation of Food; giving healthy and natural sleep. ALL GIRLS DREAM OF BRAVE KNIGHTS

"DIANE OF THE GREEN VAN" CARRIED OFF BY JUST SUCH A BOLD "CAVE-MAN" IN ALMA RUBENS' NEW PICTURE.

Every girl—that is, every romantic girl—and what girl isn't—dreams of a bold, brave and reckless knight-errant who woos her passionately and defies the world or the devil to thwart him in his mad quest for the hand of his lady love. In other words, an Atavistic Cave-Man.

Phillip Poynter trailed "Diane of the Green Van" from New York to Florida. Diane was in a gypsy-wagon and Phil followed in a hay wagon. His hated rival, a prince in disguise, also trailed the van on a hurdy-gurdy, masquerading as an Italian organ-grinder.

Plots and counter-plots, midnight attacks on the life of Diane, and the intrigues of a band of plotters from a remote principality of Europe, determined Phil that Diane needed somebody to look after her, and he was the man, so he kidnapped her from the Seminole village in the Everglades in Florida, threw her on his horse, and galloped to the nearest minister. And Diane was happy—what girl wouldn't be, won in that Stone-Age manner?

Miss Alma Rubens, the lovely star in "Diane," has a great story to exploit her talents, and the production is full of thrills and mystery.

"CHECKERS" PICTURE A SENSATIONAL HIT

"Checkers", the spectacular picture made by William Fox, which opened at the Allen Theatre this afternoon is even better as a picture than it was as a stage play. Much of the action occurs outdoors, and the director took full advantage of the situation to make his exterior scenes not only elaborate but perfect in detail.

The story tells of a southern beauty who falls in love with Checkers, the race tout. He grooms a horse owned by the girl for a rich stake, and in getting the horse to the race track encounters tremendous difficulties. His chase leads from the south to New York and through Chinatown. At the last minute, just before the race is to start, the jockey is maliciously blinded, and the young girl rides the horse to victory. It is one of the best and most stirring pictures in every respect seen here in some time. The all-star cast headed by Thomas J. Carrington and Jean Acker give an evenly balanced performance.

TYRONE POWER

Keen interest will doubtless be manifested by theatre-goers here in the announcement by Trans-Canada Theatres, Limited the new All-Canadian Syndicate which has established a chain of theatres from Coast to Coast throughout the Dominion, that they will present at the Grand Opera House, Peterboro, Monday March 8th. the distinguished actor, Tyrone Power, and a specially selected company in a revival of the famous drama by Charles Rann Kennedy, "The Servant in the House".

Many people will doubtless recall the sensation created when this play was first produced in America in 1908, and the remarkable performance given by Mr. Power in the intensely dramatic role of Robert, the "Drainman". He will enact the same role in the forthcoming revival.

Associated with Mr. Power will also be another member of the original cast in the person of Mr. Galwey Herbert, while the other artists are all well-known players of established reputation.

One of the most fascinating features about "The Servant in the House" is the unique character of the plot. As may be remembered, it is a story of three brothers, one an East Indian Bishop, one a country clergyman, and the third a scavenger. The entire scene is laid in the breakfast room of a vicarage, the residence of the clergyman. His wife, a worldly-minded woman, is devoted to him and labors in her own way to promote his avancement. He meanwhile, suffers from remorse for having neglected the physical and spiritual welfare of his younger brother, now a scavenger, who had taken to drink, disgraced himself in his relatives' eyes, and disappeared, leaving behind a mother less daughter whom the repentent minister has adopted and carefully brought up.

The scavenger brother returns unexpectedly to see his daughter. His arrival coincides with that of the East Indian Bishop, who assumes the guise of a butler and enters into his brother's service under the name of Manson. This character is intended to represent, not the person, but the spirit of Christ, and is throughout impressive and reverent. The clergyman's brother-in-law, a worldly Bishop bent upon augmenting his own income, also turns up, and there develops, a remarkable situation which eventually results in the regeneration of the "Drainman", who determines to risk his life by clearing out a vault beneath a church which has become a source of pollution. The husband and wife are also brought together, and the two brothers united. Only the worldly Bishop is left outside.

The play is half-drama, half-allegory, and in this fact lies half its power. The scenes are singularly dramatic, and as the play develops they grow in intensity. The role enacted by Mr. Power is one of the most gripping in modern drama as known to the American stage.

The supporting company have all been chosen for their special fitness in the interpretation of the roles the play provides, and the production is unique in that it is the first made by the new Transcontinental Canadian Organization.

WATCH YOUR STEP

Fascinating, entrancing, catchy and enticing music is what one will hear in "Watch Your Step," Irving Berlin's international syncopated musical success, which comes to the Grand Wednesday evening only.

"Watch Your Step" is a real novelty in latter day musical plays depending largely for its enormous success on its music and dancing and the clever ability of the members of the cast and chorus. A distinctive "something" pervades the whole performance of "Watch Your Step", which sends its audiences out with melodies to remember and whistle. The quality of the music has been made familiar to theatregoers through the kind offices of the orchestras, who have found the song hits, especially "Settle Down in a One Horse Town," appropriate for many occasions.

The plot is light and has to do with the reading of a will and a huge sum of money. The inheritance is to go ot the man who has not been ensnared by woman and if none such qualify, to the young lady who has not been beguiled by any man. There are two candidates and both are let out to see the town and temptations thrown their way. This gives an opportunity for visits to a stage door, to a fox-trot palace, the foyer of an opera house, a box scene in the opera house, a sleeping car and a cabaret show.

The company is large and works with vim. The scenery is all new and built on the Urban idea for its season's tour. The costumes are new and startling in their effect.

ALL GIRLS DREAM OF BRAVE KNIGHTS

"DIANE OF THE GREEN VAN" CARRIED OFF BY JUST SUCH A BOLD "CAVE-MAN" IN ALMA RUBENS' NEW PICTURE.

Every girl—that is, every romantic girl—and what girl isn't—dreams of a bold, brave and reckless knight-errant who woos her passionately and defies the world or the devil to thwart him in his mad quest for the hand of his lady love. In other words, an Ataxistic Cave-Man.

Phillip Poynter trailed "Diane of the Green Van" from New York to Florida. Diane was in a gypsy-wagon and Phil followed in a hay wagon. His hated rival, a prince in disguise, also trailed the van on a hurdy-gurdy, masquerading as an Italian organ-grinder.

Plots and counter-plots, midnight attacks on the life of Diane, and the intrigues of a band of plotters from a remote principality of Europe, determined Phil that Diane needed somebody to look after her, and he was the man, so he kidnapped her from the Seminole village in the Everglades in Florida, threw her on his horse, and galloped to the nearest minister. And Diane was happy—what girl wouldn't be, won in that Stone-Age manner?

Miss Alma Rubens, the lovely star in "Diane," has a great story to exploit her talents, and the production is full of thrills and mystery.

"CHECKERS" PICTURE A SENSATIONAL HIT

"Checkers", the spectacular picture made by William Fox, which opened at the Allen Theatre this afternoon is even better as a picture than it was as a stage play. Much of the action occurs outdoors, and the director took full advantage of the situation to make his exterior scenes not only elaborate but perfect in detail.

The story tells of a southern beauty who falls in love with Checkers, the race tout. He grooms a horse owned by the girl for a rich stake, and in getting the horse to the race track encounters tremendous difficulties. His chase leads from the south to New York and through Chinatown. At the last minute, just before the race is to start, the jockey is maliciously blinded, and the young girl rides the horse to victory. It is one of the best and most stirring pictures in every respect seen here in some time. The all-star cast headed by Thomas J. Carrington and Jean Acker give an evenly balanced performance.

TYRONE POWER

Keen interest will doubtless be manifested by theatre-goers here in the announcement by Trans-Canada Theatres, Limited the new All-Canadian Syndicate which has established a chain of theatres from Coast to Coast throughout the Dominion, that they will present at the Grand Opera House, Peterboro, Monday March 8th, the distinguished actor, Tyrone Power, and a specially selected company in a revival of the famous drama by Charles Rann Kennedy, "The Servant in the House".

Many people will doubtless recall the sensation created when this play was first produced in America in 1908, and the remarkable performance given by Mr. Power in the intensely dramatic role of Robert, the "Drainman". He will enact the same role in the forthcoming revival.

Associated with Mr. Power will also be another member of the original cast in the person of Mr. Galwey Herbert, while the other artists are all well-known players of established reputation.

One of the most fascinating features about "The Servant in the House" is the unique character of the plot. As may be remembered, it is a story of three brothers, one an East Indian Bishop, one a country clergyman, and the third a scavenger. The entire scene is laid in the breakfast room of a vicarage, the residence of the clergyman. His wife, a worldly-minded woman, is devoted to him and labors in her own way to promote his avancement. He meanwhile, suffers from remorse for having neglected the physical and spiritual welfare of his younger brother, now a scavenger, who had taken to drink, disgraced himself in his relatives' eyes, and disappeared, leaving behind a mother less daughter whom the repentent minister has adopted and carefully brought up.

The scavenger brother returns unexpectedly to see his daughter. His arrival coincides with that of the East Indian Bishop, who assumes the guise of a butler and enters into his brother's service under the name of Manson. This character is intended to represent, not the person, but the spirit of Christ, and is throughout impressive and reverent. The clergyman's brother-in-law, a worldly Bishop bent upon augmenting his own income, also turns up, and there develops, a remarkable situation which eventually results in the regeneration of the "Drainman", who determines to risk his life by clearing out a vault beneath a church which has become a source of pollution. The husband and wife are also brought together, and the two brothers united. Only the worldly Bishop is left outside.

The play is half-drama, half-allegory, and in this fact lies half its power. The scenes are singularly dramatic, and as the play develops they grow in intensity. The role enacted by Mr. Power is one of the most gripping in modern drama as known to the American stage.

The supporting company have all been chosen for their special fitness in the interpretation of the roles the play provides, and the production is unique in that it is the first made by the new Transcontinental Canadian Organization.

WATCH YOUR STEP

Fascinating, entrancing, catchy and enticing music is what one will hear in "Watch Your Step," Irving Berlin's international syncopated musical success, which comes to the Grand Wednesday evening only.

"Watch Your Step" is a real novelty in latter day musical plays depending largely for its enormous success on its music and dancing and the clever ability of the members of the cast and chorus. A distinctive "something" pervades the whole performance of "Watch Your Step", which sends its audiences out with melodies to remember and whistle. The quality of the music has been made familiar to theatregoers through the kind offices of the orchestras, who have found the song hits, especially "Settle Down in a One Horse Town," appropriate for many occasions.

The plot is light and has to do with the reading of a will and a huge sum of money. The inheritance is to go ot the man who has not been ensnared by woman and if none such qualify, to the young lady who has not been beguiled by any man. There are two candidates and both are led out to see the town and temptations thrown their way. This gives an opportunity for visits to a stage door, to a fox-trot palace, the foyer of an opera house, a box scene in the opera house, a sleeping car and a cabaret show.

The company is large and works with vim. The scenery is all new and built on the Urban idea for its season's tour. The costumes are new and startling in their effect.

CASE HEARD IN POLICE COURT

Judgment was reserved in a peculiar case heard in the Police Court this morning.

The case, involving an alleged breach of the Ontario Temperance Act, occurred in the hotel known as Gollop's Hotel, which was recently purchased by Mr. William Fisher, of Bracebridge.

Mr. Fisher claims he was sitting in the sitting-room of the hotel, when an unknown person walked into the bar, and producing a bottle from his pocket, attempted to pour the contents into a glass of sanitaris which he purchased.

According to Mr. Fisher the stranger then invited the bartender to share in the contents of the bottle.

Mr. Fisher ran out and the man dropped the bottle and hastily left the hotel.

License Inspector Stewart was summoned, and he pronounced the contents of the bottle as brandy.

This, according to the prosecution, constituted a breach of the Act, as the bar room is regarded by law as a public place.

No trace of the stranger has been found, and after much contradictory evidence had been heard, judgment was reserved.

The bartender denied he was aware of the contents of the bottle, and that the drink was mixed while he was away at the telephone.

OFFICIAL LIST OF DEAD

(Canadian Press)

NORTH BAY, Jan. 26. — Official list eight dead, thirteen injured.

OBITUARY

DEATH OF INFANT.

The death occurred yesterday of the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Barrie. Interment took place this afternoon to the Little Lake Cemetery.

MRS. (PROF.) MILNER.

After a short attack of pneumonia, Mrs. Milner, the wife of Prof. W. S. Milner, and sister of Sir Joseph Flavelle, died on Thursday at her home, 74 Grenville Street, Toronto.

The late Mrs. Milner was the daughter of Mr. John Flavelle, of Peterborough, Ont. She came to Toronto after her marriage to Professor Milner, in 1891. One son survives, Lieut. Arthur Milner, who has just returned from active service in India. Three brothers are also living: Sir Joseph Flavelle, and Messrs. J. D. and William Flavelle, of Lindsay, Ont.

MRS. WILLIAM WEST.

Word has been received of the death of Mrs. Wm. West, aged 93 years and 2 months; she being the last of the Hope family. Her husband predeceased her 17 years ago. She leaves to mourn her loss four daughters and two sons: Mrs. Joseph Elmhirst, North Monaghan; Mrs. R. J. H. Short, Keene; Mrs. Thomas Walker, Cfeswell, Ore.; Mrs. Paul Bristow, Hanover, Mont.; and William, Nyssa, Ore., and John, Eugene, Ore., where she was at the time of her death. The little son of Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Moncrief is the fifth generation.

ALLAN MILES.

The death occurred on Saturday in Dummer township of Allan Miles, aged 29 years. He had been suffering from pneumonia for the past ten days and his condition became daily worse until death called him on Saturday.

He leaves his wife and four children, one a little baby girl only three days old. His family will have the sympathy of the community in which he lived and where he was highly esteemed.

The funeral took place this morning from the family residence, Dummer township to the Warsaw cemetery, where interment took place.

JOSEPH ROBERT ELMHURST.

Joseph Robert Elmhurst, aged 55 years, passed away on Sunday after an illness of three months. The deceased, who is a retired Presbyterian clergyman, formerly resided here, but moved to Los Angeles, California, where he lived until three months ago, when he returned home.

He leaves to mourn his loss one daughter, Mary of this city, and three brothers, Thomas of New York, Henry of Indian River and James of Westwood, and two sisters, Mrs. John Hope of Westwood, and Mrs. F. D. Armstrong, Peterborough.

The funeral will take place from Comstock's undertaking parlors tomorrow at 11 o'clock and will proceed to the C.P.R. station, from which the remains will be shipped to Westwood for interment in Westwood cemetery.

Please omit flowers.

DEATHS DUE TO INFLUENZA

EPIDEMIC IS ON THE WANE—GENERAL NEWS.

(Canadian Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—Influenza is now prevalent generally throughout twenty states, the public Health Service announced to-day and it has made its appearance in a number of others. Two thousand new cases were reported in Michigan today, while Kansas City reported thirty six deaths directly attributed to the disease. There were sixty nine deaths from influenza and sixty three from pneumonia in Chicago. Health Commissioner Robertson is confident however, that epidemic in that city is on the wane.

OIL DESTROYED

(Canadian Press)

HAMILTON, Jan. 26. —Several thousand gallons of oil were destroyed by fire at Canadian Shovel and Tool Company's plant. The blaze started when a lighted candle was held too close to an oil tank which was being filed. The damage estimated at many thousand dollars.

Should women be put on trial for their faults?

Should women be put on trial for their faults? And should they be tried by men? Are their so-called weaknesses due to the mediocre demands of men? Do women know how to stick to ideals that are not social assets? What is the type of girl that invariably becomes an old maid? Do men put a premium on virtue?
These are a few of the questions that are discussed and answered in a tremendously stimulating article called "Supply and Demand." Every woman in America owes it to herself to read it.

This'll make you laugh for thirty minutes

If you were once a real boy or if you ever knew one, you will enjoy "Brite and Fair," the funniest story published this year. You'll enjoy the pranks of Plupy Shute, Flunk Ham, and Chick Randall. Their humorous escapades combine the glow of gentle humor and sympathetic reminiscence. "Brite and Fair" is by Judge Henry A. Shute, the author of "The Real Diary of a Real Boy."

The real yellow peril is the Japanese Kimona

The causes of divorce are many. One of them, however, is the use of the kimona with its frequent, unattractive carelessness. In this article by Anne Shannon Monroe, the writer, outlines fearlessly some of the very simple causes for marital estrangement — causes which could quite easily be removed for the betterment of the human race.

EXPERTS IN CONFERENCE

PLAN TO DEEPEN THE WATERWAY TO PACKAGE PASSAGE OF OCEAN-GOING VESSELS TO GREAT LAKES.

WILL COST MILLIONS

WINNIPEG, Jan. 27. — Waterway experts from all over Canada and the United States gathered here to-day for a conference with Winnipeg business men on the proposal to deepen the Great Lakes waterways system, to enable ocean going vessels of deep draught to operate direct between lake head ports and Liverpool.

F. Maclure Schlanders, commissioner of the Border Cities Chamber of oCmmerce, comprising Ford, Walkerville, Sandwich and Ojibway, Ont., and Hon. Secretary of the Canada Deep Waterways and Power Association, made the opening address. He said the business men in the east and in the cities adjoining the Great Lakes are enthusiastic over the International project and are eager to interest the Western business men.

Toronto has already spent 25 millions in improving its waterfront in anticipation of the success of the project and Hamilton plans to spend 5 millions. Detroit has organized a harbor board and will spend millions to aid the project. Other cities are equally anxious for the success of the plan. The railways want to cooperate, Mr. Schlanders says; they realize they cannot handle the situation single handed, and are anxious for the development of the natural waterways to take over some of their burdens. The canal 40 miles long, will make it possible to operate ocean going vessels right up to the head of the lakes, the supporters of the project assert. Five cents a bushel on wheat can be saved between Fort William and Liverpool, if ocean-going steamers find it possible to navigate the great lakes, according to the latter. The saving on other commodities will be proportionate.

F. C. Gilbert, of Duluth, "father" of that neighborhood where barrisdale were fought, by the troops, fighting Draft indignation over the attack on Matthias Erzberger was expressed in a proclamation issued last night; the attempted assassination being called "Criminal excess of political warfare."

BOLSHEVIKI ADVANCING

(Canadian Press.)

VLADIVOSTOCK, Jan. 27.—American army authorities believe it will be March 15th before the last American soldiers and Red Cross workers are out of Siberia. Orders have been sent that all American women be hurried out of Trans-Baikalia, which is in the path of the advancing Bolshevik army. The reports state that Bolsheviki have swung southward from Taiga and have reached the Mongolian frontier.

NOT ANXIOUS TO RETURN

(Canadian Press.)

MAYENCE, Jan. 27. — German newspapers publish a letter from the former Emperor William to personal friend in which Copat Hohenzollern expresses his absolute discouragement and says he does not want ever to return ot Germany. He says he believes his return would cause a split between German factions.

Japanese Alliance Expires This Year

GERMANY SEEKS A NEW ALLY—SOLDIERS GUARD STREETS IN BERLIN.

FOREIGN NEWS

(Canadian Press.)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—Germanys' appointment of Dr. Wilhelm Solf as charge D' Affaires and eventual ambassador at Tokio is accepted here as indication that close understanding with Japan is to the the feature of the New German foreign policy, now that it is permitte the German republic to r e-open diplomatic relations with other Governments. That Dr. Solf should be sent to Tokio is regarded here as highly significant, for one thing, because the Anglo-Japanese alliance expires by limitation at the end of the year and there is said to be some division of sentiment both in Japan and Great Britain over its renewal. It is believed by some that Solf will encourage the party in Japan opposed to a renewal of the alliance.

ESTATES CHANGE HANDS

(Canadian Press.)

BUDAPEST, Jan. 27.—Hungarian palaces and estates which before the war were valued at one hundred to two hundred thousand dollars are being purchased by Englishmen, Frenchmen an Americans for comparatively insignificant sums. Dollars are now quoted at from twenty to fifty times their pre-war value and some magnificent properties have bought at only from five to ten thousand dollars.

STREETS GUARDED

(Canadian Press.)

BERLIN, Jan. 27.—Heavy patrols of soldiers guarded the Government buildings during the past night and stopped all traffic over the streets in that neighborhood where barricades were thrown up by the troops fighting Draft indignation over the attack on Matthias Erzberger was expressed in a proclamation issued last night; the attempted assassination being called "Criminal excess of political warfare."

FIREMEN WILL UPHOLD UNION

PETERBORO U.F.O. HELD MEETING

THIRTY-FIVE NEW MEMBERS ENROLLED IN ORGANIZATION.

At a large and enthusiastic meeting of the Peterboro Branch of the U. F. O. held last evening in the Sons of England Hall, Mr. H. B. Cowan created considerable enthusiasm amongst the members in an address on Cooperative Dairying. After outlining the benefits which might be secured in the proposed cooperative dairy the speaker pointed out that what others have done Peterboro farmers might also do. He referred to the Saskatchewan Dairy Company and other large Canadian companies organized and operated by farmers most successfully.

Committee Appointed.

At the conclusion of Mr. Cowan's address a committee was appointed to look into the matter and to find out what is possible to be done by Peterboro. The committee will report at a meeting to be held on Monday in the S.O.E. Hall.

New Members.

Thirty-five new members were enrolled in the Peterboro branch.

THE CALL FROM ARMENIA

SECRETARY OF NEAR EAST RELIEF HEADQUARTERS TELLS OF THE GREAT NEED—SOME HAVE NOT A SINGLE GARMENT TO PROTECT THEM FROM THE COLD.

Mr. Thomas McQuillan won an award of five dollars and fifty cents in the Examiner estimating contest on Dollar Day. This money Mr. McQuillan turned over to the Armenian Fund.

The Peterboro Examiner, Peterboro.
Gentlemen:—

Find enclosed Ten Dollars ($10.00) for the Armenian Fund. Would like to know what forwards this money and what expense there is in getting it to the sufferers, in short what guarantee have we that the money is all used for the purpose it is intended for. Please answer through your paper.

M. L. C.

This was answered in yesterday's editorial column.

Brownton, Jan. 20th, 1920.

The Peterboro Examiner.
Dear Sir;—
Enclosed please find $2.00 for the Armenian Relief Fund.
Respectfully yours,
Two Friends.

The desperate situation of the remnant of the Armenians who have survived Turkish cruelties is described in a cablegram sent to Near East Relief Headquarters by C. E. Vickrey, Executive Secretary of that organization, who has just concluded a tour of Western Asia. His cablegram says:

"Have just returned from interior of Caucasus, where millions of Christian refugees and over Armenians have reached a state of destitution that beggars all description. Most of the able-bodied men have already perished fighting for the Allied cause. The remnant, chiefly women and children, are surrounded by hostile Turks, Kurds and Tartars, and face almost certain extermination this winter unless help on a large scale comes.

THE TURKS STILL HOLD THEIR HOMES.

"These people, universally recognized in normal times as the most thrifty, industrious and prosperous people of Western Asia, have now been for four years exiled or fugitive from their ancestral homes. Their last vestige of negotiable property has been sacrificed for food and protection. Repatriation this year is utterly impossible—the Turks still hold their homes. Attempted return means death.

"Thousands of women and children have but a single garment to cover their nakedness and to protect them from the bitterly cold winter on the high plateaus around Mount Ararat. Empty flour sacks bearing the names of well-known firms are improvised as clothing for children. Rags are used as shoes. All food and food supplies come through Armenian Relief, but the total supply in sight will last only a few weeks at most. Hundreds of tons of cast-off clothing could be used immediately. Thirty thousand tons of foodstuffs, in addition to the present supply, must be provided or this winter will bring the greatest harvest of death from famine that has yet been known by this martyr nation.

CHILDREN ARE SLAVES OF THE TURKS.

A recently returned Near East Relief worker said:

"As for the children, any who might be of service to the Turks were taken over as slaves and the remainder left to care for themselves as best they might. Many who had not been previously deported or killed were forced into the Turkish army.

It is to relieve such conditions as these that Armenian Relief workers are now in the field. Their organization would be even greater as winter comes on than it has been in the past, and in consequence preparations were made to redouble the work for Armenian refugees.

ANNUAL VESTRY MEETINGS

ST. LUKE'S ANNUAL VESTRY

The annual meeting of St. Luke's congregation last night fully maintained its record for numbers and enthusiasm. The Parish Hall was well filled with about an equal representation of men and women, the Rev., the Rector, W. H. White, being in the chair.

The Warden's financial statement, presented byMr. J. J. Turner, showed that the local and extra-parochial demands to have been met in full out of current income. Mr. E. A. Peck on behalf of the Envelope Committee, reported that the envelope system had never been in a healthier condition.

The work of the Woman's Guild, as recounted by Mrs. J. Butcher, has reduced the Building Fund indebtedness leaving an unpaid balance of only $100.

The Warden's budget for 1920 provided for an increase of $200 in the Rector's salary. The remuneration of the organist and of the caretaker was also advanced.

The reports of the other church activities, showing them to be healthy and progressive, were presented as follows:

Woman's Auxiliary (Mrs. J. W. Hickey), Girls' Auxiliary, (Miss F. W. H. White); Primary Department, (Miss Clara Adams), Choir (Mrs. F. Whitehouse); Young People's Association, (Mrs. H. B. Johnston); Advisory Board. (Mr. R. H. Turner); Delegates to Synod. (Mr. R. B. Rogers); Chancel Guild. (Miss M. Calcutt); Parish Magazine. (Miss H. Burgess); Forward Movement Committee. (Mrs. A. E. Dawson; Sunday School (Mr. Earl Manieee.)

Mr. Dawson, in the course of his interesting and inspiring address, quoted figures showing the financial objectives adopted by various towns and parishes in the Diocese, including the $20,000 decided upon that day by the Anglicans of Peterboro as the minimum of their contribution.

The feeling of the meeting was that St. Luke's would surely contribute her full share of this amount.

When it came to the election of officers, Mr. R. B. Rogers was nominated by the rector to serve a second term as Rector's Warden. Mr. J. J. Turner was pressed to continue as Peoples' Warden, but felt that after an almost continuous term of eight years it would be well that he should take an intermission. He therefore nominated Mr. H. A. Perry for the vacant post.

Other nominees were Messrs. R. H. Turner, T. H. Adams, F. Whitehouse, A. E. Dawson all of whom retired in favor of Mr. Perry, who was therefore declared elected.

The delegates chosen to represent the congregation at the June Synod were Messrs. R. B. Rogers, A. E. Dawson and F. Whitehouse. The office of Vestry Clerk fell to Mr. T. H. Adams.

In accordance with a recent resolution of the Synod, the Advisory Board has become a regular part of the parish organization under the name of "The Parish Executive."

Those elected to this committee, (which will hold its first meeting next Wednesday at 8 p.m.) in addition to the Rector, the Wardens and Lay Delegates, who are ex-officio members, were Messrs. E. A. Peck, J. J. Turner, R. McKee, T. H. Adams, W. H. Carter, R. Starr, A. Green, J. Marshall, H. McWha, R. G. Northcott, R. McKee, F. Adams, R. H. Turner, R. H. Parsons, Wm. Maniece, George Custis, R. A. Wilson, George Carpenter, M. Burnham, A. Moffatt, E. Whittaker, E. Heap, H. Fitch, H. B. Johnston, F. Patterson.

At the conclusion of the business of the meeting at 9.30 p.m., those present remained and spent together a pleasant social hour, the ladies acting as hostesses and serving light refreshments.

ST. JOHN'S CHURCH.

At the annual meeting of St. John's vestry held last evening in the Sunday school room, with Archdeacon J. C. Davidson in chair, Mr. J. A. Aylmer and Dr. G. S. Cameron were both unanimously re-elected Church Wardens for the ensuing year. Both had declared their intention of declining the honor but were compelled to yield to the insistent requests of all present.

Assistant Minister.

The matter of an assistant minister for St. John's Parish, was discussed, and the suggestion of the Bishop of Toronto made on Saturday evening to the Church Wardens and the Advisory Board received. This embodied the appointment of a minister to take up such work in the parish as Archdeacon Davidson will be unable

Wants Government to Control Lines

THE RETURN OF THE RAILWAYS TO PRIVATE CONTROL WOULD MEAN INCREASE IN RATES.

GENERAL NEWS

(Canadian Press.)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—Continuance of Government control of railroads for at least two years was asked of President Wilson again to-day by representatives of the farmers' organizations, the American Federation of Labor and four big Brotherhoods. The return of railroads they claimed would involve an increase in freight rates of twenty-five to forty per cent.

ANOTHER NOTE.

(Canadian Press.)

PARIS, Jan. 27.—The German government has sent a note to Paris trying once more to induce the Allies to renounce execution of Article 228 of the peace treaty, dealing with surrender of persons accused of acts in violation of laws and customs of war.

MANUFACTURERS OBJECT.

(Canadian Press.)

OTTAWA, Jan. 27. — Charges against the Board of Commerce and its officials were laid before the Government to-day by a delegation of textile manufacturers who protested against the questionaire sent out by the Board to the textile trades, demanding certain information. Manufacturers presented to the Government a formal petition claiming that the questionnaire required detailed information to be furnished covering a peroid of ten and in some cases eleven years. This they claimed would be impossible to furnish. One manufacturer said that he could not help feeling that a certain element of spite was evident throughout the questionnaire.

PRINTERS STRIKE.

(Canadian Press.)

HAMILTON, Jan. 27.—Union job printers, pressmen and bookbinders of this city, numbering about 300, struck to-day because their demands for an increase from $28.80 to $33 per week for the next six months and $37 for the following six months, was refused. Employers offered $32, the same as the Toronto scale, and to meet any advance that might be made in Toronto or $33 unconditionally. The offer was refused.

ACCEPT ULTIMATUM.

(Canadian Press.)

BERNE, Jan. 27.—A Belgrade despatch says that the Jugo-Slav Government has decided to accept the Allied ultimatum with regard to the settlement of the Adriatic controversy.

The decision to accept the ultimatum was reached by a small majority after a long discussion. The despatch adds that the Jugo-Slav reply will be sent to Paris within forty-eight hours.

POPULATION INCREASE.

(Canadian Press.)

OTTAWA, Jan. 27.— According to figures given out by the city assessor the population of the capital increased last year from 104,000 to 107,732. Figures are only compiled up to October the first and civic officials believe the present population is nearly 110,000.

TRANSPORT IS NEARING HALIFAX

(Canadian Press.)

HALIFAX, Jan. 27.— At nine this morning the disabled American transport, "Powhatan" and convoy were reported as being thirty-seven miles off Chebucto Head in a south-west gale. If the present rate of progress is maintained she should reach Halifax at five this afternoon.

LABOUR ISSUES AT NEXT CONVENTION

A NUMBER OF IMPORTANT TOPICS THAT WILL BE DISCUSSED.

Special to Examiner.

OTTAWA, Jan. 27. — That the rights of organized labor are being carefully watched is shown by one of the clauses in the bulletin issued to-day by the Trades and Labor Congress bearing on the trials of the alleged Winnipeg strike leaders. The final decisions in these cases may have an important bearing on the rights of organized labor in this country, declares the executive of the Congress, and should any rulings be upheld which curtail the right to strike or peacefully picket the executive will take measures to have legislation prepared and endeavor to have the same adapted in order to restore to organized labor its previous liberties.

Another highly important matter dealt with by the Congress is the tariff. Owing to the prominence this question is assuming, say the congress officials, it is possible that the executive will be compelled to take an active part in this discussion before the next convention. In view of the many resolutions being passed by the affiliated organizations in favour of the creation of a tariff board on which organized labor should be properly represented in order that the matter may be used as a protection to the worker rather than a source of profit to the employer. It is suggested that this matter be given the greatest consideration. The Congress officials, Mr. Tom Moore, the president, and Mr. P. M. Draper, the secretary, welcome an expression of opinion on the matter.

UNDERGARMENTS BEING MADE IN PETERBORO

A manufacturin concern that located in Peterboro during the past year and quietly commenced operations is "The Bon Marche" makers of ladies' undergarments, both silk and cotton. The factory has had no difficulty disposing of its output. At present in the window of the Cressman Co., is a display of their products that illustrates the quality of the garments of this purely local concern.

FROM A CHILD WAS CONSTIPATED

According to the best medical authorities, fully three fourths of the people of the civilized world suffer in some form from costiveness or irregular action of the bowels. There is no doubt that many distressing diseases are caused by constipation. It gives rise to sick and bilious headaches, jaundice, heartburn, floating specks before the eyes, catarrh of the stomach, biliousness and the painful, troublesome piles. Therefore it is of supreme importance to health that the bowels be kept regular. Simple food, fruit, etc., should be used and sick food and stimulants of all kinds avoided. This with the use of Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills to restore and establish healthy action of the bowels cannot fail to give permanent relief in the most obstinate cases.

Mrs. Loitis Waisman, Orillia, Ont., writes: "From a child I was always very badly constipated and I can well remember when quite young my mother giving me senna tea nearly every morning and I got to dread it. After taking Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills for a while I am not troubled with constipation any more."

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills are 25c a vial at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

GRANDMA USED SAGE TEA TO DARKEN HAIR

She Mixed Sulphur With It to Restore Color, Gloss, Youthfulness.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, streaked or gray. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way to get a bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound at any drug store all ready for use. This is the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant.

Fur collars appear on silk tricot sweaters.

DISCUSSION ON FARM PROBLEMS

WEST PETERBORO BOARD OF AGRICULTURE HELD ANNUAL MEETING.

Yesterday at the annual meeting of the West Peterborough Board of Agriculture, held in Bridgenorth, prominent speakers from throughout Ontario encouraged the large attendance to greatr efforts in farming. Mr. George Brodie of Newmarket, spoke on "Heavy Horses," Mr. G. W. Clarke of Cairnsville, spoke on "Seed Selection and Poultry," and Mrs. Greer, of London, on "Women's Work and Reconstruction," pointing out the benefits of canning bees, etc., and the discord which might be bred in a vicinity by the lack of community life.

At the conclusion of the address topics of the day were discussed by the assembly, the policy of the Union government in particular being severely criticised.

Mr. Alan B. Mann, secretary of the Board, occupied the chair.

ADVOCATES USE OF PROPAGANDA

(Special to the Examiner)

WINNIPEG, Man., Jan. 27.—At the One Big Union Convention Monday night, Joe R. Knight, of Toronto, lately of Edmonton, reported to a meeting on behalf of the Eastern delegates that th efight with the Internationals was very bitter in the east. That organization, declared Knight, stopped at nothing to quash any of the One Big Union efforts. He strongly advocated the use of much propaganda in the east as well as to send down organizers. He outlined plans employed in the east to secure new members and described obstacles under which up to a few weeks ago the One Big Union organization had to work. He stated that the great need in the east was for more organizers because he said workers in the east were dissatisfied with the International organizations.

WAS STRUCK BY A STREET CAR

Last evening at 8.35, Richard Ringer, who resides at the corner of Bethune and Sherbrooke streets, while crossing Charlotte street at the corner of Aylmer, was struck by a Charlotte street car and knocked down, suffering severe bruises about the head and leg.

Mr. Ringer is an old man and is very hard of hearing, and evidently did not hear the approaching car, although the motor man rang his gong repeatedly.

Sergt. A. W. Slade assisted the injured man to his home and attended to his injuries.

Why do people sleep

Remember the morning you woke up with a feeling that you really had been sound asleep all night? Never felt so well before! Nor looked so fresh and rested—nor got things done so easily

IT WAS the deep sleep that did it. Nothing keeps us looking so young or feeling so vigorous as enough deep, restful sleep—every nerve and muscle relaxed.

Do you ever really relax?

The chances are you don't.

No matter what you do to bring sleep, you will never sleep soundly unless your bed invites perfect relaxation.

There is not a person anywhere but will sleep better for doing away with the old wooden bed or loose-jointed, noisy metal bed and getting a Simmons Metal Bed.

Thousands who for years have been "light sleepers"—waking at every sound—sleep the night through on a Simmons Bed.

Why the Simmons Bed?

These are some of the Simmons basic patents—the pressed steel corner locks. They have much longer locking surfaces than you find in the average bed. In fact, it is the pressed steel corner locks that have made possible the Simmons new Three-piece Bed—the spring made in a single unit with the side rails.

Simmons Limited, of Montreal, St. John, Toronto, Winnipeg, Calgary and Vancouver, has been specializing for thirty years in making the best metal beds that can be produced.

And what is more, Simmons Beds are produced complete by the Simmons Organization.

Every item, every detail made straightforward from the bulk metal under the Simmons roof—tubing, corner locks, fittings and springs, all the processes of forging, rolling, machining, brazing, grinding, polishing, finishing—to the last final touch of enamel or lacquer.

The Waldorf Box Spring and Simmons Mattresses and Pillows

Everybody knows the spring that slackens, sags and lets the sleeper roll into a hollow—or creaks with the slightest movement—or that does not fit four-square and firm on the bed, and knocks or rattles.

Simmons Waldorf Box Spring invites complete relaxation. It supports the body at ease on fine, resilient spring coils—each coil conforming freely to the contours, so that the spine is perfectly rested, whether one sleeps on the back or on the side. It is noiseless, and promotes natural, restful sleep.

And to make the sleeping equipment complete, Simmons Limited produces Mattresses and Pillows worthy to go with Simmons Metal Beds and Waldorf Box Springs.

Simmons Beds are Made in All Sizes and Styles

Full double—Three-quarter—and Twin Beds.

You will find a range of styles to select from in enamelled steel and in lacquered brass.

Simmons styles are good. Whatever your bedroom decoration scheme, you will find a Simmons bed that "belongs."

Beautifully finished. Lacquer perfect. Enamel free from pin-holes, blisters and lumps—clear and smooth.

Simmons Beds, Waldorf Box Springs, Mattresses and Pillows are not sold by every dealer in furniture. But you will see them in the stores where you would expect to find first-class goods.

And when you are selecting your Simmons Beds with an eye to their appearance in the room, you will see that Simmons has for the first time established beautiful and authoritative design in Metal Beds.

And now with regard to the unusual variety of TWIN BEDS

Nice people everywhere are discovering that a separate bed for each person is a great aid toward perfect rest and sound health.

One sleeper does not disturb the other. Colds, sore throat, and other infections are not communicated. And one sleeper does not draw on the vitality of the other.

Simmons Beds, Waldorf Box Springs, Mattresses and Pillows will cost you little if any more than the average beds and equipment. They are worth more—much more.

If you care to write us, we will tell you where to get them in this section.

Sleep is a big subject! Write us for the booklet, "What Leading Medical Journals and Health Magazines Say about Separate Beds and Sound Sleep." Free of charge.

AN ONTARIO LOAN.

The loyalty of the farmers of Ontario to the U.F.O. Government will be tested in a practical manner if the Drury Administration decides to float a Government loan in the province as intimated by Provincial Treasurer. The farmers will naturally be expected to take a large share of the loan. Not only are they as a class in a good position financially to invest but they will be counted upon to stand behind with their money the government their votes have put into power. Their response to the Victory Loan campaign, while not as spontaneous as that of their brethren in the cities was sufficiently enthusiastic to lead to the expectation that they will not hesitate to dig out their savings and invest them in a Drury Government loan, the proceeds of which will be used in the province by the government the farmers themselves elected. Certainly if the rural sections of Ontario did not respond to a call of this kind it would be unfair to ask the urban residents to do so. And yet Ontario securities are a good purchase for any class of the community.

THE BURNS CELEBRATION.

Right royally did Peterborough's Caledonian Society celebrate last evening the one hundred and sixty-first anniversary of the birthday of Robert Burs ,Scotland's beloved poet, and as it has been written, 'everybody's frind because his poems have appealed to all humanity." Throughout the whole British Empire there were similar celebrations yesterday—a tribute of love and respect that is paid to no other poet. In this connection the Star Weekly draws attention to a half jesting prediction made by Burns himself in 1876 when writing to a patron he said, "For myown affairs I am in a fair way of becoming as eminent as Thomas a Kempis or John Bunyan, and you may expect to see my birthday inscribed among the wonderful events in the Poor Robin and Aberdeen Almanacks along with the Black Monday and the Battle of Bothwell Bridge."

Last night's celebration and its counter parts throughout the Empire show how accurate was his prophecy.

In honoring their revered poet the members of the Caledonian Society are to be congratulated upon the success of the occasion and upon the evidence it afforded of the splendid manner in which the Society has been reorganized since the war. A flourishing organization in ante-bellum days, the call of the Empire temporarily put an end to its activities. In the rush to the colors there was no more spontaneous response made by any organization than by the Caledonians. Over fifty of their members fought for Canada and for Britain in the great war. The majority of these, Providence be thanked, were gathered around the festive board last evening, but some were missing. Wooden crosses in Belgium and France mark the spot where they lie asleep ,their battles over, but they remain verdant in the memory of their comrades here at home, who, in the midst of the festivities last evening, did not forget them.

UNDERPAID EXPERTS.

Brigadier General Mitchell, Dean of the Faculty of Applied Science at Toronto University, in an address at this Canadian Institute on Saturday night gave utterance to a slogan that should be called to the attention of the Federal government. "Buy in aCnada, not only goods, but brains," was General Mitchell's advice. It would seem to be needed in view of the many experts in the employ of the Dominion government who have given up their positions in the public service and entered the employ of private firms, either here or in the United States, attracted by much larger salaries than the State has seen fit to offer them. General Mitchell points out that many young Canadian engineers have received invaluable training in the war and are therefore inestimable resources to their native country. Their ripe experience should be saved for Canada. Most people will agree with the speaker. These young men should be kept at home, but with the Government setting a poor example by paying such inadequate salaries that good men are being driven out of the public service, it is not an encouraging outlook.

Speaking of underpaid geological experts—and the remarks are equally applicable to other branches of the Government where expert service is demanded—the editor of the Canadian Mining Journal says:

"The steady conscientious accumulation of geological facts by a competent scientist, prolonged over a lifetime of endeavor and concentrated upon one particular field of inquiry, may yield and often has yielded, results of astonishing economic value. Yet, as has often been pointed out, the men whose researches and direction have in the past led to the discovery and development of mineral resources of incalculible value are rewarded with salaries that sound like comic opera, did one not know the tragedy— the word is deliberately selected—of trying to live and discharge family obligations upon these beggarly pittances.

If the salaries of every member of the Geological Survey were doubled, they would still compare unfavorably with the salaries paid by private corporations to men of equal attainments."

THE G.W.V.A. CONVENTION.

Peterboro will get a tremendous amount of advertising out of the provincial convention of the Great War Veterans' Association which is to be helde here in March. Whether that advertising is good or bad will depend upon the reception that is tendered the 500 or 600 soldier delegates who will be in attendance. Already the city's intentions in this regard are being heralded abroad. The Toronto evening papers yesterday carried stories of the magnitude of the preparations that are being made in Peterboro for this convention, "Banquets and entertainments of all forms" says the Star "are being arranged and the City Council, Board of Trade, Labour organizations, religious bodies and the public are going to do everything in their power to insure hospitality at its best."

Articles of this kind are a challenge to the people of Peterboro which they will no doubt eagerly take up. In order to give the veterans a welcome that will be a fitting recognition of their services to Canada the co-operation of local organizations and of the individual citizens will be necessary. Windsor last year and Hamilton in 1918 gave the G.W.V.A. delegates a memorable welcome and Peterboro's ambition should be to surpass the efforts of these two cities and establish a standard that will cause every man of the half thousand or more delegates to carry back to his home branch a glowing recital of the hospitality of the Lift Lock City.

The attendance here will be the largest in the history of the G.W.V.A., the Provincial Secretary has announced. That means it will be the biggest convention that Peterboro has had the honour of providing for and the number of the delegates makes it necessary for systematic and business-like planning of details of the reception. It is a matter that should be taken up without delay so that there will be no danger of mistakes through hasty preparations. Peterboro wants the Provincial G.W.V.A. to be impressed with the fact that this is one of the most enterprising and warm-hearted cities of the province.

PETER McARTHUR'S NEW SUIT.

Peter McArthur, the famous philosopher, of Ekfrid, has bought a new suit of clothes, and so exceedingly fortunate has he been in getting this suit of finished grey worsted, pure wool, guaranteed and made to order at $45 that he is anxious that his many friends should know about it. He says that nearly all of them have written him and have expressed delight at the prospect of getting all-wool suits of good quality for $45. Peter expresses satisfaction that these letters are widely scattered in their origin, "for the more centres of irritation that can be started and the more demonstrations we can have that decent clothing can be had at a fair price, the sooner a change will be wrought."

Peter McArthur is not the only uninformed person who has started out on a profiteer-hunting campaign amongst the clothing men. Perhaps he may have such a suit as he describes, and then, again, perhaps he hasn't. If he secured such a garment which before the war, would have cost him only $28.50, and now costs him only $45.00, he is much luckier than hundreds of thousands of people in this country who, not only paying an advance of about forty per cent. on clothing, but every day are paying an advance of from 100 to 200 and, in some cases, 300 per cent. on the necessities of life—the products of an area not far removed from that delightful little spot in Ekfrid, from whence emanate those charming little farm fables.

Or look at it another way. Mr. McArthur probably desires to eliminate those men who come between the producer and the customer. Now, had he paid for his $28.50 suit in the days before the war with eggs, he would have disposed of some 95 dozen. Today, he would require to sell only a few over 37 dozen of eggs to buy this new suit which has brought such joy to his heart. In spite of the fact that the hen is not listed as "skilled labor," her product has advanced in price since those happy days that seem so far away nearly three hundred per cent., while the well-fitting garment which is to adorn the form of Peter McArthur, has advanced only about forty per cent. Or, once again, 31 bushels of wheat would have been required for his pre-war suit; now, he requires only about 19 1-2 bushels.

But what about the suit itself? If Peter McArthur has really got an all-wool, tailor-made suit for $45.00, two or three observations ought to be made, not the least of which is that he is doing his tailor, not an injustice, but an unkindness that he does not publish his name. The writer can guarantee that this city tailor can do a big business, either in Toronto or by mail, in $45.00 all-wool, tailor-made suits. Inquiry among wholesale houses in Toronto to-day goes to show that the cloth as described by Mr. McArthur would sell to his city tailor for between $8.00 and $10.00 per yard. The goods alone would cost around $30.00 to $35.00. A city tailor would not make a suit, in all probability, for less than $25.00 ,and this includes no profit. We do not say that Mr. McArthur hasn't an all-wool, tailor-made suit; there are tailors who have been fortunate enough to have in stock goods they bought five or six or seven years ago and Peter may have secured one of the odd lengths.

But speaking more seriously for the moment—if Mr. McArthur can be taken seriously—it would be much better for him to concern himself in a matter with which he is more conversant, particularly at a time when an investigation has certainly not shown that clothing men as a class are profiteers or anything approaching it. What he is doing, unwittingly perhaps, is to create the impression that a first-class, all-wool, tailor-made and worsted suit can be purchased at the shop of any customs tailor in any city in Canada today for $45.00. Such a suit simply cannot be purchased for $45.00 to-day; the price is nearer $80.00. Peter McArthur seems to delight in the fact that he has created several "centres of irritation." If he wishes to start out on a profiteer-hunting expedition, he is wandering unnecessarily far afield. There are "Acres of Diamonds" nearer home.—DeWitt Hutt, Editor "Men's Wear Review."

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Hon. Mr. Raney's declaration that "somebody has spilt he beans" shows the Attorney-General is endeavouring to use the U.F.O. vernacular.

The fighting among the Labour members of the Ontario Government must make Premier Drury sorry there were not a dozen more Farmer candidates elected.

Mr. Guthrie's appointment as Minister of Militia and his vacation of the Solicitor-Generalship does not necessitate a by-election, in the opinion of the Government. Probbaly that was one of the chief reasons for the appointment.—Toronto Globe.

The reputation for sagacity earned by Sir Arthur Currie in France is justified by the eagerness with which he hastens to deny any desire to assume the leadership of the Unionist party. Breaking the Hindenburg line was an easy task to leading the Union cohorts to victory.

LAKEFIELD WAR VETERANS CONDEMN INDIFFERENCE TO NATIONAL ANTHEM

RESOLUTION PASSED AT SPECIAL MEETING—LAKEFIELD NEWS OF INTEREST.

LAKEFIELD, Jan. 26.— The following resolution was passed at a meeting of the Lakefield branch of the G.W.V.A.:—"That we, the members of this Branch, have noticed with feelings of regret and strong condemnation the careless and indifferent attitude of some people during the playing or singing of "God Save the King" in public places. Considering this an anthem as a reminder of all we should hold most sacred and great in our national life, we invite the assistance of all loyal Canadians in maintaining a proper attitude of reverent attention whenever and wherever it is played or sung."

ANGLICAN CHURCH AT HALIBURTON BURNED SUNDAY

The Anglicans of Halburton suffered a severe loss on Sunday morning when their church was totally destroyed by fire. The fire was first noticed at ten o'clock, caused it is supposed, by an overheated furnace. Being a frame structure it was not very long before it was a mass of flames. The morning was bitterly cold, so the villagers had a hard time preventing the fire from spreading to other buildings. It is understood an insurance was carried on the church but will not nearly cover the loss sustained by the congregation. Rev. Mr. Waltham was the rector at Haliburton.

SANDRA THE JEALOUS

BY JANE PHELPS

BARRETT EDMONDS CALLS ON SANDRA

CHAPTER XXXI

I was glad to be relieved of the responsibilities of dinner giving, etc. But I couldn't help feeling a little hurt when I wasn't even consulted. I was the mistress of the house, yet in all ways treated by Everett more as his daughter than his wife. Naturally the servants took their cue from him, and even Mrs. Gray gradually stopped talking things over with me as she had at first, and went ahead as if the house were her own; and probably as she had done before Everett married me.

Everett had hired a butler before we commenced to entertain, so that now we had five servants—Mrs. Gray and Hetty, Richard and the butler, Peter the chauffeur, and a laundress. At home we never had had but the two old negroes who had done everything for us— that is, all save what mother herself did.

I felt that I had quite an establishment, and while, as I have said, I had not the slightest desire to have the responsibility of running it— I knew very well I was not capable—I should have liked them to ask my opinion occasionally. I said nothing of this to Everett, but as the weeks passed it became another grievance one which I also laid to the fact of my youth.

I had met Barrett Edmonds several times since that supper dance and each time I liked him better. He had a frank boyish way that was very attractive. His fine dark eyes would light up and he would appear so interested that I felt flattered. When I was with him I forgot to fret because I was not older; and just laughed and chatted as I had done with the boys at home.

Barrett was very fond of music—one would know that if they ever danced with him. When he found I sang, and played my own accompaniments, he asked if he might come in some afternoon and bring me some of his favorite songs.

"I make a big noise myself at times," was the way he told me he sang. Afterward I learned that he had a wonderful baritone voice which had been highly cultivated.

I was delighted to tell him that he might call. Then afterward I was a bit frightened. Perhaps Everett would object. At first I thought I would tell him. Then I recalled that Mr. Edmonds had set no time for a call. He might forget all about it. I would wait.

But I blustered as I pretended to think he might forget— I knew he wouldn't. I also knew I did not want him to. It was so nice to have someone to talk to; someone who treated you like a human being, and did not either patronize or make fun of you. I wanted to be taken seriously. No one seemed to think me worth while.

My birthday was the seventh of February. Everett had spoken of having another dinner party; but I had begged him to take me to a play instead. For once he agreed to do as I wished—but I think he had not really made up his mind that he wanted a dinner party, so he didn't care.

At breakfast he gave me my birthday present—a bond for a thousand dollars and a dainty flexible bracelet.

"I shall try to give you a bond on each birthday. One never knows what may happen in business." Then he showed me about cutting the coupons.

I was delighted. It made me feel quite important, and I told him so He seemed pleased that I liked my gifts. Before he left, a package came from home—a remembrance from everyone, even from Buster. There was nothing expensive, but dainty embroidered napkins from Mother, books from Father and the boys. It was nice to be so remembered.

After Everett went I showed them all to Mrs. Gray and Hetty. They both acted mysterious, altho they praised my gifts. But I paid little attention, and ran upstairs to put them away. Everett was going to take the bond down town and get a safety box in my name. But I begged him to leave it with me for the day.

"Very well," he had smiled at me for my request. "You may go with me to-morrow and get a box."

I spent the morning writing letters home, thanking them all and telling of Everett's gifts. After luncheon I had about decided to go out when Hetty came up and announced Mr. Emonds.

I was in a perfect flutter of delight It had been my first call from a young man since I had been married—really from any young person, either man or woman. I glanced in the mirror, then hurried down to the drawing room.

"I have brought some music. If you are not going out, and have time we might try a piece or two," he said after I had greeted him.

"How did you know it was my birthday?" I asked gaily, just as I would have asked one of the boys at home. "This will make it perfect." Then I told him of my gifts, and that I was going to a play in the evening. "I had almost decided to go somewhere this afternoon. I am so glad I didn't!"

"So am I. I wish I had known it was your birthday. I should have remembered you with some flowers. I wanted to as it was, but feared you might think me presumptuous."

To-morrow—Sandra Has a Happy Birthday.

TO CURE A COLD IN ONE DAY.

Take LAXATIVE BROMO QUININE (Tablets). It stops the Cough and Headache and works off the Cold. E. W. GROVE'S signature on each box. 30c.

You know it! It begins with a tickling, irritating sensation in your throat. You cough to clear the throat. In a moment—there it is again!

A minute's peace, then again you cough, and so on until you cough your throat sore, and by the time the cough is sufficiently allayed to permit you to sleep, you are thoroughly worn out. This kind of experience is particularly trying to old people.

Peps make this sort of thing quite unnecessary.

Put a Peps pastille on your tongue and allow it to slowly dissolve. Healing fumes are then liberated, which mingle with the breath and are carried to the remotest parts of the air passages and lungs, allaying the irritation and soothing the inflamed membranes, thus ending the cough and making sleep possible.

Peps are also best for bronchitis, laryngitis, asthma, sore throat and colds. Try Peps at our expense. Send this advertisement and 1c. stamp (for return postage), to Peps Co., Toronto, and receive FREE TRIAL PACKAGE. All dealers, 50c. box.

SHOT WILD DUCKS ON DIAMOND WEDDING-DAY

PARENTS OF PETERBORO DRUGGIST CELEBRATED EVENT.

A diamond jubilee is a rare celebration, but such an event is a matter of history to Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Kent of Bewdley, who are now in the sixty-first year of happy married life. Sixty, yes, seventy years ago, Hugh Kent was to be found shooting deer and bear and duck and trapping beaver on the waters that flow from and into Rice Lake on whose banks Bewdley is situated. The other morning on the occasion of his diamond wedding, he took up his gun, padled three miles along the lake, and returned with a brace of wild ducks for the memorable dinner. This is his 84th year. Mrs. Kent is 82 years old, and like her husband is still active, reads without the assistance of eyeglasses and is in splendid possession of all her faculties. Mr. and Mrs. Kent are true pioneers of their district, having been born in the township of Otonabee, near Peterbbro and residing in that vicinity all their lives. Mr. Kent was born May 14, 1837, and Mrs. Kent, May 14, 1838, so that they celebrate their birthdays as well as their anniversaries upon the same day.

Mr. Kent's grandfather was a captain with Wellington, and with his son, settled in Otonabee, where Mr. Kent was born. When the latter settled in Bewdley, the district was very sparsely settled, and the trip to Cobourg, 30 miles away, had to be made on foot to get necessary provisions. In 1859, on November 17th, the two were married in Keene, at the bride's home. In the early days Mr. Kent was Indian Agent at Hiawatha which is still an Indian reserve, and kept a trading post there. On King Edward's visit to Canada the monarch was accorded a reception by the Indians of Hiawatha, and Mr. Kent was chosen as their spokesman to convey their greetings to the white chief. Later he drove the road stage from Hiawatha to Peterboro and to Keene. Afterwards he entered the retail grocery and drygoods business in Roseneath and Bailieboro. For 25 years the happy couple have resided in Bewdley where the head of the house is now retired from business life. He keeps himself in condition and pleasantly passes the time on the lake fishing, canoeing and duck shooting. Mr. Kent was even in his early days a crack shot and has not lost his shooting accuracy at 83. In his youth he trapped all the waters from Quebec to Manitoulin Island and keeps fresh these memories of pioneer days by his briefer excursions on Rice Lake.

Participants in the diamond Jubilee were his three sons, W. J. Kent, druggist. Peterboro, Geo. E. Kent, 174 McPherson Avenue, Toronto; A. J. Kent. Game and Fisheries Overseer, Bewdley, and the latter's son. Albert Hugh, who is 12 years of age. There are two other grandsons, Norman of Toronto, and Geo. of Bewdley.

THE CRITIC.

My father says the paper that he reads ain't put up right,
He finds a lot of fault, he does, perusing it at night.
He says there ain't a single thing in it worth while to read,
And that it doesn't print the kind of stuff that people need,
He tosses it aside and says it is strictly "on the bum,"—
But you ought to hear him holler when the paper doesn't come.

He reads about the weddin's and he snorts like all get out,
He reads the social doin's with a most derisive shout;
He says they make the papers for the wimmin flk alone,
He'll read about the parties and he'll fume and fret and groan,
He says of information it don't contain a crumb—
But you ought to hear him holler when the paper doesn't come.

He's always first to grab it and he reads it plumb clean through.
He doesn't miss an item or a want ad—that is true—
He says "They don't know what we want, them durn newspaper guys;
I'm going to take a day some time and go and put them wise,
Sometimes it seems as though they must be deaf and blind and dumb——"
But you ought to hear him holler when the paper doesn't come.

ONLY TABLETS MARKED "BAYER" ARE ASPIRIN

For Colds, Pain, Lumbago, Stiffness, Rheumatism, Sciatica, Neuritis, and for Headache, Neuralgia, Toothache, Earache, take Aspirin marked with the name "Bayer" or you are not taking Aspirin at all.

Accept only "Bayer Tablets of Aspirin" in an unbroken "Bayer" package which contains complete directions. Then you are getting real Aspirin—the genuine Aspirin prescribed by physicians for over nineteen years. Now made in Canada.

Handy tin boxes containing 12 tablets cost but a few cents. Druggists also sell larger "Bayer" packages.

There is only one Aspirin—"Bayer"—You must say "Bayer"

Aspirin is the trade mark (registered in Canada) of Bayer Manufacture of Monoaceticacidester of Salicylicacid. While it is well known that Aspirin means Bayer manufacture, to assist the public against imitations, the Tablets of Bayer Company will be stamped with their general trade mark, the "Bayer Cross."

Old Gregory has Driving Power

Sixty-five years old, but still keen and active, a power in business and among friends. What is at the back of his "drive"?

It's health—lungs sound, blood pressure normal. And back of his health are regular habits—proper elimination.

Yes, it's largely this habit of regular bowel evacuation that keeps "old man Gregory" young. The poisons of constipation effect more distinctive changes in the body than perhaps any other cause. Keep your system free of these poisons by habitual, daily movements.

If you have difficulty in cultivating this habit, remember that by an entirely new principle Nujol will keep the poisonous waste moving out of the body. Every other form of treatment either irritates or forms the system. Nujol works on the waste matter instead of on the system.

Nujol prevents constipation by keeping the food waste soft, thus helping nature establish easy, thorough bowel evacuation at regular intervals—the healthiest habit in the world.

Nujol is sold by all druggists in sealed bottles only, bearing Nujol trade-mark. Write Nujol Laboratories, Standard Oil Co. (New Jersey), 50 Broadway, New York, for booklet "Thirty Feet of Danger."

RICHARD HALL & SON LIMITED

CALEDONIANS HONOUR THE MEMORY OF BURNS

SPLENDID BANQUET AT THE EMPRESS LAST NIGHT WAS LARGELY ATTENDED—MANY FEATURES REMINISCENT OF THE HOME LAND AND ITS TRADITIONS.

HAGGIS RECEIVED

The one hundred and sixty-first anniversary of the birth of Robert Burns—Scotland's national poet and sweetest singer—was celebrated by the Peterbprough Caledonian Club at the Empress Hotel last night.

Although it was the first time in six years that the memory of the Bard of Ayr was honoured in this city, due to the fact that ninety-five per cent. of the members of the Club enlisted for service in the Great War — of whom 9 were killed and 13 wounded—the hiatus and the rekindled patriotism seemed to have aroused a deeper affection, if possible, for Scotland and the spirit of her immortal son, who symbolically represents her traditions and her glories.

Peterborough's banquet was but one voice in the universal chorus of tribute that was offered to the Immortal Memory of Burns last night wherever Scotsmen dwell, and not only by Caledonians, but by people of other tongues, who have been inspired by his simple, manly message, his love of liberty, and his sympathy for the common people, his hatred of cant and hypocrisy, of servility and arrogance.

Burns himself was "a man for a' that," and in the principal address of the evening, Rev. E. W. MacKay, of Orillia, laid particular emphasis upon the immeasurable influence upon the Scottish people of the strong ideas invested by his poetry, that simplicity, his love of nature and of the common people in the joys and sorrows of their home life, his rugged patriotism that inspired "The Dumfries Volunteers," and his appeal to Scottish nationalism that pulses through "Scots Wha' Ha'e Wi' Wallace Bled."

Back from the War and from visits on leave to the Old Land, the Caledonians spared nothing that could make for the success of their anniversary banquet. The dining-rooms at the Empress were crowded, and the decorations on the walls, together with a picture of Burns, helped to create an atmosphere that was heightened by the broad accents and the spirit of brotherhood, or perhaps clannishness that is the envy of other peoples. It might have been taken for a gathering of the clans, as the names of MacKenzie, Cameron, Ferguson, MacGregor, and many another name that is famed in Scottish story, and there was a subtle impression of contact with far-off places — from John o' Groat's in the north to the Borders and the Solway, and from the whole East and West coastlines; in the sprigs of heather gathered from the purple hills, the pipers in their kilts and plaids and bonnets, the haggis of old tradition, the songs and stories contributing to the illusion that was broken only in the small hours of the morning when the guests dispersed, feeling unco happy.

Addressed the Haggis.

A feature of the banquet itself was the reception of the haggis. To Mrs. John Hurry, Monaghan Road, formerly of the town of Musselburgh, near Edinburgh, fell the honour of making the seven haggis that were served to the guests. Together they weighed about forty pounds, and with their service plates, were borne from the kitchens on the shoulders of James F. Reid, Robert French, J. A. Smith, and Robert Veitch. Led by the pipers, the little procession marched through the dining-room, circling among the tables, the plaid ribbons fluttering from the pipes that sounded a brave air.

Immediately His Lordship had been placed on the table, Mr. William Weatherstone recited, with much expression, the "Address Tae a Haggis."

It was all very stirring, but the reminder of the passing of the old days and their customs caught at the heart with the realisation of the comparative rareness and lack of colour in the manner of living to-day.

Mr. E. G. Hardie, as toastmaster, acquitted himself very acceptably, and in the hours that were given to song and story and speech, the memory of Robert Burns was the glowing thread that wove in and out of the grave and gay proceedings from the first toast to the King to the singing of his own "Auld Lang Syne"

"And mony a night we've merry been
And mony mae we hope to be."

Rev. Mr. McKay's Address.

Replying to the toast to "The Immortal Memory," Rev. Mr. McKay dealt especially with the influence of Burns' poetry and songs upon the Scottish people and upon the literature of the world. He was born near Ayr on 25th January, 1759, the son of a farmer. In his youth he followed the plough, was educated in the schools nearby, and naturally broke into song early in his youth.

Mr. McKay quoted Lord Rosebery's eulogy, in which he said that "Burns' true life began with his death when what was frail and mortal passed out, freeing his spirit," and Burns' own prediction, "I'll be more respected one hundred years after I am dead than I am at present," had been fulfilled almost from the very year of his death in 1796. Mr. McKay said that Burns' poetry was marked by sheer inspiration. Like Shakespeare, he did not get from books or man the powers he possessed. The eternal spoke through both of them in some way or other, and there was no explaining their art and genius.

"You can't explain why Abraham Lincoln was the greatest man that ever lived in the United States—and Lincoln in the States, Shakespeare in England, and Burns in Scotland—who can explain them?"

Mr. McKay quoted Emerson, Longfellow, Wordsworth, and other poets who acknowledged their indebtedness to Burns, whose writings had not only impressed persons, but had influenced the literature of the world. Someone said that the strength of his passion and the weakness of his moral will made his poetry and spoiled his life.

Mr. McKay illustrated Burns' appreciation of and powers of describing the beauties of nature. He lived with all the things around him, and even the "wee, sleekit, tim'rous, cowering beastie," the field mouse, caught his sympathy. Some critics had said that Burns was unduly sentimental, but they failed to understand him—the impressions the simple things of life made upon him. His graphic powers were deft and swift, and in a few strokes, Mr. McKay remarked, Burns could limn a scene or person or character with a vividness that endured.

Ideas of Liberty.

"We don't fully realise our indebtedness to Burns for our ideas of liberty and freedom," Mr. McKay said, quoting from "The Dumfries Volunteer" the lines:

"For never but by British hands
Maun British wrongs be righted."

"That sentence made its way into the hearts not only of the Scottish people, but of the British peoples all around the world."

Mr. McKay recalled the highly dramatic scene immediately preceding Britain's declaration of war against Germany, when the decision rested with Sir Edward Grey, the cheering in the House of Commons when the die was cast, and the flashing answers from every corner of the Empire, that the "Mother Country's action is right, and we will stand by you."

"While we sing God save the King, We'll no' forget the people."

"Do you think we really realise how indebted we are to the man who put that sentence into words like these?" asked Mr. McKay, referring to Burns' love of liberty, which was instilled by his poetry into the hearts of his countrymen, making them uncompromising leaders for liberty, for which they had shown themselves ready to give their lives.

Was he an irreligious man? was another question the speaker dealt with, referring in passing to the harm done religion by men who simply made a pretence of it.

"Jesus never broke out so vehemently as when he flayed the Scribes and Pharisees. Burns did it in 'Holy Willie's Prayer,' and his 'Address to the Unco Guid.' He held up to scorn those people who took a delight in preening themselves as the salt of the earth, and like the Pharisees, thanking God they were not like other people."

Influenced Lives.

The poetry of Burns had influenced Scotsmen in their personal lives, Mr. McKay continued. His spirit of manliness and courage had been infused into them so that wherever they go there is not a Scotsmen who can't look men straight in the eyes. If they know the teachings and writings of Burns, they will feel that their manhood is something they must not tamper with or allow others to tamper with. That sentiment possessing the hearts of Scotsmen had made them a dominant people everywhere they go.

"He sang his songs in simple, artless words, clear notes in words that will never die. We can't begin to explain Burns any more than Shakespeare or Lincoln; but if we get in touch with their souls, forgetting the little things that characterised them as mortals, we shall catch some of their greatness and pass it into our lives."

Scotland and Canada.

The toast to the "Twa Countrees," Scotland and Canada, was eloquently honoured by Mr. H. R. H. Kenner, who said he spoke as an Englishman. He spoke of the wealth of Canada's natural resources, and touched upon her splendid part in the Great War, from which she emerged as a nation, a signatory to the Treaty of Peace, and a member of the League of Nations. No longer a colony, only two possible goals appeared before her — one of absolute independence, the other of a sort of Imperial union, giving us some voice in Imperial policies. The latter appealed to the broader patriotism, and Mr. Kenner asked whether it was not possible to conceive of an Imperial union safeguarding the autonomy of each of the confederate nations, and so completely looking after the powers of the central government as to please even those who seemed anxious for independence. Canada's mission might be to point the way to the realisation of that grander position than the Empire had yet occupied.

Mr. Kenner paid a tribute to the industry and economy of Scotsmen, and to other characteristics that made them an outstanding people. Canada revered the names of Sir John Macdonald, MacKenzie, Strathcona. Referring to Scotland's national poet, Mr Kenner said that no better illustration of the fact that poets are born and not made was found in the writings and life of Burns.

Mayor McIntyre.

Responding to the toast of the City of Peterborough, Mayor McIntyre declared that Peterborough was honoured by such a body as the Caledonian Club. He emphasised their patriotic response in the war, to the number of their members who went overseas, and wished them every success. They were a great asset to any community, and the Caledonian Clubs all over the world, celebrating

For Skins Affected By Winds and Weather

This is the season when she who would have a spotless, lily-white, satiny complexion should turn her thoughts to mercolized wax, the firm friend of the winter girl. Nothing so effectually overcomes the despoiling effects of piercing winds and biting cold temperatures. The wax literally absorbs the chapped, reddened or coarsened cuticle, bringing forth a brand new skin, clear, soft and girlishly beautiful.

An ounce of mercolized wax, obtainable at any drug store, applied nightly like cold cream, and washed off mornings, will gradually improve the worst complexion. It is perfectly harmless, of course.

DECLINED PRESENT

Mayor McKinnon of Cobalt has declined a present offered to him by the Cobalt Town Council at the end of his four-year term of service. At a special meeting on Wednesday Councillors F. A. Sullivan and H. Whelan were appointed to spend $500 in the purchase of a gift for His Worship. The Mayor informed the Council that he would not accept the present under any circumstances while appreciating the spirit which prompted the deed.

PLEASANT EVENING AT BELMONT CLUB

A very pleasant evening was spent at the Belmont Club last evening by members of the Club, with friends, to the number of over 100 men of the city, in response to the invitation to attend the Belmont Club mid-winter stag, euchre drive and banquet. Excellent prizes for euchre were offered, after which luncheon was served, and addresses made by the prize winners, members of the Club and visitors present. Instrumental and vocal music was supplied by Messrs. Huycke and Evans.

The evening was thoroughly enjoyed by all present, and the members congratulated on their rooms, their hospitality and the manner in which they conduct their club.

Mr. J. T. C. Laing, in the absence of the President, Mr. Ronald McKee, occupied the chair.

The evening closed with singing "God Save the King" with everybody present thoroughly delighted.

DIAMOND RUSH TO THE DESERT

WATERLESS, TREELESS WASTE IN SOUTH AFRICA SCENE OF NEW RUSH.

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa.—Tlaring, a waterless, treeless and virtually gameless desert near Taungs, in Bechuanaland, promises to be the scene of the biggest diamond claim staking rush in South African history. It is understood that Tlaring will be proclaimed open for diamond digging about March 20.

Amazing stories are afloat concerning the wonderful richness of the district, and prospective diggers from the Cape land to the Zambesi and Mozambique, and even the Congo, are preparing to try their luck in the new field. Despite warnings of possible failure, men are abandoning good jobs in various parts of the country in order to be free to stake out claims when the proclamation is issued. Hundreds of women also are arranging to go to the new diggings.

The Government is preparing to cope with the anticipated rush to Tlaring, and a township to receive the new community is being laid out.

Taungs is situated about forty miles south of Vryburg, and about one hundred miles north of Kimberley, the last named place famoue for its great diamond mines.

COLD AND DRY IN PARRY SOUND.

Chief of Police Kidd, of Parry Sound, was in Oshawa on business on Monday. When leaving there, the thermometer was 35 degrees below zero and by the time he reached here the northern man considered it was time to turn down his coat collar. Speaking of his work in his home town, which has a population of 5,000, Chief Kidd states there hasn't been a charge of drunkenness in the police court for the past three months.

NIGHT COUGHS PREVENT SLEEP WEAR OUT THE SYSTEM

The dry, hacking cough, cough, day and night is very wearing on the system. The constant coughing disturbs the rest and keeps the lungs and bronchial tubes in such an irritated and inflamed condition they get no chance to heal.

You will find in Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup a remedy without an equal for curing coughs and colds, soothing the lungs, loosening the phlegm, strengthening and healing the breathing organs, and fortifying them against serious pulmonary disease.

Mrs. Fred. Fairburn, Copper Cliff, Ont., writes:—"I caught a heavy cold, got a sore throat and had a terrible hacking cough that I could not get rid of. I could not sleep at night. I had tried quite a few remedies, but they did not seem to do me much good until I took Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. By the time I had taken two bottles my cough was all gone.

"It seemed to loosen the cough right away so that I could spit up the phlegm that gathered in my throat, and also took that hot, raw, burning fever out of my bronchial tubes. I feel that Dr. Wood's has no equal."

BE NOT AFRAID

To the Editor of the Examiner.

Sir: It is on record that Job said, "The thing which I greatly feared has come upon me." Will you pardon me, sir, for appealing to you at this time, to assist in the work of restricting, as far as you can, the disquieting fears injuriously being circulated and gossiped about regarding the expected return of a so-called epidemic or contagious disease.

Most people will agree that it is always cheaper to prevent disease than to pay the doctor, and far more satisfactory. But there are fewer people who will agree as to how to carry out the simplest means for the prevention of diseases. It should be apparent, however, to every intelligent person that one of the surest ways to encourage "dis-ease" is to spread fear among the people; for it cannot be denied that fear has played a very important part in the past in the spread of so-called epidemic troubles.

I am not bringing this matter to your attention, Mr. Editor, for the purpose of criticising the utterances or actions of City Health officers, but purely for the purpose of bringing this most vital matter to your attention—that by casting fear from our minds and our midst we will be in a better position to cope with trouble if it should come. Certainly the publication of apprehensions of evil always brings its toll of trouble, for "Fear is faith in Evil." In fact it would not be an exaggeration to affirm that fear, in one form or another, is responsible for all suffering and failure.

If there exists a logical relationship between peace of mind and inharmony of bodily function, and if fear is a prolific cause of mental disorders, then it necessarily follows that the lessening and control of fear is one of the most interesting and profitable of educational and curative purposes.

Such being the case, is it wise, Mr. Editor, to spread alarm by the publication of disquieting reports, morbid apprehensions, and gruesome details that cannot possibly result in any good?

It will be readily admitted that the high water mark of the "regular" physician is reached when mental conditions are given more consideration, and the patient is told not to be afraid, but cheerful.

Remove fear and you do much to remove the liability to disease. The conquest of this slavery to fear must be the starting point for our victory over human limitations. "Know ye not that to whom ye YIELD yourselves servants to obey, His servants ye are to whom ye obey." Therefore, yield not to fear.

Pardon me, Mr. Editor, if I allude to another matter which is just now receiving a good deal of attention. I refer to the action of School Boards in spreading fear among the school children by medical diagnosis. Children are being told by nurse inspectors that they suffer from certain afflictions and diseases. A mother complains that one of her girls was informed that she had tonsilitis because she could not say "Ah" in an aproved manner, and the other was told that she was suffering from tuberculosis.

It is complained that such information, even if correct, should not be furnished to the children themselves but should be imparted by letter or other means to the parents. Youth is very impressionable and imaginative and is very apt to take altogether wrong sugestions from knowledge which it is not able properly to understand. Tell a sensitive child that it is suffering from some disease with a long and terrifying name and it is likely to brood upon it in such a way that, even if the disease were not actually present at the time of the receipt of the information, it might be developed through morbid fear.

By all means tell children what they ought to do and refrain from doing to preserve their health, but there is surely no justification for loading their young minds with a terror of disease.

Parents have rights in such matters and one of these rights consists of being able to choose the medical advisors of their young. The school inspector may, or may not, be capable of making a correct diagnosis, but as the parent is not in a position to know what are the inspector's qualifications, there is naturally no confidence in the medical examinations conducted in the public schools.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for this privilege, I remain, yours respectfully

MADE BY SCOTT & BOWNE MAKERS OF SCOTT'S EMULSION

ENTERTAINED THE CHILDREN IN THE CHILDREN'S SHELTER

PARK STREET YOUNG PEOPLE'S SOCIETY.

(Contributed.)

On Saturday afternoon, Jan. 23rd, the Young People's Society of Park street Baptist church gave the children of the Children's Shelter a sleigh drive followed by a supper in the basement of the church.

Everything was done to give the kiddies a good time, and to say they enjoyed it would be putting it mildly. From start to finish they were wild with excitement.

A Good Year.

The Young People's Society has just closed one of the best years ever known in the history of its existence. Fifty meetings were held during the year and an average attendance of sixty-three. Thirteen have united with the church, and the spiritual growth has been greater than ever was hoped for or experienced in past years.

From a financial point of view, 1919 was a record breaker. More money was given to charitable institutions, local work, home and foreign missions, than ever before, with an additional sum of $50 to the Church Building Fund.

Good Fellowship.

The fellowship that exists can be readily seen when it is known that of all the matters that have been under, taken, none have failed.

At their regular meeting Monday evening Mrs. Emery gave a very interesting mission topic on Japan. The meeting was largely attended and the interest taken in our distant mission fields was very noticeable.

At the beginning of the meeting the President made an appeal for the Armenian Fund and the sum of $9.75 was collected.

This society extend to each and every man or woman, boy or girl, who do not attend regularly any young people's meetings, a very cordial invitation to meet with them every Monday night from eight to nine. Every person is invited and will be heartily welcomed.

THE LIQUOR CASE WAS DISMISSED

The charge against the bartender of the hotel operated by Mr. William Fisher, and known as Gollop's hotel, was dismissed in this morning's police court. The case which was heard yesterday, alleges a violation of the Ontario Temperance Act on the part of the bartender and an unknown man. The latter was accused of attempting to share a small bottle of liquor with the bartender. In his judgment, Magistrate Dumble said that Fisher might have been mistaken about seeing liquor in the bartender's tumbler, and refers to the contradictory nature of the evidence.

Voice Of The People

To the Editor of The Examiner.

Sir,—It has been my humble wish to do what I could to aid the churches in their mighty effort to throw off materialism, so prominently set forth at present in many ways.

As a contribution to this determined effort to rescue us from the new temptation, I ask you to publish the following as an advertisement for one week:

"These five separate communions are of one mind as to their belief in God the Father Almighty, maker of Heaven and Earth, and in Jesus Christ His Son, our Lord. They now declare to their respective constituencies, and also unitedly to the Canadian people that the only effective Method of Making Good Citizens is by urging men to a more faithful practice of Christianity by inculcating personal faith in Jesus Christ. They insist that there is no other dependable way of correcting evil tendencies in individual and national life. Signed by the United National Campaign, representing the simultaneous but independent Forward Movements of the Anglican, Baptist, Congregational, Methodist, and Presbyterian Communions of Canada."

6d-15 J. H. Burnham.

Peterboro, Ont., Jan. 27th 1920

The Mayor and Council of Peterborough.

Your Worship and Gentlemen:—As Federal Parliamentary Representative for the present, of the West Riding including the city, I feel it my duty to call your attention to the fact that the setting aside of a portion of Ashburnham's Industrial front on the Canal extending perhaps from the Hunter street Bridge along the east shore of the river for a very considerable distance, will handicap a member very seriously in his effort to have the Dry-dock and perhaps other government repair stations erected in Peterborough. I had the whole dry-dock basin and repair shops scheme approved by parliament and the government and a preliminary sum put in the estimates for the work when the war came down on us and stopped it, as it did the federal building for a time.

It does not look to me as-if we can urge on the government the development of Peterborough as an Industrial centre if we are taking what is not vital for a park but what is vital for business and devoting it to aesthetic purposes. The Canal from here to Lake Ontario is 8 ft. 4 in. in the locks and with further dredging will be a real waterway for us to connect up with at Lake Ontario. It is practically still water from here to Hastings and below that increases in volume by the addition of the Crow River, etc. It is true that by making this land a park and athletic ground the bridge from the river east may be scrapped and remoged to the west as unnecessary, the bridge then beginning at the east shore on the east and ending at the top of the incline on the west as at present, but that does not in my humble opinion help out the solution of the matter I refer to.

I have the honor, to remain,
Yours truly,
J. H. BURNHAM.

CALEDOCIANS HONOUR MEMORY

the memory of Robert Burns, were keeping alive and refreshing the fine qualities characteristic of Scotsmen.

"The Caledonian Club."

In replying to this toast, Mr. G. N. Gordon drew attention to the presence of Mr. Moyes, the first president of the Caledonian Club in this city, and Mr. Weatherstone, who had helped to maintain the Sons of Scotland in Peterborough. To both of these gentlemen the success of the Caledonian Club was due in a very large measure. The club was preserving Scottish traditions and the sweet memories and songs of Scotland, and the features of her history. Since 1900 there had been 385,000 Scottish come to Canada, and the Hon. Mr. Calder had said that none equalled the Scots as citizens of this country. Three-fourths of the members of the British Cabinet were Scotsmen. They were governing Great Britain, and had Home Rule of their own.

Mr. Gordon said that the chief reason why the Scots were leaders was that they were the best educated people in the world. From the days at their mothers' knees they were educated with a deep sense of religious duty, loyalty to their country and to the teachings of their parents. These lasting influences gave them confidence in entering upon responsibilities and determination to do their duty. That was the reason Scotsmen have occupied the positions they have honoured and why they fulfilled their trust.

Absent Members.

Rev. James A. MacKenzie, in speaking to the toast of the "Absent Members," referred particularly to those who had made the supreme sacrifice in the war, and stated that if they could send a message "they would direct us to live for the things that are spiritual."

Mr. Robert Dobie replied to the toast of "The Lassies," and in a sort of biography highly amused the assembly, closing with a fervent blessing upon the ladies.

The traditional hospitality of the Scottish people was one of the themes of Mr. G. O. Cameron's response to "Our Visitors." Scottish hospitality, he said, was an institution handed down through the ages. It was proved during the war when Canadian soldiers on leave invariably went to Scotland, because they were ever sure of a warm home welcome. Everything the Scottish people had was offered to them, and nothing was left undone to make them feel at home.

The Programme.

Song—"There was a Lad"—John A Smith.

Song—"The Star o' Rabbie Burns"—Harry Taylor.

Song—"Scots Wha Hae"—Robert Hendry.

Cello Solo—"Flow Gently Sweet Afton"—Tom Smith.

Bagpipe selections and songs—Pipers A. A. McLaren and J. R. Muir.

Song—"Green Grow the Rashes"—John Anderson.

Song—"Ye Banks and Braes"—Wm. Petrie.

Song—"Dumfries Volunteers"—Wm. Weatherstone.

Recitation —"Tam O' Shanter" — Wm. Thompson.

The accompanists were Messrs. Haddow, Muir and W. H. Barry.

In this programme that was well sustained in interest from the first to the last number it may not be invidious to single out the songs by Mr. Weatherstone who is growing younger in spirit with his increasing years, the selections by the pipers, Messrs. A. A. McLaren of Wiarton and James R. Muir of the 48th Highlanders, Toronto, who played "Muir's Highland March," McKay's Farewell to Edinburgh," "Scotland the Brave" and "MacKenzie's march past" with several horrorings, and also the recitation of Tam o'Shanter by Wm. Thompson.

A 15 YEARS' FIRE

Just think! That is the time through which Mr. H. C. Buckley endured all the fiery torture of itching, burning eczema. His life was a perfect misery until Zam-Buk—the great herbal skin cure—brought complete relief.

Mr. Buckley, who lives at 481 East Broadway, Portland, Oregon, writes:—"For fifteen years I suffered with eczema, and although I tried many so-called 'eczema cures,' nothing seemed capable of dealing with a case like mine. It was not until I had Zam-Buk recommended to me that I began to have hope. This wonderful skin healer soon brought about a change for the better. As I persevered with Zam-Buk the burning sensation got less. I found Zam-Buk wonderfully soothing. Gradually the patches of soreness and the inflammation were reduced, and complete and permanent cure finally resulted. I would strongly advise all afflicted with eczema to give Zam-Buk a trial. It will give them satisfaction. They will not be disappointed."

No skin disease can resist the potent healing forces stored up in Zam-Buk, which is unequalled for old wounds, ulcers, abscesses, bad legs, scalp sores, blood-poisoning, piles, scalds, burns, cuts and all skin injuries. All druggists and stores, or Zam-Buk Co., Toronto. 50c. box.

ZAM-BUK

BULL DISAPPEARED.

On Tuesday afternoon, Mr. Auguyle Rutherford, Colborne, shipped a thoroughbred Durham bull to Mr. Samuel J. Stewart of Consecon. The animal left Colborne in a box car on the Canadian Northern about 7.30 and arrived safely at Trenton, where it remained over night. In the morning when the car was about to be sent on to its destination it was found to be empty and no trace of the bull has yet been found. This looks like a new line of robbery.

"DANDERINE" FOR FALLING HAIR

For a few cents you can save your hair and double its beauty.

To stop falling hair at once and rid the scalp of every particle of dandruff, get a small bottle of delightful "Danderine" at any drug store or toilet counter for a few cents, pour a little in your hand and rub it into the scalp. After several applications the hair usually stops coming out and you can't find any dandruff. Help your hair grow strong, thick and long and become soft, glossy and twice as beautiful and abundant.

RECORD JUNIOR CROWD IS EXPECTED TO-NIGHT

The interest that is being shown in the junior O.H.A. battle between Lindsay and Peterborough juniors at Hayes street rink to-night indicates that a record crowd for a junior game will be in attendance. Every clash between the two teams this season has been a fight from gong to gong, and to-night's fixture will be another of the same kind.

The Petes finished their training for the game with a lively practice last night and are right on edge for the critical game to-night. The squad, with the exception of Goal-keeper Chris. Bergoine, is in good shape. Bergoine was vaccinated some time ago and as a result may be out of to-night's game. If he is unable to play Galvin will take his place in the nets. Sheehan and Lawson will be the defence pair with Collins at centre, Foley at left wing, Thirsbeck at right wing and Jackson and Ranger subs.

The Lindsay line-up will include McCloy goal, Garnett and Green defence, Bell centre, Chambers and Stoddard wings and Kelly and McElroy subs.

Percy Lesueur will referee, and the game is called for 8.30 o'clock.

CANNINGTON AGAIN EASY FOR LINDSAY

LINDSAY, Jan. 26.—Lindsay intermediates scored another victory by defeating Cannington by the score of 18 to 5. Lindsay players found the visitors a light bunch and had the better of the play throughout the game. For the locals Coombs, Carew and Flavelle were the best, while Richards, McFadden and Welsh were the best for the losers. Line-up:

Referee—Jacobi.

CRUCIAL GAME IN INTERMEDIATE SERIES

The crucial game in the intermediate group will be played here on Friday night, when Lindsay will meet the Petes. A victory for Lindsay will give the group to Frank Carew's lads, while Peterborough on the other hand can tie up the group by winning here and by beating Cannington on their own ice on Monday. There will be an important practice of the intermediates to-morrow (Wednesday night) at 7 o'clock and there should be no absentees. At last night's practice only four intermediate players, Murray, Lornie Rose, Cherrett and Jackson, were on the ice. There will have to be a better showing to-morrow night.

BRINTON CARPET WON TWO GAMES

Last night in the Business Men's Five-Pin League, at the Water street alleys, the Brinton Carpet took two out of the three from the De Laval. For the Brinton Carpet Arrowsmith was high man with 608, Carroll next with 548. For De Laval Barrette was high with 595, McGee 513. The scores:

PRIZE AWAY.

Porky Flynn and Al Reich Convicted of Boxing a Bawdy.

TRENTON, N.J., Jan. 26. — The State Athletic Commission has temporarily barred Dan (Porky) Flynn, of Boston, and Al. Reich, of New York, from engaging in bouts in New Jersey on the ground that they "shammed" at a boxing exhibition here on Christmas Day.

Flynn, under the commission's ruling, is barred one year and Reich six months.

The commission ordered that charitable institutions here be given the money which the boxers were to have received.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

"DIANE OF THE GREEN VAN."

In the premier picture from her own studio, Alma Rubens, one of the most fascinating of the movie stars, created a most favorable impression with theatre-goers at the Grand last evening in "Diane of the Green Van," the picture interpretation of Leona Dalrymple's celebrated story. Miss Rubens in the leading role was most charming and was supported by an unusually strong cast, while the detail of the delightful story were most elaborately carried out, making in all a picture of more than usual interest.

Elinor Field in "Betty's Love" provided a most acceptable half hour, the Max Sennet comedy being in keeping with all previous Sennet productions.

DOOR IS NOT SHUT TO A RECOUNT OF THE REFERENDUM VOTE

TORONTO, Jan. 26.—The Government has not shut the door to a recount of the liquor referendum vote. Hon. W. E. Raney, Attorney-General, had authorized the following statement:

"There appears to be a misapprehension with regard to the attitude of the Government towards the application of the delegation which waited upon the Government some time ago to request a recount of the referendum vote.

"It was intimated to the delegation at that time that the Government would be disposed to give sympathetic consideration to the application and the delegation was requested to make an application in writing indicating the ridings where they desired a recount to be held. When some time later the letter from the solicitor for the Citizens' Liberty League was received indicating a desire for a recount in Manitoulin and North-West Toronto, the latter was referred to the Deputy Attorney-General for an opinion as to the powers of the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council. His opinion, after reciting the provisions of the statute was that the time having elapsed within which the application might be made under the statute there was no authority in the Government either to extend the time or to provide another tribunal for holding the recount."

"The Government has not taken any final attitude in the matter. All the Attorney-General did was to transmit Mr. Bayly's opinion to the solicitor of the Liberty League and to say to him that if he differed from Mr. Bayly's conclusions he, the Attorney-General, would be glad to hear from him again. No further intimation has been received from the solicitor for the Liberty League. If the Liberty League presses the point and makes a further application to the Government the matter will be further considered."

FAR EAST DRAMA FOR H. B. WARNER

MONGOLIAN REVOLUTION AND PLOT AGAINST FOREIGNERS MAKE FOR FAMOUS ACTOR'S LATEST PICTURE VEHICLE.

"The Pagan God," the second Superior Picture distributed by Exhibitors Mutual starring the famous London and Broadway star, H. B. Warner, is an intense drama of the far East with a Mongolian revolution as basis of the plot. The picture was made by Jesse D. Hampton under the direction of Park Frame from the story by F. McGrew Willis, and is a Robertson-Cole production.

The exotic Oriental settings with its intrigues and mystery, provide a vivid background that has a strong appeal visually and dramatically. The Chinaman is always a riddle to the Occidental. His ways are devious and his smile, tho' often "pensive and childlike," as remarked by Bret Harte is full of hidden meanings, all of which make him a man of mystery.

Bruce Winthrop, the young American diplomat, went into Mongolia on a still hunt for the leaders of the revolution, and had to bear the stigma of a renegade to accomplish his mission. He played the Chink's own game and beat him to it, but if it hadn't been for the little "Pagan God" which the absent-minded curio-collector had picked up in an antique shop, his bones would probably have reposed in some Chinese dungeon.

Warner gives a masterly portrayal of the American secret-service diplomat, his acting being characterized by fine restraint and dramatic poise.

This will be seen at the Grand on Thursday, Friday and Saturday in addition to the Keith Vaudeville.

"COME ON, REMORSE!" ROUSES THEM ANEW

"Come on Remorse." How well one remembers the cry in "Checkers," the famous racing play which held the stage so many years, playing the country from end to end over and over again, and made millions for its owners. Remorse wins the rich stakes in the play, although unknown up to that time. Remorse, Checkers, Push Miller, Pert Barlow and the rest—they all come to life again in the mammoth William Fox production of "Checkers," which was shown yesterday at the Allen Theatre for a run of three days. Richard Stanton, who staged the picture, has taken advantage of the outdoor atmosphere to make one of the most spectacular pictures ever shown in this town.

Checkers is a reformed race track tout who falls in love with a southern beauty. His adventure is beset with troubles, but he overcomes every obstacle. The picture is big with its combination of humor, pathos and glowing romance.

"BLIND HUSBANDS" AT GRAND THEATRE

A noted cynic once said of marriage: "The first forty years are the hardest!"

That the married life of millions of people is unhappy is proved by the divorce records.

What are the reasons?

The film story, which is to be shown at the Grand Theatre on February 2nd, 3rd and 4th, was produced under the direction of Eric Stroheim, who also plays the leading role.

In brief, the story shows how a so-called dutiful husband ground the embers of his wife's love in the dust of indifference and made her heart vulnerable to the advances of a love-buzzard.

The story of "Blind Husbands" was written by Stroheim from an incident that occurred under his observation while he was on a vacation tour in the Alps.

Supporting him in the cast are several screen celebrities, among whom are Francelia Billington, Sam De-Grasse, H. Gibson-Gowland, Valerie Germonprez and Jack Perrin.

WATCH YOUR STEP

With many bewitching qualities as a musical play is Irving Berlin's famous international success, "Watch Your Step," which will be the attraction at the Grand Wednesday Evening Only.

"Watch Your Step" is a snappy, rapid-fire singing and dancing show that captures its audiences on the jump and carries them through to a whirlwind finish without a second's interruption, almost. It is a veritable cyclone of comedy, captivating songs, lilting melodies, whistleable airs, clever voices, graceful dancing, fascinating girls, gorgeous costuming, splendid scenic effects, and a light, logical plot, all combined to make up one of the most delightful theatrical entertainments that have come to this city in a long time.

Prominent among the many good hits are "Settle Down in a One Horse Town," "They Follow Me Around," "The Minstrel Parade," "When I Discovered You," "Lead Me to Love," "The Dancing Master," "Show Us How to do the Fox Trot," "I Love to Have the Boys Around Me" and "Old Opera in a New Way," besides which Mr. Berlin has written several new songs especially for "Watch Your Step" this season.

The costumes will be the very latest expressions to the world of fashion and were designed by the celebrated Helen Dryden, who is the artist who designs all the covers for "Vogue." The scenic effects are also admirably designed to enhance the brilliancy of the many changes of costume and to an eventful story which holds throughout the full evening.

The younger a man is the more he knows about women—he thinks.

WHY THE PARSON DON'T "MAKE THE PACE"

THE STORY OF A PERTINENT AND PROFITABLE PARABLE.

(By Rev. Jerome Wilson, D.D., Editor of "Church Advocate.")

"Did you enjoy goin' to swap parsons at the White Church," remarked Simeon Barton's visitor casually.

"Y-e-s, I believe so; that is, Mr. [illegible] was very kind in his invitation, and I was glad to have the opportunity of hearing him. But I'm afraid the White Church hasn't acted on it yet."

"What's the trouble?"

"Why," replied his host hesitatingly. "I don't really know. To tell the truth, nobody seems to know. All there is about it, things don't seem to be getting ahead, and he thinks he'd better go."

"Been here quite a spell, ain't he?"

"Let's see, just about fifteen years. Yes, quite a long while for these times."

"Gettin' a leetle old for ye?"

"Old. Why no; he is only a little rising forty, a young man yet."

"Maybe he don't keep up his trainin'? Tips up his sermon-bar'l too often, eh?"

"Not a bit of it! He's a hard student, and the best preacher in town. Everybody grants that. Strangers wonder how we can keep him in such a place as Ryeboro."

"Leetle off color outside? Shies now an' then? Don't pay his bills, or somethin'?"

Barton laughed.

"Why, man, you're way off! There isn't a better or squarer man in town than Elder Crane nor one more respected. No, sir! he's all right!"

"What's bitin' you, then? What you lettin' him go for? If I could get a-hold of a hoss as near perfect for a hoss as you say he is as a man, I wouldn't part with him for love of money."

"W-e-l-l," responded the other, "that's the puzzle of it. The Church doesn't seem to be getting anywhere. Good congregations Sunday morning, but that's about all. Sunday school running down, and prayer meetings running out. O, I don't know what to make of it. Seems strange."

"How many did you have at prayer meetin' last Wednesday?"

"O, perhaps twenty or twenty-five. I don't know; I wasn't there."

"Why not?"

"Well, let me see," a dull flush came into the speaker's cheek. "I don't quite remember; I guess I was tired, or busy, or something."

"Why, I thought you allus went to prayer meetin' when I was about these parts."

"Y-e-s. I did. But somehow I've got out of the way of it; don't just know why, either. Ought to go oftener than I do, I suppose."

Joe Dooley kept silence for a while. "By the way," he broke out suddenly, "what's come of that class of boys you used to have in Sunday school—the Grimes boy, an' young Jim Berry, an' Tom Jackson's kid, an' the rest? I remember you was telling me a lot about 'em when I was here once; seemed 's if you thought you had a string of presidents an' governors an' such like in th' bunch. How they turnin' out?"

Barton laughed, a trifle embarrassedly. "Why, to tell the truth, I haven't that class any longer. Gave it up when I was sick with typhoid, you know."

"But that was as much as three years ago."

"Yes, but somehow I never went back to Sunday school after I got well. Had got into the habit of staying at home, you see; and such habits grow on a man, particularly when he gets along to the middle of life."

"What's become of the boys? Do they go still?"

"Why, n-o-o, I believe not. I know Elder Crane was quite anxious to get some of them back, but I think he didn't make out much at it. Too bad!"

Joe brought down square upon its four legs the chair in which he had been tipped back, picked up his hat, and settled it on his ead as if for immediate departure.

"Look-a-here, Sim," he said slowly, "I've got a leetle somethin' I'd like to say to you an' to that bloomin lot of people up to th' White Church You know I don't go much on religion, an' I don't pretend to know much about it. Hosses is my line, an' I claim to know somethin' 'bout them. But hosses an' folks ain't so dreffful fur apart, after all. Didn't Shakespeare say, 'All th' world 's a hoss-trot'?"

"Not just that, I believe," smiled his host. "What he said is, "All the world 's a stage." "

"Near 'nough. I knowed it was somethin' your church people make b'lieve you're awfully shocked over. Now th' thing is jest here. Your parson ain't makin' the pace, 'cordin' to what you say. T'other parsons are givin' him their dust. When th' tally-sheets are reckoned up, he's likely to be an 'also ran,' a 'has been.' Now there's a reason for that somewhere, an' it's good hoss-sense to find out what it is. When a hoss goes stale on me, I c'nsider that it's up to me to bore into th' thing until I see daylight. Don't ketch me putterin' round an' sayin' it's a 'puzzle,' an' I don't understan' it.' Not so you would notice it! I'm goin' to understan' it, or quit the bizness. So I look th' hoss over carefully. Mebbe its a case of not bein' looked after as he should. Mebbe he needs more oats. Mebbe he's strained himself somehow. Mebbe he's jest playin' it on me. But, whatever it is, I don't stop until I find out. Until I find out, you understan! Then if I can't find th' trouble in the boss, I go for th' sulky an' harness. Mebbe th' coon that oils ain't onto his job. Mebbe th' sulky don't balance right, or needs a new pair of wheels. Mebbe th' harness chafes somewhere. O, they's lots of things that c'n keep your hoss from comin' under th' wire in th' lead, even if he's as fit as a fiddle. Now what I'm comin' at is, whether you wouldn't better stop wonderin' 'bout that hoss, an' take a little squint at th' sulky an' harness. From what you tell me I should think that what you need up yander ain't so much a new parson as a new kind of people. I guess this parson 'd do all right if you only give him a fair chance. Pears to me it's the sulky that's holdin' him back an' makin' th' trouble. Course 'tain't none of my bizness, an' I ain't no call to butt in. Only—only—well, Simmy, you know that was my mother's old church, an' sometimes—Well, so-long old man! Come over to th' city an' see me soon. Ta ta!"

Mr. Simeon Barton, prosperous merchant, prominent citizen, member of the board of trustees of the Central (otherwise known as the "White") Church, looked after the receding form of his visitor with an amused smile. "Isn't that just like Joe?" he murmured. "Everything is 'hosses' to him. But what a ridiculous notion to compare a minister to a horse!"

But he still stood on the piazza, watching the pudgy little figure make its way down the village street, slowly the smile died away, and a graver and questioning look took its place. Was the notion so ridiculous, after all? Was the parable so far-fetched as at first it had seemed? Might not Joe Dooley also be among the prophets? There came back to him a sentence or two from the horseman's little homily: "There's a reason somewhere, an' it's good hoss-sense to find out what it is. When a hoss goes stale on me, I c'nsider that it's up to me to bore into th' thing until I see daylight. Don't ketch me putterin' round an' sayin' it's a 'puzzle,' an' I don't understan' it.' " Possibly there was a hint just there that was worth following up. It might be that a little "boring" into this disturbing matter of the minister's loss of grip and power would let in a bit of "daylight."

The meeting of the members of the Central Church duly called to "consider and take action upon the resignation of the pastor" was largely attended. Such a gathering at a mid-week prayer meeting would have made the pastor's heart sing for joy, even while it would doubtless have stirred his mind to great wonderment as to its cause.

Nor was it a perfunctory or hypocritical gathering. The people of the Central Church loved their minister, and were sincerely grieved at thought of losing him. No one had hinted to him that his uselessness was waning and that it would be better for him to leave; probably no one would ever have made that suggestion. It was Mr. Crane himself who had sensed the situation and had taken the initiative; the people were only accepting what seemed inevitable and acquiescing in an apparent necessity.

There could be no denying the fact that the church was running down. Congregations were falling off; prayer meetings were approaching the vanishing-point in attendance; the Sunday school was diminishing in numbers and interest; and all this was showing itself on the treasurer's books. Yes, the tide was certainly ebbing at the Central Church, and there seemed but one thing to do. Much as they loved the old, they must have a new minister.

It was understood as a matter of course that the resignation was to be accepted, and Lawyer Kennedy had in his pocket the usual series of resolutions with which such matters are smoothed over. But, when the motion to accept had been made and seconded and was before the house for discussion, Mr. Barton rose.

"Mr. Chairman," he began, "had this meeting been held a week ago, I should probably have voted in the affirmative on this question, in the sincere conviction that it was the only way out of a real and distressing situation. But now I am not so sure about that. I want to tell you a story."

"The chair would remind Brother Barton," interrupted the chairman, "that serious business is before us, and that we have neither time nor inclination for stories unless they bear directly upon the matter in hand."

Mr. Barton smiled. "I think you will grant that the relation is very immediate and direct when you have heard my story," he rejoined.

Then very simply he told of Joe Dooley's visit and advice, keeping as close as possible to the old horseman's phraseology. As he proceeded, and the application of the parable began to be apparent, a strained and tense hush fell on the assembly. It seemed almost as though some stopped breathing. More than one head was dropped; more than one cheek flushed with the consciousness of guilt under the implied indictment.

"Now," continued the speaker, "I've been trying to follow old Joe's advice. I have been looking the horse over, and I can find no fault in him. Are any of us dissatisfied with Mr. Crane personally? Do we not respect and love him as a fine preacher, an excellent pastor, a true Christian gentleman, and a firm friend? Isn't he just the kind of man that we'd like to have for our next pastor? Yes, I see you all agree with me. And yet, in spite of all this, as Joe says, he isn't 'making the pace.' If the trouble isn't with the horse, it must be with the sulky. I've been looking that over too. Is Central Church letting or helping its pastor 'make the pace,' or is it acting as a drag upon him?

"Last Friday night I dropped into the prayer meeting." Mr. Barton laughed a little constrainedly, and his face flushed "Yes, I know some of you are thinking that that was a strange place for me to be, and it was. I don't know when I've been to prayer meeting before. And yet I used to attend regularly, as did a good many of the rest of you whom I didn't see the other night. Let me make a confession just here. Not often in my life has anything cut me so deeply as the pastor's look of surprise when I entered the door. Glad, of course he was glad to see me, but surprised; that's the point. Think of it, a pastor surprised to see a member of his church at a regular prayer meeting of the church! Let that sink into your minds a little. How many were there? Twenty-seven; about the usual number, I was told. And Central Church has a membership of about four hundred.

"On Sunday I stepped into the Sunday school. I was a stranger there. My old class was gone. So was yours, Deacon Deane, and yours, Mrs. Thaxter, and yours, Jim Bradley, and—well, what's the use? Look in for yourselves, and see the situation. And there was Pastor Crane after a strenuous morning in the pulpit obliged to take a class of men, and thus to forego the privilege and the possibilities of a school-wide supervision, just because there isn't a man of us who is willing to put himself into the work!"

"I didn't go to Sunday-evening service, but I peeped in at the door to see who were there. Just a handful of Central Church people—and not many others, for that matter. Why should the outside world be expected to come if we stay away? Then I left the church, and began a round of calls. Yes," as a broadening smile went over the meeting, "you understand now why I dropped in to see some of you for a minute Sunday night. I wanted to see where you were and what you were doing. I was looking over the sulky, to find out what was the matter with it. Most of you were at home, enjoying the calm and quiet with your families. All right and proper enough; only, down there on the corner the Central Church was trying to do business with the greater part of its members absent from their posts; down there the pastor was trying to make the pace' with the sulky dragging back all the time.

"Pardon this long speech; I'm about through. I haven't a word of blame for the church; I'm taking this whole thing to myself. And this is the way I size it up: So far as I am concerned there is little reason why the pastor or the church should succeed in their work. I am putting so little into that work that my influence is largely, if not entirely, negative. It isn't that I have anything against either church or pastor, and I don't think it is because I have lost my love for the Lord and my interest in His cause. It is simply because I haven't really stopped to think of my relation and duty. I have taken it for granted that everything would go on all right no matter what I did or did not do. It was pure thoughtlessness, but perhaps thoughtlessness is a crime against God and His church.

"And I wonder whether this isn't about the state of affairs with most of us. Without intending it we have been getting out from under the load and letting it come on the pastor, and then have wondered why he can't 'make the pace.' Would it be any different if we had a new pastor? Surely not, unless we changed our course. But why not change that course with the man we know and and love, instead of with and for a stranger? How would it do for Central Church to keep the horse, and righten up the sulky a little just now?"

When Mr. Barton sat down, silence reigned. There were deep searchings of heart in that assembly, and no one cared to speak. The parable had done what preaching could never have done. Good men and women were brought face to face with their own responsibility for conditions that they sincerely mourned. Good Deacon Carter, the chairman, rightly interpreted the signs of the hour, and forbore to ask for remarks or to call for action. The Spirit was present; let Him control. And He did.

Finally young Jim Bradley—although a man of forty or more, he was always called "young Jim" to distinguish him from his father, who was also "Jim"—arose. He was one of the ablest men in the church and community, a college graduate and a lawyer of more than local fame. But for once his usual ready command of language failed him, and he halted and stammered like a schoolboy.

"Mr. Chairman," he began, "somebody ought to say something, but—I—I hardly know what to say or how to say it. We have had a wonderful revelation this evening. It has not been pleasant. It will not give us sweet dreams to-night. But it is true! Joe Dooley is, I verily believe a prophet of the Most High to Central Church of Ryeboro. The trouble is not with our pastor, but with us. Let's confess it, and face our duty like the Christian men and women that we believe we are in spite of our carelessness and indifference. There is a motion before the house to accept the resignation of Mr. Crane. So confident am I that we are all now of the same way of thinking that I venture to call for the question."

"All those in favor of accepting the resignation of our pastor say, 'Ay,' " called the chairman.

Silence unbroken!

"Those opposed say, 'No.' "

A mighty shout arose! There could be no questioning of the verdict.

"Now, Mr. Chairman!" said Mr. Bradley, "I move that the following motion be adopted and entered upon the records of this church: 'Resolved, That the Central Church of Ryeboro declines to swap horses, and pledges itself herewith to the task of keeping the sulky in repair so that the proper pace may be made.' "

"You don't mean just that—"

"Why that would sound like a jockey's—"

"Of course that won't do—"

Wholly regardless of parliamentary considerations a hubbub of protest and expostulation arose. The speaker remained standing; and, when the uproar had lessened he continued: "I should like to have that motion adopted and recorded in that phraseology. It is unusual, unecclesiastical, undignified, what you please. But, brethren and sisters, we are standing in a solemn place to-night. We have narrowly escaped doing our church and pastor a serious injury. The means of our deliverance was a striking parable. There isn't one of us who could ever see or hear that record upon our books without recalling this hour. And to those who are not present that singular entry, as it is explained, may become the means of enlightenment and stimulation. I press my motion for the resolution."

And in the end the motion prevailed, and that unique entry may to-day be read in the full round handwriting of the clerk on the records of the Central Church or Ryeboro.

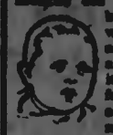
"What's all this I hear 'bout the White Church an' Elder Crane?" asked Joe Dooley at his next visit to Mr. Barton a few months later. "Last time I was here you was goin' to fire him or let him fire himself, for not makin' th' pace. Seems you didn't, an' that he's runnin' in great form now. Hain't heard much sence I struck town but th' great doin's up to th' church. An', O, yes, what'd young Jim Bradley mean by sayin' that you'd made up our minds to 'tend to th' sulky a leetle more, an' that I was responsible for th' hull bizness?"

And, as Mr. Barton told him the story, the old man listened with intent interest. When the recital was finished, he sat for a few moments in silence. Then his only comment was:

"Wall, I swanny to gum! They's lots of hoss-sense in folks if you c'n only get at it."

TWO MONTHS OLD BABY HAD ECZEMA

On Face. Very Sore and Itched. Did Not Sleep. Cuticura Heals.



"When my little niece was two months old she had eczema very badly on her face. It was of a moist kind, and took a pimply form, and was very sore. It itched, making her face feel hot, and she would scratch badly. She did not sleep well nights.

"A neighbor recommended Cuticura so we got them, and one cake of Soap and two boxes of Ointment healed her." (Signed) Miss Zilla G. Stoddard, R. F. D. 3, Randolph Centre, Vt., March 18, 1918.

FOUND THE REMEDY WOMEN LOOK FOR DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS BANISHED HER BACKACHE.

Mrs. Alice Roberts Felt Like a Different Woman After She had Used the Great Canadian Kidney Remedy, Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Hathersage, Alta., Jan. 26th—(Special.)—That Dodd's Kidney Pills are the remedy that tired women with aching backs are looking for is the lesson taught by the experience of Mrs. Alice Roberts, a well-known and highly respected resident of this place.

Mrs. Roberts felt tired all the time. Her backache was terrible. She used Dodd's Kidney Pills. That is why she says:

"Dodd's Kidney Pills did wonders for me." "My back ached so that I could hardly do my work." Mrs. Roberts continues, 'And I felt so tired all the time. My heart also bothered me.

"Six boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills made me feel like a different person."

Ask your neighbors if Dodd's Kidney Pills won't cure sick kidneys. Cured kidneys strain all the impurities out of the blood. Pure blood means new health all over the body. Thousands of Canadian women recommend Dodd's Kidney Pills.

CAN TAKE OUT TELEPHONE IF SUBSCRIBER "LISTENS IN."

WINDSOR, Jan. 24. — Upholding the action of Sandwich West Telephone Company in removing telephone equipment from the home of Albany Melouche because members of the Melouche family were said to have been guilty of listening in on party lines, Justice of the Peace Joseph White, at Sandwich, dismissed the suit brought by Melouche against the company.

The testimony of 27 witnesses was heard before a decision was reached. The Court ruled that Melouche had violated the telephone company's rules and held that removal of the telephone was proper under the circumstances.

CHICAGO DOCTOR HAS ISOLATED "FLU" GERM.

Says the Bacillus Is Very Small, But Quite Deadly.

CHICAGO, Jan. 26.—Dr. Earl C. Carr, senior grade lieutenant in charge of the main laboratory at the Great Lakes Naval Training Station, has isolated the influenza germ, he announced to-day.

"It is the real influenza bacillus discovered by Pfeiffer in England," Dr. Carr said.

"The bacillus is very small—about one-fourth the size of the tuberculosis bacillus—it is non-motile and grows in clumps. The presence of the bacillus makes people just as sick as they were last year, and in my opinion the death-rate per thousand cases is high. There are not, however, as many cases as there were last year."

Cocoanut Oil Fine For Washing Hair

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with.

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Just plain Mulsified cocoanut oil Shampoo (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.

Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. One or two teaspoonfuls will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get Mulsified cocoanut oil shampoo at most any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months.

Silk crepe and fur are combined for evening gowns.

DISTRICT MEETING METHODIST CHURCH

At the district meeting of the Peterborough District of the Methodist church, held yesterday afternoon and evening in St. James' church in the interests of the National Campaign, and at which Rev. A. J. Thomas presided, the district secretary's report of the work accomplished in the various charges of the district proved most encouraging and gratifying.

Eloquent Address.

Dr. E. Thomas of Toronto, assistant secretary of Social Service and Evangelism, gave a most inspiring and eloquent address dealing with the needs of the great Forward Movement, incidentally calling attention to the needs of education amongst the foreigners in the west. Rev. R. A. Whattam appealed to the different charges regarding the financial objective. All charges are organized and prepared to make a systematic canvass from the 5th to the 14th of February.

Mr. J. M. Greene spoke on the lines of the Forward Movement.

AFTER EATING PLAY SAFE

It Is a Wise Precaution to Take a Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablet After Eating to Avoid Gas, Sour Risings, Heaviness, and the Lazy, Logy Feeling So Apt to Follow.

The range of food is so great, its preparation varies so widely, that few stomachs are strong enough to grapple with all conditions of restaurants, hotels, clubs, depots, and banquets. The safe plan is to be provided with Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, that you may eat rich and palatable food served and selected and not be troubled with gas, sour risings, or such forms of indigestion. These tablets digest food, they assist the stomach secretions, and for this reason people who travel away from home and must eat as it is served may play safe by taking one or two Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets after each meal.

You can get these tablets in any drug store anywhere in the United States or Canada, which shows in what general favour they are among those who have learned how to enjoy their meals.

to attend to on account of his new appointment and the duties imposed upon him by the work in connection with the Forward oMvement. The Bishop suggested submitting a number of names for the congregation to choose from, the choice of the congregation to be under the jurisdiction f the Bishop.

After the reading of the financial statement of the Church Wardens, which was one of the best ever received in St. John's, and for which great credit was accorded the Wardens, the matter of church heating was taken up and it was considered that the two legacies left by Dr. Geo. Burnham and the late Major Bennett, might be advantageously applied to this or some other useful work in the church. Comments were made upon the cold condition of the church on Sunday morning.

Two Women Representatives.

As ladies are to be admitted to the Advisory Board which will be now called the Executive Board, the Woman's Church Association and the Woman's Auxiliary will be asked to each send a representative.

The appointment of ushers, and the Executive Board will be left in the hands of the Church Wardens.

Congregational Meeting.

At a congregational meeting also held last evening Mr. H. Rush, Mr. J. A. Smith and Mr. George Lenton, were appointed delegates to the Synod.

ALL SAINTS' CHURCH

The annual vestry meeting of All Saints' Anglican Church last night revealed conditions both financially and generally to be flourishing and encouraging. An atmosphere of hearty co-operation and extreme optimism for the current year pervaded the whole meeting, and the reports of the several church societies showed excellent work in 1919. One great outstanding feature of last year's efforts was that the synod's assessments for misions were met to the last cent for the first time in All Saint's history.

The attendance was large and comendmable enthusiasm in the church's work and needs prevailed.

A Clean Sheet

Treasurer Gray Copping's financial statement gave the receipts as $5,011.28 with 48c in the bank, as against an expenditure of $5,411.28 Included in these expenditures was an overdraft from 1918 of $163.98, so the church did better than hold its own last year, despite community conditions that were none too good.

Sunday School Report

Secretary Price's report of the Sunday School showed a total on roll including the four Bible classes, of 360 scholars, 30 teachers and 5 officials, a total of 395. The average attendance of scholars was 285 of teachers 25 and officials 4. The highest attendance was 396. The lowest 85.

The number on the roll of the four Bible classes, of which Mr. C. E. Sisson is the energetic head, was 96, the average attendance 60.

Mr. Sisson felt that a great deal had been accomplished in starting and organizing on a substantial footing this Bible class department, which he described as a live organization, each class being in a flourishing condition in every way.

The receipts from the whole Sunday School were $812.02, and there is a balance in hand of $112.18.

The rector, Rev. R. B. Grobb, expresed warm appreciation of the work of his Sunday School, including Bible classes, and of its faithful band of teachers.

Prosperous and Pleasant

Mrs. Beatty reported an exceedingly prosperous year for the Woman's Auxiliary. Considerable contrfbution to the needs of missions had resulted.

The receipts were $194.50, the expenditures $182.36, leaving a balance of $12.14. Also a life membership fee of $6

Girls' Auxiliary

Miss Stephens reported this society's receipts as $37.85, and its expenditures $34.25, leaving in hand $3.60. These girls also had done their share in support of mission work.

Splendid Work.

The Woman's Guild was highly commended by the rector for its hard work and excellent showing, especially so in raising $600 for the church's building fund. For this energetic society Mrs. Joseph Crowe reported receipts to the tidy sum of $804.96. They expended $776.31, and have a balance of $28.65.

The Chancel Guild.

This organization, which takes care of the communion vessels and furnishes flowers for the altar, received $16.43, spent $16.35, and have 8 cents to the good. Miss Brown reported for this organization.

The Choir.

Choir Master Mr. Geo. Chandler expressed his warm appreciation of the faithful co-operation of the choir members. The membership now stands at 45, including 12 chorister boys. He extended thanks to the organist, Miss Flowers, and spoke of her patience under difficulties with an organ which now needs replacing. The service by this choir is all voluntary.

Holding its Own.

People's Warden L. G. Dobbin, in submitting the financial statement as before refered to, thought it exceedingly encouraging that the church should be holding its own under existing circumstances. The mission assessments, he said, had been paid in full last year for the first time in the history of the church.

A Special Fund.

The receipts for finishing the chancel basement were $1,372.75 and the expenditures $1,368.95, leaving in hand $3.80. Accounts outstanding amount to $189.08. This work was undertaken under the auspices of the Sunday School. The rector explained that the major portion of the receipts was made up by a few men.

Distinctly Encouraging.

The rector, Rev. R. B. Grobb, submitted a concise and comprehensive report of his work during the past year, a period which, he said, had been marked by many distinctly encouraging features. He expressed satisfaction in the financial situation 1919 being the first year since the opening of the new church that the books had been closed without considerable liabilities. Another reason for encouragement lies, he said, in a substantial increase in missionary contributions.

Referring feelingly to the 29 members who had made the supreme sacrifice in the great war, he hoped the vestry would take some action toward getting a fitting memorial to their memory.

Fifty-nine were confirmed last year.

Officers Elected

Mr. Thos. Hooper was again the rector's choice for warden, and Mr. L. G. Dobbin was re-elected people's warden.

Secretary-Treasurer — Mr. Gray Copping, re-elected.

Manager Envelope System — Mr. Webber.

Manager Sidesmen System — Mr. Downs.

Representative at Protestant Home—Mrs. Beatty.

Representative at Nicholls Hospital—Mr. J. W. Worth.

Representative on Charity Board —Mr. W. G. Howden.

Auditors — Messrs. J. W. Worth and F. H. Dawson, re-elected.

Lay Delegates to Synod—Messrs. W. G. Howden, Herbert Rush, Robt. Wolstenholm.

Executive Committee —The foregoing officials and Choirmaster Chandler, with the people's warden, chairman, the Sunday School superintendent and heads of Sunday School epartments are also include on this committee.

Soldiers' Memorial Committee — The Executive Committee.

Forward Movement

Mr. Edgar Worth explained that the objective for this deanery in the Forward Movement is $30,000, of which Peterborough city must give $20,000. All Saints' he added, had shouldered the responsibility of raising $7,500. He called for 15 men canvassers, and his call was readily responde to.

Mr. Wm. Butler also offered a few explanations of the manner in which the money raised would be applied.

Vote of Condolence.

On motion of Messrs. Butler and Edgar Worth, a resolution of condolence with the widow and connections of the late Mr. James Edgar, a past warden, was passed. The late Mr. Edgar's work in connection with building the new Church was more than that of any other member, said Rev. R. B. Grobb.

New Name.

Anglican congregations are being canvassed for a more appropriate name for the church than "The Church of England in Canada." This vestry voted that this name be changed to "The Anglican Church of Canada."

REEVE NICHOLLS ELECTED WARDEN

SMITH TOWNSHIP AGAIN HONOURED IN ITS REPRESENTATIVE ON COUNTY COUNCIL.

Reeve George Nicholls, of Smith Township, was elected Warden of Peterborough at the opening of the January session of the new County Council this afternoon.

He was nominated by B. W. Squire and seconded by C. J. Darling.

John McIntosh nominated W. E. Griffith, seconded by F. A. Eason.

On the first standing vote, Reeve Nicholls showed ten supporters and a majority of the Council. County Clerk Elliott declared him elected Warden, and after the usual ceremony of gowning, Warden Nicholls entered the Chamber to the applause of the Council.

Those who voted for him were Messrs. Squire, Darling, Middleton, Coughlin, Lawrie, Wilson, Squire, Holland Strickland Nicholls

Ex-Warden R N. Scott, of Smith, speaking of George Nicholls recently, said, "He's another John Garbutt," and all those who knew the late Mr. Garbutt will agree that this is a high recommendation for the young Reeve of Smith, to-day elected Warden, with three years' record in the County Council, one as deputy in the reeveship of Fred McKee.

Financial Statement.

In his financial statement, County Clerk Elliott reported a deficit of $4,667.04. Last year was begun with a deficit of $2,739.44. The administration of justice had been exceptionally expensive last year, and accounted almost alone for the adverse balance.

In connection with road improvement, Otonabee owed the county $4,000 and Belmont owed about $500. The estimated liabilities for this year are $48,715.37, and assets $44,054.90.

The Council's Personnel.

The members of this year's Council are:

B. W. Squire, Norwood; J. C. Strickland, Lakefield; Wm. Matheson, Havelock; John Scott, Asphodel; W. F. Griffith, Belmont; F. J. Bullied, Chandos; C. J. Darling, Dummer; M. Coughlin, Douro; D. Holland, Ennismore; John Clark Galway; R. Shaw, Harvey; John McIntosh, North Monaghan; Fred Wilson, deputy reeve of Monaghan; Fred Eason, Otonabee; David Lawrie, deputy reeve of Otonabee; George B. Nicholls, Smith; J. A. Middleton deputy reeve of Smith; Duncan Brown, Burleigh and Anstruther.

SHERWOOD FOREST CAMP MEETING

Sherwood Forest Camp, No. 50, W. O. W. held their regular meeting last night in their hall. There was a very large attendance and the meeting was successful in every way. Seven former members of the lodge who had dropped out of late years, were re-installed last night, and some fifteen new members.

Among the old members welcomed back were G. A. Gillespie, Grant Richardson, James Heaslip and H. E. Hodgens.

Mr. Gillespie made an address in the absence of the head Council Commander from London, who was prevented from being present. His address was very much enjoyed by the members.

At the conclusion of the initiation business arrangements were completed for the basket social being held by the ladies this evening, and which promises to be one of the most successful yet held.

Narrow kid belts are much worn.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKETS

(United Press.)

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—There was little change in the general list at the Stock Market opening to-day.

U. S. Steel was off 1-4 at 105 7-8, Republic at 111 3-4 unchanged, Southern Pacific 100 1-8 off 1-4, Union Pacific 131 3-4 off 1-4, U. R. Stores 80 up 3-4, Mexican Petroleum 200 unchanged, Goodrich 78 7-8 up 3-8, Studebaker 104 unchanged, Royal D. 109 5-8 off 3-8.

Pressure on exchanges continued to-day and sterling was forced down to a record low at 83.56 1-2 in the first hour.

OTTAWA, Jan. 26.—Hon. Hugh Guthrie, Solicitor-General since the formation of the Union Government, was sworn in by the Governor-General at noon Saturday as Minister of Militia, in succession to General S. C. Mewburn.

Mr. Guthrie's apointment to a portfolio does not, in the opinion of the Government, necessitate a by-election. The salary attached to a portfolio is $7,000 a year or $2,000 more than that attached to the position if Solicitor-General. The duties of the latter position Mr. Guthrie will continue to perform until a successor is found.

AN ATTEMPT TO COMMIT SUICIDE

Charles McConkey of Selwyn, attempted to commit suicide at his home yesterday afternoon, by cutting his throat with a razor. Mr. McConkey who is a man of about 65 years of age has suffered for some time with stomach trouble and his action of yesterday is believed to have been actuated by despondency. A nephew found the old man lying in the cellar in a pool of blood in a very weakened condition but medical assistance was called and the patient brought into Nicholls Hospital. His condition to-day is much improved.

REPATRIATION OF THE GERMAN PRISONERS MAY CREATE A DIFFICULTY.

LABOUR SHORTAGE

(Canadian Press.)

PARIS, Jan. 28.—Repatriation of German prisoners may bring about a critical situation in the labor market in some parts of France, according to an Amiens despatch. The work of restoration of the devastated districts will be retarded, it is said, and the farmers who have been employing large numbers of Germans, fear they will not be able to show a large acreage this year. Efforts have been made to replace Germans, but the reports state but few applicants for work have made their appearance.

LATEST NEWS DESPATCHES

(Canadian Press.)

TORONTO, Jan. 28.—It is probable that the second inquest will be held at North Bay in regard to the cause of the collision near Corbeil on Sunday, causing the death of eight persons and injuring many others. The Provincial Attorney-General's Department is not satisfied with the verdict of the jury in the Tilley case last night, exonerating the train crews, and Crown Attorney McKee, of Nipissing, has been asked to report on the advisability of holding an inquest on the body of another of the victims.

THE NEW WAR.

(Canadian Press.)

LONDON, Jan. 28. — Premier Hughes of Australia, speaking at Melbourne yesterday, said the next war would probably be put in the Pacific Ocean. "We must be ready with sufficiently numerous soldiers to say: 'You shall not have it.' He is quoted as saying: "We are hedged about with nations whilst after this country."

CONDITION GOOD.

ONE BIG UNION SHOWS ACTIVITY

(Special to The Examiner.)

WINNIPEG, Man., Jan. 28.—A resolution urging that illegal means be employed to bring out the release of R. B. Russell, the leader, convicted and sent to Mountain penitentiary on a charge of sedition, was adopted by the Big Union convention to-day.

A. Mackenzie, of Vancouver, urged that if the west withdrew for the One Big Union, the east would take care of itself, and called attention to the need of organizers in various districts in British Columbia. W. E. Long, of Montreal, said that dissatisfaction among locals affiliated with the American Federation of Labor in the east was observed everywhere. He suggested that organizers should be sent not to Porcupine and Cobalt districts where there are miners who have not affiliated with labor organization.

WILL SIGN THE PEACE TREATY WITH ESTHONIANS TO-MORROW

(Canadian Press.)

LONDON, Jan. 28.— Peace treaty between the Esthonian and Russian Soviet government is to be signed to-morrow, according to a Riga despatch. The treaty according to advices provides that Esthonia shall receive sixteen million rubles in gold, concessions for construction of railway from Reval to Moscow, materials for building the line and three hundred locomotives.

(Canadian Press.)

COPENHAGEN, Jan. 28.—Lettish troops have captured Guzyn, the last town in Eastern Levia, occupied by the Russian Bolsheviki, and have reached the Lettish-Russian frontier at many places, according to a Lettish official report quoted in Riga advices received here. Much material of war and two thousand prisoners have been captured, and fighting continues along the whole front. It is said the Bolshevik forces on the Lettish front are retreating eastward and many detachments annihilated in the recent fighting.

NORWOOD FAIR SEEK GRANT OF $1,000 FROM COUNTY COUNCIL

THREE DEPUTATIONS HEARD THIS MORNING—LAW SOCIETY ASKS THAT EFFORT BE MADE TO IMPROVE ACOUSTICS OF COURT ROOM—CO-OPERATE FOR EXPERIMENTAL FARM.

Three deputations waited on the County Council this morning. Ozias de Laplante, F. D. Kerr and Joseph Wearing representing the Peterboro Law Society asked that some experiments be made to improve the acoustics of the County Court room.

Mr. H. G. Webber and Mr. Morley Smithson of the local U.F.O. requested the Council to support the petition to Premier Drury and the Hon Manning Doherty for the establishment of an experimental farm in this county.

Mr. Ed. Hawthorne and Col. F. E. Birdsall of the East Peterboro Agricultural Society asked for a grant of $1,000 for new horse and sheep sheds for the Norwood fair.

Defect in Court Room

Explaining the mission of the delegation from the Law Society, Mr. Laplante said that the acoustics of the Court Room were defective with the result that voices seemed to be swallowed up in it and were lost. Some experiments would have to be made to discover the exact cause of the echoes, but it was believed that the light well caused the objectionable conditions.

Mr. Kerr stated that the Law Society appreciated the County Council's improvements to the Court house but it seemed too bad that the effect of the work in the court room was spoiled by the blurring accoustics. It was in the interests not of the judges and lawyers, but of the general public and litigants that something be done to give the room the finishing touch it needed.

Mr. Wearing suggested that cheese cloth might be stretched across the light well to ascertain whether the sounds were lost there, and Warden Nichols replied that it could be spanned with glass.

We would be glad if this could be remedied", said the Warden. On motion of Messrs. Squire and Griffith the request was refered to the Property Committee.

Reeve Mason, last year's chairman, told the deputation that the court room's defect had been considered. No action had been taken chiefly because the committee wasn't sure whether the expense of erecting a scaffold to reach the light well and cover it would give the desired results.

Drive for Government Farm

Mr. Webber and Mr. Smithson briefly reviewed the movement that is under way to present to the Premier and to the Minister of Agriculture Peteboro County's claims for the experimental farm which has been anounced for eastern Ontario. This county was the geographical centre between the Guelph and Ottawa farms and was easily accessible from the surrounding agricultural counties The United Farmers' Clubs, the Industrial Exhibition members and the Board of Trade were co-operating in this effort and desired the support of the County Council.

Reeve McIntosh moved seconded by Reeve Scott that the whole Council be a committee to wait on Premier Drury and Hon. Mr. Doherty when they visit Peterboro.

Norwood Fair's Request.

"Ours is a purely rural and agricultural exhibition', said Mr. Ed. Hawthorne, secretary of the East Peterboro Agricultural Society in their appeal for a grant of $1000, same amount donated to the Peterboro Industrial Exhibition last year for new buildings.

"We have no circus but must depen upon our gate receipts. The Government grant is small and the directors assume a burden every year. As a rural fair we take second place to none in Ontario. We need new buildings but we haven't enough funds to undertake them.'

It fell to Col. Birdsall to divulge the amount of the grant sought by the Norwod fair directors. "The same as Peterboro's Industrial Exhibition got last year', he said "We want to build sheds for horse and sheep and to repair the old buildings.'

This petition was referred to the Finance Committee on motion of Messrs. McIntosh and Middleton.

Chairmen of Committees

The committees for the year were struck yesterday afternoon with the following chairmen:—
County Property—Reeve Coughlin.
Apointments—Deputy Reeve Middleton.
Roads and bridges—Reeve Squire.
Schools—Reeve Strickland.
Petitions—Reeve Matheson.

M. H. S. Trustee.

John Nevens of Norwood was appointed trustee of the Norwood High School for three years on Reeve Squire's motion.

W. H. Casement and A. Breault were reappointed auditors.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKETS

(United Press.)

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—There was fractional advances in most of the leading issues at the stock market opening to-day. Crucible was 227, up 1 1-4; Mexican Petroleum, 201 1-4, up 3-4; Central Leather, 93 1-4, unchanged; U. S. Steel, 107, up 1-2; Canadian Pacific, 127 1-4, unchanged; Baldwin, 118 1-2, up 7-8; Southern Pacific, 100 1-8, up 1-8; Studebaker, 104 1-2, up 1-4; Republic, 115 7-8, up 5-8; American Woollen, 160, up 1 3-8; International Paper, 85, up 7-8.

Demand Sterling again fell to a new low record, opening at $3.53 1-4, off 2 1-2 cents.

Trading was active in the first hour, but prices changes were unimportant except for the continued strength of the Steel. U. S. Steel went to a new high, 107 1-2, Republic to 116 1-2, Crucible to 228, while Bethlehem B. hovered just under par.

Chandler led the Motors, selling up to 137 3-4, up 1 3-4, and General Motors sold at 304, up 2 1-4. Equipment issues were firm.

STERLING EXCHANGE.

(Special to The Examiner.)

LONDON, Jan. 28.—Exchange demand sterling on New York to-day was $3.54.

Foreign exchange was demoralized to-day under the lead of New York, which slumped to $3.50 3-4 to the pound, representing a decline of about thirty-five per cent. from normal. Paris and Belgian cheques at low rates contributed to the demoralization, while business with Italy was almost impossible.

English exchange rates dropped to another low level to-day when demand bills on pound sterling dropped to $3.53 1-4 at the opening and later fell to $3.52 1-2. French, Italian and German exchange was also depressed.

Heavy selling subsequently drove sterling down to a new low of $3.50 3-4. Franch checks broke 20 centimes to 13.32 and lire 10 to 15.42.

In the first half hour sterling re-acted a further 3-4 cent to $3.52 1-2. Francs opened at 13.12, off 20, and lire 15.32, off 26 centimes. Swiss Cables were 5.47 per dollar marks, 0105 centimes and Vienna Kronen .0031.

Reasons for the decline of New York rate were same as those previously held responsible—the huge accumulation of debt of Europe to America, with the additional factor that France and Belgium have recently been buying dollars through London. So hurtful to business are these conditions that it is considered in the street that the whole European financial position has reached a serious stage and that unless something is done the result will be chaos.

(Canadian Press.)

OTTAWA, Jan. 28.—Further break in Canadian exchange in New York has aroused much concern. Quotations in New York fell to a new low level of 10 3-4, the lowest since the heavy break in the discount of nearly twelve per cent. registered in December last. It was stated that if the situation is an international one, "all that Canada could do would only deplete Canadian gold reserves to that extent." The situation is being keenly felt by importers from the United States. There have been no requests for further shipment of gold from Ottawa to New York as was done at the last break. Fluctuations in the rate and the whole position generally are under close study by the Finance Department with a view to action, if considered necessary. But there is no immediate intention, it is authoritatively learned, of making any further shipments of gold to the United States.

REINSTATING THE POST OFFICE STAFF

WINNIPEG, Man., Jan. 28. — Ex-members of Winnipeg post office staff who went on strike last May and were not taken back owing to their failure to comply with the terms of the Dominion Government's ultimatum, have now a chance of being reinstated, according to Postmaster McIntyre. 400 are still out, and as vacancies occur will be taken on the staff.

STEAMSHIP WAS SEIZED

GABRIEL D'ANNUNZIO AGAIN ON THE WARPATH—TWO MILLION LIRE CAPTURED.

TO PAY TROOPS

(United Press.)

ROME, Jan. 28.— Forces of Gabriel D'Annunzio have seized the steamer Taranto, en route to Albania with supplies and two million lire in money, and are unloading her at Fiume, the "Messagero's" Fiume correspondent to-day telegraphed.

The Taranto was met by ships in D'Annunzio's command and forced to change her course into Fiume harbor. The poet explained, according to the despatch, that he needed the two million lire to pay his troops.

EPIDEMIC SPREADING

INFLUENZA VICTIMS DROP ON THE STREETS IN BUDAPEST.

(Canadian Press.

VIENNA, Jan. 28.— Spread of the epidemic in Eastern Europe is gravely alarming Austria. Influenza in a virulent form is increasing in Vienna and Budapest. Reports from Eastern Silesia and Slovakia say that the plague is developing rapidly. At Teschen people are falling in the streets. Three members of the Diet were among the victims. Many government offices are closed. Spoted fever is spreading in the Ukraine, Bessarabia and Poland.

(Canadian Press.

BUDAPEST, Jan. 28.— Influenza victims are increasing in this city, many dropping in the streets. Hungarian frontiers are closed as a barrier against the disease as well as to prevent the export of food and valuables.

WILL STRING LIGHTS ON OTONABEE ROAD

Requests for two hydrants, one for the Aladdin Companys' factory, on Monaghan Road, and the other for Alex. Stewart's woolstock factory on Gladstone Avenue, were approved and recommended to the Utilities Commission, by the Fire, Water and Light Committee last night.

The seven residents on the Otonabee Road between the Locks bridge and Downer's Corners, asked for some lights.

Ald. Jones moved, seconded by Ald. Crowe, that the Utilities Commission be requested to place four lights on that street. Ald Morrison was in favour of granting the request. The cost to the city of each light is nine dollars.

FIRE DEPARTMENT TEAM RAN AWAY

A pair of the old grey debbins belonging to the Fire Department, ran away this morning and wound up by crashing into a telephone pole at the corner of Aylmer and Dalhousie streets. This little diversion in the somewhat sombre life of the firemen took place this morning while the team was out for its morning constitutional. The man in charge of the plugs were thrown out.

THE CALL FROM ARMENIA

SECRETARY OF NEAR EAST RELIEF TELLS WHERE THE SUPPLIES COME FROM WHICH ARE BOUGHT WITH CANADIAN MONEY.

Charles V. Vickrey, Secretary of the Near East Relief, writing under date of January 23, from New York, explains just how the Armenians receive supplies for which Canadians are giving so generously. One sentence of Mr. Vickrey's letter is worth more than the usual emphasis. "This work," he writes, "for the most part is not merely a queston of improving the conditions of the people. It is the actual saving of lives of thousands who would otherwise perish."

Other portions of the letter read: "We deeply appreciate the co-operation of Canada in this effort.

"We recognize that Canada during the past four years has poured forth its treasure both of lives and of money in a way that has challenged the rest of the world, and we accept this latest expression of Canadian generosity as both an inspiration and a challenge to contribute more largely of our resources to help meet the world's need.

CANADIANS HANDLE THE MONEY.

"As you doubtless know arrangements have been made whereby some of our good Canadian associates in the Near East, including Dr. F. W. MacCallum, the Assistant Treasurer of our Committee; Dr. W. Nesbitt Chambers, and Dr. Alexander McLachlan, will be authorized to draw directly from Constantinople upon the Canadian Bank of Commerce and will realize upon this draft in Constantinople, making the money immediately available for relief work.

"Food is available from both Mediterranean and Black Sea ports, and is regularly being transported to Batum, from whence a rail line is open into the heart of Armenia. Other sections of Anatolia are reached by the Bagdad Railway, now under British control, and a total of more than 500 experienced relief workers are engaged in the supervision of the relief."

ON THEN, IN THE NAME OF HUMANITY!

Thousands of Armenians cannot be saved. It is now too late, for they have already passed beyond the need of help. But thousands can, if only we are able to get the food to them in time. Disease has already done its deadly work. Hunger is the greatest enemy. Lack of clothing sufficient to keep the body warm is another. But medical care is now being administered, thanks to the work of the relief agencies. Food is being sent by shiploads and wisely distributed. Clothing is also being provided.

But the work requires haste. It is not only a question of getting an enormous amount of the necessities into the country, but of getting them there at the earliest possible moment.

Time means everything just now. The lives of thousands hang in the balance. Oh, then, in the name of humanity, let us hurry!

FARMERS' BANQUET IS POSTPONED

CABINET MEETING ON MONDAY NEXT.

The Farmers' banquet, which was to have been held next Monday, and at which Premier Drury and some of the Cabinet Ministers were to be present, has been postponed owing to a Cabinet meeting to be held on Monday. Mr. H. B. Rogers was notified to this effect in a conversation over the phone with Premier Drury this morning. He said he could not be present owing to the fact that the Lieutenant-Governor had notified him that he would be present at a Cabinet meeting which was called for Monday next. As the presence of the Premier and his Ministers was the chief attraction at the banquet, the committee in charge have decided to postpone the banquet until Monday, February 23rd and the Premier assured Mr. Rogers that he and the other Ministers would be present then.

An endeavor is being made to have the Hon. Mr. Drury and his party arrive on the noon train instead of on the evening train so that they would have more opportunity to see around the city and to give them more time to meet with the committee appointed jointly by the Farmers' Club, the County Council and Board of Trade in order to press the matter of having a winter live stock show such as held at Guelph, at Peterborough, and also to bring up the matter of an Experimental Farm in this city. Besides these there are several other questions to be brought up before the Premier. The Dairymen's meeting will be held in the afternoon also.

WARSAW NEWS HAPPENINGS

SMALLPOX IN THE VILLAGE—WAR SAW NEWS.

WARSAW, Jan. 27.—Warsaw has considered itself immune from epidemics, but about the beginning of last week, several people were ill and the doctor found they had small-pox. The houses were quarantined and those in the houses quarantined. Everyone is getting vaccinated now.

A Presentation.

At the close of the league on Monday night the Young People's Bible Class of the Methodist church, presented their teacher, Miss E. M. Dewart with a handsome club-bag. Miss Dewart was completely taken by surprise, but in a few appropriate words thanked the class for their gift and expressed her appreciation.

Annual Meeting.

The Agricultural Society held their annual meeting in the Town Hall on Wednesday afternoon.

There was no meeting of the Girls' Club on Friday last on account of so much illness.

Sunday School.

The Presbyterian Sunday School was well attended yesterday, and Miss Gwendolyn MacQuade received her diploma for reciting the shorter Catechism. At the morning church service the text was taken from Deuteronomy IV. 8-12. Mr. Brown pointed out the privileges Canada enjoys and enjoined the teaching of religious truths at home and in school.

Special Services.

The Anglican regular Sabbath School and preaching services were held yesterday afternoon. Attendance was not up to the mark. Several families belonging to that congregation are quarantined also there was a little doubt about a service. There will be a vestry meeting in the church on Wednesday evening.

The Baptist service was well attended. Mr. Gray of McMaster University conducted it. Mr. Roberts will be here the next two Sundays with a chance of being stationed here.

The Methodist Sunday School was well attended, but the evening service suffered because of the cold. They have their regular League meeting on Monday evening and Prayer meeting on Wednesday night.

Personals.

Mr. Rolly Payne, Lakefield, was in the village last week.

Mr. Robert Tedford was in the village last Thursday and Friday. He was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Clarance Watts.

Mr. Choate returned from Ottawa last Tuesday.

Mr. O'Grady, Indian River, was in the village and vicinity last Thursday.

Rev. Hugh Brown and some others went to Peterboro to-day to attend the Forward Movement meetings.

The school children are having a collection in the school for the Armenian Fund, and four children will canvas the village and two each way in the country. The other teachers in the township will be asked to do the same and send the amount collected to Miss Dewart.

QUEBEC MAN MURDERED

WAS A VETERAN OF THE GREAT WAR—MURDERER ARRESTED

A MISTAKE

(Canadian Press.)

QUEBEC, Jan. 28.—Lucien Morrissette, a Great War Veteran who was overseas with the 22nd Battalion, was murdered in cold blood last night in a dark street in Levis, across the river from Quebec. With two telegraphers, Morrissette intended visiting a man named Baker in Levis, but entered an adjacent house by mistake and were entertained for a short while by Mrs R. Remillard. Suddenly her husband burst into the house, under the influence of liquor, witnesses claim, and shouted to Romeo, one of his sons, to shoot "that bunch out." The three men fled from the house, but Morrissette was shot in the abdomen and groin, dying almost immediately. Romeo Remillard was placed under arrest.

INCREASES FOR SCHOOL TEACHERS

SCHOOL BOARD MET LAST EVENING AND ADOPTED REPORT.

At the special meeting of the Board of Education held last night, the committee's recommendation that the salaries of teachers be increased, was adopted, and a schedule of salaries was given. In determining the initial salary previous teaching experience will be given consideration. The Principal of the Collegiate Institute and the Inspector of the Public Schools, will now be paid $3500, and will now receive $100 increase yearly until the maximum of $4000 is reached.

The staff of the Collegiate received an increase of 25% over their September, 1919, salary and will receive a further increase next September.

The principals and vice-principals in the public schools received a similar increase and the teachers in the public schools, and the instructors in Art, Music and Manual Training, will receive an increase of 25% over the 1914 schedule.

Mr. F. W. Millar was appointed school attendance officer at a salary of $500 per year.

The salaries of the janitors were increased. They are now paid $120 a room up to and inclusive of eight rooms.

The wind up in the salary increases was when the secretary-treasurer's salary was fixed at $1000 per annum with $100 increase each year until the $1200 maximum be reached.

Mr. Cameron wished to remind the ratepayers that these salaries were not excessive and were only 35% over those of 1914.

Including the new salary schedule, will appear in to-morrow's paper.

BULLY!

If Bilious, Constipated or Headachy, take "Cascarets"

You're bilious, but take "Cascarets!" You have a throbbing sensation in your head, a bad taste in your mouth, your eyes burn, your skin is yellow, with dark rings under your eyes; your lips are parched, your bowels are constipated. No wonder you feel foggy, mean and ill-tempered. You need Cascarets to-night. Don't continue being a bilious nuisance to yourself and those who love you, and don't resort to harsh physics that irritate and injure. Remember that most disorders of the stomach, liver, and bowels are ended by morning with gentle, harmless Cascarets — they work while you sleep, never gripe, shock, sicken, or inconvenience you. They're grand!

LOCAL COUNCIL OF WOMEN HELD ANNUAL MEETING

THE ELECTION OF OFFICERS—THE BABY CLINIC.

The seventh annual meeting of the Local Council of Women was held on Friday, January 23rd, in the Y.W.C.A. with a large attendance of interested members.

The President, Mrs. Robert Harstone, in a brief address referred to the many matters of importance that had come before the Council during the past year, and to the success of the work of several Committees.

The President emphasized the fact that the L.C.W. is a federation of societies for greater unity of thought, sympathy and purpose in the support of any reform or work of common interest. This unity of action tends to foster the Community Spirit, and the L.C.W. provides a medium of expression of the opinions and sentiments of our citizens in all matters pertaining to our local and national life.

The Corresponding Secretaries Report of the year's work showed much interesting work accomplished, and many things in process of development. This report, also that of Miss Walton's Committee on undesirable literature and movies, and Miss Rush's report of Committee on Fine and Applied Art will appear in to-morrow's paper.

Dr. Jessie Birnie reported most satisfactory progress by Committee dealing with the Baby Clinic. The co-operation of the doctors and the married ladies in the city has been secured and also the aid of many volunteer workers. The Clinic will be held in the rooms of the W.A. at the C.W.V.A. Hall, and $465.00 has already been contributed to the work.

Verbal reports from the Queen Mary's Home and School Association, Women's Art Association and Playgrounds Committee were heard.

The business of the meeting was suspended at this point to hear a most interesting address from Dr. A. W. McPherson.

Vice.-Pres.—Mrs. A. Stevenson, Mrs. A. Mewat, Dr. J. Birnie, Mrs. J. Rollins.

Cor.-Sec'y.—Mrs. C. E. Jamieson.

Recording Sec'y.—Mrs. W. R. Morris.

Treasurer—Miss Mary Stratton.

It was decided to have not less than five (5) open meetings during the coming year, the remainder to be executive meetings.

SICK HEADACHES CONSTIPATION

If you have suffered from constipation for years, tried doctors and all the remedies you ever heard or read of, without getting relief, if you have been subject to all the miseries associated with constipation, such as sick and bilious headaches, biliousness, specks floating before the eyes, water brash, heartburn, jaundice and the painful, troublesome, internal, bleeding or protruding piles, etc., wouldn't you consider it a blessing to be able to keep the bowels in a good healthy condition and prevent disease getting a foothold on your system.

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills are indicated just for this purpose; their regular use relieving the worst cases of constipation.

Mrs. Malcolm McDermid, Cranton Station, N.S., writes:—"I have been sick for a number of years with sick headaches and constipation. I tried all kinds of doctor's medicine, but none did me any good. I tried Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills, and after using four vials I am completely cured and would heartily recommend them to all sufferers."

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills are 25c. a vial at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

NITRO-PHOSPHATE IS GOOD FOR THIN NERVOUS PEOPLE

A French scientist has discovered an organic phosphate which should be a very effective remedy for weak nerves, sleeplessness, thinness and lack of strength, energy, and vigour.

Its substance is described by specialists as identical in composition with certain vital elements naturally found in brain and nerve cells and one which when taken into the human system is quickly converted into healthy, living tissue.

This phosphate is already widely known among druggists in this country as Nitro-Phosphate, and some physicians claim that through its use strength, energy, vigour, and nerve force are frequently increased in two weeks' time.

Dr. Frederick Kolle, Editor of New York Physicians' "Who's Who," says it should be prescribed by every doctor and used in every hospital in the United States. As there are a great variety of so-called phosphates, those who wish to test the substance should be sure to get the genuine Nitro-Phosphate.

WEDNESDAY, JAN. 28TH, 1920.

THE SALARY INCREASE.

The new salary schedule adopted by the Board of Education last night which represents practically a twenty-five per cent. increase for the staffs of the Collegiate Institute and Public Schools will be generally approved by the citizens. The increases granted by the Board are generous and should be satisfactory to the teaching staffs. The scale is effective from the first of this year with an increase each year, the first to date from the first of next September. There will necessarily be an appreciable increase in the cost of operating the city schools but it seems to be the general opinion that it was but simple justice to bring the remuneration of the teachers up to a level that was commensurate with their profession in comparison with the salaries paid in other occupations.

THE NEW WARDEN.

Congratulations are due to the County Council, the selection of Reeve George Nicholls of Smith as the Warden of Peterboro County for 1920. The Warden-elect possesses many admirable qualities for the office which he is called upon to fill while his record in public service is one that gives promise that his term at the head of the Council will be marked by progressive municipal government. In the Smith Council and as a member of the County Council Mr. Nicholls has been attentive to his duties and the interests of the constituents who he served. There is every reason to expect that in the more responsible position in which his fellow councillors have placed him he will be found equally alive to the demands of the office. The Township of Smith has furnished the County with a number of excellent Wardens and Mr. Nicholls is a fitting successor to those who have preceeded him.

Mr. W. E. Grills of Belmont who was nominated for the office yesterday is one of the coming men in the County Council. He is a young man of progressive ideas and his turn as Warden of the County is undoubtedly coming although the choice of his comradea did not fall upon him yesterday.

There are five new faces in the Council this year and the new blood seems most promising.

THE NATIONAL ANTHEM.

"That we, the members of this branch have noted with feelings of regret and strong condemnation the careless and indifferent attitude of some people during the playing and singing of "God Save the King" in public places. Considering this an anthem as a result of all we should hold most sacred and that in our national life we invite assistance of all loyal Canadians in maintaining a proper attitude of reverent attention whenever or wherever it is played and sung."

In passing the above resolution the members of the Lakefield branch of the G.W.V.A. have rendered a public service. Indifference to the National Anthem is not confined to Lakefield. The people of Peterborough are just as deserving of blame as their neighbours, and the resolution of the Lakefield returned men contains a rebuke that should not fall on deaf ears as far as local citizenry is concerned. During the war there was less to complain of in this respect. At public gatherings the National Anthem was in the main paid proper respect. But in the past few years there has been an appreciable slump. The first strains of "God Save the King" at the end of a performance is the signal for a rush to get away. Citizens who realize the respect that is due the National Anthem and stand at attention are jostled and glared at by others in the same row who are endeavouring to break records in reaching the door. The motion passed by the Lakefield returned men was no doubt inspired by the frequent witnessing of such scenes.

INCREASE THE PENSIONS.

With the demand of returned men for $2,000 gratuities for those who saw service in France, there may not be general sympathy but there is no question that public support would be behind an agitation to increase the pensions paid to totally disabled soldiers and to the widows and dependants of those who will not come back. Officialdom at Ottawa boasts frequently that the Canadian pensions are higher than those paid in any other country which took part in the war. This may be true to some extent but the allowances to the totally disabled men fall behind the American system. In Canada single men who have suffered total disability as a result of the war are paid $720 a year as compared with $960 in the United States. There is a similar difference in the case of totally disabled soldiers who are married. The Canadian figures in view of the present cost of living scale is inadequate. So too are the allowances paid to widows and dependants.

"It is the plain duty of the Government of Canada to increase the pensions of disabled soldiers, widows and orphans sufficiently to bring them into proportion with the present high cost of living. That they are at present far below that standard is indisputable, for the plea of the high cost of living was made the basis for a substantial bonus to all civil servants with a salary of less than $1,200 a year. The Government has used its own figures in paying bonuses to civil servants; let it use the same figures in computing the necessary amount of pensions, and arrange their rates accordingly. The pensions scheme was shelved by the committee on re-establishment which met during the last session of parliament, but the Government cannot afford to delay this matter much longer. The cost of living is increasing weekly, and the pensioners are feeling the strain. The country will not say a single word against a liberal increase in Canada's pensions, but will gladly bear all burdens they impose as a small repayment of the debt which is owing to the men who sacrificed health or limbs, and to the women who gave their bread-winners in order that justice and right should prevail, and the British Empire stand undefeated."

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The cry still comes from Armenia—"More money is needed."

A community committee representative of the whole citizenship would seem to be the proper body to handle the preparations for the Great War Veterans' Association.

An easy way of getting a sea voyage is to hunt up an American Secret Service Agent and start talking "Red" doctrine.

That new ether discovered by a Toronto doctor which makes people tell nothing but the truth would be great stuff to try on the politicians.

The Examiner last evening in speaking of the Burns' celebration referred to a remarkable prophecy made by the famous bard. As the result of a typographical error the prediction as given by the Examiner was indeed a noteworthy one for it was stated it was made in 1876—eighty years after Burns' death. 1776 was of course the correct date.

MY HEAD!

When the head feels thick or aches, when one feels all out-of-sorts—perhaps a coated tongue—it is the signal that poisons are accumulating in the system, and should be cleared out at once.

Auto-intoxication can be best ascribed to our own neglect or carelessness. When the organs fail in the discharge of their duties, the putrefactive germs set in and generate toxins—actual poisons, which fill one's own body.

Sleepiness after meals, flushing of the face, extreme lassitude, biliousness, dizziness, sick headache, acidity of the stomach, heartburn, offensive breath, anemia, loss of weight and muscular power, decrease of vitality or lowering of resistance to infectious diseases, disturbance of the eye, dyspepsia, indigestion, gastritis, many forms of catarrh, asthma, ear affections and allied ailments result from auto-intoxication or self-poisoning.

Take castor oil, or procure at the drug store, a pleasant vegetable laxative, called Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, composed of May-apple, aloes and jalap.

Heart Disease and Nerve Troubles Sweep the Country

Probably at no period in the world's history have heart and nerve troubles been so prevalent as they are to-day.

The heart can't stand the stress and strain of this busy, bustling age, and the care and worry, the anxiety and activity of business life constitute a serious drain on the nervous system.

The business of this work-a-day world goes with such a rush that the stoutest hearts and strongest nerves break down under the strain.

On the first approach of any breakdown of the system Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills should be taken. The reconstructive power of these pills on the heart and nerve system is simply marvellous.

Mr. W. A. Wright, Hopewell Ave., Ottawa, Ont., writes:—"After suffering for some time with my heart, I consulted a number of doctors, but got no relief. However, I read what Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills had done for others, who had the same symptoms and thought I would give them a trial. Believe me, six boxes cured me completely. I am feeling fine now, and can attend to my work every day. I can recommend your pills to any one suffering as I did."

DEATH CALLS DR. R. J. DWYER

NOTED TORONTO PHYSICIAN SUCCUMBS TO ATTACK OF HEART FAILURE.

TORONTO, Jan. 27.—The death occurred yesterday afternoon of Dr. Robert Joseph Dwyer, at his residence at 734 Spadina Avenue. Heart failure induced by rheumatic fever caused his death. Dr. Dwyer had been superintendent of St. Michael's Hospital for many years following his graduation from the University of Toronto in 1892.

It was largely due to his efforts that the nursing school of the hospital was established, and also that co-operation between the hospital and the Medical School of the University was promoted. Dr. Dwyer took a keen interest in the hospital and helped materially in introducing new and improved methods from time to time. For the medical fraternity of the city Dr. Dwyer was rated as an outstanding Canadian physician.

After being graduated from the University of Toronto in 1892, Dr. Dwyer took a post-graduate course in England, and later went to the continent to pursue his studies. He was a member of the Royal College of Physicians, London, and also of the Royal College of Surgeons. He was Professor of Clinical Medicine at the University of Toronto.

Dr. Dwyer was also noted as a naturalist, and made trips to Hudson Bay in pursuit of his studies along these lines. He was also a pathologist, mineralogist, and geologist.

Although in failing health for some time he paid close attention to the work at the hospital, and, during the influenza epidemic gave untiring service at various civic institutions. His death is deeply regretted by the medical profession of the city.

STOP CATARRH! OPEN NOSTRILS AND HEAD

Save Cream Applied in Nostrils Relieves Head-Colds at Once.

If your nostrils are clogged and your head is stuffed and you can't breathe freely because of a cold or catarrh, just get a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm at any drug store. Apply a little of this fragrant, antiseptic cream into your nostrils and let it penetrate through every air passage of your head, soothing and healing the inflamed, swollen mucous membrane and you get instant relief.

Ah! how good it feels. Your nostrils are open, your head is clear, no more hawking, snuffling, blowing; no more headache, dryness or struggling for breath. Ely's Cream Balm is just what sufferers from head colds and catarrh need. It's a delight.

Photographs are seldom true to nature. No one ever saw a small boy as clean as he appears in a picture.

Fire Department Estimates $40,777

AN INCREASE OF $6,815.95 OVER THOSE OF LAST YEAR—THE STAFF'S REQUEST FOR HIGHER SALARIES WOULD BRING THIS ITEM TO $30,077.10, AN INCREASE OF $4,968.35 OVER THE 1919 WAGE TOTAL.

ALD. CROWE WOULD EQUALIZE

The estimated expenditure of the Fire Department this year makes a total of $40,777.60 as compared with $33,961.65 last year, an increase of $6,815.95, according to the statement submitted by Chief Grange to the Fire, Water and Light committee last night. Proposed increases in the salaries of the twenty-once officers and men bulks largest, showing an increase of $4,968.35. In the Chief's report the salaries last year totalled $25,108.75 which, with the increases the staff has asked for, brings this year's salary outlay to $30,077.10.

Another item is $2,600 for a new car which Chief Grange urged last night as a necessity for his use.

The committee studied the statement more or less closely, but deferred action until a later meeting when all the members may be present, and with the intention of considering in the meantime the salary problem and other phases of the departmental estimates.

Ald. Morrison presided with Mayor McIntyre and Aldermen Crowe, Jones and Whitehouse present.

Ald. Crowe's Attitude.

Ald. Crowe clearly stated his position in the question of salaries "The request for increases was based on the need of meeting the high cost of living," he said, "and not for services, ability or responsibility. It costs the ordinary fireman as much to live as it does the officers. Therefore I would be in favor of giving the same increase to every one of the staff. Call it a bonus for this year if you like. I think that offer is fair and above board. The equalization of salaries is a principle in the Labor platform. By my suggestion we would give an equal increase to every member."

Chief Grange—It puts everyone on the same level.

Ald. Crowe—I'm taking you at your own word.

Chief Grange—It's not my request. It's from the Union.

Ald. Crowe—You're all in it.

Chief Grange—I think you ought to consider responsibility and the difference of service.

Ald Crowe—You haven't asked for that.

Chief Grange — We have not said so in words, but that is the drift of it.

Ald. Crowe—Take other places and we compare favorably with them.

Ald. Morrison—They're all graded.

Chief Grange—They're not on the same level. That's not been done yet.

Ald. Whitehouse — I think there should be some difference for the most responsible members of the staff.

Ald. Crowe—That allowance is already made in the present salary schedule. I would simply make the increase equal all around. That would be a guide for us in the other departments.

Chief Grange— There ought to be some consideration for the officers.

Ald. Morrison—I think so, too.

It was figured that an increase of $200 to every member of the staff, without distinction between officers and men would make a total increase of $4,200 instead of $4,968.35 as shown in the Chief's statement.

Ald. Whitehouse was inclined to recognize the officers by granting them more than the private of the department, but the suggestion he and Ald. Morrison worked out was only casually considered at the close of the meeting.

Pleased With Efficiency.

Ald. Whitehouse said she was delighted by the way in which the Fire Department was kept and by the efficiency of the staff. "Some people," he said, "feel that when the firemen are sitting in the hall they are not doing anything. That's the time they are valuable. The less fires there are the better for the city. I certainly must compliment the Chief."

"I have always found the Chief on the job," Ald. Morrison added.

"He is a valuable man and has filled the bill and I want to give him all the encouragement I can," Ald. Crowe observed.

"I have every confidence in the Chief," said Mayor McIntyre, and Ald. Jones likewise expressed his appreciation of the department and Chief Grange.

Runabout Too Light.

Chief Grange explained that his present car was too light and slow. Its best speed was thirty miles an hour as compared with the fifty-nine miles of the motor truck. As a result he was delayed in reaching fires. Because of its lightness and the the thin axles the Chief said he endangered his life by driving the red runabout at any decent speed. There was always the possibility of its overturning while driving fast to a fire. This car had cost about $700. It would still be of use for work on the alarm system lines and for the training of the men in the operating of an automobile. Chief Grange said he had in view a new Reo the that was in service by practically all the fire departments in Canada and the United States.

The Chief's Letter.

Accompanying his detailed statement of expenditures and estimates, Chief Grange presented the following report:

I am herewith submitting estimates for the Fire Department expenditure for the year 1920. Only those items which are most essential are included.

One of the most important items is the salaries. There has been a request presented by the department for a substantial increase in salary. The amount of the increase is $4,968.35. Owing to the increased cost of living and the abnormal conditions existing, I wish to strongly urge that the request be complied with and the amount of the salaries fixed at the figure given in the estimate re salary for each member of the department. Since taking control of the department, I have had a complete staff at all times and the firemen without a single exception are most thoroughly experienced and capable. Undoubtedly it is to the interest of the department and the city generally that the services of these men be retained. The fires during the abnormal period of war proved of more educational value to the firemen than ten years' experience under normal conditions, and my staff has remained practically unchanged since I assumed the duties of Chief of the Department.

The Two Platoon System.

Since March 1st, 1919 we have had in operation what is known as the double platoon system. It has proven to be highly satisfactory from every standpoint. I might say that under this system one platoon is on duty at the fire station and upon receiving an alarm of fire, respond immediately with the regular pieces of apparatus, while the off-duty platoon, upon receiving the alarm in their homes, come immediately to the station and take charge of the spare apparatus and respond in event of the second alarm coming in from the same fire or another fire taking place in some other section of the city. This arrangement gives the advantage of a second department without the added cost. During the period before the inauguration of this system it was necessary to have a watchman come to the station while the department was out. This arrangement makes the services of a watchman unnecessary. The salary paid the watchman was one hundred and twenty dollars. I wish to create a new office in the department which is absolutely necessary—that of secretary. I can use one of the members of the department, who is qualified, for this position. The additional salary requested is only one hundred dollars per annum. Thus between the two positions (watchman and secretary) a saving of twenty dollars is made.

On October 31st, 1919 we severed our connection with the Bell Telephone Co., who have supplied us with battery power for the alarm system. We adopted a system of generating our own current. The outfit consists of a motor-generator set, storage batteries and rack, switch-panel, 4 circuit switchboard, etc. The installation of the new system has given satisfaction in every way. Now, in order to perfect the alarm system it will be necessary to purchase about 3,400 lbs. of No. 10 B. & S. guage hard drawn copper wire. At thirty-five cents per lb. this will cost $1,190. To have a satisfactory alarm circuit it is very necessary that the old worn-out wire be replaced with copper wire. Some of the tap bells in use are in a condition beyond repair and I am asking for six new ones.

Using 1918 Uniforms.

In 1918 we purchased 16 uniforms, and in 1919 six uniforms. The six were for the four additional men required for the double platoon system and two were for the men who were engaged upon their return from overseas. Thus we have in stock at present two uniforms besides those that are in service. For the regular staff (16 men) who were on the department previous to the double platoon system, no uniforms have been purchased since 1918. Winter uniforms were ordered in the fall of 1919, but have not been completed and will have to be carried over into 1920, leaving us without a 1919 issue. I must request that an additional pair of trousers be purchased in order to make the 1918 summer uniforms last out the summer of 1920. These are the only uniforms I am asking for this year.

Other Items.

We have in stock about 6,350 feet of first-class fire hose with about 134 feet that can be turned over to the Board of Works as they are no longer fit for fire department use. I am not asking for hose this year owing to the increased cost of other essentials.

Included in last year's estimate was two smoke helmets. This request is repeated. Two new nozzles of a very necessary variety are requested. One of our ladders is in such a condition that I fear to ask men to use it, especially with a loaded line, and I am asking for a new 27 ft. trussed wall ladder at a cost of about seventy-five dollars.

A new automobile to be used as the Chief's car is also asked for. Two of the older horses (Roy and Bill) have outlived their period of usefulness to the fire department and I would like them sold and a new team purchased. The difference between the cost of a new team and the price received for the old team is estimated at 300.00.

I would also like to have two Foamite Firefoam tanks purchased. This is a new chemical fire fighting device. I might say that in my estimation it is one of the best. I had it demonstrated here for two days. The demonstrator used a pan 4 ft. x 1 0ft. by 3 in. deep. Into this he poured five gallons of gasoline and oils. After this was ignited we tried out our soda and acid extinguishers but they only increased the fury of the flame. With Firefoam the flame was subdued in about 60 seconds. I would strongly recommend that two of these tanks be purchased.

There is also a request for six electric hand lanterns. In fighting fire in a building where there is dense smoke the old oil lantern is practically useless. When the supply of oxygen is depleted the lantern goes out and men are sometimes left in rather a dangerous predicament. The electric lantern is not depending on the oxygen supply and therefore gives good service under all conditions.

Neuralgic Pains

Give Way to Soothing Hamlin's Wizard Oil

Hamlin's Wizard Oil is a safe and effective treatment for headache and neuralgia. Rubbed in where the pain is, it acts as a tonic to the tortured nerves and almost invariably brings quick relief.

Its healing, antiseptic qualities can always be relied upon to prevent infection, or other serious results, from sprains, bruises, cuts, burns, bites and stings. Just as good, too, for sore feet, stiff neck, frost bites, cold sores and canker sores.

INTERBOROUGH FIRM PAID $65,000,000 IN DIVIDENDS, TESTIFIES

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—The Interborough Rapid Transit Company has paid $65,000,000, or 187½ per cent. in dividends in the last sixteen years, according to testimony here before the Board of Estimate, which is investigating the New York traction situation and the need of a higher fare. Dividends continued until 1919, when 5% was paid despite a deficit on the company's books it was stated.

James L. Quackenbush, counsel for the company, admitted that if the Interborough had conserved its earnings instead of distributing them in dividends the money would be available now.

VESTRY MEETING HELD AT LAKEFIELD

FINANCIAL STATEMENT FOR THE YEAR.

LAKEFIELD, Jan. 27.—The annual vestry meeting of St. John the Baptist church was held in the Sunday School room on Monday evening, Jan. 26th.

There was a fair attendance and the minutes of the previous meeting were read by the clerk, Mr. E. R. Tate, who was re-appointed for the coming year.

The financial statement for the past year has been printed and is in the hands of the congregation. Owing to a misunderstanding the reports of the Woman's Auxiliary and the Girls' Auxiliary were omitted.

Mr. Samuel White was elected People's Warden and Mr. O. A. Langley the rector's warden.

An advisory committee consisting of Messrs. E. R. Tate, George E. Jackman and John C. Strickland were appointed.

The present auditors, Messrs. J. C. Strickland and G. W. H. Pattrick were re-elected.

The following sidesmen were appointed, Messrs. Wm. Watson, T. Waldon, E. Macauley, H. G. Fitzgerald, G. G. Ogilive, J. Mahood, T. W. B. Marling and F. J. Lillicrap.

The lay delegates to the synod are Messrs. W. M. Graham, E. Macauley and W. D. E. Strickland.

A tribute was paid to the faithful and splendid work done by Mr. G. B. Hilliard as church treasurer and he was re-appointed.

A resolution was passed by the vestry increasing the salary of the rector Rev. W. Archbold to $1200 per annum on condition that he will not undertake any work outside the parish of Lakefield.

A resolution of thanks to the various organizations were passed, this included the faithful organist, choir, S.S. teachers, members of the Women's and Girls' Auxiliaries and the A.Y.P.A.

A vote was taken on changing the name of the church and it was unanimously decided that the parish of Lakefield vote that the name of the church be not changed.

A vote of thanks was passed to Messrs. E. R. Tate and H. G. Fitzgerald, the retiring church wardens.

A resolution of sympathy to Mrs. J. C. Harvey and son was passed. The late Mr. Harvey was a faithful and devoted member of St. John's parish.

THE DE LAVAL CALENDAR FOR 1920

A fine sample of the irage colored De Laval Calendar for 1920 has been received. It is typical of the thoroughness of this company's business methods, and demonstrates that the management "never does things by halves." This calendar represents nearly four feet of effective chromological and illustrated features artistically developed by the lithographer's art. In the background a pretty rural scene is depicted in colors, while an enlarged picture of the De Laval Separator in bold relief stands out in front. A pretty dairy maid and her male companion are shown deeply interested in a document, which is either a De Laval milk test or a marriage license. The ideas are well conceived, and the artist has faithfully evolved a strikingly appropriate wall hanger.

Why Stay Fat? You Can Reduce

The answer of most fat people is that it is too hard, too troublesome, and too dangerous to force the weight down. However, in Marmola Prescription Tablets, all these difficulties are overcome. They are absolutely harmless, entail no dieting or exercise, and have the added advantage of cheapness. A large case is sold by druggists at $1. Of if preferable they can be obtained by sending price direct to the Marmola Co., 864 Woodward ave., Detroit, Mich. Now that you know this you have no excuse for being too fat, but can reduce two, three or four pounds a week without fear of bad after-effects.

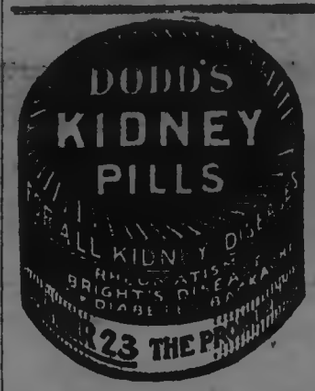
The Relief Officer gave a report that showed that he had been very busy during the past month.

The Board adjourned until Feb. 9th, at 7.45.

THE WEATHER

After an interruption of one day (yesterday) zero weather was back with us again this morning. Six below was the lowest figure last night. This makes 19 days of zero weather this month, and it has yet three days to go. The cold January of 1918 (the year of the cold winter and the coal shortage) gave but 19 days for the whole month. That month, while much like the present one, had more stormy days.—W. P.



NEIGHBOURS ARE NOW TAKING IT

FARMER'S GAIN OF 15 POUNDS PROVED WORTH OF TANLAC TO PEOPLE OF GRAY.

"Since Tanlac has fixed me up so fine and added fifteen pounds to my weight, everybody around where I live has commenced to take it, and they are all highly pleased with it," said James Jones, a well-known and prosperous farmer who lives at Gray, a small town thirteen miles south of Regina, Sask.

"For about a year I have been troubled with indigestion so bad that I could hardly eat a thing that would agree with me," he continued. "I had such a poor appetite that I had to force myself to eat enough to keep alive, and even then the pains in my stomach would almost draw me double. Gas formed on my stomach, and it would press up into my chest so bad that it caused my heart to palpitate terribly and gave me pains just under my heart. I had awful headaches and dizzy spells regularly, and I have seen times when they were so bad that I would have to quit work for a day or more at a time. I had severe pains in my back that hurt me most when I had to bend over, and often I would be sitting down and my back would pain me so bad I could hardly stand it. My sleep was restless and irregular, and many a night I would wake up at all hours and could hardly get to sleep before it was time to get up.

"A friend of mine who had tried Tanlac told me it was just what I needed, and on his advice I began taking it. Now I am thankful to that friend for he knew what he was talking about when he said Tanlac was just what I needed, for it has overcome my troubles and restored me to health. I have a fine appetite, and after eating I am never troubled any more with pains in my stomach, and as the gas has stopped forming I am not bothered with palpitation or pains under my heart. Headaches and dizzy spells are a thing of the past, and I can sleep sound all night long. The pains in my back have entirely disappeared, and I can bend over without an ache, and this fall I have shouldered a lot of wheat, but I haven't a pain in my back. I consider Tanlac the best medicine in the world, and I don't hesitate a minute to recommend it to others."

Tanlac is sold in Peterborough by W. B. Warne Drug Co., Limited; in Havelock by A. C. Denike; in Lakefield by Tanner Drug Co., Ltd.; in Fowlers Corners by W. A. Hunter; in Gelert by A. J. Scott; in Westwood by G. Pringle & Son.

THE MACBRIDE-ROLLO CONTROVERSY HAS BEEN SUCCESSFULLY ADJUSTED

MR. THOMAS TOOMS ADDRESSED THE INDEPENDENT LABOUR PARTY LAST EVENING.

"The MacBride-Rollo controversy has been adjusted and now MacBride has returned to our party and the Labour party is stronger and sounder than ever before," said Mr. Thomas Tooms M. P. P., at the conclusion of an address on "Industrial Democracy" given last evening in the Labour Hall at a meeting of the Independent Labour party. The meeting was opened by Mr. Thomas MacMurray who said he was sory there were not more present. He referred to holding the election of officers at the last night's meeting but the matter was left over until the next meeting.

Mr. Alex. Morrison spoke briefly on the need for more members in the party and for them all to work hard to get their representative in the Dominion house.

Mr. Thomas Lane spoke on the aims and objects of the party and how the workingmen should all get behind the party if they are to put their man in in the next election.

Mr. MacMurray said that he wanted to see the hall filled for the next meeting. "I have good reason to believe there will be a Dominion election next September and we must begin to work now."

The speaker said that all they wanted was justice and they were out to get it.

George Ball in a short speech dwelt on the need for better conditions for the working men and the only way to get them was to back up the Independent Labour Party and Mr. Ball said he wanted to join the Party right away and he did.

Mr. MacMurray urged them all to follow Mr. Ball's example before calling on Mr. Tooms, who had entered the meeting.

The member from West Peterboro said he was sorry there were so few present but said he had found their meetings compared with those of any other party.

Mr. Tooms began his address on "Industrial Democracy" by reading an article in last night's "Star", saying that all a working man was entitled to was his daily bread and a shelter to live in. "That is the way things are."

Mr. Tooms referred to the great disparity between the classes which is growing more obvious every day. The rich are growing richer, the poor poorer. He told of how millions were spent by them on one residence while the poor worker could not get a shack to live in.

Control Wealth.

Banquets costing thousands were put on while the poor could not get a square meal. Twenty-four men in United States controlled one-tenth of the wealth of that country. He described how the money was kept under their control.

Mr. Tooms gave a brief history of trade unionism and how it started in the 19th Century, but was not felt till this century and the governments opposition to it. In 1903 the Citizen's Industrial Association of 500 business men's organizations and with a membership of over 1,000,000 fought labor. "This started the battle between the two classes."

Stumbling Block.

"The greatest stumbling block between employer and employed has been the equitable distribution of the results of the combined forces—the wealth produced. Mr. Tooms dwelt on the working man's right to a share in this wealth. "Business is no longer a private affair of the employer but is a matter of general welfare." He told of how business morals had fallen and become corrupted and how labour did not want revolution but evolution.

Mr. Tooms said the press had been corrupted by the monied classes against labor. After referring to strikes, lockouts and sympathetic strikes the member said 'We will see disturbances as long as both sides are stubborn and stiff-necked.

After dealing with Socialism the speaker said, "the supremacy of the labouring classes is inevitable and they must control the government if they are to get justice. He spoke on the graft and corruption in business, how laws were made for the convenience of the few and how monopoly had grow till it controlled every thing.

Business interests have been able to circumvent the law to their own convenience. This is true even in our own locality and it will be my one endeavour to clear this up."

In conclusion he urged them to use their ballot to get better conditions and make the distribution of wealth more fair.

The speaker now gave a brief resume of the meeting in Toronto and how Mr. MacBride had returned to their ranks once more. "Our party is unanimous and stronger than ever."

HE DIDN'T GO SOUTH

Herbert Corri, of 417 Mackay Street Montreal, had suffered for years from Bronchial Asthma. He experimented with remedy after remedy and finally his medical adviser suggested a trip South as the only possible cure.

Before leaving, and in the nature of a last resort, Mr. Corri decided to try out Buckley's White Bronchitis Mixture. Then—the trip South was off. To use his own words, "the cough disappeared, the wheezing ceased, and all the discomforts disappeared as if by magic."

This is just what Buckley's White Bronchitis Mixture is guaranteed to do. Every sufferer from Coughs, Colds, Asthma, and Bronchial trouble of any description will find it a sure road to recovery.

Ask your druggist for Buckley's, and look for the name on the carton. It's your guarantee. Price 60c a bottle; mailed for 75c—or 3 bottles for $1.75.

Dandruffy Heads
Become Hairless
If you want plenty of thick, beautiful, glossy, silky hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't.
It doesn't do much good to try to brush or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.
By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it.
You will find, too that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop, and your hair will look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and four ounces is all you will need, no matter how much dandruff you have. This simple remedy never fails.

SANDRA THE JEALOUS

BY JANE PHELPS

BARRETT EDMONDS CALLS ON SANDRA

CHAPTER XXXII

I made no reply to Barrett Edmonds when he spoke about bringing flowers had he known it was my birthday. Suddenly it had crossed my mind that perhaps Everett would not like it that he had called. It made me feel awkward and almost embarrassed for a moment. But as soon as he had placed some music on the piano and I had commenced trying it, I forgot everything but the pleasure of having him with me, and the music.

We sang together for about an hour. Trying a verse of one song then of another. I felt quite ashamed of my little almost uncultivated voice when I first heard him, but he was so kind, and said such nice, honest- sounding things to me, that I forgot all about my embarrassment and sang just as I would have done for dad or the home boys.

"Your voice is delicious," Barrett said when we had stopped and he was going. "You sing as naturally as a bird. If you will let me come and join you occasionally I shall be delighted."

"So shall I!" was my answer, given so heartily that I blushed and he looked pleased.

I rather dreaded telling Everett that he had called. Not that I had the slightest feeling that I had done anything wrong, but because I did not know Everett's wishes in the matter. I almost wished I had told him that Everett's wishes in the matter. I almost wished I had told him that Barrett had asked to call —I already thought of him as 'Barrett'—it would be awful now to tell him he couldn't come again. Not the slightest idea of going against my husband's commands had occurred to me. In this as in everything I should do as he said—I would have to.

But Everett had been so kind in the morning, and it was my birthday. Perhaps he would be nice because of that. I dressed carefully before he came. He liked me always to dress for dinner, and when we were going to the play or the opera I always dressed for the evening before we dined. I wore a dress he particularly liked and my new bracelet, as well as the diamond and sapphire one. When he came in he complimented me, and kissed me. I told him I should have worn the bond pinned on my dress had I not been afraid I would lose it.

"I have had such a nice day," I said following him up stairs.

"What have you been doing?"

"I wrote letters all the morning. You see if I don't write both boys separately they are jealous. Then I had my luncheon, and started one of my new books. Then about 3 o'clock Mr. Edmonds called, I almost missed him. I was just thinking I would go out for a ride. And"—

"You had not known he was coming?"

"No", I answered truthfully, "but he said something about bringing his music at Mrs. Morgan's dinner last week. I happened to say I sang a little. He said he made a "big noise" occasionally—he sings wonderfully —and asked if he might drop in some afternoon with his music. I had almost forgotten it when he appeared to-day. But we tried over the music he brought for about an hour, then he went away. Then I came right upstairs and dressed. So you see I have had a busy and a very nice day."

"Yes—I see." I didn't like Everett's tone, but I waited. I had hurried thru the story of the day trying to avoid laying special emphasis on Barrett Edmonds' call. I did it quite unconsciously at the time. But it must have shown Everett that I had not planned to do anything without telling him—or perhaps it would be better to say 'asking his permission.'

However it was, he said nothing more, but proceeded to dress. It was not until I heard a cryptic remark he made long afterward that I was able to understand his attitude on my eighteenth birthday concerning Barrett Edmonds' call. I over heard him say:

"Often by making a thing take on prominence, you put thoughts into the heads of immature people which never would have otherwise come to them."

He must have thought that if he said I shouldn't receive Barrett Edmonds, a man whom his friends knew and received, he would make me ask questions, and perhaps attach more importance to Barrett's call than it really deserved.

I was gradually learning to keep still when Everett was inclined to be gracious; not to worry him by talking or questions. So now I left him alone to finish dressing.

"I will read until you are ready." I said, raising my face for another kiss. "You have only kissed me twice. You owe me 16 more." I said laughingly, then was so astonished I couldn't speak when he crushed me in his arms, and gave me many more than 16 I am sure."

I felt awfully embarrassed. It was almost as if some stranger had kissed me so fiercely. I ran from the room declaring I should have to rearrange my toilet instead of reading, because he had mussed me so.

When we sat down at the table half an hour later I understood the mysterious looks which had passed between Mrs. Gray and Betty. A lovely birthday cake with eighteen candles graced the center of the table. And they had trimmed the cloth with smilax, making it look just like a party. So I told them to their delight, and Everett's amusement. But it was nice in them; and made me very happy.

To-morrow—Matchmaking

Voice Of The People

Peterboro, Ont., Jan. 24th, 1920.

Mr. Editor;—

Will you please insert these few remarks in your columns relative to the re-establishment of soldiers.

Now Mr. Editor the returned veteran has many just complaints on this subject and I am going to try my best to put forth a typical case or two.

On discharge from the Army a man if unfit is able to take a course with pay, graded according to the responsibilties he may have. For instance, a single man gets $60.00 a month or in the case of a married man with no family $85.00 a month and an additional amount for each child, for those who have families. Now the part which seems so very unfair is the type of men who have been able to get these courses due to pull and influence and fraternal connections.

Now one case that looms up just at present as a very unfair one to the men who have done their bit in France and Flanders is the case of a man who clerked in a store previous to enlisting in the 93rd Battalion, and who served in no more strenuous engagements than an army office job in London and yet he managed to get a vocational course in this town although he did clerk in the same store for a while after his return. He is just as fit to carry on as he was previous to enlistment but no doubt the vocational course looks like 6 months easy money to him. There are similar cases to this one but I will leave them for some one better qualified than I am to write them up.

Secondly there are the vampires who are telling all sorts of untruths to obtain a portion of the emergency fund. For instance, another 93rd man was bragging the other day as how he pulled it over the eyes of one Mr. Dobbin, Secretary of said fund. The said man is clerking in the office of one of our large manufacturing concerns and is of course getting small pay as he is a novice at his work. The salary paid is about $35.-00 a month and he also receives $15.00 a month pension or rather he says he out of them at the rate of $13.00 a does. He however was very chesty the other day showing a check from the emergency fund which he pulled month. Now Mr. Editor this man was bragging that he owned his own home but said he did not tell Mr. Dobbin so, he further stated that he did not tell the truth about his pension as he said he was only getting $7.00 a month, whereas he is getting $15.00. The writer can back up every statement he makes in this letter and would be delighted to do so simply because I know heaps of cases where men who have done their bit in France have been given a very unfair deal compared to thousands of the would be soldiers who fought all their battles on the "Strand" or similar places.

Now Mr. Editor, I trust this will be answered by some of this type I refer to and I can assure you that I will be delighted to answer his as best I can. In other words, I am quite prepared to fight for the oppressed as I did in France and this type of man never had any intention of fighting when he enlisted and he has the same ideas yet. The men who did the most for the cause of humanity and justice are now having injustice handed out to him every day and the chap who did nothing but draw his pay and allowances comes back and gets everything.

Again hoping that you will see fit to publish this epistle.

I am,
Yours sincerely,
A VETERAN.

To the Editor of The Examiner.

Sir,—It has been my humble wish to do what I could to aid the churches in their mighty effort to throw off materialism, so prominently set forth at present in many ways.

As a contribution to this determined effort to rescue us from the new temptation, I ask you to publish the following as an advertisement for one week:

"These five separate communions are of one mind as to their belief in God the Father Almighty, maker of Heaven and Earth, and in Jesus Christ His Son, our Lord. They now declare to their respective constituencies, and also unitedly to the Canadian people that the only effective Method of Making Good Citizens is by urging men to a more faithful practice of Christianity by inculcating personal faith in Jesus Christ. They insist that there is no other dependable way of correcting evil tendencies in individual and national life. Signed by the Unted National Campaign, representing the simultaneous but independent Forward Movements of the Anglican, Baptist, Congregational, Methodist, and Presbyterian Communions of Canada."

A Stubborn Cough Loosens Right Up
This home-made remedy is a wonder for quick results. Healthy and cheaply made.
Here is a home-made syrup which millions of people have found to be the most dependable means of breaking up stubborn coughs. It is cheap and simple, but very prompt in action. Under its healing, soothing influence, chest soreness goes, phlegm loosens, breathing becomes easier, tickling in throat stops and you get a good night's restful sleep. The usual throat and chest colds are conquered by it in 24 hours or less. Nothing better for bronchitis, hoarseness, croup, throat tickle, bronchial asthma or winter coughs.
To make this splendid cough syrup, pour 2½ ounces of Pinex (50 cents worth), into a 16-oz. bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup and shake thoroughly. If you prefer, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, you get 16 ounces—a family supply—of much better cough syrup than you could buy ready-made for $2.50. Keeps perfectly and children love its pleasant taste.
Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, known the world over for its prompt healing effect upon the membranes.
To avoid disappointment ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.

LADY ASTOR HATES THE WORD PROHIBITION.

LIVERPOOL, Jan. 27.—Lady Astor, member of Parliament for Plymouth, speaking in support of state purchase and control of the liquor trade, declared that prohibition was impracticable.

"I hate the word 'prohibition,'" said Lady Astor, "and have just enough devil in me that if anyone prohibits anything it becomes the one thing I want."

Long-Standing Evil
Effective Measures Taken
Since childhood Mr. A. Cail was under the shadow of a great evil, which always menaced his comfort and safety. Read what he says:—
"I was troubled with my kidneys since childhood and spent a large amount of money trying to get cured. Instead of getting better, I kept getting worse until a friend of mine advised me to try Gin Pills. I did so, and after taking one box, I was able to get out of bed and walk around. Two more boxes relieved me completely, and since then I have had no return of the trouble."
Many people have kidney and bladder trouble without knowing it. They think nothing of the backache, the pains in the sides, the constant headaches, the rheumatic, sciatic and neuralgic pains, the floating specks before the eyes, the swollen joints, the highly-coloured urine—all signs of trouble—all signs which should receive immediate attention and treatment with Gin Pills, which are by far the most effective of all preparations, and which may help you to avoid a fatal operation. They quickly relieve pain and heal the congested tissues, bringing the organs back to normal. At druggists and dealers, 50c a box. Money back if no relief. Send for free sample.

Fireworks.

Dr. J. C. Smith speaking on the report stated that a quite deal of talking regarding the work of the last council on the Memorial Hall had been going the rounds, and he wished to make a statement regarding the same.

He said ever since he entered the Council, Reeve Moore was antagonistic to him because he had voted for somebody else as Reeve instead of him. He also was a strong supporter of Hydro, and Reeve Moore was not, (cries from ex-Reeve Moore ("Your a liar") he was in favor of the Dickson Co. He also blamed Smith and Porter for losing his election this year.

As to the building of the Town Hall Mr. Kearns the architect was in Peterboro attending to some work, and came up to Lakefield to see if Lakefield was going to rebuild the Town Hall which was destroyed by fire and submitted a sketch which was to expensive. Mr. Porter taking him over to see Mr. Moore, who was ill at the time. He then submitted another sketch which he said could be built for $16,000. Reeve Moore favored Mr. Blackwell of Peterboro and in deference to Mr. Moore, Mr. Blackwell submitted plans also, but the Council decided on the Kearns plan as the better one. They should have let the contract, but Mr. Moore who had been an old builder and contractor advised against it, recommending that it be built by day work, with Mr. Abel Hendren as superintendent, and against his better judgment he agreed to it.

Tenders Called For.

Tenders were asked for lumber for the work, and three tenders were submitted as follows:

Kawartha Lumber Co.	$2,000.00
Norman A. Moore	2250.00
Peterboro Lumber Co.	2600.00

The Kawartha Lumber Co., being the lowest was awarded the contract.

Ten days later it was learned that the lumber contract had been switched by Mr. Hendren to Mr. Norman A. Moore. Mr. Lillicrop stating that Mr. Hendren had imposed conditions that were not in the contract. A meeting was called that night and he could not get any satisfaction for Mr. Hendren, and said if Dr. Smith was going to butt in he would resign from the job. The next morning Mr. N. A. Moore came into my office and said he was willing to revise his figures to meet Mr. Lillicrop's tender, which he never did.

As they had decided to change from B.C. Cedar shingles to metal shingles there were 38M in the contract which Mr. Lillicrap offered to allow a rebate of $7.00 but N. A. Moore only allowed a rebate of $5.75. Moore did not live up to his contract.

He also said that Hendren bought from Moore $1800.00 worth of lumber that was not tendered for without any authorization of Council, although he asked Council permission to purchase $8.50 worth of pipe from A. G. Lawless, he did not ask Council regarding $1800.00 worth of lumber and we do not know whether corwere charged or not.

Green Lumber.

Mr. Abel Hendrew replied that as requested by Council he phoned Mr. Lillicrap that he had been awarded the contract and when could he have it ready, he stated in about two weeks, he asked him if it was dry and he said no it was cut about two months. And he told him that would not do as it had to be well seasoned lumber. He then went ao see Mr. Porter and Mr. Porter said can Moore get it and I said yes. I also sall McDonald and he said to get it from Moore if such was the case.

Mr. Porter said that as he was coming from the bank he saw Mr. Lillicrap and told him he was glad he had got the contract for the lumber. Mr. Lillicrap said he had not got it, it was given to Moore, and it was after this that Mr. Hendrew had told him. He asked Mr. McDonald to go down to Moore Mill and see about it and he stated that Moore had the lumber half cut, showing he must have had the contract for over a week.

Mr. Moore had stated that the Council were taking things out of his hands and yet at the G.W.V.A. meeting the other night, Mr. Moore had stated that he and Mr. Hendrew had worked well together, and had made a great many changes that the Council knew nothing about.

He with Dr. Smith believed that this work should have been let by contract but Mr. Moore laid such emphasis on doing it by day work that he ——— against his better judgment, and Mr. Hendrew said to him that he could easily save the village $2,000.00, and he also told him after the brick work was up that the building might reach the $16,000.00 but would not exceed $18000.00.

It was intended that the lumber account should be divided, but through Mr. Hendrew, Mr. Moore got practically it all.

Mr. Lillicrap on behalf of the Kawartha Lumber Co., stated that when seen by Mr. Hendrew he told him he would give them lumber cut 3 or 4 months previously and bone dry but Mr. Hendrew said they would not accept it as it must be 1918 cut.

He said that Mr. Hendrew told him that he and Mr. Moore should get together.

WOMEN FROM NORTH, SOUTH, EAST, WEST
Recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as a Reliable Remedy for Woman's Ills.
Spokane, Wash.—"I want to recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for women's ailments as it helped me so much during middle age."—Mrs. MARTHA CONNOR, 1027 Mansfield Avenue.
Abilene, Texas.—"For almost a year I was unfit to do my work as I suffered so from female ills. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound restored my health after physicians had failed."—Mrs. E. E. OWENS.
Rockville, Conn.—"I suffered so long from female ills I was blue and melancholy. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound restored my health after everything else had failed."—MARY WITZ, 3 Chamberlain St.
Oakland, Cal.—"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound gave me such relief during Change of Life, I wish every woman could know about it. I surely praise this great remedy for women's ills."—Mrs. MARY S. ASHLEY, 5709 Dover Street.
The reason Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is so successful is because it contains the curative, strengthening properties of good old fashioned roots and herbs, which act directly on the female organism.

BREAKS FAVOUR LINDSAY AND MIDGETS HAVE TWO GOAL LEAD ON ROUND

BEAT PETERBORO 5 TO 3 LAST NIGHT IN FIRST OF HOME GAMES TO DECIDE CHAMPIONSHIP OF SECTIONS---PETES SCORED ONE OF LINDSAY'S GOALS AND ANOTHER WAS SCORED OF A FLUKE HIGH SHOT FROM CENTRE.

In a game in which the visitors got the benefit of all the breaks, the Lindsay Midgets defeated the Peterborough Juniors at Brock Street Rink last night by 5 goals to 3 in the first of the home-and-home series to break the tie in this section of the Junior O. H. A. group.

The local youngsters, on the play, should have escaped with nothing worse than a draw, for two of the Lindsay goals were of the flukiest description, one being scored by the Petes against themselves and the other being a lift from centre ice that had hardly momentum enough to slide into the nets.

Lindsay won the game in the first period when they outscored the Peterborough kids 3 to 1. In the last forty minutes the two teams split four goals between them, which gives an idea of the closeness of the play.

The checking throughout was close and hard, both forward lines checking back persistently, with the result that the hockey was more hard fought than brilliant. It was anybody's game until Lindsay cinched the decision by scoring two minutes before the final bell.

There was little to choose between the teams, although Lindsay had the advantage in weight and in shooting ability. The Petes fell down badly in the latter respect. Outside of Foley, whose shots were generally laid right in the nets, the local youngsters were weak and inaccurate in their marksmanship, throwing away a number of chances by wild shooting when close in.

The second goal credited to Lindsay was a heartbreaker. Bergoine had stopped a slow shot from well out, and was holding the puck until he decided which side to clear it to, when Lawson, the local defence man, tried to take it away from the nets. In doing so he tapped it past Bergoine, and Lindsay had an unearned goal.

Garnett, Lindsay's big defence man, was checked too closely to do much on the attack, and did not figure in the scoring, but he was a bear on the defence, and was well supported by Green. The two most effective men on the Lindsay team last night, however, were Stoddard and Chambers, the two wing players, who did some great checking, and were always dangerous on the attack.

Sheehan and Foley were Peterborough's best. The former was effective, both defensively and offensively, while Foley rushed nicely and was the only one of the squad to shoot accurately. Bergoine in the nets was a sick boy last night. He got out of bed, after three days' ilness, to do his bit, and deserves credit for his gameness.

Every one of the squad tried until the last bell, and the team went down fighting.

They will battle the same way in Lindsay to-morrow night, and if favoured with some of the luck that went to the Midgets last night, they will give the blue and white outfit a game they will long remember.

The Teams:

Collins grabbed the puck from the face off and McClory had a shot to handle in the first ten seconds which he turned aside. Play was in mid ice for the next few moments and then Lindsay broke into the scoring column when Stoddard, the light-haired left wing player got away along the wing and although closely checked managed to let loose a low swift shot into the corner of the net for the first counter.

Play was very even and the checking hard and close for the next ten minutes and neither team had much advantage. Finally Foley evened the count on a nice play. He swept down the side and shot dead on but McClory blocked. Foley, however, tore in on high and batted in the rebound.

The score was not long tied, however, for a most flunky goal gave Lindsay the lead again a few moments later. Bergoine blocked a weak shot and Lawson in attempting to clear knocked the rubber into his own net.

That made it 2 to 1 and shortly before the period ended Chambers, the Lindsay right wing, got away alone, and beat Bergoine with a waist high shot, leaving the figures 3 to 1 at the close of the session.

The second period saw the fastest and the best hockey of the game. Both teams worked their heads off, and the pace was fast and the checking very close. Honours were even, however, until Garnett was penalized for dumping Collins. The absence of their star defence man threw Lindsay back on the defensive, and the Petes hummed around like hornets. Foley and Jackson both nearly scored on close-in shots. Foley got another opportuity, however, on a pass from the corner and this time made no mistake.

Garnett came back into the game, and Lindsay rallied again. Jackson drew a penalty for tripping Garnett, and Stoddard and Sheehan followed for mixing it. With Lindsay playing five men to four, the Midgets scored another fluky goal when McElroy lifted a weak shot from near centre that barely slid over Bergoine's stick into the net. That made it 4 to 2, and the figures were unchanged when the teams left the ice for the second rest period.

The teams tore in desperately at the beginning of the final twenty minutes with the Petes having a shade the better of the argument, although their shots from outside were weak and generally inaccurate. Garnett kept trying to relieve the pressure but he was closely looked after. The minutes went by with no change in the score until Stoddard went off for tripping. While he was off Collins slipped down alone and went in close to beat McClory.

With the Petes only a goal behind the crowd rooted vigorously for the kids to come on and sew up the game. They tried with every ounce they had but could not make the grade, and the fans momentarily expecting the final bell were reconciled to a 4-3 defeat when with less than two minutes to go Lindsay got away and Chambers taking a pass from McElroy registered at close range leaving the final score 5 to 3.

CHALLENGE HAS BEEN ACCEPTED

Peterborough, Ont.,
Jan. 27th, 1920.

Mr. Sporting Editor, Examiner City.

Having seen challenge of Peterboro Lock Works hockey team for a game, we the De Laval Hockey Club hereby accept same.

Our team will be picked from—Creighton, Dugan, Magee, Harrow, Legrande, Nellist, Lipsett, English, Doughty, Murray, Rose and F. Allen, all De Laval employees.

Should this be satisfactory kindly answer through your columns, or write to P. G. Pirie, Claraday P.O.

Yours truly,
P. G. PIRIE.

LADY CAVENDISH JUNIOR CHAMPION

(Special to The Examiner.)

OTTAWA, Jan. 28.— Lady Rachel Cavandish is the junior champion, and Miss Dorothy Jenkins the senior champion, of the Minto Skating Club, as a result of the competitions concluded last evening. The gallery was one of the largest in attendance. Their Excellencies and party from Government House, including Admiral Napier of the North Atlantic Squadron, being spectators throughout.

Lady Rachel's opponents, Miss Bessie Lynch, Miss Elizabeth Blair, and Miss Evelyn Gwyen, finished in that order. This is Lady Rachel's second triumph as a skater. Her first victory was last year, when, with but two years' experience, she won the championship of the Junior Minto Club.

With Club competitions now out of the way, the representatives for the Canadian championships in Montreal will devote all their time to their programmes. The judges for the competitions were Mr. Phil Chrysler, Mr. C. J. Allan and Mr. Percy Wood.

PETES HAVE THEIR LAST CHANCE FRIDAY NIGHT

It is up to the Peterborough Intermediates apparently, to stem the tide of Lindsay victories. In the last six clashes between Peterborough and Lindsay outfits, the Petes have been beaten exactly six times—the Juniors dropping four games in a row and the Intermediates two.

Friday night the Intermediates have their last chance to make good. If they lose the battle here with Lindsay, they can hang up their sticks for the season, for a Lindsay victory means the group championship for the Coombs-Trew outfit.

Lindsay expect to wind up the district, and are coming down with a flock of followers and a sockful of greenbacks, ready to back their opinion.

The game promises to be the hardest-fought and most exciting of the season, as the district title is the prize.

There will be a record crowd.

VILLAIN STAR WANTS TO BE SCREENS MOST HATED MAN

Eric Stroheim, Creator of "Blind Husbands" Wants 'Em to See Red When He Appears.

The ambition of Eric von Stroheim, who created the character of the despised and brutal Hun officer in the great picture 'The Heart of Humanity," is to become the most hated villain on the screen.

With the men he will succeed, but with the women—that is a different story, for Sroheim has written, directed and starred in a picture in which he is seen as the most insidious love serpent that ever crept into a Eden's garden of willing Eves.

St. eim wrote, directed and played the leading part—a villainous one—in "Blind Husbands," Universal's quality feature coming to the Grand Theatre, and Julian Johnson, editor of the Photoplay Magazine, declares the result to be "one of those miraculous things, which often occur in novels, but seldom in real life.

Mr. Johnson, himself, in praising "Blind Husbands," does an almost unheard of thing, for he is known as one of the most conservative and relentless critics in the motion picture field, but Mr. Johnson is unstinted in his laudation of Stroheim's effort. He says further, "It is a flawless picture —an absorbingly interesting one—a powerful one.

"I know because I have just seen it, and certainly I was as much surprised as any. Directors no more spring full-armed from their mere intentions than do writers or composers, or playwrights. But Stroheim did — proving that nothing is so contradictory as life."

Another amazing feature of the entire production is that it is the first and only picture this man ever directed.

WATCH YOUR STEP

Melodious, glittering, and amusing, spreading mirth and laughter everywhere, "Watch Your Step," Irving Berlin's international syncopated musical success will appear at the Grand to-night for a limited engagement.

Comparatively few musical comedy achievements of recent years have reached the high plane in point of sparkling dialogue, bubbly songs, and graceful and clever dancing as will be found in "Watch Your Step." Down to the smallest detail, as well as in the big things, the show and the company reflect the intelligence and care taken by the producer.

Along with everything else, the scenic effects and costuming are of a high order. It is seldom that one sees such a refreshing succession of original ideas in stage settings, the light and colour of which harmonise so well. In "Watch Your Step," stagecraft is one of the chief factors in making the very desirable first impression, which is sustained throughout the acton of the production, by the skillful use of the vision-pleasers which too often escape the observation of the spectacle-maker.

At no point in the play is the power shut off. There are no halts, jolts or grinds. The lubrication has been well attended to, and when the curtain goes down on climaxes, it leaves the audience in the mood to be anxious for the play to go right along without any such stop as to bring one back to the commonplace realities of life.

DE LAVAL BOWLING LEAGUE

Midgets Take Two From the Separators.—A. Fitzgerald Rolled Record League score 647.

Last night at the Water Street Alleys in the De Laval Ten Pin League the Midgets took two out of the three games from the separators. A. Fitzgerald rolled the record league score of 647 in three games and a high single of 256. For the Separators Garrow was high with 583. The scores:

PETERBORO LOST THE CAREW CUP

GUELPH, Jan. 28.—For the third time the Royal City Curling Club of this city yesterday afternoon successfully defended the Carew Cup, the Peterborough Club being the challengers, and they made a bold bid for the silverware, falling short only by a single shot, the score being 14 to 13 in favour of the local club.

The visitors got away to a good start, but fell away, and the locals caught up. It was a close and interesting game all the way.

Orillia s the next challenger.

The rinks were as follow:

Royal City.	Peterborough.
E. H. Johns	W. Warne
F. H. Barber	I. Skinner

"Congratulations"

Says the Capitol---New York the World's Biggest Theatre

THE world's newest, biggest, handsomest theatre must have only the world's best pictures. Because the big business men who have financed it and the shrewd showmen who are running it cannot afford to invest their money and brains in pictures that are not the very finest which the picture art has produced. For that reason this letter of congratulation from the management of the Capitol Theatre has weight enough to make it good advice for every Theatre in the land.

"I am gratified," writes the Managing Director of the Capitol, Mr. Edward J. Bowes, to Carl Laemmle, "that you and your staff were pleased with our method of presentation of "BLIND HUSBANDS." What a triumph this picture is! Both artistic and financial! Our thanks and congratulations for this wonder picture.

TEMPLE OF FAME AT CONSERVATORY

While an organization of but ten weeks old the Dramatic Class of the Conservatory of Music last evening in "The Temple of Fame," presented a play which revealed not only unlimited talent but unusual aptitude on the part of all who took part and what may be accomplished by an expert instructress in a very short time.

The Play.

In the play, the "Goddess of Fame" offered a crown to the famous person who could present the best plea for the distinction, and after hearing from all who appeared, who included such noted women as Florence Nightingale, Pocahontas and Laura Secord, accorded the honor to the Mother. The costumes worn by all taking part were most charming and absolutely faithful reproductions of those worn by the women each represented.

The Cast.

Those taking part, the leaders pupils of Miss May Urquhart who organized the Dramatic Class, were:
The Herald—Harold Cranfield.
The Goddess of Fame—Mae Perry.
Pages—Kenneth McDonald, and Harry Westbrooke.
Flora McDonald—Lillian Eastwood
Florence Nightingale—Viola Payton.
Grecian Dancer—Martha Kirn.
Canada—Miss Evans.
Bridget O'Flannigan—Lena Aikens.
Madame Patti—Miss H. Maclaren.
Mother and children—Edna Purvis (Kathrine and Ruth Tracey.)
Pocahontas—Miss M. Rae.
Girl of the 21st Century — Hazel Davidson.
Sister of Charity—Miss M. McDonald.
Ruth—Miss Florence Scott.
Portia—Kathleen Adee.
Grace Darling—Miss D. Stuart.
Mrs. Partington and Ike—Miss M. Patterson and Arthur Westbrooke.
Lady Halle—Mrs. Hooper.
Laura Secord—Josephine McGill.
Jeptha's Daughter — Miss Helen Story.
Italian Street Dancers — Helen Lamb, Agnes Logan, Irene Breckenridge, Jeannie Cormack, Gwenyth Peters, Ted Cheverill.
Elizabeth Browning—Ada Lane.
Crown Bearer—Irene Hourigan.
Bugler—George Ross.
Pianist—Otto Gliddon.
Directress—Miss M. Urquhart.

STUDIO RECITAL

Conservatory of Music by the Junior Dancing and Dramatic Class Under the Direction of Miss Urquhart.

On Saturday afternoon, January 24, in the Conservatory of Music, a very enjoyable studio recital was held by the Junior Dancing, and Dramatic classes pupils of Miss Mae Urquhart of the "Margaret Eaton School", Toronto.

The parents, and friends of the little ones, were delighted with their work; and Miss Urquhart is to be congratulated, on the very efficient manner in which each of the little tots did his, or her part, as the children had completed only one term of lessons.

Took Part.

Those taking part in the programme were:

Chairman, Arthur Westbrooke. Accompanist, Miss D. Stuart.

The funeral will take place to-morrow afternoon from the family residence 132 Perry street to Little Lake Cemetery.

WEDDING BELLS

ROWAND—ROWLAND.

A charming wedding took place at Walkerton, when Florence, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Rowland, became the bride of Elmer McLeod Rowand of Toronto. The marriage took place at the home of the bride, the Rev. W. L. H. Rowand, of Toronto, father of the groom, conducting the ceremony, assisted by Rev. W. H. Burgess of Knox church, Walkerton. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Norma Rowland, and by Miss Marion Robertson. Mr. Joseph Walsh of Toronto, acted as groomsman. Professor E. H. Leeson played the wedding music and Miss Alma Stahlschmidt of Preston, sang during the signing of the register. The bride, who was given away by her father, looked charming in a gown of white duchess satin trimmed with silver lace, the court train being lined with shell-pink chiffon. She wore a bridal veil finished with a bow-knot of seed-pearls and orange blossoms. Her bouquet was of American Beauty roses and orchids. Miss Norma Rowland was attired in a silver-blue satin gown with point d-esprit lace, and trimmings of silver lace and orchids, and Miss Marion Robertson was gowned in a flame-colored charmeuse satin. Both bridesmaids wore black tulle hats, and carried flowers. After the wedding breakfast, Mr. and Mrs. Rowand left for Buffalo, New York and Atlantic City. The bride's going-away suit was of navy blue serge, and she wore also a seal coat with trimmings of sable, and an ermine hat and muff. On their return they will live at 45 Stibard avenue, Toronto.

MEETING HELD TO DISCUSS LAKEFIELD MEMORIAL HALL

a meeting of the Council why there were so many bills coming in from N. A. Moore, were they extra or on contract, that ex-Reeve Moore took him up pretty short. He also stated that shortly after the work had been started he was approached by a ratepayer, who stated it was absolutely unfair to the ratepayers to have the work done by day work instead of by tender, as the work was costing altogether too much this way and should be let by tender.

Ex-Reeve F. J. Moore said that Dr. Smith had accused him of being opposed to Hydro which was untrue, as he could prove by every Reeve in the county, who would say he was in favor of having voted for the Hydro to come from Preston Falls to Peterboro and to Lakefield. I was defeated as Reeve by a tissue of lies. I thought Mr. Blackwell was the best architect, and could have got the plans out in three days. Porter and Smith were the ones that were boosting the building.

Mr. Norman A. Moore stated that he had bought his father out in the Planing Mill business, and when Mr. Hendrew was authorized to start at the hall, he came to me and got stakes for laying out the foundation and got lumber for the foundation as the work went on.

He was asked to tender for the lumber, being told that two other firms would tender. He did not have the lumber required on hand, but got busy and found out where it could be procured F.O.B. at Lakefield. When the tenders were opened he learned that the Kawartha Lumber Co., had secured the contract $225.00 below his tender, so he cancelled the order for material. Mr. Hendrew came and told me the Kawartha Lumber Co., could not fill the contract, and would I still do so. I said I would but I could not give all of 1918 cut. The shingles were to be cancelled so he gave a rebate for them at cost which he thought quite fair.

The sash and frame contract was lower than the Peterboro Company and was awarded him.

Reeve Strickland decided that the discussion was not bringing us any nearer the mark. He said that the building was there. We had an indebedness of $9,000 over the debentures and it will take about $6,000 or $7,000 to complete it. The new Council will ask for tenders for the different departments of work, and will ——— they have so arranged, submit a by-law for $15,000 or $16,000 to complete the Memorial Hall.

The meeting was brought to a close by singing the National Anthem.

WILL ADDRESS THE BOARD OF TRADE

On Thursday evening the Board of Trade will be addressed by Mr. R. B. Morley, of Toronto, general manager of the Ontario Safety League, upon the general subject of the prevention of accidents and avoidable danger to life and health in Peterborough.

There has been a serious increase in traffic accidents in the city of late, and the Ontario Safety League is conducting a campaign of education in all of the more important centres.

The League is a voluntary provincial organisation that works diligently to safeguard the public. It has done much to minimise the risks attending industrial occupations in the Province.

Mr. Morley knows about Peterborough, and he's well-known here, having ben accountant in the Dominion Bank some years ago.

Members of the Board of Trade, who are not fully supplied with guests' tickets, may obtain what they require at the Board's office.

CARD OF THANKS.

Growing Concern

ANOTHER NOTE

(Canadian Press.)

BERLIN, Jan. 29.— Indications of the government's growing concern over the extradition of Germans accused of war offences, was given in a note sent to the Allies yesterday asking revision of clauses of the Versailles treaty. The note, which will not be published in Germany, warns Entente Powers that Germany cannot assume she is able to compel either national or local agencies of the law to lay hands on men wanted and transfer them to the German frontiers. The attempted assassination of Mathias Erzberger last Monday is viewed in official circles as a precursor of what is likely to happen on a larger scale if the government, yielding to the Allies, appeals to force in arresting men on the list submitted by the Entente. Editorial and partisan recriminations, provoked by the attack on the Finance Minister, have already reached a white hot stage.

WANTS PROHIBITION.

(Canadian Press.)

PLYMOUTH, Jan. 29. —Lord Leverhulme, a British manufacturer, who arrived here to-day from the United States, declared himself to interviewers as in favor of the adoption of prohibition in Great Britain, through which he said enough could be saved to pay Great Britain's indebtedness to America in five years.

HIGHWAY DELEGATES.

STRATFORD, Jan. 29. — Upwards of a hundred delegates from municipalities between Toronto and Sarnia, interested in a straight line highway are here to-day conferring with Hon. F. G. Biggs. A luncheon was held at noon after which an informal discussion took place. Sarnia's big delegation did not arrive owing to transportation troubles, but in a five hundred word telegram heartily endorsed the project of the highway from Toronto to Sarnia. Mr. Biggs will be pressed for some definite statement regarding the matter.

FRANCHISE ACT.

(Canadian Press.)

OTTAWA, Jan. 29. — One of the most important measures to come before Parliament at coming session is the Franchise Act. It is understood that this will embody redistribution but only to a limited extent. It is known that it is the intention to follow more closely the lines of representation by the population rather than has been the custom in the past. This will necessarily mean that representation of larger centres of population will be increased.

WINNIPEG TRIAL OF STRIKE LEADERS AGAIN UNDER WAY

(Special to The Examiner.)

WINNIPEG, 29th January.—A jury of farmers will determine whether the seven Winnipeg strike leaders were guilty of seditious conspiracy in the conduct of the general strike which virtually paralysed the industrial activity in this city last May and June.

Eight jurors were chosen to-day—four in the morning and four in the afternoon, the first four men having been named on Tuesday afternoon. Most of the jurors average about fifty years, although one is about 35. The oldest juror is 66.

R. A. Bonnar, K.C., who directed the defence challenges to the jury, claimed twenty-eight peremptory challenges for each of the accused, but refused to submit any legal authority to support his contention. He said he wanted his claim placed on record so that it might be the basis of appeal later.

Justice Metcalfe, in view of the fact that no legal grounds for the claim were stated, ruled that each defendant was entitled to only four peremptory challenges.

In selecting a jury, the defence used up only seventeen of its twenty-eight peremptory challenges and the Crown used one.

Following the formal reading of the indictment, the jury was locked up for the night, and the trial will officially get under way to-day when A. J. Andrews, K.C., chief Crown counsel, makes his formal address to the jury. The first witness then will be called, and the trial will be on.

There is considerable speculation as to just how long the trial will last.

Mr. Bonnar stated that it might string out for sixty days, but Justice Metcalfe says it will not consume half that time. The Crown counsel is non-committal.

It is certain, however, that if all of the defence counsel and the four accused who are defending themselves, cross-examine all the witnesses put on the stand by the Crown, the trial will last many weeks. It is known that the Crown has a vast amount of evidence which it intends to put in, but the extent of the defence to be offered is not known.

F. J. Dixon, M.P.P., and W. S. Woodsworth, a former preacher, will come before the Assize Court to-morrow on a charge of sedition growing out of articles alleged to have been written by them, which appeared in the Labour News during the strike period.

THE CALL FROM ARMENIA

MR. JOHN G. KENT COUPLES A MESSAGE AND AN APPEAL— THE STORY OF ARMENIAN CHILDREN TOLD BY ONE WHO SAW

"Let me once more express the very profound appreciation of the Canadian National Armenian Relief Association for the wonderful work their big-hearted generosity in enabling workers in the field to do toward saving the lives of hundreds of starving and destitute Armenian people. They have inaugurated a great crusade of wondrous generosity which is enabling much more than we had dared to hope to be done.

A MESSAGE AND AN APPEAL.

Such was the cheering message sent out by Mr. John G. Kent, General Manager of the Canadian National Exhibition, who is the chairman of the Canadian National Armenian Relief Association. Already, as readers are aware, the sum of one hundred thousand dollars from their fund has been [illegible] C. Cameron, the treasurer, to Constantinople—where Canadian representatives are utilizing it to forward immediately the food and clothing which mean life to the perishing women and children.

With his message of thanks, Mr. Kent coupled an appeal. Much has been done, much is being done—but much remains to be done. The reports received by the Association of the condition of the sufferers are heartrending, and the call for help continues unabated.

THE STORY OF AN EYE-WITNESS.

In a communication to Rev. A. E. Armstrong, of the Board of Foreign Missions of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, Rev. Dr. James L. Barton, of the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions, who recently returned from Armenia, says:

"I would never have believed that human beings could survive and endure what I have personally seen tens of thousands of Armenians—men, women, and children—suffer in patient waiting for help.

"The wonder is not that so many have gone insane, but that so many retain thefr reason and cherish a living hope that they can yet return to their homes and land and thus become self-supporting. They must have help to do this.

CHILDREN LIKE ANIMALS.

"I have inspected hundreds of orphanages in which more than forty thousand helpless children were cared for. There were others I did not reach. I saw 'receiving orphanages' where the emaciated, almost naked, diseased little children, more in action like wild animals than human beings, were first taken in from the streets and from the desert. To one who has not seen and experienced the brutalising of young childhood by cruelty and want, a conception of their condition is impossible.

SAVING CHILD LIFE.

"From these receiving places I went to orphanages of but ten days' operation. These few days' transformation was nothing less than miraculous. But for the testimony of creditable witnesses one could not believe the change possible in so brief a period. They were clothed and clean; the marks of mal-nutrition and disease were rapidly disappearing. Colour was coming into pallid and sunken cheeks, eyes were beginning to brighten, and even now and then a smile to lighten up the stolid face. They had ceased to shrink away in fear when a helper came near. Life—real child life—was dawning once more after five years of suffering and horror.

"This is the work for orphans for the continuance of which we plead, as well as for additional gifts to take on thousands besides who are becoming more brutalised daily even if their lives are spared."

LUMBER JACKS GO ON STRIKE

TIE CAMPS CLOSED DOWN BY ONE BIG UNION.

(Specail to The Examiner.)

FORT WILLIAM, Jan. 29.— Presumably agitated by a number of Finnish lumber jacks in J. A. Stewart's tie camps at Ignace and Shabaqua, tie cutting operations have been practically at a standstill for the past few days.

The woods have been plastered with One Big Union literature with inscriptions such as 'join the One Big Union." "Why?" "To dictate to your official and not to be dictated to when you finally decide to act." "To quit supporting a bunch of salaried officials who do not aid, but balk you." "Present a solid front to the enemy, the same as your British brothers do."

TRIBUTE TO M. BROWN AT [illegible]'S DINNER

CORDIAL [illegible] AMONG THE COUNTY [illegible] WAS SHOWN [illegible]—WARDEN NICHOLLS [illegible] HIGH PLACE IN THE [illegible] OF HIS COLLEAG[illegible]

AN INTERESTING AFFAIR

The County [illegible] whiled away a pleasant [illegible] at the Paris cafe last nig[illegible] given tendered them by Wa[illegible] Nicholls. The after-dinner [illegible] reflected the fine spirit of [illegible] good-fellowship t[illegible] to pass on from year to [illegible] ever a rift. Reminiscences [illegible] days and other stalwarts [illegible] were interspersed [illegible] felicitations to Warden Ni[illegible] his achievement of the t[illegible], and were singed with r[illegible] the retirement of some of the [illegible], particularly ex-Reeve Max [illegible] of Asphodel and ex-Deputy [illegible] J. H. Bell of North Monag[illegible]

The dean of [illegible] County Council, Reeve Shaw of [illegible]ry, paid a striking compliment [illegible] the Warden. "There is no m[illegible] popular man in Smith or in th[illegible] townships to the north than Geo[illegible] Nicholls," said Mr. Shaw. "H[illegible] the twenty-sixth Warden I have [illegible] with, and with all due respect [illegible] the past wardens I don't think [illegible]icholls takes second place to any [illegible]."

Reeve John C[illegible] of Galway expressed the sen[illegible] of a representative of one of [illegible] townships. "I never knew [illegible] was to meet real big men [illegible] to the County Council [illegible] are all men who measure [illegible] scale. There is nothing small [illegible] them, and one of the best is o[illegible]en. If he had acquired my v[illegible] elect him I would have [illegible] walk in the Max Brown. I [illegible]ghted to vote for him the year he was Warden. Looking back I think that was one of the best acts I ever did, and I want to say that thet is no flattery in my remarks. I am saying the truth just as I feel it. And Mr. Anderson Eason, and the other reeves of the big front townships never refused me anything I asked. I could always get any reasonable request I made. My influence from the small township of Galway from away back wasn't much but I have always been treated well and I wish to thank the members of the Council for the aid they have given me as a Councillor.

Reeve John Scott of Asphodel praised the work of Mr. Brown, saying that he had been one of the best men Asphodel ever had in the Council.

Mr. Shaw—"We've got a good man in Mr. Brown's place but he will have to go some to be better. Mr. Brown did more than any representative of Asphodel during my twenty-eight years in the Council".

Those present were Warden Nicholls, Messrs. Squire, Coughlin, Bell, Eason, Clark, Shaw, Holland, Middleton Scott Darling Matheson, Wilson, Bullied, Brown County Clerk Elliott, W. H. White, engineer at the Court House and Wm. Brown of Smith.

Warden is Modest.

Warden Nicholls declared that he was unworthy of the many nice things that had been said about him. "No words can give expression to my feelings of gratitude to the County Council for the honour they have bestowed upon me. I regret that Mr. Brown and Mr. Bell are leaving us. I may say that I shall not keep Mr. Middleton very long out of the Reeveship.

Mr. Brown's Appreciation.

"I am at a loss to find words to thank the members", said Max Brown. "During my eight years I was always used well. I regret to leave you but my successor will fill my boots better than I did. I have known him since boyhood. You will find that he's a man all through. I hope that you will give him the same consideration you showed me. I heartily congratulate the Warden upon his election".

When all the speeches were concluded Reeve Squire of Norwood requested County Clerk Elliott to address the gathering, stating that he was a friend and helper to every Warden and member. "I know I wouln't want to be Warden without his assistance", remarked Mr. Squire. "All I have done was to try to do my best", Mr. Elliott replied. "I know I have fallen far short of that but at least I have been honest. What Mr. Squire said was altogether too flattering. I have been interested in everything the Council has done from year to year and there have been times when I felt like saying something upon occasional questions. Experience proved that what the Council did always turned out best, and that there is wisdom in concourse of minds. The county and city and neighbouring counties are closer together in spirit today than ever. That is largely to the credit of the gentlemen who have been warden and chairmen of the committees. I am anxious for the success of the Council and of the County. I am interested in every member but I glory in the gentleman you have elected Warden this year."

Cheers for Warden Nicholls and the National Anthem concluded what may become a precedent for his successors.

PROPOSE HIGHWAY TO BANCROFT DISTRICT

COUNTY COUNCIL WILL SEND DEPUTATION TO MINISTER OF HIGHWAYS ON THIS MISSION AND FOR VARIOUS INFORMATION THAT IS NEEDED.

MR. WILSON'S SUGGESTION

The benefits and possibilities of a main road from Port Hope, through Peterborough to Coe Hill and Bancroft were outlined to the County Council this morning by Deputy-Reeve Wilson of North Monaghan, who moved, seconded by Reeve Duncan Brown, of Anstruther and Chandos, that a deputation wait upon the Minister of Highways, the Hon. Mr. Biggs, with a petition that this route be designated and built up as a Provincial Highway.

A general discussion on some of the local road problems was precipitated by the address of Mr. E. N. McDonald, M.L.A., who advised the Council that the wisest course in their search for information was to go direct to the Minister of Highways. Mr. McDonald stated that the Government had not yet held a session, and although he had been studying the Highways Act, he was not in a position to give complete and exact answers to some of the questions that had arisen.

The Council recognized the wisdom of Mr. McDonald's suggestion. Reeve Griffith of Belmont had a little problem of his own. He wished to make sure whether his township could obtain the grant for colonization roads under the by-law method despite the fact Belmont had adopted the County Road system. Mr. Jas. Thompson had expressmed the opinion that this form of colonization road was still available to Belmont, but Reeve Griffith was doubtful, and for that reason desired to obtain explicit and official assurance. His query will be one of the points which the Hon. Mr. Biggs will be asked to elucidate.

Mr. Wilson, referring to the proposed route to traverse Peterborough county from the south-west corner to the north-east, leading out upon the boundary of Hastings county, stated that the district around Bancroft and Coe Hill was more accessible from Peterborough than through Hastings, which was very hilly. This part of the north country should be encouraged to market here for the reasons of the better route possibilities and better local opportunities.

Mr. Wilson suggested that the Motor League and Board of Trade be asked to co-operate with the County's deputation, and Mr. McDonald promised to ask the Minister for an appointment as soon as possible.

THE CONFERENCE WAS ADJOURNED

(Canadian Press.)

LONDON, Jan. 29. — Compliance with Premier Lloyd George's request that they postpone further action with reference to their recent demands was decided upon by miners' delegates at the conference here this morning.

Postponement agreed to by miners was for one week to allow chartered accountants sufficient time to report regarding figures on coal profits.

PROGRESS OF THE NEW ORGANIZATION

BETTER SHOPPING HOURS WILL BE TAKEN UP BY ASSOCIATION.

In an interview with President Frank Whitehouse, he stated that the Mercantile Association, was developing rapidly in its organization, and the Executive have given considerable attention to the development of a joint delivery service.

Definite plans will be laid before the merchants in the near future, of this proposed service, which will give better results to the customers and at the same time reduce the multiplication of deliveries on the same [illegible]. The object of this service is to reduce the running expenses of the businesses, which is covered by the selling prices of all commodities and be a profit both to consumer and merchant alike.

Better shopping hours will also be taken up by the various seceions, which accomomiate both the customers and the shop help.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKETS

(United Press.)

NEW YORK, N. Y., Jan. 29. — Prices eased off somewhat at the opening of the Stock Exchange to-day. U. S. Steel, however, continued strong and opened at 106 3-8, up 1-8. American Loco was 98 1-2, off 1-2; Southern Pacific, 99 1-4, off 1-8; Amn. Can. 55, unchanged; Bethlehem B., 98 3-4, unchanged; Studebaker, 103 1 2, off 11 1-8; Marine Pref. 97 1-4, off 1-8; Republic Steel, 115, unchanged; Mexican Pet., 197, off 2; Baldwin, 117, off 3-8; Amn. Woollen, 157 1-2, unchanged.

The market worked toward lower levels during early trading. Baldwin, Republic, Bethlehem and some oils sold off a point or more. General Motors held comparatively well around 300.

Motor stock became active about noon and General Motors advanced about six points, Chandler 3 and Stutz 3.

STERLING EXCHANGE.

(United Press.)

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—After having been on the decline for several days, Demand Sterling on the Foreign Exchange opened higher to-day at $3.52, up 2 1-2 cents from yesterday's close. The British pound reached its lowest point in history yesterday, when it fell to $3.49. The par value is $4.86 5-8.

In the first half hour Sterling made a further gain to $3.53. Francs were 13.02, up 36 centimes; net lire 15.32, up 18, and Belgian Francs 13.50, up 44. Marks were D.0147 and Vienna Kronen .0035.

(Canadian Press.)

NEW YORK, Jan. 29. — Demand bills on pound sterling improved somewhat this morning, rising to $3.53, after opening at $3.52. French and Italian exchange also rallied perceptibly.

ONE BIG UNION IN FAVOUR OF COLLEGE

(Special to The Examiner.)

WINNIPEG, Jan. 29.—The establishing of a Labour College was advocated by the One Big Union Convention yesterday. The suggestion came from the Lumber Workers' Unions.

The establishing of a Labour Correspondence School while waiting for the establishing of the College, was advocated.

Representation on the Executive Council of Organisation was doubled. There will be ten representatives instead of five as in the past.

The salaries of the secretary were raised to $50.00 a week, while the salaries of the organisers remain at $40.00 as previously.

This gave cause to much argument, the statement being made that anyone receiving that much money was no longer in the working class, but was a "bourgeois."

The next meeting place of the One Big Union Convention will be Port Arthur.

Kolchak's Surrender

THE SITUATION HAS CAUSED A PROFOUND SENSATION IN THE FAR EAST.

"JANIN'S BLOOD"

(Canadian Press.)

LONDON, Jan. 29.—Admiral Kolchak's surrender to the Siberian Revolutionists was authorizd by General Janin of the Czech army, who was placed in command of the allied troops west of Irkutsk on January 19th, by Kolchak's order, says a Harbin despatch to the Daily News.

A profound sensation was caused throughout the far East by the report that Kolchak had given up, says the message which was filed at Harbin on Monday, and one Russian general has challenged General Janin to a duel, while the officers under the command of Semenoff have formed a league, the slogan of which is "Have Janin's blood."

General Janin's explanation is awaited but it is known that the Czech reports on the situation which have been telegraphed to Janin, induced him to consent to Kolchak's surrender. The Czechs claim that the choice lay between one man and a conflict in which they were likely to be annihilated. The Japanese representatives asked the Czechs to hand Kolchak over to the Japanese, but this request was refuesd.

LOCAL MARKETS

All prices on the local market are up a trifle higher with the exception of cheese which has gone down 5c a lb. Prices for cow hides indicate a rise in leather prices. They have been raised during the week from 23c to 28c.

Potatoes Plentiful.

Potatoes, a farmer stated this morning are plentiful enough but the severe weather prevents any of the farmers from attempting to bring in any, and they will remain at the high level they are now quoted at until the warmer weather comes. It is not expected however that they will sell at much lower than $2.50 in the spring.

Hogs Up.

Hogs are now selling at $18 at the packing house and $28 dressed weight.

A FAMOUS RUNNER ON THEFT CHARGE

WAS TO HAVE TAKEN PART IN DOG DOG RACE.

(Special to The Examiner.)

THE PAS, Man., Jan. 29.—Albert Campbell, a famous Indian runner, who won the Winnipeg to St. Paul dog race in 1917, and Paul Coterier, a trapper, were committed for trial on a charge of stealing $14,500 worth of fur from the Hudson's Bay stores here.

The theft occurred on the night of 16th January, when thieves broke into the stores and removed 3,000 muskrat skins and three sacks containing mink and ermine.

Evidence against the two men is largely circumstantial, the furs being found buried near where Campbell kept his dogs.

Campbell was to have taken part in the dog race from The Pas to Sturgeon Landing, 100 miles, in March.

INAUGURAL MEETING OF THE NORWOOD VILLAGE COUNCIL

UMBER OF BY-LAWS PASSED—A SKATING CARNIVAL—SUMMER HOME FOR NORWOOD MINISTERS.

NORWOOD, Jan. 28.—The Village ouncil held their first meeting for 20 on Monday evening. Those pre- nt were Reeve Squire and Messrs. McLaughlin, T. E. Finlay, W. A. ichardson, who signed their declara- on of office as Councillors. The eeting adjourned until Wednesday ening.

The adjourned meeting was held on ednesday. Reeve Squire and Coun- montgomery signed their declaration office. All the members were pre- nt. Moved by Coun. Montgomery, conded by Coun. McLaughlin, that e officers appointed by Reeve to t at the taking of the Hydro En- ling By-law be paid $2.00 each for eir services.

By-laws Passed.

The following by-laws were passed: By-law No. 449, appointing Thos. fatson a member of Board of Health d E. J. Laing clerk of the Board at salary of $10.00 each.

By-law No. 450 re-appointing J. A. inlay as school trustee to the Nor- ood Board of Education.

By-law No. 451 appointing A. esult and W. H. Harper auditors at salary of $10.0 each.

By-law No. 452 appointing George ack, J. A. Patterson, W. R. Howson fence viewers and Anthony McNeil poundkeeper.

By-law No. 453 authorising the eeve and treasurer to borrow money r current expenses of the Corpora- on and for Board of Education for 20.

Moved by Coun. Montgomery, sec- ded by Coun. McLaughlin, that the count of Grant & Thorpe for ser- e box in the Town Hall of $49.65 paid.—Carried.

Moved by Coun. Richardson, sec- ded by Coun. Montgomery, that the eeve be instructed to have money -law for the Hydro prepared for blication at an early date. — Car- d.

Skating Carnival.

The first carnival of the season was ld on Monday night. The prize- nners were:

Girl, fancy costume, Mabel Burkall.
Gent, best dressed, Fred Cooke.
Boy, fancy, Jack Kempt.
Boy, comic, James Mullen.
Race (ten laps), Ben Cardwell.
Partners' race, Lillian Moore.
Partners' race, Lillian Moore and bel Puffer.
Boys' race, Gordon McLean.

On acount of the severely cold wea- r, very few were in costume, and attendance was much smaller than al.

The regular meeting of the I. O. E. was held on Wednesday after- on at the home of Mrs. E. P. Cuffe, when officers were elected for the ensuing year.

Literary Society.

The Norwood High School held its New Year meeting on Friday, 23rd January. Mr. Herman MacMillan, the former president, having resigned his office, and the first vice-president, Mr. Milton Clysdale, it was moved by Miss Ona Doxsee, and seconded by James Raddon, that Mr. Guy Ballard be president.

The meeting was opened by the singing of the National Anthem, accompanied by the orchestra.

The first section of N. H. S. Echoes was read by Miss Ona Doxsee.

Miss Jean Roxburgh favoured the school with an instrumental selection.

The section No. 2 was read by Mr. Elton Burgess.

The orchestra then rendered a selection entitled "I'm Climbing Mountains."

After the third section was read, Miss Sadie Greenbanks gave a piano selection.

Mr. Lawlor, being critic for the meeting, gave a few favourable remarks.

The meeting was then closed by the singing of God Save the King.

Entertainment.

On Friday evening, 23rd January, the annual Sunday School entertainment was held in the basement of the Presbyterian Church.

The programme was very interesting, and was enjoyed by everyone. Mr. Wolland, the chairman, addressed the audience. There were a number of recitations and dialogues given by the junior classes.

A dialogue, entitled "Dorothy's Admirers," was given by Misses Cora Robb, Mapie Mitcheson, Edyth Tedford, and Ralph Cuthbertson, David Stark, and T. Flynn.

Mrs. Weir's class of eleven young ladies gave a dialogue entitled "Aunt Matilda's Birthday Party," which occupied thirty-five minutes. The characters were:

Rose Leslie—Margaret Mitcheson.
Margaret Bond—Irene Gillard.
Kathleen—Florence Lovett.
Mary—Edith Tedford.
Phyllis—Edna Borland.
Cleo—Blanche Wildman.
Mrs. Newly-Wed—Lillian Moore.
Mrs. Sparling — Bessie McNaughton.
Tiny (Mrs. Sparling's maid)—Jean Roxburgh.
Mrs. Matilda Garland — Bessie White.
Jane (Mrs. Garland's maid)—Cora Robb.

The pupils were admitted free, and the proceeds, although the weather was very cold and stormy, amounted to $21.55.

Summer Home.

Several months ago Lieut.-Col. Stewart of Toronto, and formerly of Norwood, donated his summer cottage at Stoney Lake to the Protestant churches of Norwood as a summer resort for the ministers and their families. In order to defray the expenses of renovating it, an illustarted lecture on Scotland, the home of Bobbie Burns, the Poet of Love, Romance, etc." will be given in the Methodist church on Friday evening, Jan. 30th, by Dr. J. L. Hughes, of Toronto. Dr. Hughes was chief inspector of Public schools in Toronto for several years, and through the instrumentality of Lieut.-Col. Stewart, is giving the lecture without any remune ration. Dr. Hughes has given this address in several cities in the United States and the Old Land, and a most profitable time is anticipated.

In the Churches.

On Thursday evening, Jan. 22nd, a social evening was given in the Methodist church for the young folks of the congregation. About fifty were present. A programme of solos, etc. was given, refrahments served, and during the evening the Epworth League was re-organized.

The officers elected are:
President—Mrs. R. J. Lawlor.
1st Vice-Pres.—Miss Rose Squire.
2nd Vice-Pres.—Mrs. B. W. Squire.
3rd Vice-Pres.—Miss Lila Englisch.
4th Vice-Pres.—Mr. W. J. Stares.
Secretary—Mr. Frank Elliott.
Treasurer—Miss Nellie Liscumb.
Pianist—Miss Sadie Greenbanks.

Annual Meeting.

The annual congregational meeting of the Presbyterian Church was held on Monday evening.

Quite a pleasant and profitable meeting of the Ladies Aid of the Methodist Church was held on Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. L. Carbrey. A fair number was in atendance and a ten-cent tea served.

On Sunday morning Major (Dr.) Walsh, of Stirling, gave a short address in the Methodist Church on the Forward Movement. He gave an account of the progress of the Movement in Sterling and stated how three men had donated $500, $300 and $200 without being solicted, and expected over three-quarters of the objective would be secured without solicitation before the time set for canvassing.

Dr. Walsh spoke at the request of Rev. Terrill, who was the Methodist pastor in Sterling before coming to Norwood.

In the evening short addresses were given by Dr. Walsh and Mr. Denike of Havelock, who had been on the South Dummer circuit in the afternoon in the interests of the Financial department of the Movement.

Epworth League

The Epworth League held their first meeting since re-organization, on Monday evening. The Sunday School room was well-filled on this occasion and an attractive and instructive programme given. The chief feature of the evening was a debate "Resolved' that the young man owning and working a farm is better off than a young man earning a salary of $2000 a year.

Mr. Gerald Andrews and Mr. Ralph Knox were on the affirmative and Miss Lila Englsch and Miss Sadie Greenbanks on the negative.

As the subject was debated from so many different standpoints, the judges, Messrs. A. Brethen, E. C. Squire and M. Munroe, found difficulty in reaching a decision as to the winners, but finally concluded that from the financial standpoint the affirmative side had produced the most points and real facts, but from the physical an moral standpointe the scores were about even. The arguments as to the social side of the question were decidedly in favour of the negative.

Mrs. Lawlor, president of the League state that the negative side had a hard problem to solve, and that the $2,000 should have, in these days been put up against, a twenty-five acre farm instead of a hundred.

Then, to the debators had such a short time for preparation as the subject had been chosen just the Thursday night previous that they were all to be complimented on their great success as all did wonderfully well.

Mrs. Warden Elliott of Toronto, a former member of the Methodist choir delighted the congregation on Sunday evening with her rendition of the solo 'The Ninety and Nine'.

Mr. and Mrs. J. McLaughlin were in Peterborough last Wednesday.

Mr. Adam Patterson is very ill from pneumonia.

TURNIP EXPORT OFF—ALL VEGETABLES HIGH.

Ontario operators have been exporting turnips to widely separated American points. In addition to shipments going just across the line, others have been made to points in Tennessee and Virginia. Up until last week this movement had been absorbing Ontario turnips at 40c to 44c per bushel at the farms, but it finally succumbed to adverse conditions.

This business has been going on, in spite of the fact that freight alone amounted to 5855 cents per bushel, and the turnips were selling at about $1.00 per bushel.

Most of our turnips are fit for the export busines, though the long Swede varieties are not adaptable. The round types, which do not stick up out of the ground in growing, are the favourites for table consumption.

At Toronto this week turnips are quoted in a commercial way without any change from recent weeks, at 1 cent a pound, or 75c per bushel.

TENDER GUMS — A WARNING

Beware of gum tenderness that warns of Pyorrhea. Four out of five people over forty have Pyorrhea—many under forty also. Loosening teeth indicate Pyorrhea. Bleeding gums, too. Remember—these inflamed, bleeding gums act as so many doorways for disease germs to enter the system—infecting the joints or tonsils—or causing other ailments.

Forhan's positively prevents Pyorrhea, if used in time and used consistently. As it hardens the gums the teeth become firmer.

Brush your teeth with Forhan's. It cleans the teeth scientifically—keeps them white and clean.

If gum-shrinkage has already set in, start using Forhan's and consult a dentist immediately for special treatment.

35c and 60c tubes in Canada and U. S. If your druggist cannot supply you, send to us direct and we will mail tube postpaid.

G.T.R. TRAIN WAS DERAILED

Passenger train number 99 of the Grand Trunk line between Belleville and Lindsay, became derailed last night between Hoard's station and Campbellford from some as yet unknown cause. Three cars, the baggage car and two passenger cars were upturned, but no injuries were received by any passengers. The baggage car and one passenger car were rerailed by crew and proceeded to Peterborough, arriving at 10.55, or about three hours late. An auxiliary from Lindsay rerailed the other coach and the track was cleared during the night.

THE SPEED LIMIT.

Mr. R. B. Morley of the Ontario Safety League who addresses the Board of Trade tonight has issued a statement that will be of interest to motorists and to the general public. Mr. Morley who may perhaps refer to this question to-night believes that a mistake was made in increasing the authorized speed limit for automobiles last year and that the increase in traffic accidents can be traced to the greater latitude given motorists. With Mr. Morley's contention that the old speed limit was fast enough, there will be many who will agree. As he points out the police have a habit of giving drivers the benefit of a few miles an hour above the limit and when twenty miles an hour is legally permited, cars are quite likely to be driven at twenty-five with a resulting increase in danger to motorists and pedestrians. Motor traffic on Ontario roads has grown so rapidly that reckless driving is becoming more and more of a menace and the Ontario Safety League are quite justified in seeking to have the conditions remedied.

HELPING THE ARMENIANS.

The complaint was made to the Examiner yesterday that although people were starving in Peterboro hundreds of dollars were being subscribed in the city for the benefit of the Armenians. If true this would be a serious charge. There is no reason why anybody in Peterboro should be in danger of starvation for there are public and private funds available that should prevent the conditions the Examiner's complainant referred to yesterday. If there are any so unfortunately situated as he says it is because the knowledge of their condition has not reached the proper quarters.

About the Armenians there is no doubt. Thousands of women and children have actually died from starvation and twice as many more will be saved from that fate only by the subscriptions that are being made to the funds collected in Great Britain and on this continent. These are facts that are definitely known and every dollar that can be spared should be devoted to the relief work.

As to local conditions the Examiner can promise that if definite cases are brought to its attention it will see that relief is offered.

THE HOUSING SCHEME.

If there is to be no money forthcoming from the Provincial Government for the housing scheme, it would appear to be a waste of time and money for the commission appointed at the end of last year to investigate conditions in other cities which have already taken advantage of the Housing Act. This is the view of the commissioners themselves and their request to the City Council that before they visit other centres an application be made to the Government for a loan of $100,000 for proposed building operations appears a reasonable one. However, the city fathers decided last night to wait for the commission's report before taking any action. The present prospects are that the Drury Government will decline to grant any more loans for housing purposes so that the investigating tour of the commission no matter what report it produces will be a needless expense. The commissioners themselves are in no way capable for they have taken a very logical position in the matter. The business-like course would be to ascertain definitely if any loans are likely to be granted.

A HEAVY BUDGET.

Peterborough's budget for this year is likely to be one of the heaviest on record, judging by the amounts that are already in sight. The construction of a sewage disposal plant—an undertaking that has been deferred as long as possible—has to be proceeded with this spring. The estimated cost of the activated sludge system ordered by the Provincial Board of Health is $200,000. The Hunter street bridge will have to be completed this year. The estimates for the Fire Department reach a total of $46,777.60, an increase of nearly $7,000 over last year's expenditures. Other departments will undoubtedly show an increase in spite of every effort to hold the expenditure down. This year's Council have a heavy year's work ahead of them and business-like methods and as rigid economy as can be exercised without starving the public service, would seem to be necessary.

LEARNING THE GAME.

In the strange political situation that has arisen in the Province of Ontario there seems to be a pretty general feeling that the best way to avoid further confusion is to give the new Farmer-Labor Government a fair chance to show what it can do to carry on the business of the Province. The Government's position is weakened by the inexperience of its members and by the fact that it has only a minority of the electorate behind it. However, the Farmer-Labor group has a larger membership in the House than either the Liberals or the Conservatives, and that fact gives it a title to the Cabinet seats. Nobody questions the sincerity of the Government's desire to do what they believe to be right. While on all sides there will be a disposition to give the new men every fair opportunity to do things, they must not be surprised if considerable amusement is afforded by their course.

Some of the alleged evil practices of the old parties are found to be very convenient in the new order of things. One of the habits of the old party governments sometimes complained of was the arranging of election contests in such a manner as to give the Government of the day an advantage. If several vacancies in the representative House existed the elections were not brought on simultaneously, as would be the case if there were no party interests to be served, but were called in the order in which they could best strengthen the ruling party. The fairly safe seats were first named and the success won in them was counted on to strengthen the Government in the doubtful constituencies where the elections were held later. It was, perhaps, not a very grave fault in party government, but undoubtedly it at times gave good ground for criticism.

Our farmer friends at Toronto have not been slow to avail themselves of this political fine art. The Premier and two of his Cabinet colleagues are without seats in the Legislature. It is necessary for them to obtain seats. We are told that arrangements have been made by which elected members will make way for them. But only a part of the programme is disclosed. The three elections are not to be brought on together. What is contemplated is thus naively explained by Hon. Mr. Grant, the Minister of Education:

"The reason we are not running the three elections at the one time is that it is said Mr. Raney will be opposed and we want to have the others over so as to be able to concentrate and get him elected. If the election of Mr. Drury and Mr. Doherty will strengthen Mr. Raney, we want him to have this advantage, as there is so much objection to him reported."

It does not seem to have occurred to Mr. Grant that this is precisely the kind of political manoeuvering that the old parties were accused of practicing. If the three elections were called for the same day the people of each district would be able to vote independently on the general issues involved. What the Government are doing is to bring on the elections in Halton and Kent, where they feel assured of success, and then to use the prestige of their victories to influence the voters in the case of the third seat. For this purpose, and in order that the Government may concentrate their forces on the less certain seat—that is to say, for strictly party purposes—the principle of simultaneous polling is ignored, and the third election postponed to a convenient time. The sin is not one of the worst of those of which the old political parties were accused. But it is one that the new Government might have been expected to avoid.—Journal of Commerce.

Stomach and Liver Trouble

Once the liver fails to filter the poisonous bile from the blood, there is a clogging up and poisoning of the whole system which causes many troubles to arise. Therefore, upon the liver, more than any other organ of the body, depends the general health.

Carelessness and neglect, and oftentimes wilful disregard of nature's laws will put the system out of sorts. The bowels become constipated, the liver inactive and the stomach upset. To bring the system back to its normal you should take Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills. They liven up the liver, get the bowels back to their proper condition and tone up the stomach.

Mrs. G. L. Cackett, Enchant, Alta., writes:—"I have used Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills and have found them good for both stomach and liver troubles. I have told others about your valuable medicine and they have used them with good results.

"They are also good for headache."

MR. FLYNN AS DICTATOR.

(Hamilton Herald.)

If, as is frequently asserted, the country is tired of Union Government and of the party system; if as we sometimes hear from extreme radicals, parliamentary government has broken down and the time is ripe for fresh experiments—ho wabout a military dictatorship for Canada? If the hour has struck for such a change, the man is ready. J. H. Flynn, of Toronto, the leader of the veterans who are demanding two thousand dollars apiece in addition to what they have already received, in the way of gratuities, is evidently willing to assume the role.

Speaking at a meeting of former soldiers here yesterday, Mr. Flynn unfolded his plan of forcing the government to obey the mandate of the soldiers and fork over that $2,000. He has no hope that the government will do so voluntarily. It must be coerced. "If we stick together," he said, "we can make that rotten profiteering bunch of crooks in that den of thieves at Ottawa give us what we want." His plan is to march upon Ottawa at the head of an army of 50,000 veterans and put the matter up squarely to the "bunch of crooks."

We do not know if Mr. Flynn is sane or a lunatic. If he is sane, he must know that the government cannot guarantee the payment of any further gratuities without the consent of parliament, and that it would be necessary for Flynn and his army to coerce parliament before they could get what they demand. Parliament has already turned down the demand for an additional $2,000 gratuity, and it is quite certain that it would refuse to be intimidated into reversing its action. There would then be nothing left for Mr. Flynn to do but imitate the course of Cromwell; he would have to call upon a company of his veterans to clear the chamber and remove the mace, then he would dismiss the ministers and take upon his own shoulders the responsibilities of government, assuming the role of dictator backed by the bayonets of his 50,000 vets.

To those restless spirits who are chronically eager for change, the prospect of such an experiment might seem alluring. Undoubtedly it would afford much material for excitement and discussion. However, we doubt if it will commend itself to the majority of citizens who think more about their daily work than new experiments in government.

Off course if Mr. Flynn is mentally unbalanced, his proposal for the military coercion of the government need not be taken seriously. It seems to us to be a question of alienists.

Voice Of The People

Editor, Examiner.

How many of your readers who own property in Chemong Park, or who have been accustomed to spending a portion of the summer in that beautiful spot, are aware that an effort is being made by certain individuals to curtail the privileges, hitherto enjoyed, by the pleasure seekers in the park?

On Monday next, Feb. 2nd, an application will be made before a Judge for permission to close off about one hundred yards of the shore line just west of the Government wharf in the park. Unless objections are raised there is hardly a doubt but what the request will be acceded to. Shall we stand for this "grab?"

Yours truly,

Editor of the Examiner,

Dear Sir,—With regard to the article printed in this evening's Examiner giving an account of the presentation of "The Temple of Fame", at the Conservatory of Music, I think the ladies in charge of this organization would show a great deal better taste and propriety if they would omit the Irish caricature from such presentations. Ladies like gentlemen are supposed to be people of good breeding and do not knowingly give offence to others. I am loath to believe that this constant offence is done intentionally it certainly is done very persistingly.

God knows the Irish have, and are, suffering enough despite President Wilson's historical "Fourteen points" and "The rights of small Nations", now gone with the other "Scraps of Paper".

We who have real Irish blood in our veins are proud of the fact and resent this low base burlesque.

Respectfully yours,
J. W. FitsGerald.

The announcement of the advance in the price of coal oil came so quietly after the news of John D. If the Oil King had announced a substantial cut in the price of coal oil and gasoline the praise might be louder and more universal.

A New Method of Treating an Old Complaint

SANDRA THE JEALOUS

BY JANE PHELPS

MATCHMAKING

CHAPTER XXXIII.

The play was delightful, and as we drove home I snuggled close to Everett and told him how much I had enjoyed my birthday and how happy I had been.

"In just a year I will be 19," I said as we neared home. "I wonder if I will have as nice a birthday then?"

Everett threw his head back and laughed so heartily I laughed with him.

"I never saw anyone so anxious to be as old as you are," he said, still smiling. Then soberly, "I don't like the way you keep thinking of that subject. Be thankful that you are young."

I was glad we were at home. I sort of knew that he had my foolish speech I had made at Mrs. Garry's dinner party in his mind. He had spoken of it several times, always queeringly. He seemed to think that I only wanted to be old to be interesting and attractive to him. It wasn't so a bit, but he got cross every time he said anything about it. 'I must learn not to say such things,' I thought, 'even if I feel them.'

We had another piece of my birthday cake before we went to bed. And he was still so kind that I felt really more like his wife than I ever had done, and less like a naughty little girl.

I wrote Mother another letter in the morning telling her of my birthday cake, and of how prettily Mrs. Gray had trimmed the table for me. Mother was terribly interested in my home, and in Mrs. Gray. She had said she thought me wonderfully fortunate to have a woman of experience as a housekeeper; I wanted Mother to feel comfortable about me. You see, she had objected to my marrying so old a man, so I wrote her everything nice that happened, and kept the other things to myself.

The next day a thought came to me that made me so excited I could scarcely wait until I told some one. It was to have Rose Grandon and Barrett Edmonds marry. Then I could have Rose near me, and Barrett, too. It would be an ideal arrangement. It would soon be spring. Everett said I might have Rose during the summer for a visit. I would introduce her to Everett right away, and perhaps they would get married in the fall. Rose would be most nine teen then. And she would be through school. She finished in June.

I ran upstairs and found the very prettiest picture I had of Rose, ordered the car, and took it down to be framed. I would have nothing but one of the handsome new standing frames. I would put the picture on the piano, then when Barrett Edmonds came to try some more music he would see it and most likely ask who it was.

I would tell him how lovely Rose was and praise her to the skies. She was my best friend, even if we did quarrel a little because I was going to marry a man older than I was. And when Rose saw my lovely home, and all the beautiful things Everett had given me, she would not feel so badly about it.

I paid a ridiculous price for the frame. But nothing seemed too good to get off Rose's picture, so as to further my scheme. I wrote her a long letter telling her to plan to come the minute her school closed, and hinting that I had a wonderful surprise in store for her.

Then I posted the letter at once. When it was safely in the box at the corner I felt I had taken the first step in keeping my promise to Rose to furnish her with a husband in the same town where I lived.

At first I thought I would tell Everett. Then I decided to keep it to myself. It should be my secret—I would tell no one, not even Mother. But before that day ended I had, in my thoughts, already married Rose and Barrett, had them buy the house next to us, and had arranged everything for their future.

Father's often quoted: "Man proposes, but God disposes," never once occurred to me. I could see no weak point in my plan. Of course, Barrett and Rose would fall in love with each other as soon as they met. Barrett was handsome and fascinating, and Rose was so sweet and lovely. It was too bad she did not sing. She used to say she 'croaked like a frog when she attempted to sing,' but she could play nicely, so would play his accompaniments for him.

I was in a fever of impatience until my picture was sent home. Suppose Barrett should call again before it came! It would be so much time wasted. He could not fall in love with a girl if he never had seen even a picture of her.

Of course, I showed it to Everett when it came. He would have to see it on the piano anyway. He admired it immensely, also my taste in the selection of a frame. He was so very nice about it, not scolding me a bit when I told him what I had paid, that I was tempted to tell him how Rose would marry Barrett and come to Hendon to live. But I restrained myself. I would have a big surprise for him some day.

I placed the picture in the most attractive way, then waited for Barrett to appear and fall in love with the original. But it was over two weeks before he came again, then he brought Dagmar Stewart with him.

She was the one who called his attention to Rose's picture, and she was the one who said she was a "lovely girl." Barrett never said a word. Perhaps he thought he wouldn't because he had brought Dagmar. I thought after they had gone. But I was disappointed. Now I should have to wait until he came again. Yet he might have taken more notice than he appeared to; he might have been too careful of Dagmar's feelings to praise another girl before her.

Mothers!
NEVER NEGLECT WHOOPING COUGH

Many mothers make the mistake of thinking that whooping cough is not of serious importance, but unfortunately this mistake often leads to the neglect of this dangerous child's disease.

Never neglect whooping cough, for it may be followed by some serious lung trouble.

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup is highly recommended by mothers everywhere for the relief of this trouble. It will clear the clogged-up air passage of the mucous and phlegm that has collected in in this way bring on the "whoop" which bring the so-much-sought-for relief.

Mrs. Francis Burlingham, New Gate, B.C., writes: "This spring three of my children took the whooping cough, and they had it so bad I thought they would choke. I was getting pretty worried when my sister wrote me, telling me to try Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. I sent for some right away, and, believe me, I will never forget how it worked. I will always have it in my house."

There are many imitations of Dr. Wood's on the market. Get the genuine when you ask for it. It will pay in the end. Put up in a yellow wrapper; 3 pine trees the trade mark; price 25c and 50c. Manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

2nd. That the Principal of the Collegiate Institute and the Inspector of Public Schools be paid the minimum under the above schedule dating from the 1st of January and $100.00 annually until the maximum is reached, the first increase to date from the 1st September 1920.

Collegiate Staff.

3rd. That the Staff of the Collegiate Institute (excepting the Principal receive an increase over their September 1919 salary of 25% dating from the 1st of January 1920, and a further increase, according to schedule, on the 1st of September 1920 and thereafter annually on the 1st of September until their maximum is reached.

4th That the Principals and Vice-Principals of the Public Schools Staff, who were in the service of the Board prior to the 1st of January 1920, receive an increase; over their September 1919 salary of 25% dating from the 1st of January 1920 and a further increase according to schedule on the 1st of September 1920 and thereafter annually on the 1st of September, until their maximum is reached.

Lady Assistants.

5th That the Lady Assistant Teachers, (except those who became members of the Staff in January 1920) together with the School Nurse and Household Science Instructor, be given a salary increase of $150.00 to be paid in six monthly instalments, beginning 1st January 1920, such increase to be over and above the amounts which they would have received in January 1920, under the salary schedule referred to in clause one, and a further salary increase of $100.00, according to schedule on the 1st of September 1920 and thereafter annually on the 1st of September until their maximum is reached.

6th. That the Instructors in Manual Training, Art and Music, employed jointly by this Board and the Department of Education, receive a double increase from the 1st of January 1920 and a further increase of $50.00 according to schedule on the 1st of September 1920 and thereafter annually on the 1st of September until their maximum is reached.

7th. That Mr. F. W. Miller be appointed School Attendance Officer from the 1st of January 1920, at an annual salary of $500.00, payable in ten equal monthly instalments.

8th. That the basis rate, per class room, up to and inclusive of 8 rooms, paid to Janitors, be increased to $120.00, dating from the 1st of January 1920.

9th. That the salary of the Secretary-Treasurer be $1,000. per annum, dating from 1st January 1920, with an annual increase of $100.00 until a maximum of $1,200.00 is reached.

Mr. Cameron at the conclusion of the adoption of his Committee's report stated that in case the public should think the Board has been over zealous in the increases he would remind them that the increases are only 25% over the salaries of 1914.

Report of Supervision Committee

The Supervision Committee's report was adopted as follows:

1st. That 10 additional typewriters be purchase for the Commercial Department of the Collegiate Institute together with the necessary stands and also one filing cabinet."

and. "That an Office Assistant be appointed as soon as possible at the Collegiate Institute."

RECEIVE KING'S DISCHARGE.

Various returned Kingston soldiers who were disabled while on active service in the Great War are receiving copies of the King's discharge certificate, which is being issued to veterans. The certificates, which are surmounted with the Royal Crest, also bear a symbolical illustration by Bernard Partridge, the noted Punch artist, and bear the Royal signature.

The soldier's name, rank, regimental number and unit are denoted, together with a certificate that the soldier served with honour and was disabled in the Great War. The date of discharge is appended.

BLISS NATIVE HERB TABLETS

Many thousands of old and young keep their systems free from the dreadful consequences of constipation by taking Bliss Native Herb Tablets at regular intervals. Those who lead an active outdoor life take one occasionally while others whose work is confining and laborious and are more subject to that condition, retain their health by using them more frequently. Bliss Native Herb Tablets not only relieve constipation, but stir up the liver and kidneys, cleansing them of all fermentation, and restore them to a natural, healthy, active condition. They also purify the blood, and have a general tonic effect on the whole system. One tablet at night will make the next day bright.

Bliss Native Herb Tablets are put up 200 in a box, enough to last the average family six months. Every box carries our money back guarantee. Take no substitutes. Look for trade mark on every box. Price $1.00.

Sold by leading druggists and local agents everywhere. Made by Alonzo O. Bliss Co., Washington, D. C

Girls! Your hair needs a little "Danderine"—that's all! When it becomes lifeless, thin or loses its lustre; when ugly dandruff appears, or your hair falls out, a 35-cent bottle of delightful, dependable "Danderine" from any store, will save your hair, also double it's beauty. INSPECTOR LEES URGES TRUANT OFFICERS FOR RURAL SCHOOLS

OF VITAL IMPORTANCE THAT CHILDREN SHOULD BE PROTECTED AGAINST INDIFFERENCE OF SOME PARENTS—REVIEW OF SALARIES AND QUALIFICATIONS OF TEACHERS.

SALARY GRANT HIGHER

Public School Inspector R. Lees' report to the County Council was presented this morning as follows:

There were in operation during the year, in the inspectorate, 3 village schools with 16 teachers, 1 suburban school with 5 teachers, and 70 rural schools with 72 teachers, a total of 93 teachers, of whom 84 were women and 9 men during the last term. Of the men, 4 served in the Canadian Forces during the War.

Of the 70 rural schools, 9 were open for less than the full school year. These were Nos. 13 and 14 Belmont and Methuen, 2 Burleigh, one school in 2 Anstruther, 2, 5, 6, 7 and 8 Chandos. Owing to prevailing sickness last winter, several other schools were more or less severely interfered with.

Qualification and Salaries of Teachers

The teachers for the fall term may be classified according to qualification as follows:

Asphodel, 6 second a 1 third class certificates.

Belmont and Methuen, 5 second, 5 third class, 1 district, and 4 temporary certificates.

Douro, 10 second and 1 third class certificates.

The Villages, 16 second-class certificates — making a total of 2 first, 58 second, 13 third class, 9 district, and 11 temporary certificates.

Average Salaries.

Asphodel	$650.00
Belmont and Meth.	$629.00
Burleigh and Ans.	$333.00
Chandos	$548.00
Douro	$630.00
Dummer	$622.00
N. Monaghan	$606.00
Otonabee	$667.00
The Villages	$668.75

The average rate paid, according to qualifications was:

First-class	$712.50
Second-class	$659.40
Third-class	$621.15
District	$477.25
Temporary	$527.85

These figures would indicate that the reason for the lower grade of certificates is, in most cases, the lower rate of salary. This ought not to be, in the case of the poorer sections at least. For some time it has been so arranged that these sections could pay salaries high enough to command the services of fully qualified teachers without its costing the sections any more than is being paid to the partially qualified teachers, in some cases less indeed. This fact has been pointed out to trustees over and over again, but still without effect on some.

The School Attendance Act.

On the first of January of the present year, there came into operation "an Act respecting compulsory school attendance." This requires (1) That the Council of every township shall appoint at least one school attendance officer, notice of whose appointment shall be sent to every school and to the inspector; (2) That the teacher shall report at least every month to this officer all cases in which the requirements of the Act in regard to attendance have not been complied with; (3) That the inspector at his visit to each school shall see that the duties of the school attendance officer are being properly attended to and report any failure of such performance to the Department of Education.

No Appointments Reported.

Up to the present, no notices of any appointments have reached me, nor have I any knowledge that steps have been taken for carrying out the provisions of the Act. This matter is one of the most vital importance. Under our system provision has to be made at the public expense for the education of all the children. It is conceded that in the interests of the state, for the promotion of good citizenship, and the general well-being of the nation, every child should be educated. Provision for this is being made at great expense, and it is surely reasonable that no child should be deprived, through the carelessness, indifference, or selfishness of parents of the advantages thus provided for them and to which they are justly entitled. To prevent such injustice and to secure for every young person full advantage of the provision thus made is the object of the Act. It is an object sufficiently exalted to appeal to the highest sentiment and command the best effort of all who have anything to do with public affairs. It is to be hoped that municipal Councils, in whose hands the initiative is placed will give it that prompt and serious consideration its importance deserves.

The Special Grant.

The Legislature, at its last session, voted a quarter of a million dollars to be distributed among the rural schools for the purpose of increasing teachers' salaries. Intimation was made that sections that used this grant for the purpose of reducing local contributions instead of adding it to the remuneration of the teacher would not be permitted to share in it next year. This special grant was distributed in September. The mode of distribution was based on a combined consideration of the rate of salary paid and the assessment of the section. A percentage of the salary above a fixed initial amount was paid, the percentage increasing from 5 to 30 as the salary increased, and the initial amount on which no percentage was paid decreasing from $500 to $100 as the assessment decreased. The total amount received by the schools of Peterborough East was $4,390.59.

At the last session of the Legislature, there was also passed an Act making fuller provision for the consolidation of rural schools. This new Act makes very liberal provision in the way of grants for building and equipment, as well as for maintenance and for transportation of children. One immediate result has been a greatly increased interest in this important movement. There are, at the present time, several communities in the inspectorate that are making inquiry and giving earnest thought to the question. While no consolidations are in immediate prospect, I shall be disappointed if, in a near future, some of those who now have the matter under consideration do not get together and carry the plan to completion.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Editor of The Examiner:

Sir,—I noticed in your paper where an application is going to be made to His Honor Judge Huycke on Feb. 2nd to close certain streets in Chemong park. Now why allow this to be done. About thirty years ago when Mr. Alex. Elliott took over the park, the first thing he done was to have the park surveyed and laid out in streets and lots. Then the lots were put up for sale under certain conditions. One was that there was a street or esplanade, as it was called, on the plan, which started at what is now the government wharf and ran along the shore to the west end of the park. Then there were narrow streets run from the back streets to the esplanade for the use of those who bought back lots to get to the water's edge. It appears now that certain parties who own shore lots are not satisfied—they want to hog the whole thing. If one front lot holder can close up part of this street others have just the same right. Then where does the back lot holders come in? How are they to get to the water's edge? They would have to walk away around to the wharf. I hope all back lot holders and others who are interested in the park will appear before the judge and protest against such a request, and I would ask the township council not to listen to such an unfair thing for one minute. Be at the Judge's Chambers on Feb. 2nd at 11 a.m. and block this game.

Yours,
Back Lot, Chemong Park.

Editor of the Examiner.

Sir,—"A Veteran", in your issue of Wednesday rightly voices the remonstrance made by many ex-soldiers against cases of attempted imposition on the good offices of the Emergency Distribution. But in this case, while Veteran is right in the abstract, he is wrong in the concrete. Had he applied at this office before writing he would have had the facts known to the office after investigation I make comment on his statements.

No. The man did not wrongly state his pension. Gave it as being, for self, wife and children, $15.00 per month.

No. He did not state his wage as at $85.00 per month. Gave it as $72.00 per month. This was verified by a certificate from the employer before the application was passed.

Yes. He did not say he owned property. I fancy his reticience may have been because the man who has the mortgage on the house might claim to own it. See.

No. He did not "pull it over the eyes of Mr. Dobbin". Mr. Dobbin declines such familiarities. It is not good form, and it is not done. If any man, in his statement, tells untruths, those presently develop, on investigation, and his name is Dennis.

Yes. This man has been talking through his hat. Sooner or later such form of exhuberant conversation gets a man into trouble. It has in this case He will talk less for the future.

Yes. The cheque which the man so proudly exhibited was for $3.25. Hardly worth his while to make a fuss about. But by the rules his name is now Dennis.

It may be added, in explanation, that the statements of the applicant are accepted in good faith by the officer of the I & S. Branch, who issues a certificate. He takes the statements, and verifies, so far as his own information will permit. The certificate is brought to the Federal Distribution office, and the rules permit, if the application seem well founded, to make issue of a first allowance. Then the case is closely investigated. And depending on the facts elicited by the investigation to application is declined or continued. Each week the applicant has to go to the officer of the I. & S. Branch, and declare he (the applicant) is still unemployed. The officer may be able to offer employment. And if the place is one that the applicant can earn money while at work he has to accept. Should he refuse his case is withdrawn for allowance.

Reasonable diligence is used to see that the work offered is such as the applicant may in all probability do.

Respectfully,
F. H. DOBBIN.

Rivals Her Daughter in Youthful Beauty

A well known society matron whose youthful beauty is so well preserved that she is regarded as her daughter's rival, in this respect—although she does not pose as such—attributes her girlish beauty chiefly to two things. She says:

"I am convinced that many cosmetics, by overloading the skin and pores, tend to age the complexion. Mercolized wax has just the opposite effect. It keeps the pores clean, permitting them to breathe and removes the dead particles of cuticle which are constantly appearing and which give the complexion that aged look. Whenever the skin begins to get the least bit off color, muddy or faded, I go to my druggist's for an ounce of mercolized wax; I apply this nightly like cold cream, for a week or so, washing it off mornings. This is what keeps my complexion so fresh, white and velvety.

"The absence of wrinkles and flabbiness I owe to the use of a simple face bath prepared by dissolving one ounce of powdered saxolite in a half pint witch hazel. This keeps the skin 'tight' and firm."—Social Register.

PETETBORO FELL BEHIND IN LIST

In a recent summary of building operations in the leading cities of Canada during 1919, it is interesting to note the positon of Peterborough as compared with the other cities. This report shows that Peterborough is one of only two cities in the Dominion that showed a decrease in the building operations in 1919 from those of 1918.

The figures show that in 1919 the total cost of buildings constructed was $196,638, whereas in 1918 they were $241,251. The total decrease was 18.6 per cent., as the other city, Brandon, only showed a decrease of .004 per cent., it serves to show that Peterborough is as far behind in building as it is possible to get.

As it is said that a city's progressiveness may be judged by the amount of building that is going on, Peterborough can certainly not show much of this quality if the report is accurate.

Throughout the whole Dominion, a collective gain of 107.82 per cent. is shown over last year's figures, and it shows a resumption of activities rapidly approaching and in some cases equalling the pre-war figures.

Toronto has the largest total, amounting to $19,420,000, an increase over 1918 of more than $10,000,000.

In Montreal the figures were up 50 per cent., and figures throughout all of Canada were up correspondingly—some places showing an increase of as much as 600 per cent.

But, alas! for our own city. Here it is in black and white—and showing a decrease of 18.6 per cent.

COUNCIL TO MARK TIME ON HOUSING SCHEME UNTIL COMMISSION REPORTS

AND DECIDED LAST NIGHT TO LET RIVERSIDE OPTIONS LAPSE—PRICES QUOTED BY PROPERTY OWNERS ARE CONSIDERED TOO HIGH.

In a letter to the Council Mr. F. H. Dobbin of the Housing Commission suggested that the city apply to the government for a loan of at least $100,000 to provide for prospective building operations in this city under the Provincial Housing Act. The communication was discussed by the committee of the Whole last night.

Ald. Gordon argued that it was preferable to wait until the Commission presented a full report of the investigations they propose to make in other cities. "We have a building and a loan concern here and there may be something to consider from that end. We can wait for further information anyway."

Ald. Hamilton stated that the housing scheme seemed a good way to finance local building, and individual citizens were hesitating about putting up houses.

Ald. Morrison—Let the Commission give us a report, then we'll know how to proceed.

Ald. Jones held the same view.

City Clerk Armstrong explained that the Housing committee read that the Ontario government had no more money to assist building houses throughout the province. They wrote to the director of the Municipal Bureau, but didn't get much satisfactory information in reply. The Council knew how the Housing Act operated, and the Commission felt that it would be a waste of money to visit cities that had adopted the housing scheme if there would be no money available or if the Council didn't appeal to the Government for a loan.

The committee decided not to take any action at present, but to wait until the Commission brought in their report.

Will Let Options Lapse.

The committee decided not to take any action upon the options for the Riverside properties.

Ald. Hamilton— They couldn't be higher.

Ald. Gordon—Without profiteering of the worst kind. There's only one business affected, and I think we might give Mr. Ellis some consideration.

Ald. Hamilton—I can't see where it would affect him in the slightest.

Ald. Gordon—Of course he would have to produce his books and figures.

Ald. Hamilton—I think we might as well let this drift along for a year.

Ald. Gordon moved, seconded by Ald. Whitehouse, that no action be taken with the options.

Ald. Hamilton asked what had been done about the road right of way.

Ald. Phelan replied that there had been a verbal agreement between the owners of Riverside park and himself. They had asked for some gravel and it had been put there.

"That's enough," said Ald. Gordon.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

"WATCH YOUR STEP"

Irving Berlin's ragtime musical comedy "Watch Your Step", in which nobody suffering from rheumatism could possibly take part was the attraction at the Grand last night and entertained a big audience. Everything is "ragged" in the Berlin score even "Rigoletto" and the "William Tell" overture and there is dancing galore. Harry B. Smith who has been guilty of more musical comedy books than any body known to fame is responsible for the plot of "Watch Your Step". The programme wisely qualifies this statement by adding the words "if any" after "plot". However there is enough to string together a lively series of songs, dance and Specialties and there are few dull moments. Charles Udell as Ebenezer Hardache a gay jay from the corn belt is responsible for much of the comedy and Harry Green contributes an amusing monologue that errs only on the side of being too long. Marguerite La Pierie sings nicely. The chorus is lively and dances much better than it sings. Some of the costumes are on the Mack Sennet bathing girls scale but the stage is well heated so that there is little danger of catching cold.

White woollens are promised for the spring.

Some novel dancing slippers have green heels.

IF YOUR EARS RING WITH HEAD NOISES

If you have roaring, buzzing noises in your ears, are getting hard of hearing and fear Catarrhal Deafness, go to your druggist and get 1 ounce of Parmint (double strength), and add to it ¼ pint of hot water, and a little granulated sugar. Take 1 tablespoonful four times a day.

This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucus stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs but little and is pleasant to take. Anyone who has Catarrhal trouble of the ears, is hard of hearing or has head noises should give this prescription a trial.
